Workshops To Be Held Here For Teachers

Two joint workshops to be held by the city and parish school systems here Wednesday and Thursday will be conducted by James E. Green, music consultant for Silver Burdett Company, publishers of musical books for the Louisiana schools.

The workshops will be held to introduce a new series of music textbooks for elementary schools. Green will demonstrate the use of the new texts to classroom teachers and pupils during school hours.

At 8:30 p.m., Wednesday and Thursday, Green will conduct a workshop for teachers at Plum Street School and Ouachita Parish High School Choral Room.

Green, who holds a masters degree from Teachers College, Columbia University, has been active in state, regional and national Music Educators Conferences. He has served as chairman of music education workshops at the University of Denver, Fred Waring Elementary Music Workshops, and a number of other workshops in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana.

PANCAKE BRIGADE — The Monroe Kiwanis club will serve pancakes Tuesday morning from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m., proceeds going to benefit youth activity projects of the club. The pancakes will be served in the recreation room of the First Baptist Church. Ready to serve the pancakes will be, left to right: James L. Brooks, A. D. Foreman, John G. Lewis, L. U. Fourmy, and Don Weil. (Staff photo by John Oldenburg.)

Despite Liberalization Home Money Tight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (UP)—The nation's realtors have concluded that lending institutions are "hesitating" to make many home loans under liberalized FHA down payment requirements.

The National Association of Real Estate Boards said it arrived at the finding after a nationwide poll of its members in September.

The association said "an appreciable number of reports spoke of the loan-price ratio and the reluctance of lenders to make or purchase FHA low-equity mortgages."

Administration Bolsters

The administration recently shaved down payments on government-backed FHA loans almost in half in an effort to bolster the sagging home building industry.

The National Association of Home Builders, representing the nation's housing constructors, hailed the move, but warned it would work only if lenders loosened up on mortgage money.

Along with the easing on down payments, the FHA also hiked the interest rate on the mortgates it guarantees to 5 1-4 per cent and applied regional discount controls.

After its survey of member boards in 255 cities, the realtors claimed that an improvement in availability in mortgage money that seemed "imminent" earlier in the year "did not materialize." By autumn in some areas mortgage money was even tighter.

Last month, mortgage money was reported "tight" for new homes in 46 per cent of the communities surveyed. Loans for exint homes grew harder to get by September, according to the realtors, with 58 per cent reporting money tight by September.

NORTHEAST — Lenders exercising "selectivity" based on the earning power of the prospective buyer.

SOUTH — "Very few, if any" lenders interested in loans at the new, low FHA rate with most requiring 10 per cent down.

NORTH CENTRAL — Lenders bucking the low down payments and asking from 20 to 25 per cent of the value of the home.

WEST — "FHA loans very selective and dependent in most cases upon 10 to 20 per cent down and 15 to 20-year terms."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (UP)—Senate investigators said today their current hearings on improper practices by management will link Nathan W. Shefferman's consulting firm with "payoffs and shakedowns."

Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the rackets committee will spotlight such transactions between employers and employes of Labor Relations Associates Inc.—the Shefferman firm—when it continues its hearings next week.

Kenndy described to the transactions as "payoffs and shakedowns" and said a narrow line separates the two.

He said the new facets of Shefferman's activities will be explored after the committee completes its examination of labor relations activities of Sears, Roebuck and Co. Currently studying Shefferman's work for Sears in Boston, the committee is expected to check on similar operations in Indianapolis and Pittsburgh.

Wholesale Rates

The committee counsel also disclosed that certain union officials — most of them officers in the giant teamsters union—have been asked to satisfy the committee that they reimbursed Shefferman with their own money when he bought merchandise for them at wholesale rates.

Shefferman's own testimony before the committee in March showed that he performed get-it-for - you wholesale services for union friends. Kennedy said Shefferman has supplied an "extensive" list of such transactions in reply to a committee request.

He said most of the purchases were made for teamster officials. He added that for "certain of them where the purchases were quite large, we have asked for records to show that they personally paid him back."

Purchasing Agent

The committee's previous testimony showed Shefferman acted as a kind of purchasing agent and paid a wide variety of bills for Teamster President Dave Beck. Reimbursement came, not from Beck but from union treasuries, according to committee testimony.

In addition to its interest in reimbursement paid to Shefferman, Kennedy said, the committee wants to determine whether a union official, who bought "several thousand dollars" worth of merchandise at a discount, could be considered "obligated."

Wallace Tudor, Sears' vice president in charge of personnel, told the committee Friday that Shefferman's right, as a retired employe to make discount purchases through the big mail order firm was rescinded in 1955 because of his purchases for union friends were considered "improper."

East Carroll Bus Drivers Tested

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special)—The visual acuity scores of the school bus operators of East Carroll parish were found to be exceptionally high following a series of tests administered by C. B. Coney, director of school transportation, state department of education.

Coney, together with Byron Parker, of the department and safety and bus inspection, attended a meeting of all the school bus operators, held at the East Carroll parish school board office. Psycho - physical tests were also given at that time and the buses were inspected by the state trooper for mechanical defects.

Mississippians Plan To Attend Music Festival

HATTIESBURG, Miss., Oct. 26 (AP)—The South Mississippi Youth Symphony has been nominated to participate in the International Youth Music Festival at Brussels, Belgium, next summer, conductor Frank Crockett said today.

Crockett said there was no assurance the orchestra would be selected but he indicated the group was honored by winning a nomination.

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special)—Glen Busby was elected president of the Lake Providence Chapter of the Future Farmers of America at an organizational meeting held in the agriculture room.

C. A. Hodgkins, agriculture teacher, is the chapter's official sponsor.

E. Carroll Police Jury Hold Meeting

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special)—The East Carroll police jury heard a discussion by Charles Lawrence, parish road engineer with the state department of highways, relative to Act 128 of the Louisiana legislature of 1955, pertaining to parish aid, at the October meeting.

Two contracts were accepted by the police jury, one for the furnishing of washed gravel on state project 713-03-62, with Paul A. Lambert being the successful bidder. The other, awarded to Howard C. White, was for state project 702-13-35, and provided for the furnishing of washed gravel for parish public roads.

A resolution was also passed requesting the department of public works to make a survey of certain areas of the parish to ascertain where inadequate drainage existed.

NAACP Shifts Longview Meet To Dallas Area

CORPUS CHRISTI, Oct. 26 (UP)—An official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People announced today that a meeting scheduled in Longview Nov. 1-3 has been transferred to Dallas.

Dr. H. Boyd Hall, president of the Texas State Conference of Branches of the NAACP, said:

"This meeting is being moved from Longview to relieve the pressures of threats of ugliness and distress to the peace and good order of Longview and surrounding communities."

Hall referred to "an evil little charlatan who is bent upon spreading bitterness and mistrust."

He apparently referred to Carl Estes, publisher of the Longview News-Journal, although he did not call Estes by name.

Estes bodily forced an NAACP field secretary, Edwin C. Washington, out of his office last Tuesday when Washington and Longview Negro leaders went to his office to discuss the meeting.

Estes said the Negro repeatedly hurled the charge of "That's a lie and you can't prove it" when the publisher cited a record of trouble in various states that followed intense NAACP activity.

The publisher ejected Washington from his office after he said the man refused to leave.

Woman Confirms Daughter Plans To Marry King

BEIRUT, Lebanon, Oct. 26 (AP)—Mrs. Mumtaz Solh confirmed tonight her 19-year-old daughter, Fesial, may marry 55-year-old King Saud of Saudi Arabia. The girl is a niece of Sami Solh, prime minster of Lebanon.

Saud already has four wives but can divorce one of them at any time by saying three times: "I divorce thee." He also has dozens of concubines in the white-walled palaces of his oil-rich kingdom.

Mrs. Solh said the marriage is not definite but a final decision is expected within a week.

West Speeds Plans For Top Level Parleys

Report Ike Near Certain To Meet NATO Council

WASHINGTON, Oct 26 (UP)—The Western Allies, united again by Russian threats, rushed plans today for a "summit" conference to modernize their alliance for the rocket era.

A White House announcement that President Eisenhower will attend the mid-December NATO council meeting in Paris is expected early next week.

The NATO standing committee first must meet and get approval of the 15 member nations for a top-level conference. Until that formality has been completed, the White House and State Department said, there will be no announcement.

Paul-Henri Spaak, NATO secretary general, told newsmen at Norfolk, Va., that he should be able to announce the summit meeting early next week.

Satellite Instrumental

Russia's launching of the earth satellite, he said, has "brought NATO nations closer together." He urged a halt in the reduction of armed forces pending the top-level conference.

Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker did not wait for this, however. He said in Ottawa that he will attend the "gathering of NATO leaders at the highest level."

This statement, coming after the arrival there of British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, confirmed diplomatic reports that a summit meeting to reappraise the West's defense needs will be the next move in meeting Russia's new challenges.

The State Department and the foreign ministries of the other Atlantic allies already were considering ideas for a NATO "new look" which would emphasize pooling of rocket and nuclear know-how and weapons and inject fresh confidence into the free world.

Attendance of the chiefs of state would dramatize the revived spirit of Western unity in response to Soviet rocket-rattling.

American officials emphasized that the renewal of wartime An-

Four In Plane Survive Ordeal In Waterspout

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 26 (AP)—Four men who said the experience was like flying under the ocean told today of a terrifying flight through a waterspout.

Though they survived, some 300,000 fish and 35 monkeys they were carrying as cargo perished as they were tossed about the wildly pitching airplane.

Capt. Charles W. Roberson of Hialeah said the twin-engine C46 he was flying "must have hit a combination waterspout and tornado."

He said the cargo plane was en route from Colombia to Panama when it hit the waterspout over the Pacific on Thursday.

Turns Over 5 Times

"The plane turned over at least five times and one of the engines went out," he said.

"We would go straight up, then the plane would flop over on its back and fall. Once we were within 100 feet of the water. I'd say the whole thing lasted about 15 minutes.

"We were flying in light rain at about 8,500 feet and I don't know exactly what happened. None of the controls would work. We just went up and down and there was nothing I could do."

Roberson said a window was opened at one point and a solid wall of water flooded the cockpit.

"It wasn't rain," said the pilot. "It was just like being under the ocean."

Four Persons Die In Texas Collision

TAYLOR, Tex., Oct. 26 (UP)—Four persons from Thrall, Tex., were killed in a headon collision two miles east of Taylor on U.S. 79 today.

The dead were identified as Mrs. Virginia Gomez, 60, and her two daughters, Ciprinita, 32, and Eva, 24, and Carlos Vasquez, 28, the driver of the other car.

Three were killed immediately while Eva, the driver of the Gomez car, died two hours later in Johns hospital in Taylor. According to witnesses, the Vasquez car was passing another vehicle when the collision occurred.

AFTER THREE WEEKS

Sputnik's Radio Dead, Reds Say

A Soviet Tass news agency announcement said "The satellite's radio station, having used up its reserve of power" in three weeks of steady signals has "stopped working."

Now, the 184-pound metal sphere hurtling around the world on its orbit can be tracked only by radar or visual observation.

The brief Tass announcement urged added efforts by "moon-watchers" around the world to keep track of Sputnik.

"In these circumstances," it said, "optical observations will become very important as they will be the main means of measuring the elements of the orbit of the satellite..."

Soviet scientists had warned two weeks ago that the satellite launched Oct. 4 would lose its voice as its batteries lost their power.

Batteries Heavy

A later Tass report said "The satellite's transmission set has run out of electricity and ceased emitting signals."

Authorities said much of the relatively heavy weight of Sputnik was taken up by the batteries.

Sputnik gave the first indication of radio failure Friday night. The steady "beep beep" signal which heralded its appearance over various areas of the world suddenly dimmed.

(In London, the British Broadcasting Corp. reported Friday night that the signal had become "very weak." Only the most powerful receivers could pick it up. At one point, there was no sound. Then a weak signal resumed.)

Man thus lost his only actual contact with outer space.

Sputnik now will travel in silence on its circular course at speeds in the 18,000 m.p.h. range, sailing on an elliptical track that ranges anywhere from 126 to 570 miles above the earth.

Tass said that at 5 p.m. Moscow time (9 a.m. C.S.T.), Sputnik, in its 22nd day of flight, had made 326 revolutions around the earth. It apparently has speeded up slightly. It now takes 95.31 minutes for each revolution compared Jes' Ramblin' has information that a prominent Bossier resident and operator of a contracting firm is to move his business to Monroe. He is member of the Police Jury in Bossier and, of course, will have to relinquish this place. W. C. Horton is the kind of men that the cities of Monroe and West Monroe want. He will undoubtedly prove one who will take active interest in business affairs here and is calculated to prove a highly successful man in his life.

All kinds of success to Mr. Horton. He is the sort of man we need. Among the groups with which he is now affiliated are the Masons, Shrine and Methodist Church. All these will be pleased to accept a transfer of his connections from Bossier to Monroe.

Regret

It is with sincere regret that we learn that Bob Ed Tucker is to leave his job so long filled and with complete success as assistant secretary-treasurer and tax collector of the city of Monroe. He will end his public services November 1, after 39 years of service to the city, he is to take it easy. However, he declares he expects to be occupied and agrees to help out at the city hall should extra help be needed.

GRADE-A CHILLERS

Grid Titans Have Many Close Calls

By ED WILKS
(The Associated Press)

Grandma may like to call it perspiration, but the old gal is wrong this time—that was plain old sweat that major powers such as Oklahoma, Iowa, Notre Dame, Michigan State and Army wiped off their brows after another round of college football yesterday.

Oklahoma, the nation's No. 1 team, had to rush from behind on a last period 8-yard run by Clendon Thomas and a conversion by Carl Dodd before gaining its 45th consecutive victory with a 14-13 decision over Colorado.

Second-ranked Texas A&M had it relatively easy, running its winning streak to 16 with a 14-0 job on Baylor. But the rest were grade-A chillers like the Oklahoma game.

Iowa, No. 3, struggled through mud and snow to stay unbeaten with a 6-0 victory over winless Northwestern. And Notre Dame, caught roughing it, finally decked Pittsburgh 13-7, rolling from behind on a 74-yard scoring pass from sophomore quarterback George Izo. Starting quarterback Bob Williams was one of three players booted for fighting as the Irish remained unbeaten.

Michigan State, chopped down last week by Purdue, also had to sweep from behind, defeating Illinois 19-14. Army, expected to march over Virginia, had to hustle back before winning 20-12.

Three of the top 10 in this week's Associated Press poll didn't make it, although fourth-ranked and unbeaten Duke escaped with a 14-14 tie against 11th ranked North Carolina State. But Mississippi was socked for its first defeat, 12-

Solons Open Agency Study Next Tuesday

By W.B. RAGSDALE JR.

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 26 (AP)—A legislative committee to study overlapping state agencies meets Tuesday with levee boards, tabbed outmoded by Gov. Earl Long, likely to get top attention.

House Speaker Robert Angelle, chairman of the Legislative Council Committee, admitted, "somebody may bring up the subject of levee boards," but refused to elaborate.

However, administration sources indicated Angelle discussed the possibility of replacing the levee boards with the State Department of Public Works in a conference with the governor over scope of the committee's work.

Other sources indicated the department already is studying the subject. Public Works already provides technical advice to the levee districts.

Three Reshuffled

Long has reshuffled three levee boards in recent weeks and commented two weeks ago he felt they were outmoded and could be replaced, to a large extent, by the Public Works Department.

Last Tuesday, he said that where the levee boards have struck oil "it's a pity it can't be spent to help the state."

There are some 20 levee districts throughout the state, charged with supervising levee work and holding power to levy property taxes within their districts for levee repairs.

However, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers does most levee work, while levee board revenues in a number of cases have soared with the discovery of oil.

This is particularly true in Plaquemines Parish, where Long feuds with Dist. Atty. Leander Perez. The Plaquemines political boss has unitized several levee districts with the parish police jury and controls considerable oil royalties.

Located within the parish are Buras Back Levee District, Chalmette Back Levee District and Plaquemines Parish East Bank Levee District.

Long Battle

Long and Perez have fought for control of these levee districts since the 1956 Legislature. The governor's advisors recently told him they doubt he has authority to remove members of the Chalmette Back Levee District.

With his power of appointment and removal, Long replaced two of the three members of the Lake Borgne Levee Board, fired four of five members of the Orleans Levee Board and fired the president and accepted resignation of another member of the Pontchartrain Levee Board.

Ousted President Louis J. Roussel said he was bounced because the Orleans Levee Board refused to turn over the site of the Naval

Urges Troop Shift To New York City

DOTHAN, Ala., Oct. 26 (AP)—Alabama Lt. Gov. Guy Hardwick today suggested that President Eisenhower move federal troops from Arkansas to New York City, where he said law and order has broken down.

Referring to the gang murder of Albert Anastasia, Hardwick telegraphed, "It is believed that mob rule prevails in New York and gang murderers are on the loose. Obviously local law enforcement unable to cope with situation."

"Respectfully suggest that you withdraw the troops and pull out the bayonets from State of Arkansas and the South and move them forthwith to the State of New York where there is a real, not imaginary, job to do," he wired Eisenhower.

Hardwick has been among the severest critics of Eisenhower's use of federal troops at Little Rock to enforce a Federal Court school integration order.

Injuries Fatal To Woman In Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Orleans Parish coroner's office said 80-year-old Mrs. Marie E. Hazeau of New Orleans died in a hospital today, apparently of injuries received when a gas oven exploded in her home yesterday.

TO CHICAGO

Anastasia Death Weapon Traced

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (UP)—Police traced a gun used in the gangland slaying of Albert Anastasia to Chicago today. The discovery hinted that the killers were imported from Al Capone's old battleground to commit murder for hire.

One of the two guns discarded after the 55-year-old Lord High Executioner of Murder, Inc., was shot down in a barber's chair was traced to Chicago. It was a .38-caliber Colt sold in August, 1934.

This led police to the suspicion that Anastasia's cool killers were brought here to do the job and then get out of town as fast as possible.

Police worked around the clock to solve the city's most sensational slaying since Serge Rubinstein was strangled in his Fifth Avenue mansion nearly three years ago. Rubinstein's slayer has not been found.

More than 60 persons, many of them drawn from a list of "who's who" in hoodlumism, were questioned Friday night and today, in an effort to get just one solid clue to Friday's killing.

Underworld Czar Frank Costello, who narrowly escaped death from a would-be assassin's bullet last spring, was at the top of the list. But Costello apparently is lying low. Police had not found him more than 24 hours after Anastasia was killed with five of 10 shots fired by the two silent gunmen in the barber shop of the Hotel Park-Sheraton, near New York's Central Park.

A police alarm was sent out for the pair who killed the mobster without saying a word. One was described as about 40, 5 feet, 8 inches tall, weighing 180 pounds and apparently Italian, with a sallow complexion. The other was about 30, 5 feet, 5 inches tall, 150 pounds, apparently Italian with a light complexion and a thin moustache. Both wore dark glasses and fedora hats.

Hours of marathon questioning sessions still left police right where they started on the two questions in the Anastasia case: Who killed Anastasia and why?

There was one theory that he was wiped out to avenge the attempt on Costello's life, which was bungled by a gunman who only creased his scalp.

Another theory was that Anastasia was murdered to stop his efforts to muscle in on racketeer Johnny Dio's garment industry domain.

A third theory was that Anastasia had been feuding with policy racketeer Vito Genovese and may have connected with the attempt on Costello's life.

State Realtors Close Annual Meeting Here

The 1957 convention of Louisiana Realtors here was climaxed yesterday with sessions which included an address by John C. Williamson, secretary counsel of the realtors' Washington committee of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, and discussions pertaining to the advertising phase of the real estate business.

The convention opened Thursday at the Virginia Hotel and brought approximately 300 delegates to Monroe from all parts of the state, in addition to regional and national dignitaries.

Friday night's program included the election of officers for the coming year, with Omer F. Kuebel of New Orleans, outgoing president, presenting the executive gavel to Frank J. Zuzak of Shreveport who will serve in the organization's top post for the next 12 months. Named vice-president was J. Beverly Brignac of Lafayette, while Claude J. Pumilia of New Orleans was elected secretary.

Money Is Problem

In his address to the delegates yesterday morning, Williamson declared that the problem of the residential real estate industry today is one of mortgage money in

Saud Withdraws Mediation Offer In Middle East

DAMASCUS, Oct. 26 (UP)—King Saud of Saudi Arabia has withdrawn his offer to mediate the Syrian-Turkish crisis, a Syrian government official said today.

The offer was doomed in the first place because Syria had rejected it on grounds the "urgent threat" by Turkey should be taken up immediately by the United Nations in New York.

Saud also has informed his representative at the U.N. of the decision, the Syrian official said.

The information official quoted Syrian Prime Minister Sabri Asali in issuing his statement. He added that Saud's message was addressed to Syrian President Shukri El Kuwatly.

Turks Accepted

Although Turkey accepted Saud's offer, President Kuwatly was reported to have twice asked the Arab monarch to cancel it.

When the offer was first made early this week, there was a flurry of diplomatic maneuvering at Damascus, Istanbul and the U.N.

Syria first accepted, then rejected, then accepted via its

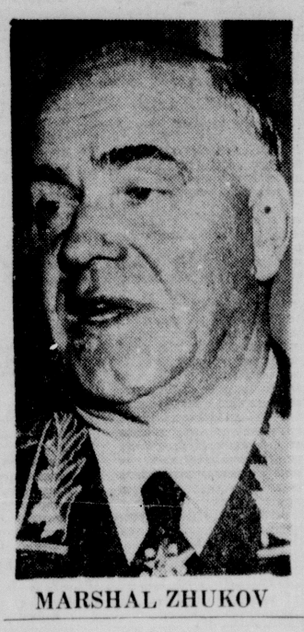
3 Teenagers Get Life For Murder

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 26 (AP)—A criminal court jury today convicted three teen-agers of murder in the death of a retired police officer.

Found guilty without capital punishment were Lloyd Cook, 19, Mohamad Ally, 18, and Reynard Brustie, 16, all New Orleans Negroes.

The conviction carries an automatic sentence of life imprisonment.

Retired Sgt. Paul Paretti was stabbed and shot to death last February when he tried to aid an elderly neighbor whom a band of Negroes allegedly plotted to rob.



MARSHAL ZHUKOV

Malinovsky Is Named To Succeed Him

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Marshal Georgi Zhukov "has been relieved" of his post as Soviet defense minister, Radio Moscow announced tonight. The brief announcement gave no hint whether the Soviet World War II hero was being demoted or moved up to a position of greater power.

Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, who shared with Zhukov in engineering some of the Soviet war victories, was named to the defense post. He previously has been Far East commander and commander of Soviet ground forces.

Zhukov is 61; Malinovsky 59. Zhukov once was banished from Moscow to the Southern command at Odessa by Josef Stalin, who apparently was jealous of his popularity. In the last four years he has been gaining steadily in power and position in the Soviet hierarchy.

May Be Top Power

There has been a question whether Nikita Khrushchev himself was not beholden to Zhukov for his position as first secretary of the Soviet Communist party and leading figure of power.

Zhukov, as leader of the army, was reported to have thrown his support to Khrushchev in the crucial June showdown in the Communist party Central Committee which resulted in the downfall of former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, former Premier Georgi Malenkov and Lazar Kaganovich.

The dramatic exit of Zhukov from the defense ministry could mean either that he has run afoul of Khrushchev in another of the struggles for power in the Kremlin or is ticketed for yet another step higher, possibly to premier.

There has been much speculation recently that the present premier, Nikolai Bulganin, frequent traveling companion of Khrushchev on goodwill visits to such places as India, southeast Asia and Britain, might be on the way out.

Red Chinese Head Planning Moscow Visit

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Red China announced today that Mao Tze-tung is going to Moscow next month, and Western diplomats took it as evidence that Russia is reviving the Cominform as a worldwide clearing house for Communist propaganda and agitation.

Informed sources said rebirth of the Cominform—dissolved in 1956 after being weakened by the defection of President Tito of Yugoslavia and the wavering of other East European leaders—might be announced during Mao's visit.

It would provide a showpiece of renewed Communist unity for the Kremlin's massive celebration of the 40th anniversary of the Red Revolution Nov. 7.

Working For Months

Diplomatic informants say Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev has been working for months to patch up the Cominform — or some newer version of it—and prepare foreign Communist parties for a new and harsher phase of the cold war.

Persistent but unconfirmed reports say Tito and Poland's Communist chief, Wladyslaw Gomulka, also will be on hand for the Cominform announcement.

Although generally favorable toward the Khrushchev regime, Mao last year was reported to have criticized the repression of Hungary and also made an ideologically explosive speech on the existence of different roads to socialism. The announcement that he would make the Moscow visit, postponed several times in the past, was taken as an indication that he has composed any differences with the Kremlin and is ready to enter a new, and possibly more liberal, Cominform agreement.

Much Speculation

There has been much speculation — since the Russians announced firing of an intercontinental ballistics missile (ICBM) and launched Sputnik — that there would be some spectacular an-

Cloudy And Chilly Outlook For Today

Partly cloudy and continued cold is the outlook for the Twin Cities area today, with overcast skies and warmer looming for tomorrow. A similar forecast was issued last night for areas of Arkansas over the weekend.

COSTLY PROGRAM

$60 Million Fired In Missile Testing

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The military has fired more than 60-million-dollars worth of intermediate range ballistic missiles (IRBM) in tests during the past year, about 12 million dollars within the past week.

That figure—for one type of weapons only—gives only a hint of the cost of the huge test program for missiles of all kinds.

These unofficial estimates — based on an average cost of about six million dollars for each test firing of a ballistic missile—do not include scores of millions more in developmental firings of other missiles.

The latter range from huge intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBM) through shorter range antiaircraft and bombardment guided missiles to numerous tests of components for missile systems and of "research vehicles" for acquiring basic data in weapon design.

Also outside the estimate is the substantial cost of research done outside big firing test centers like those at Cape Canaveral, Fla., White Sands, N. M., and at other Navy and Air Force ranges.

Congress, some members of which have been audibly grumbling about evidence of Russian spurts ahead of the United States in missile as well as satellite development, set out to find "what has been done with the millions of dollars."

Chairman Mahon (D-Tex) of a House Appropriations subcommittee said his group will conduct a full-scale investigation starting Nov. 4 to pave the way for establishing in the missile-satellite

Infant Perishes As Fire Destroys Delhi Residence

DELHI (Special) — A three-month-old Negro boy was burned to death when the home of his parents on the outskirts of town was destroyed by flames about 4:45 p.m. yesterday.

The infant, the son of Ola Mae and Robert Henderson, had been left on the bed by his grandmother while she went to look for his five-year-old brother who was playing in the neighborhood, according to police reports. Police identified the grandmother as Ida Wilmore.

The parents were reported working in Bastrop at the time of the accident. Police said they were told that the grandmother had been gone from the residence for about 10 minutes when the fire was discovered by neighbors. A rescue effort by police was in vain.

Officers theorized that sparks from a wood-burning stove ignited the ceiling of the frame dwelling located on Highway 80 at the east edge of town. The house was listed as a complete loss.

Despite Liberalization Home Money Tight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (UP)—The nation's realtors have concluded that lending institutions are "hesitating" to make many home loans under liberalized FHA down payment requirements.

The National Association of Real Estate Boards said it arrived at the finding after a nationwide poll of its members in September.

The association said "an appreciable number of reports spoke of the loan-price ratio and the reluctance of lenders to make or purchase FHA low-equity mortgates."

Administration Bolsters

The administration recently shaved down payments on government-backed FHA loans almost in half in an effort to bolster the sagging home building industry.

The National Association of Home Builders, representing the nation's housing constructors, hailed the move, but warned it would work only if lenders loosened up on mortgage money.

Along with the easing on down payments, the FHA also hiked the interest rate on the mortgates it guarantees to 5 1-4 per cent and applied regional discount controls.

After its survey of member boards in 255 cities, the realtors claimed that an improvement in availability in mortgage money that seemed "imminent" earlier in the year "did not materialize." By autumn in some areas mortgage money was even tighter.

Last month, mortgage money was reported "tight" for new homes in 46 per cent of the communities surveyed. Loans for exint homes grew harder to get by September, according to the realtors, with 53 per cent reporting money tight by September.

NORTHEAST — Lenders exercising "selectivity" based on the earning power of the prospective buyer.

SOUTH — "Very few, if any" lenders interested in loans at the new, low FHA rate with most requiring 10 per cent down.

NORTH CENTRAL — Lenders bucking the low down payments and asking from 20 to 25 per cent of the value of the home.

WEST — "FHA loans very selective and dependent in most cases upon 10 to 20 per cent down and 15 to 20-year terms."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (UP)—Senate investigators said today their current hearings on improper practices by management will link Nathan W. Shefferman's consulting firm with "payoffs and shakedowns."

Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the rackets committee will spotlight such transactions between employers and employes of Labor Relations Associates Inc.—the Shefferman firm—when it continues its hearings next week.

Kenndy described to the transactions as "payoffs and shakedowns" and said a narrow line separates the two.

He said the new facets of Shefferman's activities will be explored after the committee completes its examination of labor relations activities of Sears, Roebuck and Co. Currently studying Shefferman's work for Sears in Boston, the committee is expected to check on similar operations in Indianapolis and Pittsburgh.

Wholesale Rates

The committee counsel also disclosed that certain union officials — most of them officers in the giant teamsters union—have been asked to satisfy the committee that they reimbursed Shefferman with their own money when he bought merchandise for them at wholesale rates.

Shefferman's own testimony before the committee in March showed that he performed get-it-for - you wholesale services for union friends. Kennedy said Shefferman has supplied an "extensive" list of such transactions in reply to a committee request.

He said most of the purchases were made for teamster officials. He added that for "certain of them where the purchases were quite large, we have asked for records to show that they personally paid him back."

Purchasing Agent

The committee's previous testimony showed Shefferman acted as a kind of purchasing agent and paid a wide variety of bills for Teamster President Dave Beck. Reimbursement came, not from Beck but from union treasuries, according to committee testimony.

In addition to its interest in reimbursement paid to Shefferman, Kennedy said, the committee wants to determine whether a union official, who bought "several thousand dollars" worth of merchandise at a discount, could be considered "obligated."

Wallace Tudor, Sears' vice president in charge of personnel, told the committee Friday that Shefferman's right, as a retired employe to make discount purchases through the big mail order firm was rescinded in 1955 because of his purchases for union friends were considered "improper."

East Carroll Bus Drivers Tested

C. A. Hodgkins, agriculture teacher, is the chapter's official sponsor.

E. Carroll Police Jury Hold Meeting

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special) —The East Carroll police jury heard a discussion by Charles Lawrence, parish road engineer with the state department of highways, relative to Act 128 of the Louisiana legislature of 1955, pertaining to parish aid, at the October meeting.

Two contracts were accepted by the police jury, one for the furnishing of washed gravel on state project 713-03-62, with Paul A. Lambert being the successful bidder. The other, awarded to Howard C. White, was for state project 702-13-35, and provided for the furnishing of washed gravel for parish public roads.

A resolution was also passed requesting the department of public works to make a survey of certain areas of the parish to ascertain where inadequate drainage existed.

NAACP Shifts Longview Meet To Dallas Area

CORPUS CHRISTI, Oct. 26 (UP)—An official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People announced today that a meeting scheduled in Longview Nov. 1-3 has been transferred to Dallas.

Dr. H. Boyd Hall, president of the Texas State Conference of Branches of the NAACP, said:

"This meeting is being moved from Longview to relieve the pressures of threats of ugliness and distress to the peace and good order of Longview and surrounding communities."

Hall referred to "an evil little charlatan who is bent upon spreading bitterness and mistrust."

He apparently referred to Carl Estes, publisher of the Longview News-Journal, although he did not call Estes by name.

Estes bodily forced an NAACP field secretary, Edwin C. Washington, out of his office last Tuesday when Washington and Longview Negro leaders went to his office to discuss the meeting.

Estes said the Negro repeatedly hurled the charge of "That's a lie and you can't prove it" when the publisher cited a record of trouble in various states that followed intense NAACP activity.

The publisher ejected Washington from his office after he said the man refused to leave.

Woman Confirms Daughter Plans To Marry King

BEIRUT, Lebanon, Oct. 26 (AP)—Mrs. Mumtaz Solh confirmed tonight her 19-year-old daughter, Fesial, may marry 55-year-old King Saud of Saudi Arabia. The girl is a niece of Sami Solh, prime minster of Lebanon.

Saud already has four wives but can divorce one of them at any time by saying three times: "I divorce thee." He also has dozens of concubines in the white-walled palaces of his oil-rich kingdom.

Mrs. Solh said the marriage is not definite but a final decision is expected within a week.

Replacing President

Discussion of what should be done if a president of the United States should become physically or mentally incapacitated to such an extent that he could not function has come up again. This subject received great attention after President Eisenhower suffered a heart attack and has received some attention at various times since then.

Don Wharton, in a current magazine article, says congress should provide legal machinery for determining when a president is unable to discharge the duties of his office. "Until we establish such machinery," Wharton says, "we court the peril of being caught without a president, perhaps in an exceedingly critical moment of history." Wharton says executive affairs "drifted helplessly" when Presidents Wilson and Garfield were incapacitated for months.

As Wharton points out, several proposals have been made for setting up legal machinery. Of those submitted, that offered by former President Harry Truman seems to offer as much protection as only for the president against unjustified usurpation by an over-ambitious vice-president. Truman's proposal includes some of those made by others.

One suggestion, endorsed by President Eisenhower after his two illnesses, would empower the vice-president to make the decision upon approval in writing by a majority of the memebrs of the cabinet. Former President Herbert Hoover thinks the power to decide should be given to the cabinet.

Truman proposes the creation of a seven-man panel composed of the vice-president, chief justice, speaker of the house and the majority and minority leaders of the house and senate. This panel would be empowered to call in expert authorities from top medical schools. If they found the president "truly incapacitated," the panel would inform congress, which could elevate the vice-president to the presidency by a two-thirds vote.

We would suggest that at least one amendment should be made to this proposal and that would be the elimination of the vice-president from the panel, since he would be the one man who could be voting himself and since he might unduly influence the other members of the panel.

Right now Vice-President Nixon is drooling for the presidency and to have him on a seven-man panel to decide President Eisenhower's capacity to serve could easily be dangerous. When President Eisenhower suffered the heart attack, Nixon rushed to the home of Deputy Attorney General William P. Rogers, Jr., recently appointed to succeed Herbert Brownell, Jr. as attorney general, and spent the night there. He said he spent the night with Rogers in order to avoid newspapermen but a more probable counsel on how he might step into the president's place. A panel which did not include the vice-president would be much safer from heavy political pressure.

If a panel devoid of the vice-president could be provided for, if testimony of medical experts could be required and if a two-thirds vote of congress could be provided, a reasonably safe way of replacing the president in case of real incapacition could be set up. This would remove most of the danger of political ousting of the chief executive.

Second Party Needed

An editorial writer for the Southern States Industrial Council, Thurman Sensing, taking cognizance of the tremendous movement away from both the Republican and the Democrat parties, thinks one of these parties should fade out and that the radicals in the disappearing party would join those in the surviving party. He thinks a new party should be made up of non-radicals. Thus, we would still have the American two-party system, instead of the present one-party system under two different names.

His summation is well worthy of thought and we give it as follows:

Looking ahead to the presidential election in 1960, there has been considerable comment recently about the need of a 'Third Party'. Nor is this comment confined to any one section of the country—it is nation wide.

As a matter of fact, a great many third parties have already been started, ranging from just a few people in certain cases to many people in others. Which all means, of course, that they are not third parties; they are simply splinter parties. Each of these splinter parties to combine with it and do things its way.

This is not what we need. The nation of France has foundered on splinter parties. Our constitutional republican form of government has operated traditionally and rightly on the two-party system. That is the way it should be.

The trouble, though, is that we do not now have two parties. We have two organizations calling themselves by different names — Democratic and Republican — but they are no longer distinguishable as separate parties. As a matter of fact, there is a great deal more difference within the parties than there is between the parties. The need is for two parties that you can tell apart, that give you a choice.

Therefore, if we are to have a two-party system, either the Democratic or the Republican organization must fade out of existence and give way to a 'Second Party,' — a party that gives the voter a real choice between radical and conservative views. Naturally, the political leadership of neither the Republicans nor the Democrats wants this to happen to their organization. That's the way they make their living.

This attitude was brought rather vividly to our attention during a conversation we had recently with a distinguished Congressman, a gentleman who has done a good job as chairman of one of the important Congressional committees. When we mentioned that it seemed the only possibility of giving a conservative voter a choice in the 1960 election is a strong 'Third Party' movement, which we hoped might eventually result in a real 'Second Party' that would absorb the Republicans or the Democrats in the course of time and leave us again with a real two-party system, this Congressman objected. He summed up his position in this comment, "My father always told me the way to get rid of rats was not to burn down the barn."

We were glad to have him agree that there are rats in the barns, but that did not seem to us a satisfactory answer. We made this observation:

"Over here in one place is the Democratic barn. Over here in another place is the Republican barn. They are both infested with rats. For at least twenty-five years those in each barn who are opposed to rats have been trying to get rid of them — but every time they get rid of one rat, two seem to jump up in his place. There are now more rats in each barn than ever before. Since we cannot seem to get rid of them, why not walk off and leave them?

"Why not go over here in another place and build as nearly as possible a ratproof barn. All those who are anti-rat can repair to this barn, and let the rats have the other two barns. Eventually, there would be no need of two barns filled with rats, and the rats could save money and time and organization troubles by all ganging together in one barn. The abandoned barn could rot down and then there would be two parties left—the Rat Party and the Anti-Rat Party. If this is not done," we concluded," it seems to us there is nothing ahead but a Rat Government, which is the same as a Totalitarian Government — and it makes no difference whether this government is the absolute rule of the dictator, the planned economy of socialism or the regimentation of communism,' we would have lost our freedom just the same. In either instance, we would have only a one-party government—which is not much different from the way it is right now."

We do not know whether we made much impression on this Congressman or not—but we sure convinced ourself!

Tearing Tensions

CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY

More Cooperation By Scientists Considered

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—Preceded by Russia's "sputnik" and his own Queen Elizabeth, Britain's Prime Minister Harold MacMillan arrived in Washington to the rousing cry of "scientific cooperation" on all sides.

The British, French and other American allies have been talking about the need for greater cooperation in scientific and military spheres for some time. Now, with visible evidence circling overhead of Soviet strides in research and development, the United States is itself reexamining the possibility of increased cooperation with its friends.

President Eisenhower, toasting the Queen Oct. 17, declared that "our scientists must work together." The Administration is reported to be readying a comprehensive plan for greater inter-allied cooperation that could call for new legislation.

This may involve changes in the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, which bars the U.S. from giving to its allies either nuclear weapons or any information "relating to the design or fabrication of atomic weapons." Secretary of State Dulles suggested Oct. 16 that these restrictions "may have become obsolete."

At the time Congress rewrote the Atomic Energy Act in 1954, two members of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee — Democratic Reps. Chet Holifield (Calif.) and Melvin Price (Ill.)—objected that a tight rein on the exchange of atomic military information "ultimately may work to our own disadvantage." They pointed out that the British, who developed the jet engine, might come up with something equally important in the nuclear weapons field but "be debarred from working with us on it because of our own short-sighted and nonreciprocal policies."

Rep. Sterling Cole (R-N.Y.) then chairman of the Joint Committee, admitted that Holifield and Price might be right. But, he argued, "if we are going to make a mistake, it is better to err on the side of caution and discretion, rather than to make a mistake by being unduly generous." Congress, wary of treachery in the from of another Klaus Fuchs or Alan Nunn May, agreed with Cole.

It is by no means clear, however, to what extent the 1954 law has prevented, or now bars, more extensive scientific cooperation between the United States and its allies. That law made a specific exception, for example, of information about "systems employed in the delivery or use" of nuclear weapons. There is thus no flat legal ban on exchanging information with the British, say, in the guided missile field, now the object of efforts as intense as those devoted to making the first atomic bomb.

But there is no doubt that the 1954 law stands in the way of resumption of anything like the degree of cooperation between the United States, Britain and Canada which prevailed during World War II. President Roosevelt and Prime Ministers Winston Churchill and MacKenzie King were uninhibited by law in their decisions to coordinate research on the atomic bomb. On Aug. 6, 1945, the day Hiroshima was obliterated, Churchill called this joint undertaking "a happy augury for our future relations." And he added: "By God's mercy, British and American science outpaced all German efforts."

PAUL HARVEY

Texas Publisher One Of Laymen To Study Courts

WASHINGTON — A newspaper publisher, a banker and an advertising executive will shortly join a group of prominent American judges and attorneys in a study of ways and means to increase the efficiency, speed and fairness of trial courts, ranging from the lowliest traffic court to the highest federal trial courts of the nation.

Associate Justice Tom C. Clark, former Attorney General of the United States and selected this year as chairman of the section of judicial administration of the American Bar Association, announced this week that he had named the three on the special committee "on law and the layman."

John W. Runyon, president of the Dallas Times Herald, is the lone newsman on the committee. His lay associates are Robert V. Flemming, chairman of the board of the Riggs National Bank of Washington and Thomas D'Arcy Brophy, chairman of Kenyon and Eckhardt, well known advertising firm of New York City.

The other members of the committee are either prominent attorneys or judges. They are Judges Bolitha J. Laws, chief judge of the United States district court of the District of Columbia; William C. Mathes, United States district judge at Los Angeles; Alfred P. Murrah, United States Circuit Judge at Oklahoma City; Illinois State Judge Walter V. Schaefer of Chicago; Ivan Lee Holt, Jr., circuit judge at St. Louis; two members of the Florida State Supreme Court, Thomas J. Carroll and Elwyn Thomas; C. B. Peeler, attorney of Jacksonville, Fla.; and Clark M. Clifford Washington attorney.

Justice Clark explained that the committee was created by the ABA as a result of recommendations of Judge Laws, who conducted a smaller study in the District of Columbia. Judge Laws became convinced that there is a great opportunity to speed up trials, from traffic courts to the highest federal trial courts, as well as giving defendants "a better break."

The American Bar Association agreed to give the proposal of Judge Laws a trial and named Justice Clark to generally supervise it.

Justice Clark said that members of the committee will work on an individual basis until sometime this winter, when they will meet in Atlanta to formulate their recommendations.

He stressed the importance of the laymen on the committee. "We need better court facilities, and better administration of the courts," Justice Clark declared. "We hope that cities, counties, states and the federal government will gain advice from this committee which will prove valuable and that the laymen will particularly help get these recommendations adopted."

Gasoline Cheaper But Taxes Higher

I spend so much time in Texas and always seem to do so much and sleep so little while I'm there that I should be eligible for some kind of depletion allowance pretty soon.

I was born in Oklahoma, but each trip south of the Red River I return with a little more native drawl to where my associates say I'm becoming a Texan by osmosis.

All joking asid eand all the taill tales notwithstanding, all Americans owe a large debt to the oil-producing states For it is oil, flowing from the breast of mother nature, that has nourished our very little nation into a mighty big one

Yet, do you realize we now pay less per gallon for gasoline than we did during the depths of the depression.

It's a fact.

No, now, you think you pay more.

You pay more tax.

The tax on gasoline has gone from 2½ to almost 9 cents a gallon, but the price you actually pay for gasoline is less today than it was 25 years ago. And it's better gasoline.

I didn't mean to get off on that, but the one state that's been largely responsible for making us the economic powerhouse of the world is so often the butt of its own jokes we forget it's earned some applause, too.

Matter of fact, we have so completely forgotten our national obligation to these homefolks of all our oil - producing states that we have allowed cheap imported oil to idle more than half the drilling rigs in this country.

That's right, I said more than half the drilling rigs in the United States are standing idle tonight. And if Uncle Sam figures he can twist the faucet and step up the flow any time he needs to meet an emergency, he's as ignorant as most folks about the facts of the business.

Oil exploration is a gamble.

Without incentive, no rational man is going to gamble against those odds. So we gave the oilman a slight tax advantage.

But not if we turn around and handcuff him with proration and higher wage scales and costlier machinery, he can't possibly compete with a desert Arab who operates with none of these restraints.

PROTESTS TROOPS

(EDITORS NOTE: Neva McMillan Upton (Mrs. P. C. Upton) 459 Midland Ave., Little Rock, Ark., is a writer and the mother of a teen-age daughter, who is a senior in Central High School this year. She writes both poetry and prose and has had many of her writings published. She won the Arkansas Democrat's trophy in 1954 for the best poem of the year, entitled "Christmas, R.F.D.")

Little Rock, Ark.

Editor, Morning World,

Poised lightly, and looking very much like a giant dragonfly ready for flight, a helicopter waits in the practice field of Little Rock Central High School. Stretched across what was once a beautiful and serene campus are pup tents in geometrical precision and the drab olive of army uniforms blends with the autumn colors of dying leaves. It is symbolic that the sadness of the impending death of a season is synonymous with the death of an era and that the one should strike a melancholy chill in the hearts of southern people just as surely as does the other.

Students who had looked forward to the fulfillment and pleasure of high school years are suppressed by the ominous glint of sunlight on the steel of fixed bayonets. The noisy and carefree chatter of youth that is characteristic of the before and after school hours, is hushed like the suppression of laughter in a prison camp. Children who soon enough will have to face the responsibilities of adult life and military training and, possibly, military action, are getting it before their time. There is certainly nothing natural, casual or carefree about a line of armed United States army men standing shoulder to shoulder for two full blocks in front of what was once termed "The Most Beautiful High School in America."

Not only are we sacrificing the heritage and the emotions of our youth but also their privilege to acquire an education. Surely no clear - thinking person could possibly assume that a child could study or learn under the conditions that exist. How can concentration be accomplished for a test, the results of which will affect grades necessary for college entrance, with the United States army on the campus, on the building — literally — in the building and "breathing down the neck" of students in classrooms?

Is the integration of nine Negro students worth the sacrifice the hundreds of white students are making? I am sure the nine Negro students are hand - picked, well - behaved and well above average students. There could be no particular objection to nine Negro students in Little Rock High but what about next year when nine hundred decide they had rather go to Central High than the newer and much more modern Horace Mann High School which was built for them less than a year ago with more than one million dollars outlay of taxpayers' money?

Governor Faubus, one of the bravest and most admirable men it has been my privilege to observe, had the right idea — the way to prevent trouble is to remove the cause. That is an old and time - honored fact that all of us have been brought up to respect. This is fast becoming a nation where freedom of speech is not permitted and perhaps I am taking a chance of the "Quick half - circle of bayonets" we heard about on the radio when I say that I am sick to death of the hackneyed expression "regardless of race, color or creed." As far as I know, no person who thinks at all wishes to see any human being persecuted but at the same time social class distinction always has and always will exist. The one hundred and first or ten times the one hundred and first cannot alter that.

It is a ridiculous thing that the grimness of war, which is what a military division suggests, stands stiffly at the portals of a building that heretofore have witnessed only the tenderness of youth and the romantic entrances and exits of teen agers in the healthy boy-girl relationship upon which the foundations of a lifetime are laid. Can you visualize every school building in every southern district surrounded by a division of the United States army with fixed bayonets?

All is NOT quiet on the Central High School front. The trampled grass of the campus lawn is the camping ground of an army. The olive green of the military uniform blends with the autumn leaves in a heartbreaking manner and we who thought the Civil War ended some seventy - five years ago find that it has only just begun.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Tax Haven Abroad Backed By Nixon

The International Industrial Development Conference which took place in San Francisco was some kind of a trade promotion-export capital scheme designed by Time-Life International, a couple of magazines, and by the Stanford Research Institute which is described as a private consulting organization. It is said that as many as 500 industrialists attended this meeting. Early announcements idicated that the former Nazi munitions-maker, Krupp, would attend, but thus far I have not seen his name.

The most important speech was that delivered by Vice President Richard Nixon who dealt with many subjects until he came to page eight of the mimeographed copy in which he reached something that seems most unusual for him, namely the utilization of American private capital in foreign countries, particularly such as are tax havens. I quote a paragraph which requires considerable interpretation and study if it is a new fiscal policy:

"The Congress should also consider the feasibility of passing a tax reform similar to one adopted by the Uniten Kingdom a few months ago. This would defer U.S. taxes on income and profits earned entirely abroad until they are actually jaid in dividends to the stockholder or the parent company. It would give American overseas traders and investors the same encouragement some of them now seek by incorporating abroad. It would immediately increase the funds available to such companies for additional foreign investment, yet in the long run the U. S. Treasury ad foreign treasuries would also gain by the tax on income from a larger investment base."

Great Britain can only sustain her economy on foreign trade. This is also true of Japan and of West Germany. They are required by their lack of raw materials, their population surplus, and their need to import raw materials and foodstuffs to engage heavily in foreign trade. To achieve this end, they encourage cartels, they subsidize industrial and commercial enterprises, they create tax havens, and they orient their foreign policy toward benefiting foreign trade.

Is the same true about the United States? There is no evidence to that effect. The evidence shows that our foreign trade, apart from government-subsidized exports of goods and money, amounts to a very small fraction of our national income. Of course, there are some companies, since the beginning of World War II, which have benefited from foreign trade, but none of these industries have done as much in the foreign as in the domestic field.

What Vice President Nixon proposes is that American capital exported abroad and remaining abroad as to prinicipal and profit, should not be taxed by the United States, until the profits are brought back to this country. This idea could stimulate foreign trade; it could also stimulate a flight of capital to a tax haven.

I find nothing in the speech which protects the United States from such a flight of capital to a tax haven or which protects the American who stays at home and invests his money and labor in the United States and who pays his taxes honestly and regularly. Actually this exported American capital could be used as unfair competition against the tax-paying American and against highly taxed and high-wages American labor. And the tax-haven operator would be safe-guarded by such law as Vice President Nixon or whoever incubated this idea, proposes.

Also how does this affect the foreigner or tax-haven American who sets up outside of the United States with tax-free American dollars, manufactures goods which he imports into the United States but leaves the capital and the profits from such American sales abroad? Under this plan, he could undersell his own American company, eventually produce a tax loss here, but taking a profit in his foreign subsidiaries, and paying taxes nowhere, or a very small tax. As a matter of fact, the American low-priced automobile is already out-priced in competition with imported automobiles made by American-owned companies abroad.

We are subsidizing the industrialization of many weak and backward and war-damaged countires. These subsidies come out of taxes.

6 by Arkansas, and Louisiana State, held to 98 yards rushing, lost to Florida 22-14. Ole Miss was No. 6, LSU No. 10

The second string powers, as a whole, had it a bit easier. Stanford shocked UCLA 20-6 and Ohio State needed a third period field goal for a 16-13 edge over Wisconsin, but Oregon stayed on the Rose Bowl trail by defeating California 24-6. Michigan struck fast for a 24-7 victory over Minnesota in a battle between two second 10 members for the Little Brown Jug. Navy, with Tom Forrestal tossing four TD passes, walloped winless Penn 35-7.

Oklahoma, a four-touchdown favorite, fell behind, 13-7, as Bob Stransky and Eddie Dove—who collected 116 of the Buffs' 213 yards—made things tough in the second half. But Oklahoma pulled itself together and marched 53 yards for the payoff TD with 4½ minutes gone in the final period.

A&M scored in the first 6 minutes behind Roddy Osborne and John Crow, then topped Baylor bids before scoring again in the final period. The Southwest Conference leaders, pointing for the Cotton Bowl bid, were on the Baylor 2 at the finish.

Iowa had itself a tussle in the mud at Northwestern before all-America tackle Alex Karras recovered a NU fumble on the Wildcat 33 in the final period. Randy Duncan then got off a pass that bounced off Kegin Furlong's chest, off a defender and back to Furlong—who took it over for a 31-yard play and retained Iowa's Big Ten lead.

Duke blew a 14-0 lead as NC State moved for the tying touchdown after a 53-yard pass interception return by center Jim Oddo. The Wolfpack stopped Duke a foot short of the goal late in the game, but the Blue Devils still look like a good bet for the Orange Bowl.

A pair of sucker passes, both by George Walker, caught Mississippi flat-footed, looking for rushing plays, in Arkansas' upset, while Walt Kowalczyk tore off a 35-yard scoring sprint in the final period to save Michigan State further embarrassment.

Elsewhere, Penn State knocked Syracuse from the unbeatens 20-12, and Dartmouth took over as the East's lone unbeaten, untied major team with a 26-0 job on Harvard.

The Moscow announcement was made as Zhukov was returning from a mission to Yugoslavia and Albania. That mission may have been the importnt one of swinging Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito more in line with Kremlin policies.

Yugoslavia's recognition of Communist East Germany was announced three days after Zhukov's arrival in Belgrade.

In an interview with a New York Times correspondent Oct. 8, Khrushchev said the U.S. State Department had turned down a proposal that Zhukov visit the United States.

President Eisenhower withheld any comment on the Moscow announcement today as did the State Department.

$60 Million Fired In Missile Testing

field "a smooth-working organization ... even if a few heads must be knocked together." Hhis was a reference to interservice rivalries.

The IRBM tests already held ing match to decide whether the Army's Jupiter or the Air Force's Thor is better—or whether the best features of both should be combined.

In addition to the Army and Air Force designs, now in the state of completed hardware, there is a third design, the Navy's Polaris missile. The Jupiter and the Thor are propelled by liquid fuels—dangerous to handle and requiring a vast amount of "plumbing" within a missile. The Polaris will use a solid fuel, which the Navy claims will produce the same results as liquid fuel but will be vastly safer to handle aboard a submarine or ship.

A defense spokesman said today tests had established solid propellant rockets as "suitable." Details are still secret.

Air Force scientists said that technical data so far evaluated on the firing of a rocket from a balloon 100,000 feet above Eniwetok atoll in the mid-Pacific gave reasons to believe the rocket reached more than 4,000 miles into space. This was more than 3,000 miles higher than any man-made object had ever penetrated the ocean of space. There was no attempt to make a satellite of this rocket by putting it into an orbit. It was fired at an angle that would allow it to fall back to earth.

The apparent high success of this "Project Far Side" raised questions, not immediately answered, of whether American scientists were now ready to try to beat Russia in a rocket race to or around the moon and back. The Air Force scientists said there was no technological reason why a rocket couldn't be fired to the moon.

Guatemala's Junta Seeks New Chief

GUATEMALA, Oct. 26 (AP) — Guatemala's ruling military junta tonight called on Congress to install Guillermo Flores Avendano, second vice president in the government of the late Carlos Castillo Armas, as interim chief executive until new elections can be held.

Some 2,000 adherents of the rightist presidential candidate, retired Gen. Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes, immediately shouted a defiant protest in front of the National Palace.

A Ydigoras leader yelled from a loudspeaker truck that thousands of Ydigoristas were mobilizing through the country and would march on the capital.

The army warned that it would put down any opposition to its decision, announced after a 24-hour truce. Ydigoras had agreed to call off demonstrations by his followers while the junta considered what to do about the presidency.

Army officers have suspected that Communists, mixing among Ydigoras crowds, were responsible for scattered violence yesterday in which mobs overturned cars and threatened merchants who did not close their stores.

Ydigoras has charged that his defeat in an election last Sunday to fill the vacancy caused by the assassination of Castillo July 26, was due to fraud. Miguel Ortiz Passarella, candidate on the Castillo Armas party, was the announced winner. But the junta took over power Thursday and set aside the election because of "defects" in the voting.

It deposed Acting President Luis Arturo Gonzalez, the first vice president in Castillo's administration, and allowed him to go to Mexico.

"Dear Sir: I received your jury summons. Please spare me public embarrassment. I am a lady whose weight is far in excess of that of an average juror. You just don't have a jury chair that I could possibly squeeze into. It would not be fair to make me stand to listen to a trial of a case. Can I be excused?

short supply. "The shortage results not so much from an inadequate supply of money as from the unprecedented demand of business and the consumer market for loans of all kinds," Williamson said.

Williamson charged that Congress this year "erred" in trying to increase the supply of money for Federal Housing Authority-insured and Veterans Administration-guaranteed loans by clamping a price control on such loans. This was in the form of a regulatory ceiling on the discounts charged by lenders dealing with FHA and VA loans, a discount made necessary by freezing the interest rates on such loans below the market price, Williamson asserted.

'Congress Erred'

The speaker went so far as to declare that, "the approval of such controls evidenced a woeful and deliberate failure on the part of the Congress to understand interest rates and their relation to the economy. Unfortunately by this action, the Congress inspired a renewed drive for more costly subsidies for housing by powerful groups in and out of public life who, regretably, view any temporary maladjustment in our monetary system as symptomatic of a breakdown in private enterprise and its capacities to provide housing for the American people."

Williamson stated that recommendations proposed by the NAREB and 20 other associations to affect enaction of federal legislation concerning taxation of self-employed will be opposed by municipal officials "who view the federal bureaucracy as a much easier touch."

He asserted that "unless the trend toward increased dependence on bigger and costlier federal government is at least slowed down, we will live to see the time when municipal officials will have little more to do than the ministerial function of distributing federal money."

Replacing President

Discussion of what should be done if a president of the United States should become physically or mentally incapacitated to such an extent that he could not function has come up again. This subject received great attention after President Eisenhower suffered a heart attack and has received some attention at various times since then.

Don Wharton, in a current magazine article, says cougress should provide legal machinery for determining when a president is unable to discharge the duties of his office. "Until we establish such machinery," Wharton says, "we court the peril of being caught without a president, perhaps in an exceedingly critical moment of history." Wharton says executive affairs "drifted helplessly" when Presidents Wilson and Garfield were incapacitated for months.

As Wharton points out, several proposals have been made for setting up legal machinery. Of those submitted, that offered by former President Harry Truman seems to offer as much protection as only for the president against unjustified usurpation by an over-ambitious vice-president. Truman's proposal includes some of those made by others.

One suggestion, endorsed by President Eisenhower after his two illnesses, would empower the vice-president to make the decision upon approval in writing by a majority of the memebrs of the cabinet. Former President Herbert Hoover thinks the power to decide should be given to the cabinet.

Truman proposes the creation of a seven-man panel composed of the vice-president, chief justice, speaker of the house and the majority and minority leaders of the house and senate. This panel would be empowered to call in expert authorities from top medical schools. If they found the president "truly incapacitated," the panel would inform congress, which could elevate the vice-president to the presidency by a two-thirds vote.

We would suggest that at least one amendment should be made to this proposal and that would be the elimination of the vice-president from the panel, since he would be the one man who could be voting himself and since he might unduly influence the other members of the panel.

Right now Vice-President Nixon is drooling for the presidency and to have him on a seven-man panel to decide President Eisenhower's capacity to serve could easily be dangerous. When President Eisenhower suffered the heart attack, Nixon rushed to the home of Deputy Attorney General William P. Rogers, Jr., recently appointed to succeed Herbert Brownell, Jr. as attorney general, and spent the night there. He said he spent the night with Rogers in order to avoid newspapermen but a more probable counsel on how he might step into the president's place. A panel which did not include the vice-president would be much safer from heavy political pressure.

If a panel devoid of the vice-president could be provided for, if testimony of medical experts could be required and if a two-thirds vote of congress could be provided, a reasonably safe way of replacing the president in case of real incapacition could be set up. This would remove most of the danger of political ousting of the chief executive.

Second Party Needed

An editorial writer for the Southern States Industrial Council, Thurman Sensing, taking cognizance of the tremendous movement away from both the Republican and the Democrat parties, thinks one of these parties should fade out and that the radicals in the disappearing party would join those in the surviving party. He thinks a new party should be made up of non-radicals. Thus, we would still have the American two-party system, instead of the present one-party system under two different names.

His summation is well worthy of thought and we give it as follows:

Looking ahead to the presidential election in 1960, there has been considerable comment recently about the need of a 'Third Party'. Nor is this comment confined to any one section of the country—it is nation wide.

As a matter of fact, a great many third parties have already been started, ranging from just a few people in certain cases to many people in others. Which all means, of course, that they are not third parties; they are simply splinter parties. Each of these splinter parties to combine with it and do things its way.

This is not what we need. The nation of France has foundered on splinter parties. Our constitutional republican form of government has operated traditionally and rightly on the two-party system. That is the way it should be.

The trouble, though, is that we do not now have two parties. We have two organizations calling themselves by different names — Democratic and Republican — but they are no longer distinguishable as separate parties. As a matter of fact, there is a great deal more difference within the parties than there is between the parties. The need is for two parties that you can tell apart, that give you a choice.

Therefore, if we are to have a two-party system, either the Democratic or the Republican organization must fade out of existence and give way to a 'Second Party,' — a party that gives the voter a real choice between radical and conservative views. Naturally, the political leadership of neither the Republicans nor the Democrats wants this to happen to their organization. That's the way they make their living.

This attitude was brought rather vividly to our attention during a conversation we had recently with a distinguished Congressman, a gentleman who has done a good job as chairman of one of the important Congressional committees. When we mentioned that it seemed the only possibility of giving a conservative voter a choice in the 1960 election is a strong 'Third Party' movement, which we hoped might eventually result in a real 'Second Party' that would absorb the Republicans or the Democrats in the course of time and leave us again with a real two-party system, this Congressman objected. He summed up his position in this comment, "My father always told me the way to get rid of rats was not to burn down the barn."

We were glad to have him agree that there are rats in the barns, but that did not seem to us a satisfactory answer. We made this observation:

"Over here in one place is the Democratic barn. Over here in another place is the Republican barn. They are both infested with rats. For at least twenty-five years those in each barn who are opposed to rats have been trying to get rid of them — but every time they get rid of one rat, two seem to jump up in his place. There are now more rats in each barn than ever before. Since we cannot seem to get rid of them, why not walk off and leave them?

"Why not go over here in another place and build as nearly as possible a ratproof barn. All those who are anti-rat can repair to this barn, and let the rats have the other two barns. Eventually, there would be no need of two barns filled with rats, and the rats could save money and time and organization troubles by all ganging together in one barn. The abandoned barn could rot down and then there would be two parties left—the Rat Party and the Anti-Rat Party. If this is not done," we concluded," it seems to us there is nothing ahead but a Rat Government, which is the same as a Totalitarian Government — and it makes no difference whether this government is the absolute rule of the dictator, the planned economy of socialism or the regimentation of communism," we would have lost our freedom just the same. In either instance, we would have only a one-party government—which is not much different from the way it is right now."

We do not know whether we made much impression on this Congressman or not—but we sure convinced ourself!

More Cooperation By Scientists Considered

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—Preceded by Russia's "sputnik" and his own Queen Elizabeth, Britain's Prime Minister Harold MacMillan arrived in Washington to the rousing cry of "scientific cooperation" on all sides.

The British, French and other American allies have been talking about the need for greater cooperation in scientific and military spheres for some time. Now, with visible evidence circling overhead of Soviet s rides in research and development, the United States is itself reexamining the possibility of increased cooperation with its friends.

President Eisenhower, toasting the Queen Oct. 17, declared that "out scientists must work together." The Administration is reported to be readying a comprehensive plan for greater inter-allied cooperation that could call for new legislation.

This may involve changes in the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, which bars the U.S. from giving to its allies either nuclear weapons or any information "relating to the design or fabrication of atomic weapons." Secretary of State Dulles suggested Oct. 16 that these restrictions "may have become obsolete."

At the time Congress rewrote he Atomic Energy Act in 1954, two members of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee — Democratic Reps. Chet Holifield (Calif.) and Melvin Price (Ill.)—objected that a tight rein on the exchange of atomic military information "ultimately may work to our own disadvantage." They pointed out that the British, who developed the jet engine, might come up with something equally important in the nuclear weapons field but "be debarred from working with us on it because of our own short-sighted and nonreciprocal policies."

Rep. Sterling Cole (R-N.Y.) then chairman of the Joint Committee, admitted that Holifield and Price might be right. But, he argued, "if we are going to make a mistake, it is better to err on the side of caution and discretion, ra her than to make a mistake by being unduly generous." Congress, wary of treachery in the from of another Klaus Fuchs or Alan Nunn May, agreed with Co e.

It is by no means clear, however, to what extent the 1954 law has prevented, or now bars, more extensive scientific cooperation between the United States and its allies. That law made a specific exception, for example, of information about "systems employed in the delivery or use" of nuclear weapons. There is thus no flat legal ban on exchanging information with the British, say, in the guided missile field, now the object of efforts as in ense as those devoted to making the first atomic bomb.

But there is no doubt that the 1954 law stands in the way of resumption of anything like the degree of cooperation between the United States, Britain and Canada which prevailed during World War II. President Roosevelt and Prime Ministers Winston Churchil and MacKenzie King were uninhibited by law in their decisions to coordinate research on the atomic bomb. On Aug. 6, 1945, the day Hiroshima was o b l i t e r a t e d, Churchill called this joint undertaking "a happy augury for our future relations." And he added: "By God's mercy, British and American science outpaced all German efforts."

Texas Publisher One Of Laymen To Study Courts

WASHINGTON — A newspaper publisher, a banker and an advertising executive will shortly join a group of prominent American judges and attorneys in a study of ways and means to increase the efficiency, speed and fairness of trial courts, ranging from the lowliest traffic court to the highest federal trial courts of the nation.

Associate Justice Tom C. Clark, former Attorney General of the United States and selected this year as chairman of the section of judicial administration of the American Bar Association, announced this week that he had named the three on the special committee "on law and the layman."

John W. Runyon, president of the Dallas Times Herald, is the lone newsman on the committee. His lay associates are Robert V. Flemming, chairman of the board of the Riggs National Bank of Washington and Thomas D'Arcy Brophy, chairman of Kenyon and Eckhardt, well known advertising firm of New York City.

The other members of the committee are either prominent attorneys or judges. They are Judges Bolitha J. Laws, chief judge of the United States district court of the District of Columbia; William C. Mathes, United States district judge at Los Angeles; Alfred P. Murrah, United States Circuit Judge at Oklahoma City; Illinois S ate Judge Walter V. Schaefer of Chicago; Ivan Lee Holt, Jr., circuit judge at St. Louis; two members of the Florida State Supreme Court, Thomas J. Carroll and Elwyn Thomas; C. B. Peeler, attorney of Jacksonville, Fla.; and Clark M. Clifford Washington attorney.

Justice Clark explained that the committee was created by the ABA as a result of recommendations of Judge Laws, who conducted a smaller study in the District of Columbia. Judge Laws became convinced that there is a great opportunity to speed up trials, from traffic courts to the highest federal trial courts, as wel as giving defendants "a better break."

The American Bar Association agreed to give the proposal of Judge Laws a trial and named Justice Clark to generally supervise it.

Justice Clark said that members of the committee will work on an individual basis until sometime this winter, when they will meet in Atlanta to formulate their recommendations.

He stressed the importance of the laymen on the committee. "We need better court facilities, and better administration of the courts," Justice Clark declared. "We hope that cities, counties, states and the federal government will gain advice from this committee which will prove valuable and that the laymen will particularly help get these recommendations adopted."

Gasoline Cheaper But Taxes Higher

I spend so much time in Texas and always seem to do so much and sleep so little while I'm there that I should be eligible for some kind of depletion allowance pretty soon.

I was born in Oklahoma, but each trip south of the Red River I return with a little more native drawl to where my associates say I'm becoming a Texan by osmosis.

All joking asid eand all the taill tales notwithstanding, all Americans owe a large debt to the oil-producing states For it is oil, flowing from the breast of mother nature, that has nourished our very little nation into a mighty big one

Yet, do you realize we now pay less per gallon for gasoline than we did during the depths of the depression.

It's a fact.

No, now, you think you pay more.

You pay more tax.

The tax on gasoline has gone from 2½ to almost 9 cents a gallon, but the price you actually pay for gasoline is less today than it was 25 years ago. And it's better gasoline.

I didn't mean to get off on that, but the one state that's been largely responsible for making us the economic powerhouse of the world is so often the butt of its own jokes we forget it's earned some applause, too.

Matter of fact, we have so completely forgotten our national obligation to these homefolks of all our oil - producing states that we have allowed cheap imported oil to idle more than half the drilling rigs in this country.

That's right, I said more than half the drilling rigs in the United States are standing idle tonight. And if Uncle Sam figures he can twist the faucet and step up the flow any time he needs to meet an emergency, he's as ignorant as most folks about the facts of the business.

Oil exploration is a gamble.

Without incentive, no rational man is going to gamble against those odds. So we gave the oilman a slight tax advantage.

But not if we turn around and handcuff him with proration and higher wage scales and costlier machinery, he can't possibly compete with a desert Arab who operates with none of these restraints.

PROTESTS TROOPS

(EDITORS NOTE: Neva McMillan Upton (Mrs. P. C. Upton) 459 Midland Ave., Little Rock, Ark., is a writer and the mother of a teen-age daughter, who is a senior in Central High School this year. She writes both poetry and prose and has had many of her writings published. She won the Arkansas Democrat's trophy in 1954 for the best poem of the year, entitled "Christmas, R.F.D.")

Little Rock, Ark.

Editor, Morning World,

Poised lightly, and looking very much like a giant dragonfly ready for flight, a helicopter waits in the practice field of Little Rock Central High School. Stretched across what was once a beautiful and serene campus are pup tents in geometrical precision and the drab olive of army uniforms blends with the autumn colors of dying leaves. It is symbolic that the sadness of the impending death of a season is synonymous with the death of an era and that the one should strike a melancholy chill in the hearts of southern people just as surely as does the other.

Students who had looked forward to the fulfillment and pleasure of high school years are suppressed by the ominous glint of sunlight on the steel of fixed bayonets. The noisy and carefree chatter of youth that is characteristic of the before and after school hours, is hushed like the suppression of laughter in a prison camp. Children who soon enough will have to face the responsibilities of adult life and military training and, possibly, military action, are getting it before their time. There is certainly nothing natural, casual or carefree about a line of armed United States army men standing shoulder to shoulder for two full blocks in front of what was once termed "The Most Beautiful High School in America."

Not only are we sacrificing the heritage and the emotions of our youth but also their privilege to acquire an education. Surely no clear - thinking person could possibly assume that a child could study or learn under the conditions that exist. How can concentration be accomplished for a test, the results of which will affect grades necessary for college entrance, with the United States army on the campus, on the building — literally — in the building and "breathing down the neck" of students in classrooms?

Is the integration of nine Negro students worth the sacrifice the hundreds of white students are making? I am sure the nine Negro students are hand - picked, well - behaved and well above average students. There could be no particular objection to nine Negro students in Little Rock High but what about next year when nine hundred decide they had rather go to Central High than the newer and much more modern Horace Mann High School which was built for them less than a year ago with more than one million dollars outlay of taxpayers' money?

Governor Faubus, one of the bravest and most admirable men it has been my privilege to observe, had the right idea — the way to prevent trouble is to remove the cause. That is an old and time - honored fact that all of us have been brought up to respect. This is fast becoming a nation where freedom of speech is not permitted and perhaps I am taking a chance of the "Quick half - circle of bayonets" we heard about on the radio when I say that I am sick to death of the hackneyed expression "regardless of race, color or creed." As far as I know, no person who thinks at all wishes to see any human being persecuted but at the same time social class distinction always has and always will exist. The one hundred and first or ten times the one hundred and first cannot alter that.

It is a ridiculous thing that the grimness of war, which is what a military division suggests, stands stiffly at the portals of a building that heretofore have witnessed only the tenderness of youth and the romantic entrances and exits of teen agers in the healthy boy-girl relationship upon which the foundations of a lifetime are laid. Can you visualize every school building in every southern district surrounded by a division of the United States army with fixed bayonets?

All is NOT quiet on the Central High School front. The trampled grass of the campus lawn is the camping ground of an army. The olive green of the military uniform blends with the autumn leaves in a heartbreaking manner and we who thought the Civil War ended some seventy - five years ago find that it has only just begun.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Tax Haven Abroad Backed By Nixon

The International Industrial Development Conference which took place in San Francisco was some kind of a trade promotion-export capital scheme designed by Time-Life International, a couple of magazines, and by the Stanford Research Institute which is described as a private consulting organization. It is said that as many as 500 industrialists attended this meeting. Early announcements idicated that the former Nazi munitions-maker. Krupp, would attend, but thus far I have not seen his name.

The most important speech was that delivered by Vice President Richard Nixon who dealt with many subjects until he came to page eight of the mimeographed copy in which he reached something that seems most unusual for him, namely the utilization of American private capital in foreign countries, particularly such as are tax havens. I quote a paragraph which requires considerable interpretation and study if it is a new fiscal policy:

"The Congress should also consider the feasibility of passing a tax reform similar to one adopted by the Uniten Kingdom a few months ago. This would defer U.S. taxes on income and profits earned entirely abroad until they are actually jaid in dividends to the stockholder or the parent company. It would give American overseas traders and investors the same encouragement s o m e of them now seek by incorporating abroad. It would immediately increase the funds available to such companies for additional foreign investment, yet in the long run the U. S. Treasury ad foreign treasuries would also gain by the tax on income from a larger investment base."

Great Britain can only sustain her economy on foreign trade. This is also true of Japan and of West Germany. They are required by their lack of raw materials, their population surplus, and their need to import raw materials and foodstuffs to engage heavily in foreign trade. To achieve this end, they encourage cartels, they subsidize industrial and commercial enterprises, they create tax havens, and they orient their foreign policy toward benefiting foreign trade.

Is the same true about the United States? There is no evidence to that effect. The evidence shows that our foreign trade, apart from government-subsidized exports of goods and money, amounts to a very small fraction of our national income. Of course, there are some companies, since the beginning of World War II, which have benefited from foreign trade, but none of these industries have done as much in the foreign as in the domestic field.

What Vice President Nixon proposes is that American capital exported abroad and remaining abroad as to prinicipal and profit, should not be taxed by the United States, until the profits are brought back to this country. This idea could stimulate foreign trade; it could also stimulate a flight of capital to a tax haven.

I find nothing in the speech which protects the United States from such a flight of capital to a tax haven or which protects the American who stays at home and invests his money and labor in the United States and who pays his taxes honestly and regularly. Actually this exported American capital could be used as unfair competition against the tax-paying American and against highly taxed and high-wages American labor. And the tax-haven operator would be safe-guarded by such law as Vice President Nixon or whoever incubated this idea, proposes.

Also how does this affect the foreigner or tax-haven American who sets up outside of the United States with tax-free American dollars, manufactures goods which he imports into the United States but leaves the capital and the profits from such American sales abroad? Under this plan, he could undersell his own American company, eventually produce a tax loss here, but taking a profit in his foreign subsidiaries, and paying taxes nowhere, or a very small tax. As a matter of fact, the American low-priced automobile is already outpriced in competition with imported automobiles made by American-owned companies abroad.

We are subsidizing the industrialization of many weak and backward and war-damaged countires. These subsidies come out of taxes.

Crew Gets Stage Prepared For Play

The ring of hammers and buzz of saws are familiar sounds these days on the Northeast State campus.

Along with these noises is the smell of paint as the stage crew readies the scenery for the drama section's forthcoming production, "The Male Animal."

Directed by George C. Brian of the speech faculty, the fast-paced three-act comedy will run Wednesday and Thursday in Brown Auditorium on the campus. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

The stage crew's enthusiasm, matched by their experience, foretells a smooth, finished performance for first nighters.

J. C. Wallace, who will be handling the curtains, and Dell Lassiter, in charge of make-up, will be remembered for their outstanding work in "A Man Called Peter," major production of Northeast's speech section a few seasons ago.

Sue Turner, student director, and Linda Garrett, stage manager for "The Male Animal," gained experience on the stage in various college dramas, including "Ladies in Retirement," which won special recognition.

Sound Effects

Taking care of props and sound effects are Jerry Lee, Douglas Comeaux, Ray Vineyard and Marlin Howard. Elvis "Chug" Stout will be working the switchboard lights.

Written by James Thurber and Elliott Nugent, "The Male Animal" was a smash Broadway hit a few seasons ago. The hilarious play won generous applause when it was presented here by The Monroe Little Theatre.

Tommy Turner, a young professor in a small middle western college, his wife, and her former sweetheart are characters about whom the plot revolves.

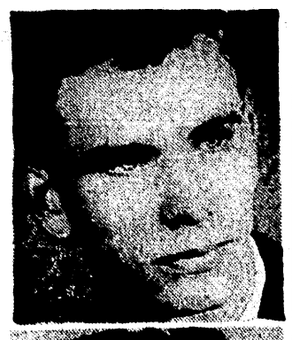
Football Hero

George Phillips carries the part of the "all brawn and no brain" former football hero to whom Ellen was engaged when she married Tommy. Two of Patricia's boy friends are played by Phil Lissota and Benny Boyte.

Roy Aycock is cast as Dean Damon, head of the English Department, with Billie Sue Swanson carrying the part of his wife.

Bobby McElroy and Betty Hughes are seen as Ed Keller, a college trustee, and his wife, Myrtle. Rounding out the cast are Arnold McLin, a reporter, and Obed Kirkpatrick, a drum major.



CARRY LEAD ROLES — George Mac and Rita Snider play the principal parts of a college professor and his wife in "The Male Animal," the season's production of Northeast States drama section. The three-act comedy opens Wednesday at 8 p.m. for a two-night run in Brown Auditorium on the campus.

Breast Cancer Tendency May Be Inherited

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (UP)—A University of Texas geneticist said today that daughters of women with breast cancer are more likely to develop the disease than other women.

Addressing a conference of the New York Academy of Science, Dr. C. P. Oliver said studies of the families of 312 women with breast cancer disclosed that, in 19 cases, the patients' mothers also had breast cancer.

Of 134 "controls"—women as like the breast cancer patients as possible but without a history of tumor or cancer — the mothers of only three had breast cancer, he said.

More than 450 cancer researchers attended the conference on the "gentic concept for the origin of cancer," held at the Barbizon-Plaza Hotel.

Boy Found Shot By Shotgun Blast

JACKSONVILLE, Tex., Oct. 26 (UP)—Lewis White, 35, of the Tecula community in Cherokee county was found shot in the chest with a .410 gauge shotgun today.

He was taken to a Jacksonville hospital where his condition was listed as "fair."

White's brother, Olan, said Lewis had sent him to the store. When he returned, he found his brother in the storm cellar, shot in the chest, Olan said.

Admits Stabbing

FORT WORTH, Oct. 26 (UP)—Clifford McCarty, 24, who has a police record, admitted the fatal stabbing early today of Jimmy Garner, 29, a guitar player in a tavern band.

McCarty said he went to help his brother Jack McCarty, who was in a fight with Garner. But Jack said, "I didn't need help. . . I hate guys who use knives."

Attorney Raps Court Decision

BILOXI, Miss., Oct. 26 (AP) —A Washington attorney and college lecturer said today the U.S Supreme Court ruling against school segregation is based more on "social exhortation" than any reference to prior law or precedence.

Mrs. Julia Barton Hopkins, lecturer at Washington College, spoke to a joint convention of the American Women's Society of Certified Public Accountants (AWSCPA) and the American Society of Women Accountants (ASWA).

She said the sudden nullification by the court of the separate but equal doctrine after 60 years caused states which operated separate school systems to face what she called stupendous racial and social problems.

Osteopaths Name Leader

BILOXI, Miss., Oct. 26 (AP) —The Louisiana Assn of Osteopathic Physicians today installed Dr. Charles S. Wychoff of New Orleans president.

League To Give Projector To Twin Cities 'Y'

The Junior Charity League of Monroe will present a motion picture projector to the Twin Cities YMCA at a breakfast meeting of the group's board of directors Monday at 7:30 a. m. at the Saddle and Spur restaurant.

The projector was purchased by the league for use in the youth program of the "Y."

John O. Clay, president of the local YMCA, will introduce Miss Ethel Walker, representative from the national organization's Financial Services Bureau, who is visiting the local group in the interest of setting up the building fund office.

Also on the program will be reports from the youth and adult program committees, the building and grounds committee, and the building fund committee.

STAG VANISHES

EPPING, England, Oct. 26 (AP)—Epping forest's white stag has vanished as abruptly as it arrived eight months ago.

Guardians of this ancient forest where England's kings hunted for centuries had ordered the stag tracked down and shot.

President Sees Army-Navy Tilt

By WARREN DUFFEE

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 26 (UP) —President Eisenhower watched something new today in Army-Navy football rivalry — a game between Cadets and Middies weighing 150 pounds or less.

The President, who was a varsity halfback himself at West Point more than 40 years ago, arrived for the game just five minutes before kickoff at 11:30 a. m. (C.S.T.) and took his seat on the Navy's side of the stadium.

He made the 30-mile trip from the White House to the Naval Academy by car and planned to drive back late today after paying a brief social call on Maryland Gov. Theodore McKeldin at the governor's mansion here.

The President's box was on the midshipmen's side of the field because he attended the game as the Navy's guest. But the Chief Executive was expected to let his admitted favoritism for his West Point alma mater slip through and do some rooting for the Army lightweight team.

Benefit Contest

Today's contest, dubbed "the Little Army-Navy game," was a benefit for the proposed new three-million-dollar Navy- Marine Corps memorial stadium to be built at the Naval Academy. The President and a host of White House staff members bought their own tickets. Price: $2 each.

Sitting with Mr. Eisenhower in the presidential box were Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Thomas S. Gates, Rear Adm. William R. Smedberg, superintendent of the Naval Academy, and Brig. Gen. John S. Throckmorton, commandant of the West Point Corps of Cadets.

The Navy has long fielded a team in the 150 - pound league, winning nine championships. But the Army competed in this category for the first time this year. Both lightweight squads went into the contest undefeated.

Today's was the second football game the President has seen this season. He recently watched George Washington University defeat the Air Force Academy at Griffith Stadium in Washington.

Church Sunday

Next weekend, he will go to West Point to see the Army varsity team play Colgate. He has never been to a regular Army-Navy varsity game since becoming Chief Executive.

He plans to attend church Sunday. He will go to Grace Reformed Church in Washington where Theodore Roosevelt worshipped from 1903 to 1909. The church is part of the evangelical reformed movement, which is similar to the Dutch Reformed church.

The President is chairman of the Theodore Roosevelt Centennial Commission, set up to commemorate the 100th anniversary of Roosevelt's birth, Oct. 27, 1858. Sunday's church service begins the observance.

The White House announced that the President, responding to reports that the District of Columbia United Givers Fund drive is lagging, added 10 per cent in cash to his previous UGF donation.

Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton, chairman of the UGF campaign's government division, said the President reached into his wallet and pulled out a bill of considerable size when he heard the local fund drive was lagging.

Editor Named To Conference

GREENVILLE, Miss., Oct. 26 (AP)—Hodding Carter, Pulitzer prize-winning editor of The Delta Democrat-Times, said today he plans to represent Mississippi at the annual conference of civilan aides to the U.S. Army in Washington, D.C. Oct. 28 30.

Secretary Wilber Brucker appointed Carter to a third two-year term as civilian aide for Mississippi last March.

Carter's duties include interpreting Army policies and doctrines to civilian communities and advising the secretary on matters of mutual interest to the Army and the public.

A Hallowe'en Tacky Party will be held by members of the Pythian Sisters of Monroe Temple Number One when they meet tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Castle Hall on St. John Street.

Also present will be members of Friendship Temple Number Three of Monroe and El Dorado Temple Number One of El Dorado, Ark.

Surprise refreshments will be served.

Cars Collide In West Monroe; No One Injured

Cars driven by John E. Sturgen, 116 Maple, Monroe, and Preston Eubanks, Route Three, Monroe collided Friday night at the bridge and Trenton in West Monroe.

No one was injured, but damages to front ends of both cars were estimated at over $100.

West Monroe police charged both men with reckless driving, and charged Sturgen with driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages.

The first paved street in New York was Stone Street. It got its name because the large cobblestones they used to pave it made it "the stony street."

Field's Observes 28th Anniversary

Field's demonstrated its faith in the Twin Cities and Northeast Louisiana 28 years ago when, in October, 1929, it opened Field's Women's Shop to serve the area.

Field's policy has always been to have quality merchandise for women at popular prices.

A. Blumenthal, founder, initiated this policy which has continued through the years. Field's was one of the first downtown stores to feature popularly-priced women's clothing exclusively.

The store, now observing its 28th anniversary, was managed by Blumenthal until his death in 1944. At that time his widow assumed the management, a position she held until her retirement this year. Morris Blumenthal, their son, became manager at that time.

Field's recently added a new service for its customers — the carrying of charge accounts in order to make shopping at Field's even more convenient than in the past.

Daniel May Recommend School Laws

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (UP)— Gov. Price Daniel said today he may submit legislation to the special session closing public schools if they are occupied by state or federal troops.

But Daniel told a news conference that the Legislature first must act on his program which includes enactment of a long-range water planning program, lobby control legislation and law enforcement and crime prevention study.

The governor said he will decide in the coming week what matters, if any, he will submit for legislative action. The special 30-day session ends Nov. 12.

Far Bigger Issue

Daniel said the matter of troops occupying school halls and campuses "is a far bigger issue than the matter of integration or segregation."

He repeated two broad policies underlining his thinking and possibly pointing toward future actions:

—"I'm not going to use the police force of this state to enforce federal court orders."

—"As long as I am governor of this state, we are not going to have federal troops occupying the halls and campuses of our schools."

Studying Question

The governor said it was a question as to what he could do to prevent troop occupation, and that was why he was studying the question.

He revealed he conferred by telephone with Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida, where the legislators enacted a law barring troop occupation of schools.

Daniel said Collins explained that in Flroida a school is closed automatically, without any action on the part of the governor, when it is occupied by troops, and this affords a "cooling off period."

Possible Legislation

Daniel said he was also considering legislation by the East Texas segregation block directing that the attorney general of Texas represent local school districts in court contests involving segregation.

On other news conferences subjects, Daniel said:

He was considering proposals aimed at curbing oil imports which bear directly on Texas' petroleum production.

Implied that the legislature should "burn the midnight oil" if necessary in order to get his program passed and enact other bills coming before the session.

ORDERS DEPORTATION

MANILA, Oct. 26 (AP)—A Manila court has recommended deportation of Guian Chieng, a Chinese. The charge: Selling three of his five children to racketeers dealing in Chinese children, and putting his other two children and his mother-in-law on the market. He denied the charge.

6 by Arkansas, and Louisiana State, held to 98 yards rushing, lost to Florida 22-14. Ole Miss was No. 6, LSU No. 10

The second string powers, as a whole, had it a bit easier. Stanford shocked UCLA 20-6 and Ohio State needed a third period field goal for a 16-13 edge over Wisconsin, but Oregon stayed on the Rose Bowl trail by defeating California 24-6. Michigan struck fast for a 24-7 victory over Minnesota in a battle between two second 10 members for the Little Brown Jug. Navy, with Tom Forrestal tossing four TD passes, walloped winless Penn 35-7.

Oklahoma, a four-touchdown favorite, fell behind, 13-7, as Bob Stransky and Eddie Dove—who collected 116 of the Buffs' 213 yards—made things tough in the second half. But Oklahoma pulled itself together and marched 53 yards for the payoff TD with 4½ minutes gone in the final period.

A&M scored in the first 6 minutes behind Roddy Osborne and John Crow, then topped Baylor bids before scoring again in the final period. The Southwest Conference leaders, pointing for the Cotton Bowl bid, were on the Baylor 2 at the finish.

Iowa had itself a tussle in the mud at Northwestern before all-America tackle Alex Karras recovered a NU fumble on the Wildcat 33 in the final period. Randy Duncan then got off a pass that bounced off Kegin Furlong's chest, off a defender and back to Furlong—who took it over for a 31-yard play and retained Iowa's Big Ten lead.

Duke blew a 14-0 lead as NC State moved for the tying touchdown after a 53-yard pass interception return by center Jim Oddo. The Wolfpack stopped Duke a foot short of the goal late in the game, but the Blue Devils still look like a good bet for the Orange Bowl.

A pair of sucker passes, both by George Walker, caught Mississippi flat-footed, looking for rushing plays, in Arkansas' upset, while Walt Kowalczyk tore off a 36-yard scoring sprint in the final period to save Michigan State further embarrassment.

Elsewhere, Penn State knocked Syracuse from the unbeatens 20-12, and Dartmouth took over as the East's lone unbeaten, untied major team with a 26-0 job on Harvard.

The Moscow announcement was made as Zhukov was returning from a mission to Yugoslavia and Albania. That mission may have been the importnt one of swinging Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito more in line with Kremlin policies.

Yugoslavia's recognition of Communist East Germany was announced three days after Zhukov's arrival in Belgrade.

In an interview with a New York Times correspondent Oct. 8, Khrushchev said the U.S. State Department had turned down a proposal that Zhukov visit the United States.

President Eisenhower withheld any comment on the Moscow announcement today as did the State Department.

glo-American cooperation was the historic result of the Eisenhower-Macmillan conference.

Concrete Steps

The western "Big Two" set in motion planning for concrete steps to strengthen the entire system of anti-Communist alliances and make better use of the free world's resources and talents.

Officials said the NATO meeting probably will produce agreements on defense efforts and informtion and weapons sharing geared to the age of rocket-missiles.

Recent scientific advances have virtually destroyed the assumptions on which western Europe's defense was based, one official said.

It was believed unlikely that the chiefs of state would attend, unless there was reasonable certainty the meeting would produce major results, rather than fine phrases

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and two new members of the Eisenhower cabinet, Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy and Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson, would accompany the President, officials said.

Democrats in Congress praised the administration's moves to shore up the Western alliance and revive the wartime policy unity of Washington and London.

$60 Million Fired In Missile Testing

field "a smooth-working organization ... even if a few heads must be knocked together." Hhis was a reference to interservice rivalries.

The IRBM tests already held actually are a competitive shooting match to decide whether the Army's Jupiter or the Air Force's Thor is better—or whether the best features of both should be combined.

In addition to the Army and Air Force designs, now in the state of completed hardware, there is a third design, the Navy's Polaris missile. The Jupiter and the Thor are propelled by liquid fuels—dangerous to handle and requiring a vast amount of "plumbing" within a missile. The Polaris will use a solid fuel, which the Navy claims will produce the same results as liquid fuel but will be vastly safer to handle aboard a submarine or ship.

A defense spokesman said today tests had established solid propellant rockets as "suitable." Details are still secret.

Air Force scientists said that technical data so far evaluated on the firing of a rocket from a balloon 100,000 feet above Eniwetok atoll in the mid-Pacific gave reasons to believe the rocket reached more than 4,000 miles into space. This was more than 3,000 miles higher than any man-made object had ever penetrated the ocean of space. There was no attempt to make a satellite of this rocket by putting it into an orbit. It was fired at an angle that would allow it to fall back to earth.

The apparent high success of this "Project Far Side" raised questions, not immediately answered, of whether American scientists were now ready to try to beat Russia in a rocket race to or around the moon and back. The Air Force scientists said there was no technological reason why a rocket couldn't be fired to the moon.

Guatemala's Junta Seeks New Chief

GUATEMALA, Oct. 26 (AP) — Guatemala's ruling military junta tonight called on Congress to install Guillermo Flores Avendano, second vice president in the government of the late Carlos Castillo Armas, as interim chief executive until new elections can be held.

Some 2,000 adherents of the rightist presidential candidate, retired Gen. Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes, immediately shouted a defiant protest in front of the National Palace.

A Ydigoras leader yelled from a loudspeaker truck that thousands of Ydigoristas were mobilizing through the country and would march on the capital.

The army warned that it would put down any opposition to its decision, announced after a 24-hour truce. Ydigoras had agreed to call off demonstrations by his followers while the junta considered what to do about the presidency.

Army officers have suspected that Communists, mixing among Ydigoras crowds, were responsible for scattered violence yesterday in which mobs overturned cars and threatened merchants who did not close their stores.

Ydigoras has charged that his defeat in an election last Sunday to fill the vacancy caused by the assassination of Castillo July 26, was due to fraud. Miguel Ortiz Passarella, candidate on the Castillo Armas party, was the announced winner. But the junta took over power Thursday and set aside the election because of "defects" in the voting.

It deposed Acting President Luis Arturo Gonzalez, the first vice president in Castillo's administration, and allowed him to go to Mexico.

Excused

An official in a courthouse in another city received a letter in response to a summons that had been served to require a woman's presence to serve on a jury. The letter is reported as follows:

"Dear Sir: I received your jury summons. Please spare me public embarrassment. I am a lady whose weight is far in excess of that of an average juror. You just don't have a jury chair that I could possibly squeeze into. It would not be fair to make me stand to listen to a trial of a case. Can I be excused?

She was excused.

short supply. "The shortage results not so much from an inadequate supply of money as from the unprecedented demand of business and the consumer market for loans of all kinds," Williamson said.

Williamson charged that Congress this year "erred" in trying to increase the supply of money for Federal Housing Authority-insured and Veterans Administration-guaranteed loans by clamping a price control on such loans. This was in the form of a regulatory ceiling on the discounts charged by lenders dealing with FHA and VA loans, a discount made necessary by freezing the interest rates on such loans below the market price, Williamson asserted.

'Congress Erred'

The speaker went so far as to declare that, "the approval of such controls evidenced a woeful and deliberate failure on the part of the Congress to understand interest rates and their relation to the economy. Unfortunately by this action, the Congress inspired a renewed drive for more costly subsidies for housing by powerful groups in and out of public life who, regretably, view any temporary maladjustment in our monetary system as symptomatic of a breakdown in private enterprise and its capacities to provide housing for the American people."

Williamson stated that recommendations proposed by the NAREB and 20 other associations to affect enaction of federal legislation concerning taxation of self-employed will be opposed by municipal officials "who view the federal bureaucracy as a much easier touch."

He asserted that "unless the trend toward increased dependence on bigger and costlier federal government is at least slowed down, we will live to see the time when municipal officials will have little more to do than the ministerial function of distributing federal money."

Turks Turn Attention To Ballot Today

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Oct. 26 (AP)—Turks vote tomorrow in a national election that interests them far more than the Turkish-Syrian crisis now worrying the rest of the world.

Turks take the Syrian dispute in stride. But they have been more worked up over politics than at any time since 1950.

Premier Adnan Menderes, 58, a tough, driving leader faces a strong challenge from three opposition parties on domestic issues.

Foreign policy never has entered the campaign. All parties agree on Turkey's pro-Western policy of allegiance to NATO and the Baghdad Pact and a dislike of things Russian.

The Republican People's party, the strongest opposition headed by former President Ismet Inonu, is making a strong bid for a return to office. The other parties are the Republican Nation party and the Freedom party.

Menderes and his Democratic party kicked Inonu out of office in 1950 and whipped the Republicans again in 1954.

Both Turkish and Western quarters predict a close election.

Election laws, however, have pushed the Turkish-Syrian crisis into a prominence in the newspapers in the last three days it never had before.

The law imposes a blackout on politicking three days before the election. This includes newspaper stories and editorials.

With politics eliminated, developments in the Syrian crisis flared into bold headlines in most newspapers.

The United Nations debate and Syria's refusal to accept the mediation offer of King Saud received some banner headlines. Syria announced today the Saudi Arabian monarch had withdrawn the offer.

60 Members Initiated Into Shrine Club

Approximately 60 novices were initiated into the Northeast Louisiana Shrine Club yesterday at the annual fall ceremonial yesterday in Monroe.

El Karubah temple and the Northoeast Shriners began their conference with a parade through downtown West Monroe and Monroe, following a business session and examination of candidates at the Hotel Frances.

The first and second sections held meetings in the afternoon. Bringing the ceremonies to a close were a dinner and All-Shrine dance.

O. T. Lindsay, Jr., president of the Northeast Louisiana Shrine Club, estimated that 500 Shriners and their wives attended.

Felony Theft Suspects Held

Lodged in the Ouachita parish jail last night was Herman Allen, 37, Negro of 1721 Adams street, on a charge of felony theft.

Allen was arrested by Monroe city police at the corner of 14th and Washington streets at 4:45 yesterday afternoon, after he allegedly took a coat belonging to Jack Potts, Jr. The coat was hanging in Pierce's Pharmacy, 917 DeSiard street with a check for $38 in the pocket.

When he was arrested, the check was reported gone. Police were continuing investigation. Allen was charged and transferred to the parish jail.

Jonesville Man Injured In Accident

JONESVILLE (Special) — Aaron "Jack" Fritz, 24, of near Jonesville, who was seriously injured in a collision with a parked gravel truck on Highway 84 here at 4 a.m. yesterday, was reported in satisfactory condition last night at New Orleans Charity Hospital.

Fritz, the driver and sole occupant of a late model car, was traveling east on Highway 84 and apparently lost control of his automobile, hitting the rear of the truck which was parked on the left side of the road. There were no witnesses to the accident.

There was no driver in the gravel truck. The trucks, which are used in road construction work, are parked on the shoulder of the road during the night.

Fritz was taken to a Jonesville clinic and was immediately transferred to Natchez General Hospital for emergency surgery. He was then taken to New Orleans, where attendants said this morning he suffered critical head injuries.

Local law enforcement officers were investigating the accident. The car was demolished and extensive damage was done to the truck.

TURKEY-SYRIA

Colonel Sees No Border Violence

GAZIANTEP, Turkey, Oct. 26 (UP)— Col. Harvey J. (Jabbo) Jablonsky, commander of the U.S. Army training detachment here, said today the only excitement he has seen along the supposedly-tense Turkish-Syrian border was a bandit attack on an American oil crew last month.

"If any war is brewing here I sure don't know about it," Jablonsky said. "The officers at corps headquarters still punch in at nine and take a two-hour lunch and siesta."

Russia has charged that Turkey will invade Syria right after Sunday's general elections in Turkey. Syria also accused Turkey of massing troops along the border, but the Turkish government has denied the charges.

Jablonsky, an all-America football star at West Point in 1933 said he knew of no Turkish troops any closer to the border than this town, 40 miles from Syria.

"There are none anywhere near the border to my knowledge," he said.

A two-hour tour conducted by Turkish army officials indicated the colonel was right. Infantry, cavalry and mountain artillery units marched through the town and gave newsmen their closest look of the Turkish army except for brief glimpses from car windows.

Jablonsky said the troops were moving into position for a maneuver called "yildirm" (thunderbolt), a routine exercise held every year after the harvesting of the area's grape crop.

Guardsmen Raid 10 Liquor Stores

BOONEVILLE, Miss., Oct. 26 (AP)—National Guardsmen acting on orders of Gov. J. P. Coleman — who has been accused of trying to oust Sheriff George Rutherford Jr.—raided 10 liquor and beer establishments in Prentiss County today.

The 46 Guardsmen, led by Maj. Gen. W. P. Wilson, state adjutant general, arrested 14 men and seized whisky or beer at each place. The Guardsmen hauled to the armory more than 700 cases of beer, 15 gallons of moonshine, 235 pints of whisky, and quantities of gin and malt. They also seized one shotgun, two pistols and broke up dice and card games.

Those arrested were taken to the courthouse to face possible charges.

It was the first National Guard raid in the Booneville area since Jan. 13. Since then a citizens committee headed by J. A. Cunningham Sr., Booneville attorney, has been trying to get a recall election set against Rutherford on grounds he has allowed bootleggers and gamblers to flourish.

HEAR EVIDENCE

A three-judge removal council heard evidence on the citizens committee charges and ruled there was justification for a recall election. However, three members of the county board of supervisors refused to set an election date without hearing Rutherford's charges that the petitions were inadequate and that Coleman had illegally connived with the committee.

Earlier this month Circuit Judge Raymond T. Jarvis scheduled an unusual hearing on the supervisors request that the evidence against Coleman be heard. The governor, however, on the basis of his constitutional immunity to judicial process, refused to hand over the original petitions and other records which the three supervisors claimed would show illegal connivance and insufficiency of signatures.

Coleman said if he agreed to be subpoenaed or allow records to be subpoenaed he would set a precedent that would plague the governor's office for a long time in the future.

The citizens' committee was formed soon after the National Guard raids in January. Shortly thereafter businessmen belonging to the committee suffered loss by vandalism to downtown property. They blamed the vandalism on their action against the sheriff.

Aged Driver Charged In 2-Car Crash

RAYVILLE, (Special) — A 72-year-old peg-legged Negro was charged with reckless driving and violation of a restricted license yesterday afternoon, after he crashed head-on into a car driven by Curtis Hufft of Route 1, Rayville.

The Negro suffered a broken knee-cap in the mishap, which took place approximately 6½ miles south-east of Rayville at the intersection of the parish farm road and the Johnny Walker road.

State police who investigated the wreck could not recall the Negro's name last night, but remembered that he lived near Rayville. They said that he turned off the Johnny Walker road and crashed into the Hufft car, damaging both vehicles.

Hufft suffered a head injury, when he was thrown against the windshield by the force of the impact.

The Negro was driving a 1947 Ford with a standard clutch, when he was limited to automatic drive due to his peg-leg.

Tires And Wheels Reported Stolen

Billie Vaughn, 205 Carolina street, and W. B. Herrick, 815 S. Fourth street, both reported to city police yesterday afternoon that their tires were missing.

Both men work at Sears and had left their cars in the parking lot. However, they both told police that they are in the habit of leaving their car trunks unlocked, and police said that the theft might have taken place at any time during the past few days and the location where the tires were removed is unknown.

Thatcher In Texas Attending Meeting

H. K. Thatcher of the Ouachita River Valley Association is in Houston, Texas, where he is attending the 31st annual convention of the Propeller Club of the United States.

A feature of the meet will be a trip by convention delegates to the Port of Houston, third largest port in the United States.

Francisco Santander, who succeeded Simon Bolivar as president of Colombia, was an exile in New York in 1832 when news of his election reached him.

3 Taken To Clinic Following Accident

RAYVILLE (Special) — Two women and seven children were involved in a one-car accident at 3 p.m yesterday on Highway 80, but no serious injuries occurred.

Taken to Ball-Ellington clinic in Rayville were Mrs. Frances Neahery, of Monroe, a nurse at Wright-Bendel clinic; her sister-in-law, Mrs. Huey Lee Hamm of Rayville, and Mrs. Hamm's two-month old son, Marvin.

Five Neathery youngsters, and one other Hamm child were uninjured.

The car, driven by Mrs. Neathery, went into a ditch approximately 3.2 miles west of Rayville, according to police. No charges were filed.

Crew Gets Stage Prepared For Play

The ring of hammers and buzz of saws are familiar sounds these days on the Northeast State campus.

Along with these noises is the smell of paint as the stage crew readies the scenery for the drama section's forthcoming production, "The Male Animal."

Directed by George C. Brian of the speech faculty, the fast-paced three-act comedy will run Wednesday and Thursday in Brown Auditorium on the campus. Curtain time is 8 p.m

The stage crew's enthusiasm, matched by their experience, foretells a smooth, finished performance for first nighters.

J. C. Wallace, who will be handling the curtains, and Dell Lassiter, in charge of make-up, will be remembered for their outstanding work in "A Man Called Peter," major production of Northeast's speech section a few seasons ago.

Sue Turner, student director, and Linda Garrett, stage manager for "The Male Animal," gained experience on the stage in various college dramas, including "Ladies in Retirement," which won special recognition.

Sound Effects

Taking care of props and sound effects are Jerry Lee, Douglas Comeaux, Ray Vineyard and Marlin Howard. Elvis "Chug" Stout will be working the switchboard lights.

Written by James Thurber and Elliott Nugent, "The Male Animal" was a smash Broadway hit a few seasons ago. The hilarious play won generous applause when it was presented here by The Monroe Little Theatre.

Tommy Turner, a young professor in a small middle western college, his wife, and her former sweetheart are characters about whom the plot revolves.

Football Hero

George Phillips carries the part of the "all brawn and no brain" former football hero to whom Ellen was engaged when she married Tommy. Two of Patricia's boy friends are played by Phil Lissota and Benny Boyte.

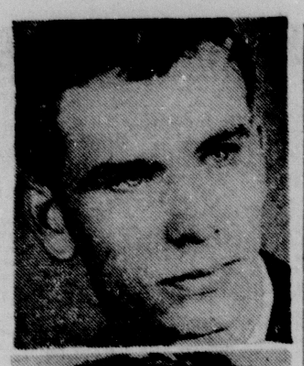
Bobby McElroy and Betty Hughes are seen as Ed Keller, a college trustee, and his wife, Myrtle. Rounding out the cast are Arnold McLin, a reporter, and Obed Kirkpatrick, a drum major.



CARRY LEAD ROLES — George Mac and Rita Snider play the principal parts of a college professor and his wife in "The Male Animal," the season's production of Northeast States drama section. The three-act comedy opens Wednesday at 8 p.m. for a two-night run in Brown Auditorium on the campus.

Breast Cancer Tendency May Be Inherited

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (UP)—A University of Texas geneticist said today that daughters of women with breast cancer are more likely to develop the disease than other women.

Addressing a conference of the New York Academy of Science, Dr. C. P. Oliver said studies of the families of 312 women with breast cancer disclosed that, in 19 cases, the patients' mothers also had breast cancer.

Of 134 "controls"—women as like the breast cancer patients as possible but without a history of tumor or cancer — the mothers of only three had breast cancer, he said.

More than 450 cancer researchers attended the conference on the "gentic concept for the origin of cancer," held at the Barbizon-Plaza Hotel.

Boy Found Shot By Shotgun Blast

JACKSONVILLE, Tex., Oct. 26 (UP)—Lewis White, 35, of the Tecula community in Cherokee county was found shot in the chest with a .410 gauge shotgun today.

He was taken to a Jacksonville hospital where his condition was listed as "fair."

White's brother, Olan, said Lewis had sent him to the store. When he returned, he found his brother in the storm cellar, shot in the chest, Olan said.

Admits Stabbing

FORT WORTH, Oct. 26 (UP)—Clifford McCarty, 24, who has a police record, admitted the fatal stabbing early today of Jimmy Garner, 29, a guitar player in a tavern band.

McCarty said he went to help his brother Jack McCarty, who was in a fight with Garner. But Jack said, "I didn't need help, . . I hate guys who use knives."

Attorney Raps Court Decision

BILOXI, Miss., Oct. 26 (AP) —A Washington attorney and college lecturer said today the U.S Supreme Court ruling against school segregation is based more on "social exhortation" than any reference to prior law or precedence.

Mrs. Julia Barton Hopkins, lecturer at Washington College, spoke to a joint convention of the American Women's Society of Certified Public Accountants (AWSCPA) and the American Society of Women Accountants (ASWA).

She said the sudden nullification by the court of the separate but equal doctrine after 60 years caused states which operated separate school systems to face what she called stupendous racial and social problems.

Osteopaths Name Leader

BILOXI, Miss., Oct. 26 (AP) —The Louisiana Assn of Osteopathic Physicians today installed Dr. Charles S. Wychoff of New Orleans president.

President Sees Army-Navy Tilt

By WARREN DUFFEE

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 26 (UP) —President Eisenhower watched something new today in Army-Navy football rivalry — a game between Cadets and Middies weighing 150 pounds or less.

The President, who was a varsity halfback himself at West Point more than 40 years ago, arrived for the game just five minutes before kickoff at 11:30 a. m. (C.S.T.) and took his seat on the Navy's side of the stadium.

He made the 30-mile trip from the White House to the Naval Academy by car and planned to drive back late today after paying a brief social call on Maryland Gov. Theodore McKeldin at the governor's mansion here.

The President's box was on the midshipmen's side of the field because he attended the game as the Navy's guest. But the Chief Executive was expected to let his admitted favoritism for his West Point alma mater slip through and do some rooting for the Army lightweight team.

Benefit Contest

Today's contest, dubbed "the Little Army-Navy game," was a benefit for the proposed new three-million-dollar Navy- Marine Corps memorial stadium to be built at the Naval Academy. The President and a host of White House staff members bought their own tickets. Price: $2 each.

Sitting with Mr. Eisenhower in the presidential box were Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Thomas S. Gates, Rear Adm. William R. Smedberg, superintendent of the Naval Academy, and Brig. Gen. John S. Throckmorton, commandant of the West Point Corps of Cadets.

The Navy has long fielded a team in the 150 - pound league, winning nine championships. But the Army competed in this category for the first time this year. Both lightweight squads went into the contest undefeated.

Today's was the second football game the President has seen this season. He recently watched George Washington University defeat the Air Force Academy at Griffith Stadium in Washington.

Church Sunday

Next weekend, he will go to West Point to see the Army varsity team play Colgate. He has never been to a regular Army-Navy varsity game since becoming Chief Executive.

He plans to attend church Sunday. He will go to Grace Reformed Church in Washington where Theodore Roosevelt worshipped from 1903 to 1909. The church is part of the evangelical reformed movement, which is similar to the Dutch Reformed church.

The President is chairman of the Theodore Roosevelt Centennial Commission, set up to commemorate the 100th anniversary of Roosevelt's birth, Oct. 27, 1858.

Sunday's church service begins the observance.

The White House announced that the President, responding to reports that the District of Columbia United Givers Fund drive is lagging, added 10 per cent in cash to his previous UGF donation.

Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton, chairman of the UGF campaign's government division, said the President reached into his wallet and pulled out a bill of considerable size when he heard the local fund drive was lagging.

Cars Collide In West Monroe; No One Injured

Cars driven by John E. Sturgen, 116 Maple, Monroe, and Preston Eubanks, Route Three, Monroe collided Friday night at the bridge and Trenton in West Monroe.

No one was injured, but damages to front ends of both cars were estimated at over $100.

The first paved street in New York was Stone Street. It got its name because the large cobblestones they used to pave it made it "the stony street."

STILL IN FAMILY

Field's Observes 28th Anniversary

Field's demonstrated its faith in the Twin Cities and Northeast Louisiana 28 years ago when, in October, 1929, it opened Field's Women's Shop to serve the area.

Field's policy has always been to have quality merchandise for women at popular prices.

A. Blumenthal, founder, initiated this policy which has continued through the years. Field's was one of the first downtown stores to feature popularly-priced women's clothing exclusively.

The store, now observing its 28th anniversary, was managed by Blumenthal until his death in 1944. At that time his widow assumed the management, a position she held until her retirement this year. Morris Blumenthal, their son, became manager at that time.

Field's recently added a new service for its customers — the carrying of charge accounts in order to make shopping at Field's even more convenient than in the past.

League To Give Projector To Twin Cities 'Y'

The Junior Charity League of Monroe will present a motion picture projector to the Twin Cities YMCA at a breakfast meeting of the group's board of directors Monday at 7:30 a. m. at the Saddle and Spur restaurant.

The projector was purchased by the league for use in the youth program of the "Y."

John O. Clay, president of the local YMCA, will introduce Miss Ethel Walker, representative from the national organization's Financial Services Bureau, who is visiting the local group in the interest of setting up the building fund office.

Also on the program will be reports from the youth and adult program committees, the building and grounds committee, and the building fund committee.

STAG VANISHES

EPPING, England, Oct. 26 (AP)— Epping forest's white stag has vanished as abruptly as it arrived eight months ago.

Guardians of this ancient forest where England's kings hunted for centuries had ordered the stag tracked down and shot.

They feared it might sire white deer piebald fawns in Epping's famed herd of 75 black deer.

Editor Named To Conference

GREENVILLE, Miss , Oct. 26 (AP)—Hodding Carter, Pulitzer prize-winning editor of The Delta Democrat-Times, said today he plans to represent Mississippi at the annual conference of civilan aides to the U.S. Army in Washington, D.C. Oct. 28 30.

Secretary Wilber Brucker appointed Carter to a third two-year term as civilian aide for Mississippi last March.

Carter's duties include interpreting Army policies and doctrines to civilian communities and advising the secretary on matters of mutual interest to the Army and the public.

Tacky Party Slated By Pythian Sisters

A Hallowe'en Tacky Party will be held by members of the Pythian Sisters of Monroe Temple Number One when they meet tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Castle Hall on St. John Street.

Also present will be members of Friendship Temple Number Three of Monroe and El Dorado Temple Number One of El Dorado, Ark.

Surprise refreshments will be served.

Daniel May Recommend School Laws

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (UP)— Gov. Price Daniel said today he may submit legislation to the special session closing public schools if they are occupied by state or federal troops.

But Daniel told a news conference that the Legislature first must act on his program which includes enactment of a long-range water planning program, lobby control legislation and law enforcement and crime prevention study.

The governor said he will decide in the coming week what matters, if any, he will submit for legislative action. The special 30-day session ends Nov. 12.

Far Bigger Issue

Daniel said the matter of troops occupying school halls and campuses "is a far bigger issue than the matter of integration or segregation."

He repeated two broad policies underlining his thinking and possibly pointing toward future actions:

—"I'm not going to use the police force of this state to enforce federal court orders."

—"As long as I am governor of this state, we are not going to have federal troops occupying the halls and campuses of our schools."

Studying Question

The governor said it was a question as to what he could do to prevent troop occupation, and that was why he was studying the question.

He revealed he conferred by telephone with Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida, where the legislators enacted a law barring troop occupation of schools.

Daniel said Collins explained that in Flroida a school is closed automatically, without any action on the part of the governor, when it is occupied by troops, and this affords a "cooling off period."

Possible Legislation

Daniel said he was also considering legislation by the East Texas segregation block directing that the attorney general of Texas represent local school districts in court contests involving segregation.

On other news conferences subjects, Daniel said:

He was considering proposals aimed at curbing oil imports which bear directly on Texas' petroleum production.

Implied that the legislature should "burn the midnight oil" if necessary in order to get his program passed and enact other bills coming before the session.

ORDERS DEPORTATION

MANILA, Oct. 26 (AP)—A Manila court has recommended deportation of Guian Chieng, a Chinese. The charge: Selling three of his five children to racketeers dealing in Chinese children, and putting his other two children and his mother-in-law on the market. He denied the charge.

STOCK PRICES

Most Opinion Is Reassuring On Wall Street

By WALTER BREEDE JR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Stock prices went for a wild ride this week. Consumers, wage earners and businessmen who had watched the market's roller coaster antics wondered what would happen next—not necessarily to the market itself but to their jobs, their incomes and their living standards.

There was no lack of expert opinion on this score, and most of it was reassuring.

President Eisenhower, announcing plans for a series of talks on the nation's economic and military strength, urged Americans to cast aside morbid pessimism.

Business and financial leaders were heard from, too. The consensus: while the market may have needed a shakeout, the economy as a whole is sound. Some of the fluff is off the boom. Things may slow down a little in the next few months but there's no real recession in sight. If the boom loses too much steam, Uncle Sam will fire up the boilers. More millions will be poured out for guided missiles and the like; more credit will be made available for business expansion.

Increased hiring of automobile and farm machinery workers was accompanied by further layoffs in the aircraft, oil refining and meat packing industries.

Steel production, scheduled at less than 80 per cent of capacity, was the lowest since August; auto output the highest in eight weeks.

New orders in the machine tool industry were down sharply from a year ago; freight carloadings trailed 1956 by 12 per cent; inventories of petroleum products grew as sales lagged badly.

Criss-cross patterns were also the rule on the price front. The Dun & Bradstreet index of wholesale prices touched a new 1957 low even as the U. S. Labor Department announced that its index of consumer prices had inched to a record high. Government officials said consumer prices would probably hold steady during the rest of the year and then turn down a bit. At the primary supply level new reductions were announced in prices of gasoline and copper. Mill prices of unfinished cotton cloth were the lowest since the lifting of World War II controls.

The mixed complexion of business showed up, too, in the latest batch of corporate earnings reports. Gains over 1956 were announced by du Pont, Chrysler, Colgate-Palmolive, P. Lorillard, Liggett & Myers, and others. An imposing array of blue chip companies, including Socony Mobil, National Cash Register, American Smelting & Refining Co. and General Motors, reported declines.

The Texas Co. reported an increase for the first nine months but was far from optimistic about the fourth quarter. Said Texaco Chairman Augustus C. Long: "With consumption of petroleum products in the United States below predicted levels, and with reduced production allowables and increased costs. . . fourth quarter earnings this year may not be as good as the fourth quarter of 1956."

At the Hot Springs, Va., meeting of President Eisenhower's Business Advisory Council, Secretary of Commerce Weeks was advised that an expected dip in business activity early next year should curb the rise in living costs but may increase unemployment.

Weeks told newsmen the nation now is going through "a pause for breath, a healthy thing for the economy."

It probably will not cut production more than one per cent from the current all-time peak rate, Weeks said. But, he added, by reducing tax collections, it may dim prospects for tax relief next year.

Total business activity has been running at a record annual rate of 439 billions during the past three months.

Cotton Futures Siage Another Good Advance

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Cotton futures prices staged another good advance this week. Active contracts on the New York Cotton Exchange scored net gains ranging from $2.10 to $2.65 a bale.

Strongest factor in boosting demand for contracts was a continuation of unfavorable weather reports From the belt.

Another bullish influence was a private prediction that the next official government forecast would indicate a potential crop of only 12,160,000 bales. That would compare with a government estimate of 12,401,000 bales in early October.

The market also derived support from belief among traders that there is practically no hope of any new price-support legislation being enacted in time to affect the 1958 crop. Growing possibility of heavy loan entries likewise encouraged buying.

Offerings were furnished through light hedge selling and profit taking.

Attention of traders centered on a U S. Census Bureau report that showed ginnings for the Oct. 1-18 period at the second lowest level on record. Cotton ginned during the period amounted to 1,630,000 bales, compared to 2,497,000 in the same period last year.

Exports of U.S. cotton for the week ended Tuesday set a record for the current season at 147,000.

TRACKING DOWN MOON CRATERS—This closeup of moon craters was taken by a new optical tracking system called ROTI. The huge camera-telescope brings the viewer to within 250 miles of the moon's surface. ROTI (Recording Optical Tracking Instrument) is capable of photographing missiles 50 to 100 miles away. It is located at Melbourne Beach, Fla., to provide the Air Force with accurate documentary information on the flight performance of its missiles. (U.S. Air Force Photo via AP Wirephoto)

ENDS ALL-EVEN

Stocks In One Of Most Hectic Weeks

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 —The stock market was all-even by the end of this week after one of the most hectic five-day periods in history.

But volume soared to 20,804,199 shares, the highest total since the week ended Oct. 1, 1955. That was the first week after President Eisenhower's heart attack.

Outstanding highlights of the week were two days, Monday and Wednesday. On Monday, stocks took their worst dive since Sept. 26, 1955, the first trading session after the Eisenhower heart attack. On Wednesday, the market made its biggest one-day advance since Nov. 14, 1929. The latter was a day of temporary recovery following the blackest days of the '29 crash.

Climatic Week

This was a climatic week in the long decline, now well into its fourth month, since the market reached its 1957 high on July 12. The tremendous volume, the repeated series of late ticker tapes, the almost frenzied scale of selling and buying on the heaviest days — these were the factors that spelled "climax" in the language of Wall Street.

It was a climax to a long decline — but what next? A strong recovery? A continued slide to new lows for the year?

The word among financial analysts these days is that the market must "test" the lows reached this week. If it sinks through them, the market theory calls for a recovery of from a third to two thirds of the ground lost since July 12.

After that, they say, the burden of proof will be on the bulls as to whether the market is to continue its upward progress. They point out that ever since the all-time bull market high reached in April 1956, the general trend has been downward. The highs have never surpassed that April '56 high. The lows have been increasingly lower.

The five most active issues this week were Bethlehem Steel up ⅝ at 40⅝, Chrysler, up 1¾ at 69¼, General Motors up ¾ at 39, US Steel up ⅜ at 55½, and North American Aviation off 3½ at 22¾.

U.S. government bonds improved and corporates firmed late in the week but failed to make up earlier losses on the bond market.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

The revolutionary features of Gulf Crest Gasoline were discussed at a meeting Thursday in Monroe. Those attending included many automobile dealers and others from this area who are anxious to keep abreast of the advances in motor fuels required to get full benefit from automobiles on the road today, and those of the future.

The meeting was conducted by J.S. Dickinson, district manager. He presented Marion Knost, automotive engineer for Gulf's New Orleans Division.

Knost discussed the exclusive qualities of Gulf Crest Gasoline and their advantages.

He and Mrs. Futrell are the parents of two sons, O. L., Jr. of Atlanta, Ga.; and Jerry of Farmerville; and a daughter, Mrs. Joy Alford, of Sterlington.

Mississippi Finals Three New Oil Wells

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 26 (AP)—Mississippi oil men this week completed three new oil wells and one gas condensate well.

The completed wells were:

Sunnyland Contracting Co. completed its Schuchardt No. J-4 at North Carthage Point in Adams County. The well flowed 115 barrels of oil daily from perforations in the Wilcox sand at 5,911-15 feet.

Calto and Gulmon completed its Carter No. 2 well in the newly found Dixie field of Franklin County and said it flowed 42 barrels of oil daily from a Wilcox sand at 4,610-13 feet.

Sun Oil Co. completed its Gray No. 1 in the diamond field of Wayne County. The well flowed 195 barrels of oil daily from a sand at 10,785-95 feet. A second said is closed in for approval from the Oil and Gas Board for a dual completion.

Alexander No. 2

Marshall R. Young completed the International Alexander No. 2 well in Ansley field of Hancock County and reported it flowed 4,272,000 cubic feet of gas and 172 barrels of condensate daily from perforations at 10,787-838 feet.

Other drilling activity included:

Gulf Oil Corp. block squeeze its Green No. 1 well in the Eucuttal field of Wayne County. Operators perforated at 8,037-69 feet and the well flowed a small amount of oil for a short time. Swabbing efforts did not restore the flow and operators indicated a larger section would be perforated.

Total depth is 9,881 feet with seven-inch production casing in the well. If completed in the lower sands, it will be the first deeper producing level for the big field. Current producing level is about 5,100 feet.

A core at 12,207-28 feet logged five feet of gas condensate sand. The well apparently is assured of production in the lower Tuscaloosa zone at 9,596-628 eet.

The well is scheduled to be drilled to 13,600 feet to test the Paluxy zone productive in the discovery well.

Amerada Petroleum Corp. plugged back to 6,373 feet its USA Vaughey No. 1 well in the puzzling Valley Park area of Sharkey County.

The well drilled into salt at below 12,500 feet and reached 12,665 feet with the formation still rock salt.

Operators plan to attempt completion at 6,114-87 feet.

L. O. McMillan was drilling below 3,000 feet in the Monroe County wildcat Bansinger No. 1. The well encountered slight oil shows at 2,850 feet. Contract depth is 6,000 feet.

Body Of Man Hunted After Boat Accident

ORANGE, Tex. Oct. 26 ((UP)—Authorities continued dragging operations today in a nattempt to recover the body of a 38-year-old Bton Rouge arAAuthone acO old Baton Rouge, La., welder who drowned during his lunch hour Thursday.

Sheriff's deputies said H. H. Shackelford of Baton Rouge drowned while rushing to telephone his wife in Louisiana about their new child who was born Wednesday.

The sheriff's office said Shackelford's belongings were found in the Sabine river near a small outboard motorboat which was spinning in circles in the river.

Witnesses said the victim was thrown from the boat by a swell from a passing vessel, then began swimming toward the barge, "Jim," on which he worked. The motorboat began spinning in circles and passed over his body twice. The second time, Shackelford disappeared in the swift current of the river in about 35 feet of water.

Shackelford was a welder working with a crew on a gas pipeline at the Orange, Dock Fellow workers said he ate a quick lunch and went to call his wife about their new baby.

Damascus, capital of Syria, is believed to be the oldest continuously inhabited city in the world. It is mentioned in the book of Genesis, but its origin is unknown.

Coleman Will Use Oral Debate On Constitution

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 26 (AP)—From now on, Gov. J. P. Coleman's pre-Legislature debate on the proposed constitutional convention will be strictly oral.

The governor clamped down on news releases today, saying he could see "no good purpose to be served by debating this issue in the newspapers, when the legislators themselves will be here within a week."

But the governor still will make personal appearances at Canton and Holly Springs next week.

Gov. Coleman has called the Legislature into special session Nov. 5 to consider a constitutional convention next year.

He and the 25 each claim a majority of legislative votes, an argument that will be decided by the Legislature itself.

The governor's statement halting news releases was short. Included in an announcement about a Nov. 4 dinner he is sponsoring for legislators, the announcement said:

"My message to the joint session on the subject of the constitutional convention is now prepared and ready for delivery, and I will not issue any further news releases on the subject.

"I see no good purpose to be served by debating this issue in the newspapers, when the legislators themselves will be here within a week."

The statement followed a week of one of the heaviest concentrations of publicity material on a constitutional convention.

SATELLITE TRACK

MENLO PARK, Calif. (AP)—The Stanford Research Institute will continue the work of tracking the Russian satellite Sputnik on a voluntary basis only.

An institute spokesman announced the policy yesterday after saying the Air Force had canceled its contract with the institute for tracking the satellite because of lack of funds.

Clarion-Ledger Names Executive

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 26 (AP)—Purser Hewitt, managing editor of the Clarion-Ledger for many years, has been promoted to executive editor.

Editor T. M. Hederman Jr. made the announcement in the Sunday edition.

Hewitt has been with the newspaper since 1926, serving as city reporter, sports reporter, city editor, sports editor, and finally as managing editor.

'25 Committee' Raps Coleman's Convention Plan

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 26 (AP)—The "committee of 25" legislators opposing a constitutional convention said if the people were permitted to ratify a new constitution their only choice would be to accept or reject it.

The 25 objected to Gov. J. P. Coleman's statement that there "can be no possible harm in a constitutional convention because the people will pass on it."

The committee said yesterday Coleman's statement was political. "When you analyze it," the committee said, "You find:

1. "The governor cannot, in any way, give the people any positive assurance that they will be allowed to pass on a new constitution. This power would rest solely with a constitutional convention. If the governor can guarantee what a convention will do then he must personally dominate and control such a convention.

2. "If we presume that a new constitution was written, and that it was submitted to the people, they would have no choice other than to vote 'yes' or 'no' on the entire document."

The 25 said the people would have no way of approving what they favor without approving what they do not wish.

The 25 suggested the best method of changing the Constitution is by amendment, a method the governor has rejected on grounds some amendments would bear on other amendments and if all were not approved the result would be an enlargement of the patchwork aspects of the present Constitution.

SPECIAL

CALF AND STEER SALE!

In cooperation with the Cattlemen's Association and the L.S.U. Marketing Specialists, the Delhi Livestock Auction will hold their annual Calf & Steer Sale, Friday, November 1st. This will make our third sale. As you know our last two sales have been very successful and we are looking forward to this being our best sale, due to marketing conditions. Why not look over your herd and sell the rest of your calves now, as we are very close to winter? If your calves are lightweight, they will dollar up good, as the lighter they are, the more they will bring per pound. We think you will get a premium on your calves and steers, as there will be buyers here from seven or eight states. Take advantage of this opportunity and get a little more than market price.

If you are not in the market to buy or sell, we invite you to come to this sale any way. We think it will be of interest to you and very educational. There will be a grading demonstration and an interesting talk before the sale.

WEEKS ADVISED

Business Slow-Down Seen For Next Year

HOT SPRINGS, Va. Oct. 26 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks has been advised that an expected dip in business activity early next year should curb the rise in living costs but may increase unemployment.

Concurring in this forecast of his Business Advisory Council (BAC), Weeks told reporters yesterday the nation now is going through "a pause for breath, a healthy thing for the economy."

It probably will not cut production more than 1 per cent from the current all-time peak rate, Weeks said. But by reducing tax collections, it may dim prospects for tax relief next year, he said.

The advisory council, whose membership includes the heads of more than 100 of the country's largest corporations, predicted the business dip will be far less severe than the minor post-Korea recession of 1953-1954.

It will end "some time in 1958," but probably not before midyear, Weeks was told.

Behind Closed Doors?

The appraisal was presented behind closed doors at the autumn meeting of the council, attended by the chairman of President Eisenhower's council of economic advisers, Dr. Raymond J. Saulnier, and by other government officials.

If industry increases its output per man-hour only slightly in months just ahead, the group was told, unemployment may increase "by several hundred thousand." A larger gain in productivity would mean "substantially more" joblessness, the BAC said.

The possibility that tax relief may be pushed farther into the future was mentioned when Weeks was reminded by newsmen that there are stronger pressures in Congress to speed up U.S. scientific and weapons development to counter Soviet gains in the missiles and satellites field.

Weeks did not acknowledge that the administration might endorse bigger outlays on the satellite-missile program, but he indicated he considered larger appropriations possible—at a time when federal revenues are slowing up.

"The prospects for tax reduction," Weeks said, "are not what they might have been a few months ago."

Grains Decline On World News

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP) — International developments and the stock market figured largely in the down turn of grain futures this week.

Wheat futures ended the week 1⅝ to 2¾ cents a bushel lower than Friday a week ago. Corn was down ¾ to 1 cent a bushel, oats unchanged to 1⅛ lower, rye was off 2½ to 4½ cents, soybeans declined 3¼ to 3⅞ cents, and lard finished 5 to 40 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Independents Slate Meeting To Tiudy Ills

By MAX B. SKELTON

DALLAS, Oct. 26—About 1,500 independent oil operators from 36 states will be here Monday to open a two-day discussion of their industry's ailments.

The Independent Petroleum Assn. of America was founded 28 years ago in a battle against foreign oil.

Capt. M. V. Carson Jr., administrator of President EiserLower's program for voluntary oil import cutbacks, will share the speakers' platform this week with M. J. Rathbone, president of Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), one of the nation's largest oil importers.

While IPAA is the leader in the fight for lower oil imports, other problems facing the convention include declining domestic production, Department of Defense purchases of oil abroad and several industry matters that will be before Congress.

Natural gas legislation and renewal of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act are issues of particular interest to the independents.

IPAA has endorsed the Harris-O'Hara Gas Bill that would remove producers from utility-type controls administered by the Federal Power Commission. The bill received House committee approval this year but floor action was postponed. Russell Brown, IPAA general counsel, said last week the bill "is an absolute must."

The fight against foreign oil ties directly with the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, which expires next June. In ordering the current voluntary cutback program July 27, President Eisenhower acted under a 1955 Trade Agreements Extension Act. amedments which authorizes the President to take the necessary action to adjust the imports of any article when that importation threatens to impair the national security.

The defense amendment of 1955 was adopted as a substitute for a proposal that would have restricted oil imports to 10 per cent of domestic demand.

IPAA supprted the 10 percent quota proposal, contending that voluntary programs had been attempted in the past without success.

Turks Turn Attention To Ballot Today

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Oct. 26 (AP)—Turks vote tomorrow in a national election that interests them far more than the Turkish-Syrian crisis now worrying the rest of the world.

Turks take the Syrian dispute in stride. But they have been more worked up over politics than at any time since 1950.

Foreign policy never has entered the campaign. All parties agree on Turkey's pro-Western policy of allegiance to NATO and the Baghdad Pact and a dislike of things Russian.

The Republican People's party, the strongest opposition headed by former President Ismet Inonu, is making a strong bid for a return to office. The other parties are the Republican Nation party and the Freedom party.

Menderes and his Democratic party kicked Inonu out of office in 1950 and whipped the Republicans again in 1954.

Election laws, however, have pushed the Turkish-Syrian crisis into a prominence in the newspapers in the last three days it never had before.

The law imposes a blackout on politicking three days before the election. This includes newspaper stories and editorials.

With politics eliminated, developments in the Syrian crisis flared into bold headlines in most newspapers.

The United Nations debate and Syria's refusal to accept the mediation offer of King Saud received some banner headlines. Syria announced today the Saudi Arabian monarch had withdrawn the offer.

60 Members Initiated Into Shrine Club

El Karubah temple and the Northoeast Shriners began their conference with a parade through downtown West Monroe and Monroe, following a business session and examination of candidates at the Hotel Frances.

The first and second sections held meetings in the afternoon. Bringing the ceremonies to a close were a dinner and All-Shrine dance.

O. T. Lindsay, Jr., president of the Northeast Louisiana Shrine Club, estimated that 500 Shriners and their wives attended.

Felony Theft Suspects Held

Allen was arrested by Monroe city police at the corner of 14th and Washington streets at 4:45 yesterday afternoon, after he allegedly took a coat belonging to Jack Potts, Jr. The coat was hanging in Pierce's Pharmacy, 917 DeSiard street with a check for $38 in the pocket.

When he was arrested, the check was reported gone. Police were continuing investigation. Allen was charged and transferred to the parish jail.

FOLLOWS LEADER

VIENNA, Oct 26 (AP)—Red-ruled Bulgaria is following Russia's example in dealing with purged party leaders. Press reports from Sofia say Georgi Chankov, ousted as deputy premier last July, is managing a cement factory in the village of Deniva. Chankov had been the Bulgarian government's chief economic expert.

Jonesville Man Injured In Accident

JONESVILLE (Special) — Aaron "Jack" Fritz, 24, of near Jonesville, who was seriously injured in a collision with a parked gravel truck on Highway 84 here at 4 a.m. yesterday, was reported in satisfactory condition last night at New Orleans Charity Hospital.

Fritz, the driver and sole occupant of a late model car, was traveling east on Highway 84 and apparently lost control of his automobile, hitting the rear of the truck which was parked on the left side of the road. There were no witnesses to the accident.

There was no driver in the gravel truck. The trucks, which are used in road construction work, are parked on the shoulder of the road during the night.

Fritz was taken to a Jonesville clinic and was immediately transferred to Natchez General Hospital for emergency surgery. He was then taken to New Orleans, where attendants said this morning he suffered critical head injuries.

Local law enforcement officers were investigating the accident. The car was demolished and extensive damage was done to the truck.

TURKEY-SYRIA

Colonel Sees No Border Violence

GAZIANTEP, Turkey, Oct. 26 (UP)— Col. Harvey J. (Jabbo) Jablonsky, commander of the U.S. Army training detachment here, said today the only excitement he has seen along the supposedly-tense Turkish-Syrian border was a bandit attack on an American oil crew last month.

"If any war is brewing here I sure don't know about it," Jablonsky said. "The officers at corps headquarters still punch in at nine and take a two-hour lunch and siesta."

Russia has charged that Turkey will invade Syria right after Sunday's general elections in Turkey. Syria also accused Turkey of massing troops along the border, but the Turkish government has denied the charges.

Jablonsky, an all-America football star at West Point in 1933 said he knew of no Turkish troops any closer to the border than this town, 40 miles from Syria.

"There are none anywhere near the border to my knowledge," he said.

A two-hour tour conducted by Turkish army officials indicated the colonel was right. Infantry, cavalry and mountain artillery units marched through the town and gave newsmen their closest look of the Turkish army except for brief glimpses from car windows.

Jablonsky said the troops were moving into position for a maneuver called "yildirm" (thunderbolt), a routine exercise held every year after the harvesting of the area's grape crop.

IN MISSISSIPPI

Guardsmen Raid 10 Liquor Stores

BOONEVILLE, Miss., Oct. 26 (AP)—National Guardsmen acting on orders of Gov. J. P. Coleman — who has been accused of trying to oust Sheriff George Rutherford Jr.—raided 10 liquor and beer establishments in Prentiss County today.

The 46 Guardsmen, led by Maj. Gen. W. P. Wilson, state adjutant general, arrested 14 men and seized whisky or beer at each place. The Guardsmen hauled to the armory more than 700 cases of beer, 15 gallons of moonshine, 235 pints of whisky, and quantities of gin and malt. They also seized one shotgun, two pistols and broke up dice and card games.

Those arrested were taken to the courthouse to face possible charges.

It was the first National Guard raid in the Booneville area since Jan. 13. Since then a citizens committee headed by J. A. Cunningham Sr., Booneville attorney, has been trying to get a recall election set against Rutherford on grounds he has allowed bootleggers and gamblers to flourish.

HEAR EVIDENCE

A three-judge removal council heard evidence on the citizens committee charges and ruled there was justification for a recall election. However, three members of the county board of supervisors refused to set an election date without hearing Rutherford's charges that the petitions were inadequate and that Coleman had illegally connived with the committee.

Earlier this month Circuit Judge Raymond T. Jarvis scheduled an unusual hearing on the supervisors request that the evidence against Coleman be heard. The governor, however, on the basis of his constitutional immunity to judicial process, refused to hand over the original petitions and other records which the three supervisors claimed would show illegal connivance and insufficiency of signatures.

Coleman said if he agreed to be subpoenaed or allow records to be subpoenaed he would set a precedent that would plague the governor's office for a long time in the future.

The citizens' committee was formed soon after the National Guard raids in January. Shortly thereafter businessmen belonging to the committee suffered loss by vandalism to downtown property. They blamed the vandalism on their action against the sheriff.

Aged Driver Charged In 2-Car Crash

RAYVILLE, (Special) — A 72-year-old peg-legged Negro was charged with reckless driving and violation of a restricted license yesterday afternoon, after he crashed head-on into a car driven by Curtis Hufft of Route 1, Rayville.

The Negro suffered a broken knee-cap in the mishap, which took place approximately 6½ miles south-east of Rayville at the intersection of the parish farm road and the Johnny Walker road.

State police who investigated the wreck could not recall the Negro's name last night, but remembered that he lived near Rayville. They said that he turned off the Johnny Walker road and crashed into the Hufft car, damaging both vehicles.

Hufft suffered a head injury, when he was thrown against the windshield by the force of the impact.

The Negro was driving a 1947 Ford with a standard clutch, when he was limited to automatic drive due to his peg-leg.

Tires And Wheels Reported Stolen

Billie Vaughn, 205 Carolina street, and W. B. Herrick, 815 S. Fourth street, both reported to city police yesterday afternoon that their tires were missing.

Both men work at Sears and had left their cars in the parking lot. However, they both told police that they are in the habit of leaving their car trunks unlocked, and police said that the theft might have taken place at any time during the past few days and the location where the tires were removed is unknown.

Thatcher In Texas Attending Meeting

H. K. Thatcher of the Ouachita River Valley Association is in Houston, Texas, where he is attending the 31st annual convention of the Propeller Club of the United States.

A feature of the meet will be a trip by convention delegates to the Port of Houston, third largest port in the United States.

Francisco Santander, who succeeded Simon Bolivar as president of Colombia, was an exile in New York in 1832 when news of his election reached him.

3 Taken To Clinic Following Accident

RAYVILLE (Special) — Two women and seven children were involved in a one-car accident at 3 p.m yesterday on Highway 80, but no serious injuries occurred.

Taken to Ball-Ellington clinic in Rayville were Mrs. Frances Neathery, of Monroe, a nurse at Wright-Bendel clinic; her sister-in-law, Mrs. Huey Lee Hamm of Rayville, and Mrs. Hamm's two-month old son, Marvin.

Five Neathery youngsters, and one other Hamm child were uninjured.

The car, driven by Mrs. Neathery, went into a ditch approximately 3.2 miles west of Rayville, according to police. No charges were filed.

FIRE ANT WAR

'Battle Of Bulge' To Get Underway

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Agricultural workers are preparing for a "Battle of the Bulge"—with fire ants the enemy.

The northern fringe swings in a big arc from near Houston, Tex., through Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina.

On the south the area extends into northern Florida.

The pest has been reported also in North Carolina and Tennessee, but is believed to have been eradicated in those states.

Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland and other states near the infested area have a big stake in the battle.

Joseph F. Spears, the Department of Agriculture research service, said there is no reason to believe that climatic and other conditions in these border states are not suited for spread of the pest.

The department is helping to marshal forces against the pest in a campaign by state, local workers and farmers in cooperation with the department.

Spears said it is hoped that field operations will be started within a week or 10 days.

November to April is the most effective time to treat the land for this pest, he said, and added: "We are trying to get the campaign going as soon as possible."

Congress has voted $2,400,000 for the year started July 1 to carry on the work.

"We visualize control of the fire ant on outlying fringes within a year and are hoping for eradication within five years," Spears said.

It still is falling behind the fellow-traveling rocket which hurled it into its orbit. The rocket carrier which overtook and passed Sputnik is catching up with it again.

It appered that virtually all the tracking of Sputnik now would be through binoculars and telescopes.

Although radar can pick up the track, few if any radar sets are known to be in use on the job of tracking man's first venture into space.

Brucker Denies Circumvention Of Draft Laws

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Secretary of the Army Brucker today denied a charge by Gov. Orval Faubus that the Army circumvented the draft law through its handling of Arkansas National Guardsmen called to federal service.

Faubus said yesterday the selection of individual Guardsmen to continue on federal duty, while others were released, was "a clever scheme to circumvent the selective service act and draft citizens of Arkansas into the federal Army contrary to the plans approved by Congress for peacetime compulsory service."

Brucker issued a statement which said:

"As Gov. Faubus must know, the contention which he makes that the manner in which National Guardsmen were released from active service is a 'clever scheme to circumvent the selective service law' has no basis in law or fact.

"In releasing 8,500 of the 10,300 Arkansas National Guardsmen from active service, a primary concern of the Army has been the consideration of individual circumstances. Students, teachers and others with compassionate or hardship reasons for early release from active military service have been given priority."

Faubus is seeking a Senate investigation of the federalizing of the Arkansas Guard. And he has asked Brucker and President Eisenhower to release the 1,800 Guardsmen still on federal duty.

Saud Withdraws Mediation Offer In Middle East

embassy in Washington King Saud's proposal.

It finally settled the matter after much confusion by announcing that Saud's offer had been rejected.

The U.N. General Assembly on Tuesday had postponed debate for three days on the Syrian-Soviet "aggression" charges against the U.S. and Turkey to give Saud time to step in.

The debate resumed Friday after a three-day recess with the United States announcement that it would "welcome examination" by the assembly of the Middle East situation.

Air Station — soon to move to Belle Chasse — to Louisiana State University for a New Orleans commuters college.

Roussel said the land was worth four to eight million dollars and since it was paid for with local taxes should not be turned over to the state.

Long replied in his opinion the school also would belong to the people of New Orleans.

But, at a news conference, the governor admitted there would be a problem in taking over levee board revenues.

"There would be agitation that the money came from local sources and shouldn't be spent statewide," he said. "We might work it so the funds could be used for bridges anl roads and so forth in the local area where it comes from. I really believe something should be done about that. When they started levee boards they didn't think about oil"

One complication is that practically every levee board has outstanding bonds and provisions must be made to pay them off.

The resolution creating the special study committee notes that "through the elimination of overlapping and duplication and the consolidation of similar functions in one agency it may be possible to reduce administration and overhead costs and still receive the same service. . . . ."

Study Ordered

It directs the committee "to make a study of the situation and to present its findings to the Legislature at its next regular session."

Commissioner of Administration J. Harvey Rester and Executive Director Emmett Asseff of the Legislative Council are drawing up lists of state agencies which duplicate each other or have overlapping functions for study by the group.

The eight-man committee also will decide at its first meeting, closed during organization:

1. Whether open hearings should be held. Angelle said they probably would be open.

2. Whether the field of education should be included in the survey.

3. Just how far the study should go.

"I'm going to suggest to them we follow what the resolution asks us to do — study overlapping and duplication — and not go beyond that," Angelle said.

Other committee members include Sen. B. B. Rayburn of Bogalusa, Long Senate floor leader; Sylvan Friedman of Natchez and James Sparks of Monroe, and Reps. Joseph Bossetta of Orleans Parish, Richard Bertrand of Lafayette, Marvin Roberts of DeSoto and Tom Jewell of Pointe Coupee.

House Group Plans Probe Of Satellite

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee arranged today to make a full-scale investigation of the missile and satellite programs with emphasis on charges of rivalry between the armed services.

The investigation will begin in California Nov. 4 and move to Washington for quizzing of top defense officials Nov. 20. It may continue the rest of the year.

The investigation will be directed by Rep. George Mahon (D-Tex), chairman of a 13-member subcommittee handling defense appropriations. Most of the subcommittee members are expected to take part in the inquiry.

Mahon said interservice rivalries are the reason "why the Russians have beaten us so badly" and the subcommittee will try "to ascertain what the situation is and what has been done with the millions of dollars appropriated for these programs."

"We want to find out and let the American people find out why we are lagging in this field in view of the vast funds provided," Mahon told a reporter. "There has been a lot of talking. Now we are going to do some looking. It is apparent that friction between the armed services is one of the causes of our failure to make satisfactory progress. There has not been a free exchange of information between the services."

400 Feared Dead As Dam Collapses

CALCUTTA, India, Oct. 26 (UP)—A northeastern frontier village with 400 inhabitants was feared to have been wiped out by a dam burst, the newspaper Statesman said today.

A dispatch said a natural dam which held waters of the Towang Chu River suddenly gave way and the water swept down without warning on the Naga tribal village of Aka in Assam.

South Moves To Revamp Its Voting Laws

ATLANTA, Oct. 26 (UP)— Segregation leaders from nine deep South states today proposed revamping voting laws to protect local officials from "NAACP harrassment" back by the federal Civil Rights Commission.

State Sen. William N. Rainach of Louisiana said these laws in some sauthern states must be "strengthened and enlarged" to safeguard registration officals from charges of civil rights law violations.

Rainach also announced the group will campaign for a "fair" presentation of the South's side of the segregation controversy to the nation by the wire services and television networks, by demanding "equal time."

These two proposals were among number of plans laid by 67 citizens council leaders from Georgia, Louisiana, Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Kentucky, Mississippi, Texas and South Carolina, Rainach said.

Rainach presided over two days of closed-door meetngs of the Association of Citizens Councils of America, and 18 - month - old informal organization of the more outspoken leaders of the South's fight against integration.

Rainach said the members feel that under the civil rights law passed by Congress last summer state and local election officials will be exposed to undue "harrassment and intimidation by the NAACP."

Flu Outbreak Quickly Spreads First To Blaze

By UNITED PRESS

A flu outbreak sweeping across the nation appeared stronger Saturday, and deaths from the respiratory infection or its complications soared toward the 400 mark.

A United Press survey revealed at least 392 deaths from Asian flu, other forms of influenza, or after-effects since the outbreak hit the United States last summer.

New York counted 125 deaths while Pennsylvania had 70, Michigan 32, California 31 and Louisiana 21. Illinois reported 20 fatalities from flu or its complcations, Ohio 14, Iowa 13, Utah and Wisconsin 11 each, Colorado 10, Hawaii 9, Kentucky 6, Indiana 4, New Jersey 3, and 1 each in Arizona, Maine, Minnesota, Oklahoma, Oregon, Washington and the District of Columbia.

Quadruplets Make Progress

ELGIN, N.D., Oct. 26 (UP)—Quadruplet daughters born to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Meier continued to make "satisfactory" progress today as doctors kept close check on them 'round-the-clock.

Dr. R. E. Hankins examined the four girls a second time this afternoon and said one of the infants—born somewhat weaker than the others—seemed to be catching up with her sisters.

"Her color, breathing and movement all indicate she is gaining ground," Hankins said.

He said the 32-year-old mother of the four blonde babies born Friday, Mrs. Josephine Meier, also was able to climb from her bed at Elgin hospital for a first glimpse of her daughters earlier today.

VOTE CAMPAIGN

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 26 (AP) — Mexico is staging a big get-out-the-vote campaign for the 1958 presidential elections. About 1,430 booths are being set up to register voters. Around 10 million Mexicans are eligible.

Two Catholic Priests, Two Others Killed

CROWN POINT, Ind., Oct. 26 (AP)—Two Roman Catholic priests and two laymen from Rockford, Ill., were killed tonight when their twin-engined plane crashed into a cornfield about five miles southwest of Lowell, 45 miles southeast of Chicago.

The victims were identified as the Rev. Donald L. Schuler, secretary to the bishop and vice-chancellor of the Rockford Diocese; the Rev. Francis P. McNally, pastor of St. Patricks Church; Arthur Arvindson and Walter Stone.

State police said the four were reportedly returning to Rockford from South Bend, where they attended the Notre Dame-Pittsburgh football game today.

Gary Robinson, a farm hand, said he saw the lights from the plane as it nosed into the ground at a 45 degree angle. He said it was snowing and sleeting at the time.

Murder Attempt Charged

A Monroe man, J. B. Grayson, 28, last night was in the Ouachita parish jail, charged with attempted murder, after what sheriff's department officials described as a "brawl."

A woman and two other men involved in the incident also were in the jail.

The incident occurred at approximately 4 p.m., at 1120 Bennie Breece, West Monroe. Mrs. Mary Lee Freeman, 30, was reportedly slashed in the neck at her home, and H. J. Sullivan, 52, West Monroe, was cut in the right side.

Both were taken to Conway Memorial hospital, where their wounds were cleaned and stitches were taken. They were then jailed, Mrs. Freeman on a disturbing the peace charge, and Sullivan on drunk and disturbing the peace charges.

Also arrested was Troy Johnson, 52, on charges of disturbing the peace and drunkenness.

Police Probing Hit-Run Crash

Monroe police are investigating a hit-run accident which took place on Washington street at 9:15 last night.

Willie J. Slade, going east on Washington, told police that he halted for a car in front of him to park, and another vehicle, a black 1949 or 1950 Ford, going east on Washington, smashed into the left rear and side of his car, damaging it extensively.

Police Hunt Man In Ft. Worth Area

FORT WORTH, Oct. 26 (UP) —Fort Worth police revealed today that they have been looking for Angelo Caruso, a 47-year-old contractor from Hurst, Tex., since his disappearance Oct. 11.

Caruso, brother-in-law and business associate of the late Bob Keller, left home Oct. 11 and his wife received a note two days later in which he said he was going to commit suicide. The note was postmarked Oct. 11.

Police had found no trace of him except his abandoned car. In the glove compartment was his will.

Keller, a Fort Worth attorney, was killed when a private plane crashed near the Gulf last year. Police found nine counterfeit $100 bills on him.

Motorist Killed

MESQUITE, Tex., Oct. 26 (UP) —Osborne Foote, 47, of Mesquite, was killed today when his car hit a telephone pole in southeast Dallas county.

Foote, who was dead on arrival at Baylor hospital in Dallas, was the only occupant of the car.

STOCK PRICES

Most Opinion Is Reassuring On Wall Street

By WALTER BREEDE JR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Stock prices went for a wild ride this week. Consumers, wage earners and businessmen who had watched the market's roller coaster antics wondered what would happen next—not necessarily to the market itself but to their jobs, their incomes and their living standards.

There was no lack of expert opinion on this score, and most of it was reassuring.

President Eisenhower, announcing plans for a series of talks on the nation's economic and military strength, urged Americans to cast aside morbid pessimism.

Business and financial leaders were heard from, too. The concensus: while the market may have needed a shakeout, the economy as a whole is sound. Some of the fluff is off the boom. Things may slow down a little in the next few months but there's no real recession in sight. If the boom loses too much steam, Uncle Sam will fire up the boilers. More millions will be poured out for guided missiles and the like; more credit will be made available for business expansion.

Increased hiring of automobile and farm machinery workers was accompanied by further layoffs in the aircraft, oil refining and meat packing industries.

Steel production, scheduled at less than 80 per cent of capacity, was the lowest since August; auto output the highest in eight weeks.

New orders in the machine tool industry were down sharply from a year ago; freight carloadings trailed 1956 by 12 per cent; inventories of petroleum products grew as sales lagged badly.

Criss-cross patterns were also the rule on the price front. The Dun & Bradstreet index of wholesale prices touched a new 1957 low even as the U. S. Labor Department announced that its index of consumer prices had inched to a record high. Government officials said consumer prices would probably hold steady during the rest of the year and then turn down a bit. At the primary supply level new reductions were announced in prices of gasoline and copper. Mill prices of unfinished cotton cloth were the lowest since the lifting of World War II controls.

The mixed complexion of business showed up, too, in the latest batch of corporate earnings reports. Gains over 1956 were announced by du Pont, Chrysler, Colgate-Palmolive, P. Lorillard, Liggett & Myers, and others. An imposing array of blue chip companies, including Socony Mobil, National Cash Register, American Smelting & Refining Co. and General Motors, reported declines.

The Texas Co. reported an increase for the first nine months but was far from optimistic about the fourth quarter. Said Texaco Chairman Augustus C. Long: "With consumption of petroleum products in the United States below predicted levels, and with reduced production allowables and increased costs. . . fourth quarter earnings this year may not be as good as the fourth quarter of 1956."

At the Hot Springs, Va., meeting of President Eisenhower's Business Advisory Council, Secretary of Commerce Weeks was advised that an expected dip in business activity early next year should curb the rise in living costs but may increase unemployment.

Weeks told newsmen the nation now is going through "a pause for breath, a healthy thing for the economy."

It probably will not cut production more than one per cent from the current all-time peak rate, Weeks said. But, he added, by reducing tax collections, it may dim prospects for tax relief next year.

Total business activity has been running at a record annual rate of 439 billions during the past three months.

Cotton Futures Siage Another Good Advance

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Cotton futures prices staged another good advance this week. Active contracts on the New York Cotton Exchange scored net gains ranging from $2.10 to $2.65 a bale.

Strongest factor in boosting demand for contracts was a continuation of unfavorable weather reports From the belt.

Another bullish influence was a private prediction that the next official government forecast would indicate a potential crop of only 12,160,000 bales. That would compare with a government estimate of 12,401,000 bales in early October.

The market also derived support from belief among traders that there is practically no hope of any new price-support legislation being enacted in time to affect the 1958 crop. Growing possibility of heavy loan entries likewise encouraged buyng.

Offerings were furnished through light hedge selling and profit taking.

Attention of traders centered on a U.S. Census Bureau report that showed ginnings for the Oct. 1-18 period at the second lowest level on record. Cotton ginned during the period amounted to 1,630,000 bales, compared to 2,497,000 in the same period last year.

Exports of U.S. cotton for the week ended Tuesday set a record for the current season at 147,000

ENDS ALL-EVEN

Stocks In One Of Most Hectic Weeks

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 —The stock market was all-even by the end of this week after one of the most hectic five-day periods in history.

But volume soared to 20,804,199 shares, the highest total since the week ended Oct. 1, 1955. That was the first week after President Eisenhower's heart attack.

Outstanding highlights of the week were two days. Monday and Wednesday. On Monday, stocks took their worst dive since Sept. 26, 1955, the first trading session after the Eisenhower heart attack. On Wednesday, the market made its biggest one-day advance since Nov. 14, 1929. The latter was a day of temporary recovery following the blackest days of the '29 crash.

Climatic Week

This was a climatic week in the long decline, now well into its fourth month, since the market reached its 1957 high on July 12. The tremendous volume, the repeated series of late ticker tapes, the almost frenzied scale of selling and buying on the heaviest days — these were the factors that spelled "climax" in the language of Wall Street.

It was a climax to a long decline — but what next? A strong recovery? A continued slide to new lows for the year?

The word among financial analysts these days is that the market must "test" the lows reached this week. If it sinks through them, the market theory calls for a recovery of from a third to two thirds of the gro udl tsno iesncuylJ thirds of the ground lost since July 12.

After that, they say, the burden of proof will be on the bulls as to whether the market is to continue its upward progress. They point out that ever since the all-time bull market high reached in April 1956, the general trend has been downward. The highs have never surpassed that April '56 high. The lows have been increasingly lower.

The five most active issues this week were Bethlehem Steel up 5/8 at 40 3/8, Chrysler, up 1 3/4 at 69 1/8, General Motors up 3/4 at 39, US Steel up 3/8 at 55 1/8, and North American Aviation off 3 1/2 at 22 3/4.

U.S. government bonds improved and corporates firmed late in the week but failed to make up earlier losses on the bond market.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

The revolutionary features of Gulf Crest Gasoline were discussed at a meeting Thursday in Monroe. Those attending included many automobile dealers and others from this area who are anxious to keep abreast of the advances in motor fuels required to get full benefit from automobiles on the road today, and those of the future.

The meeting was conducted by J.S. Dickinson, district manager. He presented Marion Knost, automotive engineer for Gulf's New Orleans Division.

He and Mrs. Futrell are the parents of two sons, O. L., Jr. of Atlanta, Ga.; and Jerry of Farmerville; and a daughter, Mrs. Joy Alford, of Sterlington.

V. H. Jellene of the Monroe office of Commercial Credit Corporation has received a certificate of graduation from the company's training school in Baltimore.

Mr. Jellene has been employed by Commercial Credit for approximately five years.

DALLAS — The largest market crowd in Dallas history attended the Spring and Holiday mart of the Southwestern Men's Apparel Club launched a national premiere of the new grey and canary color styles for Spring.

Present from Monroe were Alan Kutner, Allen Kutner Store and David H. Masur, D. Masur and Sons.

NEW ORLEANS (Special) — Tiller H. Harper, Charles J. Cascio and Benjamin F. Moore of the Monroe office of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company are among those scheduled attended the annual business meeting and luncheon of the company's Veterans Association Thursday at the Roosevelt Hotel.

Mississippi Finals Three New Oil Wells

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 26 (AP)—Mississippi oil men this week completed three new oil wells and one gas condensate well.

The completed wells were:

Sunnyland Contracting Co. completed its Schuchardt No. J-4 at North Carthage Point in Adams County. The well flowed 115 barrels of oil daily from perforations in the Wilcox sand at 5,911-15 feet.

Calto and Gulmon completed its Carter No. 2 well in the newly found Dixie field of Franklin County and said it flowed 42 barrels of oil daily from a Wilcox sand at 4,610-13 feet.

Sun Oil Co. completed its Gray No. 1 in the diamond field of Wayne County. The well flowed 195 barrels of oil daily from a sand at 10,785-95 feet. A second said is closed in for approval from the Oil and Gas Board for a dual completion.

Alexander No. 2

Marshall R. Young completed the International Alexander No. 2 well in Ansley field of Hancock County and reported it flowed 4,272,000 cubic feet of gas and 172 barrels of condensate daily from perforations at 10,787-838 feet.

Other drilling activity included:

Gulf Oil Corp. block squeeze its Green No. 1 well in the Eucuttal field of Wayne County. Operators perforated at 8,087-69 feet and the well flowed a small amount of oil for a short time. Swabbing efforts did not restore the flow and operators indicated a larger section would be perforated.

Total depth is 9,881 feet with seven-inch production casing in the well. If completed in the lower sands, it will be the first deeper producing level for the big field. Current producing level is about 5,100 feet.

A core at 12,207-23 feet logged five feet of gas condensate sand. The well apparently is assured of production in the lower Tuscaloosa zone at 9,598-628 eet.

The well is scheduled to be drilled to 13,600 feet to test the Paluxy zone productive in the discovery well.

Amerada Petroleum Corp. plugged back to 6,373 feet its USA Vaughey No. 1 well in the puzzling Valley Park area of Sharkey County.

The well drilled into salt at below 12,500 feet and reached 12,665 feet with the formation still rock salt.

Operators plan to attempt completion at 6,114-87 feet.

L. O. McMillan was drilling below 3,000 feet in the Monroe County wildcat Bansinger No. 1. The well encountered slight oil shows at 2,850 feet. Contract depth is 6,000 feet.

Body Of Man Hunted After Boat Accident

ORANGE, Tex. Oct. 26 ((UP)—Authorities continued dragging operations today in a nattempt to recover the body of a 38-year-old Bton Rouge arAAuthone acO old Baton Rouge, La., welder who drowned during his lunch hour Thursday.

Sheriff's deputies said H. H. Shackelford of Baton Rouge drowned while rushing to telephone his wife in Louisiana about their new child who was born Wednesday.

The sheriff's office said Shackelford's belongings were found in the Sabine river near a small outboard motorboat which was spinning in circles in the river.

Witnesses said the victim was thrown from the boat by a swell from a passing vessel, then began swimming toward the barge, "Jim," on which he worked. The motorboat began spinning in circles and passed over his body twice. The second time, Shackelford disappeared in the swift current of the river in about 35 feet of water.

Shackelford was a welder working with a crew on a gas pipeline at the Orange, Dock Fellow workers said he ate a quick lunch and went to call his wife about their new baby.

Damascus, capital of Syria, is believed to be the oldest continuously inhabited city in the world. It is mentioned in the book of Genesis, but its origin is unknown.

Coleman Will Use Oral Debate On Constitution

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 26 (AP) — From now on, Gov. J. P. Coleman's pre-Legislature debate on the proposed constitutional convention will be strictly oral.

The governor clamped down on news releases today, saying he could see "no good purpose to be served by debating this issue in the newspapers, when the legislators themselves will be here within a week."

But the governor still will make personal appearances at Canton and Holly Springs next week.

Gov. Coleman has called the Legislature into special session Nov. 5 to consider a constitutional convention next year.

He and the 25 each claim a majority of legislative votes, an argument that will be decided by the Legislature itself.

The governor's statement halting news releases was short. Included in an announcement about a Nov. 4 dinner he is sponsoring for legislators, the announcement said:

"My message to the joint session on the subject of the constitutional convention is now prepared and ready for delivery, and I will not issue any further news releases on the subject.

"I see no good purpose to be served by debating this issue in the newspapers, when the legislators themselves will be here within a week."

The statement followed a week of one of the heaviest concentrations of publicity material on a constitutional convention.

SATELLITE TRACK

MENLO PARK, Calif. (AP)—The Stanford Research Institute will continue the work of tracking the Russian satellite Sputnik on a voluntary basis only.

An institute spokesman announced the policy yesterday after saying the Air Force had canceled its contract with the institute for tracking the satellite because of lack of funds.

Clarion-Ledger Names Executive

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 26 (AP)—Purser Hewitt, managing editor of the Clarion-Ledger for many years, has been promoted to executive editor.

Editor T. M. Hederman Jr. made the announcement in the Sunday edition.

Hewitt has been with the newspaper since 1926, serving as city reporter, sports reporter, city editor, sports editor, and finally as managing editor.

'25 Committee' Raps Coleman's Convention Plan

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 26 (AP)—The "committee of 25" legislators opposing a constitutional convention said if the people were permitted to ratify a new constitution their only choice would be to accept or reject it.

The 25 objected to Gov. J. P. Coleman's statement that there "can be no possible harm in a constitutional convention because the people will pass on it."

The committee said yesterday Coleman's statement was political. "When you analyze it," the committee said, "You find:

1. "The governor cannot, in any way, give the people any positive assurance that they will be allowed to pass on a new constitution. This power would rest solely with a constitutional convention. If the governor can guarantee what a convention will do then he must personally dominate and control such a convention.

2. "If we presume that a new constitution was written, and that it was submitted to the people, they would have no choice other than to vote 'yes' or 'no' on the entire document."

The 25 said the people would have no way of approving what they favor without approving what they do not wish.

The 25 suggested the best method of changing the Constitution is by amendment, a method the governor has rejected on grounds some amendments would bear on other amendments and if all were not approved the result would be an enlargement of the patchwork aspects of the present Constitution.

SPECIAL

CALF AND STEER SALE!

In cooperation with the Cattlemen's Association and the L.S.U. Marketing Specialists, the Delhi Livestock Auction will hold their annuaul Calf & Steer Sale, Friday, November 1st. This will make our third sale. As you know our last two sales have been very successful and we are looking forward to this being our best sale, due to marketing conditions. Why not look over your herd and sell the rest of your calves now, as we are very close to wnter? If your calves are lightweight, they will dollar up good, as the lighter they are, the more they will bring per pound. WEEKS ADVISED

Business Slow-Down Seen For Next Year

HOT SPRINGS, Va. Oct. 26 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks has been advised that an expected dip in business activity early next year should curb the rise in living costs but may increase unemployment.

Concurring in this forecast of his Business Advisory Council (BAC), Weeks told reporters yesterday the nation now is going through "a pause for breath, a healthy thing for the economy."

It probably will not cut production more than 1 per cent from the current all-time peak rate, Weeks said. But by reducing tax collections, it may dim prospects for tax relief next year, he said.

The advisory council, whose membership includes the heads of more than 100 of the country's largest corporations, predicted the business dip will be far less severe than the minor post-Korea recession of 1953-1954.

It will end "some time in 1958," but probably not before midyear, Weeks was told.

Behind Closed Doors?

The appraisal was presented behind closed doors at the autumn meeting of the council, attended by the chairman of President Eisenhower's council of economic advisers, Dr. Raymond J. Saulnier, and by other government officials.

If industry increases its output per man-hour only slightly in months just ahead, the group was told, unemployment may increase "by several hundred thousand." A larger gain in productiv would mean "substantially more" joblessness, the BAC said.

The possibility that tax relief may be pushed farther into the future was mentioned when Weeks was reminded by newsmen that there are stronger pressures in Congress to speed up U.S. scientific and weapons development to counter Soviet gains in the missiles and satellites field.

Weeks did not acknowledge that the administration might endorse bigger outlays on the satellite-missile program, but he indicated he considered larger appropriations possible—at a time when federal revenues are slowing up.

"The prospects for tax reduction," Weeks said, "are not what they might have been a few months ago."

Grains Decline On World News

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP) — International developments and the stock market figured largely in the down turn of grain futures this week.

Wheat futures ended the week 1 5/8 to 2 3/4 cents a bushel lower than Friday a week ago. Corn was down 3/4 to 1 cent a bushel, oats unchanged to 1 1/8 lower, rye was off 2 1/2 to 4 1/2 cents, soybeans declined 3 1/4 to 3 7/8 cents, and lard finished 5 to 40 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Livestock

Independents Slate Meeting To Ttudy Ills

By MAX B. SKELTON

DALLAS, Oct. 26—About 1,500 independent oil operators from 36 states will be here Monday to open a two-day discussion of their industry's ailments.

The Independent Petroleum Assn. of America was founded 28 years ago in a battle against foreign oil.

Capt. M. V. Carson Jr., administrator of President Eiserlower's program for voluntary oil import cutbacks, will share the speakers' platform this week with M. J. Rathbone, president of Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), one of the nation's largest oil importers.

While IPAA is the leader in the fight for lower oil imports, other problems facing the convention include declining domestic production, Department of Defense purchases of oil abroad and several industry matters that will be before Congress.

Natural gas legislation and renewal of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act are issues of particular interest to the independents.

IPAA has endorsed the Harris-O'Hara Gas Bill that would remove producers from utility-type controls administered by the Federal Power Commission. The bill received House committee approval this year but floor action was postponed. Russell Brown, IPAA general counsel, said last week the bill "is an absolute must."

The fight against foreign oil ties directly with the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, which expires next June. In ordering the current voluntary cutback program July 27, President Eisenhower acted under a 1955 Trade Agreements Extension Act. amedments which authorizes the President to take the necessary action to adjust the imports of any article when that importation threatens to impair the national security.

The defense amendment of 1955 was adopted as a substitute for a proposal that would have restricted oil imports to 10 per cent of domestic demand.

IPAA supprted the 10 percent quota proposal, contending that voluntary programs had been attempted in the past without success.

Movies Take Chance, But Television Won't

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Want to know the difference between the movies and television today? The movies can take chances. TV won't.

The issue was brought into focus as I talked to Frank Tashlin, one of the brightest new directors in films. With his keen comedic sense, he has been sought after by the TV moguls. But he has resisted the overtures.

"I'd rather do movies," he said. "Why? Because it's more fun. You can take chances with movies nowadays. The films have to fight for a public, and that means we've got to give them something new and exciting.

"This is something recent. Five years ago, I never could have gotten away with some of the wacky things I had in 'Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?' But now if you've got ideas, they'll give you free rein.

"In television, you have to play everything safe. TV has entered its middle age. Movies have passed it and I guess they're in a second childhood."

Tashlin's remarks are incisive. While hard on the stockholders, the movie depression has been a good thing for creativity. TV performed the service of wiping out massive mediocrity in the picture business. The B picture has been virtually killed, except for exploitation films like those dealing with monsters and teen-agers (no parallel intended).

Now let's take a look at TV.

Tsk tsk. Television is suffering from hardening of the creative arteries. And at such an early age!

You don't have to be an oldster to remember when TV was exciting. New comics—and some of the old ones—were presenting fresh comedy. Bright young playwrights were taking chances on offbeat themes. TV cameras were roving the country to catch news being made.

NEW PLUMBING TRENDS

Current trends in the plumbing industry, according to the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau, are toward smaller showerheads, vanity lavatories and low-built bathtubs. A new bathtub only 14 inches high is especially convenient for children and elderly people.

FIRE ANT WAR

'Battle Of Bulge' To Get Underway

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Agricultural workers are preparing for a "Battle of the Bulge"—with fire ants the enemy.

This enemy, after a comparatively slow start, is moving fast with rapidly increasing forces.

The northern fringe swings in a big arc from near Houston, Tex., through Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina.

On the south the area extends into northern Florida.

The pest has been reported also in North Carolina and Tennessee, but is believed to have been eradicated in those states.

Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland and other states near the infested area have a big stake in the battle.

Joseph F. Spears, the Department of Agriculture research service, said there is no reason to believe that climatic and other conditions in these border states are not suited for spread of the pest.

The department is helping to marshal forces against the pest in a campaign by state, local workers and farmers in cooperation with the department.

Spears said it is hoped that field operations will be started within a week or 10 days.

November to April is the most effective time to treat the land for this pest, he said, and added: "We are trying to get the campaign going as soon as possible."

Congress has voted $2,400,000 for the year started July 1 to carry on the work.

"We visualize control of the fire ant on outlying fringes within a year and are hoping for eradication within five years," Spears said.

Solons Open Agency Study Next Tuesday

Air Station — soon to move to Belle Chasse — to Louisiana State University for a New Orleans commuters college.

Roussel said the land was worth four to eight million dollars and since it was paid for with local taxes should not be turned over to the state.

Long replied in his opinion the school also would belong to the people of New Orleans.

But, at a news conference, the governor admitted there would be a problem in taking over levee board revenues.

"There would be agitation that the money came from local sources and shouldn't be spent statewide," he said. "We might work it so the funds could be used for bridges anl roads and so forth in the local area where it comes from. I really believe something should be done about that. When they started levee boards they didn't think about oil."

One complication is that practically every levee board has outstanding bonds and provisions must be made to pay them off.

The resolution creating the special study committee notes that "through the elimination of overlapping and duplication and the consolidation of similar functions in one agency it may be possible to reduce administration and overhead costs and still receive the same service. . . . ."

Study Ordered

It directs the committee "to make a study of the situation and to present its findings to the Legislature at its next regular session."

Commissioner of Administration J. Harvey Rester and Executive Director Emmett Asseff of the Legislative Council are drawing up lists of state agencies which duplicate each other or have overlapping functions for study by the group.

The eight-man committee also will decide at its first meeting, closed during organization:

1. Whether open hearings should be held. Angelle said they probably would be open.

2. Whether the field of education should be included in the survey.

3. Just how far the study should go.

"I'm going to suggest to them we follow what the resolution asks us to do — study overlapping and duplication — and not go beyond that," Angelle said.

Other committee members include Sen. B. B. Rayburn of Bogalusa, Long Senate floor leader; Sylvan Friedman of Natchez and James Sparks of Monroe, and Reps. Joseph Bossetta of Orleans Parish, Richard Bertrand of Lafayette, Marvin Roberts of DeSoto and Tom Jewell of Pointe Coupee.

with an original time of 96.2 minutes.

It still is falling behind the fellow-traveling rocket which hurled it into its orbit. The rocket carrier which overtook and passed Sputnik is catching up with it again.

The rocket takes 94.68 minutes to complete one tour around the world, Tass said.

It appered that virtually all the tracking of Sputnik now would be through binoculars and telescopes.

Although radar can pick up the track, few if any radar sets are known to be in use on the job of tracking man's first venture into space.

Brucker Denies Circumvention Of Draft Laws

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Secretary of the Army Brucker today denied a charge by Gov. Orval Faubus that the Army circumvented the draft law through its handling of Arkansas National Guardsmen called to federal service.

Faubus said yesterday the selection of individual Guardsmen to continue on federal duty, while others were released, was "a clever scheme to circumvent the selective service act and draft citizens of Arkansas into the federal Army contrary to the plans approved by Congress for peacetime compulsory service."

Brucker issued a statement which said:

"As Gov. Faubus must know, the contention which he makes that the manner in which National Guardsmen were released from active service is a 'clever scheme to circumvent the selective service law' has no basis in law or fact.

"In releasing 8,500 of the 10,300 Arkansas National Guardsmen from active service, a primary concern of the Army has been the consideration of individual circumstances. Students, teachers and others with compassionate or hardship reasons for early release from active military service have been given priority."

Faubus is seeking a Senate investigation of the federalizing of the Arkansas Guard. And he has asked Brucker and President Eisenhower to release the 1,800 Guardsmen still on federal duty.

embassy in Washington King Saud's proposal.

It finally settled the matter after much confusion by announcing that Saud's offer had been rejected.

The U.N. General Assembly on Tuesday had postponed debate for three days on the Syrian-Soviet "aggression" charges against the U.S. and Turkey to give Saud time to step in.

The debate resumed Friday after a three-day recess with the United States announcement that it would "welcome examination" by the assembly of the Middle East situation.

House Group Plans Probe Of Satellite

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee arranged today to make a full-scale investigation of the missile and satellite programs with emphasis on charges of rivalry between the armed services.

The investigation will begin in California Nov. 4 and move to Washington for quizzing of top defense officials Nov. 20. It may continue the rest of the year.

The investigation will be directed by Rep. George Mahon (D-Tex), chairman of a 13-member subcommittee handling defense appropriations. Most of the subcommittee members are expected to take part in the inquiry.

Mahon said interservice rivalries are the reason "why the Russians have beaten us so badly" and the subcommittee will try "to ascertain what the situation is and what has been done with the millions of dollars appropriated for these programs."

"We want to find out and let the American people find out why we are lagging in this field in view of the vast funds provided," Mahon told a reporter. "There has been a lot of talking. Now we are going to do some looking. It is apparent that friction between the armed services is one of the causes of our failure to make satisfactory progress. There has not been a free exchange of information between the services."

400 Feared Dead As Dam Collapses

CALCUTTA, India, Oct. 26 (UP)—A northeastern frontier village with 400 inhabitants was feared to have been wiped out by a dam burst, the newspaper Statesman said today.

A dispatch said a natural dam which held waters of the Towang Chu River suddenly gave way and the water swept down without warning on the Naga tribal village of Aka in Assam.

South Moves To Revamp Its Voting Laws

ATLANTA, Oct. 26 (UP)— Segregation leaders from nine deep South states today proposed revamping voting laws to protect local officials from "NAACP harrassment" back by the federal Civil Rights Commission.

State Sen. William N. Rainach of Louisiana said these laws in some sauthern states must be "strengthened and enlarged" to safeguard registration officals from charges of civil rights law violations.

Rainach also announced the group will campaign for a "fair" presentation of the South's side of the segregation controversy to the nation by the wire services and television networks, by demanding "equal time."

These two proposals were among number of plans laid by 67 citizens council leaders from Georgia, Louisiana, Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Kentucky, Mississippi, Texas and South Carolina, Rainach said.

Rainach presided over two days of closed-door meetngs of the Association of Citizens Councils of America, and 18 - month - old informal organization of the more outspoken leaders of the South's fight against integration.

Rainach said the members feel that under the civil rights law passed by Congress last summer state and local election officials will be exposed to undue "harrassment and intimidation by the NAACP."

Flu Outbreak Quickly Spreads First To Blaze

By UNITED PRESS

A flu outbreak sweeping across the nation appeared stronger Saturday, and deaths from the respiratory infection or its complications soared toward the 400 mark.

A United Press survey revealed at least 392 deaths from Asian flu, other forms of influenza, or after-effects since the outbreak hit the United States last summer.

New York counted 125 deaths while Pennsylvania had 70, Michigan 32, California 31 and Louisiana 21. Illinois reported 20 fatalities from flu or its complcations, Ohio 14, Iowa 13, Utah and Wisconsin 11 each, Colorado 10, Hawaii 9, Kentucky 6, Indiana 4, New Jersey 3, and 1 each in Arizona, Maine, Minnesota, Oklahoma, Oregon, Washington and the District of Columbia.

Quadruplets Make Progress

Dr. R. E. Hankins examined the four girls a second time this afternoon and said one of the infants—born somewhat weaker than the others—seemed to be catching up with her sisters.

"Her color, breathing and movement all indicate she is gaining ground," Hankins said.

He said the 32-year-old mother of the four blonde babies born Friday, Mrs. Josephine Meier, also was able to climb from her bed at Elgin hospital for a first glimpse of her daughters earlier today.

VOTE CAMPAIGN

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 26 (AP) — Mexico is staging a big get-out-the-vote campaign for the 1958 presidential elections. About 1,430 booths are being set up to register voters. Around 10 million Mexicans are eligible.

Two Catholic Priests, Two Others Killed

CROWN POINT, Ind., Oct. 26 (AP)—Two Roman Catholic priests and two laymen from Rockford, Ill., were killed tonight when their twin-engined plane crashed into a cornfield about five miles southwest of Lowell, 45 miles southeast of Chicago.

The victims were identified as the Rev. Donald L. Schuler, secretary to the bishop and vice-chancellor of the Rockford Diocese; the Rev. Francis P. McNally, pastor of St. Patricks Church; Arthur Arvindson and Walter Stone.

State police said the four were reportedly returning to Rockford from South Bend, where they attended the Notre Dame-Pittsburgh football game today.

Gary Robinson, a farm hand, said he saw the lights from the plane as it nosed into the ground at a 45 degree angle. He said it was snowing and sleeting at the time.

Murder Attempt Charged

A Monroe man, J. B. Grayson, 28, last night was in the Ouachita parish jail, charged with attempted murder, after what sheriff's department officials described as a "brawl."

A woman and two other men involved in the incident also were in the jail.

The incident occurred at approximately 4 p.m., at 1120 Bennie Breece, West Monroe. Mrs. Mary Lee Freeman, 30, was reportedly slashed in the neck at her home and H. J. Sullivan, 52, West Monroe, was cut in the right side.

Both were taken to Conway Memorial hospital, where their wounds were cleaned and stitches were taken. They were then jailed, Mrs. Freeman on a disturbing the peace charge, and Sullivan on drunk and disturbing the peace charges.

Also arrested was Troy Johnson, 52, on charges of disturbing the peace and drunkenness.

Police Probing Hit-Run Crash

Monroe police are investigating a hit-run accident which took place on Washington street at 9:15 last night.

Willie J. Slade, going east on Washington, told police that he halted for a car in front of him to park, and another vehicle, a black 1949 or 1950 Ford, going east on Washington, smashed into the left rear and side of his car, damaging it extensively.

Police Hunt Man In Ft. Worth Area

FORT WORTH, Oct. 26 (UP)—Fort Worth police revealed today that they have been looking for Angelo Caruso, a 47-year-old contractor from Hurst, Tex., since his disappearance Oct. 11.

Caruso, brother-in-law and business associate of the late Bob Keller, left home Oct. 11 and his wife received a note two days later in which he said he was going to commit suicide. The note was postmarked Oct. 11.

Police had found no trace of him except his abandoned car. In the glove compartment was his will.

Keller, a Fort Worth attorney, was killed when a private plane crashed near the Gulf last year. Police found nine counterfeit $100 bills on him.

Motorist Killed

MESQUITE, Tex., Oct. 26 (UP)—Osborne Foote, 47, of Mesquite, was killed today when his car hit a telephone pole in southeast Dallas county.

Foote, who was dead on arrival at Baylor hospital in Dallas, was the only occupant of the car.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

As a "layman" football fan with a pretty good knowledge of the game and able to follow play enough to enjoy it, you do all right until you start thinking that character a couple of rows down in the stands must know what he's talking about when he's yelling, "Give us some officials."

Frequently the guy yelling the loudest knows less about the rules than the mystified fan who is led to believe the rabble-rouser might be right. Football officials do make mistakes. If they make 'em, they admit 'em, usually, and it serves to make them better officials in succeeding games.

If you think you know so much about the duties of your grid officials, take a look at just SOME of the problems T. H. Waters, state commissioner of the Louisiana High School Athletic Association, requires his officials throughout the state to answer to qualify as an official at the prep contests.

You be the referee; circle the correct numbers (Remember these are just a few selection from Part II of Walters' test. We haven't seen the other parts, but they're bound to be just as tough):

About replaying a down: 1. If time for half expires during a down in which fair catch is made, down is replayed in an extended period. 2. If time for half expires during a down in which A-1 commits a foul while B-1 is advancing an intercepted forward pass and penalty is accepted, period is extended by untimed down. 3. If, during try-for-point, there is a double foul, try-for-point is made again. 4. If penalty for live ball foul is measured from previous spot, down is always replayed.

Fundamental rules statements: 1. If scrimmage-kick is first touched beyond line by R, series is ended. 2. For any free-kick, ball may be placed anywhere on proper yardline between inbounds lines. 3. Measurement for any dead ball foul is from succeeding spot. 4. Penalty for certain single fouls cannot be declined. 5. If kick is touched in field of play by R and is then caught by K in R's endzone, it may be a touchdown.

Legal forward pass goes into B's endzone where it is caught. 1. If caught by A-2, it is touchdown. 2. If caught by B-1, ball becomes dead immediately. 3. If caught by B-1 and he is downed in endzone, it is touchback. 4. If simultaneously caught by A-2 and B-1, ball becomes dead immediatly and it is touchdown.

Fundamental statements: 1. After penalty for holding foul is accepted, next down always has same number as down during which foul occurred. 2. If penalty for illegal forward pass is declined, down is counted unless it is preceded by act which ended series. 3. If there is no foul, or if one foul occurs after R was first to touch a scrimmage-kick beyond line, next down is always 1st. 4. Only dead ball foul can result in new series starting with more than ten yards to gain.

Runner A-1 advances ball across B's goal line. During run, there is foul by A-2 or by B-1. After ball becomes dead, A-3 commits personal foul. 1. If first foul was by B-1, it is double foul. 2. If first foul was by A-2, it is multiple foul. 3. If first foul was by B-1, penalty for foul by A-3 is measured on kickoff.

Punt by K-1 is high and comes down in neutral zone where it strikes K-2 or R-1. While rebound is still in flight, it is batted by K-3 or R-2. 1. If K-3 intentionally bats ball, it is a foul. 2. If R-2 bats ball, it is a foul. 3. Touching by K-2 is considered "first touching" of kick. 4. Touching by R-1 gives K right to recover beyond line and retain possession.

This doesn't scratch the barrel of questions Waters asks at one of his regularly conducted "classes," but chances are that the guy doing all the yelling about "them robbers" can't actually be sure about any of the answers in these questions. If you can't get half these right you have little right to tell an official his business. If you can answer just half of them, why don't you study up. The association will always welcome new talent. If you can answer these, you must already belong to the football officials' association.

The Answers: Correct only—About replaying a down, 2 and 3. Fundamental rules statements, 1, 2, and 3. Legal forward pass, 1, 3, and 4. Fundamental statements, 1, 2, 3, and 4. Runner A-1 advances, 3 only correct. Punt by K-1, 1 only correct.

Just for the record, we obtained these questions from the test paper of official Dan Willensky, who had the exceptionally high grade of 97.3 on the test that included a greater mass of ticklers than we're able to offer here. Still think football officiating is easy?

Winners Come From Behind For Victory

Southeastern spotted Northeast State their first touchdown in five years last night in the first quarter and then came back with two scores in the second period and one each in the third and fourth to whip the fumbling Indians, 26-13, at Brown Stadium.

The Indians fumbled the ball away six times and had the ball stolen once to kill two scoring threats. They moved well throughout the game but could keep the ball long enough to score but twice, the one in the first quarter on a pass from Nathan Zametto to Joe Driskill and in the fourth on a one yard smash by Lloyd Ray Smith. Don Reynolds kicked the extra point after the first touchdown.

STATISTICS

Everett Reynolds, who played most of the game at quarterback with Zametto moving to left half, and Smith starred in the best offensive showing Northeast has made since the Delta State game. Smith gained heavily the drive for the last touchdown after his fumble ended an Indian threat in the third period. Big tackle Jim Brent and guard Gerald Elkins sparkled in the Northeast line.

Halfbacks Calvin Bourgeois and Tommy Bell starred for Southeastern along with fullback Wayne Dugas. Dugas scored the first Southeastern touchdown on a one-yard burst and Bell scored the third on a 70 yard dash in the third period. Bourgeois never scored but broke loose for several good gains.

Quarterback Bill Hawkins passed 29 yards to end Oscar Lofton for the second Lion touchdown and halfback Bobby Dugas counted the last on a three yard burst. Guard Ken Bailey kicked extra points after the first two touchdowns.

The victory was the first in Gulf States competition for Stanley Galloway's Lions against a tie with Southwestern. Coach Devone Payne's Northeast team has now lost all three of its conference games.

Northeast started the drive for their first touchdown against Southeastern since 1952 midway of the first period when the Indians stopped the Lions on downs on the Northeast 23. Tony Hartsell started the moving with a ramble to the 40. Don Reynolds made one before Hartsell took a pitchout from Zametto and tossed to Jim Knox at the Southeastern 35.

Fullback Lloyd Ray Smith went to the 12 with a fine smash up the middle and then to the 10. Reynolds went for no gain before Zametto threw a jump pass to the goal line that Knox, Joe Driskill and a Lion defender fought over with Driskill winning the battle and getting the touchdown. Don Reynolds booted the extra point and it was the Indians on top, 7-0.

Southeastern tied it up and went ahead in the second period with their two touchdowns. They started the first scoring drive late in the first quarter after returning the Indian kickoff to their 24. They moved to the Northeast 21 mostly on short rushes by Wayne Dugas, Calvin Bourgeois and Bill Hawkins. A 23-yard jaunt by Hawkins was the longest trip on the ground.

An offside penalty and a stiffened Indian defense halted the Lions temporarily at the 28 before Hawkins found Bourgeois open at the 10 and hit him with a pass. He advanced on to the one before being downed. Wayne Dugas bulled over from there and Bailey booted the point and it was 7-7.

A few minutes later guard Gerald Boudreaux recovered a fumble by Terry Head on the Southeastern 41 and the Lions were off again. Nice running by Bourgeois, Dugas and Topham moved the football to the Indian 29 from where Hawkins threw to Lofton in the end zone. Bailey kicked the point after and it was 14-7 at the half.

In the third, Northeast took the kickoff and marched to their own 35 before Don Reynolds broke away and sped to the 18 where Hawkins took the ball out of his arms and returned it 20 yards to halt the threat.

Later in the quarter, Bourgeois recovered a bobble by Smith at moved to the 29 and Zeringue to the 30. There Bell flashed 70 yards the for his touchdown with Elkins chasing and staying pretty close all the way. Bailey missed the point.

A fumble of a Lion punt by Head set up the last Lions TD at the 17 when Marsh recovered. Five plays laster Bobby Dugas went three yards to score. Bailey again missed the kick. Everett Reynolds returned the kickoff to his 29 and Northeast went all the way for the last touchdown of the night. The running of Smith and Benny Franklin and a Reynolds' pass to Driskill set this one up. Smith crashed over from the one with a minute and 20 seconds remaining. Keith Amos' try for the point after was blocked and it ended at 26-13.

Army From Behind To Defeat Virginia

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Oct. 26 (UP)—Quarterback Dave Bourland brought Army from behind with two perfect touchdown passes in the fourth period today to outscore Virginia 20-12 in an inter-sectional thriller.

Virgina, a two-touchdown underdog, held the upper hand for three quarters as the Cavaliers fought as furiously as if they were defending Richmond itself against the soldiers.

But with Bourland's passing and the end flashes of halfback Bob Anderson and Pete Dawkins, the eighth-ranked Cadets rallied from the brink of an upset.

Bourland passed 16 yards to Anderson for one touchdown and 35 to Dawkins for another in the final period after the Cavaliers pitched a crowd of 24,000 into a frenzy by leading 12-6 with 15 minutes playing time left.

Army moved sluggishly at the start and Virginia, thanks to the sharp eye o fquarterback Reece Whitley, his receivers and the pounding of fullback Jim Bakhtiar, put on a show.

Score by periods:

Virginia	0	6	6	0—12
Army	0	6	0	14—20

Army scoring: Touchdowns: Anderson 2 (15, run: and 16, pass from Bourland); Dawkirs (35, pass from Bourland). Conversions, Walters, McDaniel.

Duke Limited To 14-14 Tie By N. C. State

RALEIGH, N.C., Oct. 26 (UP)—Halfback Dick Christy caught two touchdown passes as North Carolina State, reaching a pinnacle of its new-found football success, fought fourth - ranked Duke to a 14-14 tie today in a battle of unbeaten teams.

State rolled back two Duke stabs at the goal line in the second half, one of them barely inches away to capture a moral victory before a capacity crowd of 21,000 and a regional television audience.

It was the second tie in two weeks for the Wolfpack, and the first blot on a previously perfect six-game Duke record.

Score by periods:

NC. State	0	7	7	0—14
Duke	7	7	0	0—14

N.C. State scoring: Touchdowns Christy, 2 (50, pass-run from Katich, and 5, pass from Hunter). Coversions, Hunter, 2.

Duke scoring: Touchdowns, Brodhead (1, plunge); Thompson, 53 (pass-run from Brodhead). Conversions, Carlton, 2.

'B' Lions Visit West Monroe's Grid Tomorrow

Coach Tommy Wilson last night said his Ouachita Parish High "B" football team will play the West Monroe "B" team on the West Monroe campus tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock as his squad resumes play after recovering from attacks of flu that had halted their work.

Engineers Trip Wave, 20-13

By ED TUNSTALL

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 26 (AP) — Substitute fullback Lester Simerville's 91-yard touchdown run with the second half kickoff pushed Georgia Tech to a hard-pressed 20-13 victory over Tulane tonight.

Simerville, a 20-year-old sophomore from Atlanta, squirmed away from a horde of Tulane tacklers and followed two teammates down the sidelines for the touchdown. His jaunt broke a 7-7 tie and roused a sputtering Tech offense into high gear.

The victory was the second for Tech against two losses and one tie. The setback was Tulane's fifth in six games and disappointed 25,000 homecoming fans.

Tech, rated a three-touchdown favorite, drove for its first touchdown in the game's first four minutes. A fumble by Tulane quarterback Gene Newton gave Tech the ball on the Tulane 19. Two plays later halfback Cal James circled right end for 15 yards and the tally.

The deciding touchdown came with less than four minutes left in the game. Tech started the drive on its own 43 and sophomore fullback Jim Benson capped the march by ramming over center six yards for the score.

Tulane's first touchdown march was sparked by sophomore fullback Connie Andrews. A fumble recovery on the Tech 41 started the drive and Andrews scored from the one seven plays later.

Tech gave substance to its three-touchdown favoritism in the first quarter. On the second Tech play from scrimmage James found a wide hole inside right end and followed perfect blocking on the 15-yard touchdown run.

But Tulane, fired up by the cheering homecoming crowd, bounced back to tie the score seven minutes later. The Greenies recovered a fumble by Tech's Larry Fonts on the Tech 41. Seven plays later Andrews cracked inside tackle for the touchdown.

The teams struggled through a listless second quarter, but Simerville, a 5-11, 170-pounder, ignited Tech in the opening minutes of the second half. His 91-yard touchdown run on the kickoff sent Tech ahead to stay.

The final Tech tally covered 57 yards in 11 plays. Benson was the wheelhorse of the drive and dragged Tulane tacklers with him on his six-yard touchdown smash.

Petitbon, who had been nursing a leg injury for the past few weeks, was the key man in Tulane's second touchdown march. He completed four passes and added a seven-yard run that took the ball to the Tech four. He whipped the scoring pass to Ellzey across the center of the line.

Georgia Tech	7	0	6	7—20
Tulane	7	0	0	6—13

Georgia Tech scoring — Touchdowns: James (16, run); Simerville (91, kickoff return); Benson (6, run). Conversions: Braselton 2.

Tulane scoring — Touchdowns: Andrews (1, plunge); Ellzey (4, pass from Petitbon). Conversion: Newton.

Bayou Project, Game Laws To Be Talked

One of the most important meetings of the Ouachita Unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation is on schedule for Tuesday evening when Arthur "Bud" Tidwell, Jr., unit president, greets his organization at 7:30 o'clock at Penn Hotel.

A general discussion of the rotenone shad eradication program in Bayou DeSiard, scheduled to begin Tuesday if the necessary funds are obtained in time, and Tidwell indicated last night that only about $300 more is needed to handle the project.

Association members will also present resolutions for unit approval regarding any fish and game law changes they wish to promote before the Louisiana legislature through channels of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation.

"We are asking for these resolutions now," Tidwell said, "so that they may be properly considered and time allowed to properly prepare in triplicate for presentation to the federation not later than December. The state convention is in February."

An "unusually good" film of interest to rabbit hunters and beagle hound owners will also be offered. It's a 60-minute movie, "Cottontails," and is regarded as one of the finest wildlife films ever to be presented here.

"This film is certainly one of the best. Chiefly a story of the life of a cottontail and the hunter's sport of chasing him with the beagles, it is a movie that will appeal to every member of the family," Tidwell said.

Several committee announcements also are due at the meeting, and the usual door prizes will be given away to a man and woman attending.

Hot Rod Racers On Twin City's Track Today

Those hot rod racers and stock car scramblers of the Twin City Speedway are scheduled to run again this afternoon on their West Monroe oval with events for the stocks and modifieds scheduled on a program beginning at 1 o'clock.

A check of the track yesterday showed all acceptable for good runs today after the heavy rain early in the week. Most racers were predicting the track will be fast.

Events include the usual heat races, consolations, trophy dashes, and feature runs for both classes.

Japs Maintain 9-Hole Margin Over U.S. Aces

TOKYO, Sunday, Oct. 27 (AP)—Japan's Torakichi Nakamura and Koichi Ono held firm to their nine-stroke lead over America's Sam Snead and Jimmy Demaret today with nine holes to play in the 72-hole Canada Cup golf competition.

Nakamura fell off his subpar pace for the first time, taking a one over 37 for the front nine but his partner shot a 34 to hold back any pressure from the second place U. S. forces.

St. Matthew's Varsity Splits At Mer Rouge

The Fighting Irish of St. Matthew's were back at home yesterday after splitting a Friday night varsity double header at Mer Rouge. Bradley Biggar hooped 17 points in leading the Irish quintet in a 56-53 overtime victory over the Mer Rouge boys.

The St. Matthew's junior boys won their fourth straight in a preliminary, 59-21, as Frankie Accardo led with 19 points, and Pauline Varino got three points to lead a losing cause as the Irish junior girls lost 31-8.

McNeese State Edged Out By McMurry, 7-6

LAKE CHARLES, Oct. 26 (AP)—McMurry of Abilene, Tex., edged McNeese State 7-6 tonight on Tom McAdams' second quarter conversion.

McAdams converted after halfback Jim Boyd plunged two yards to climax a 72-yard drive.

Halfback Rogers Hampton got the McNeese touchdown in the same period. He broke across from one yard out, climaxing a 48-yard kickoff return drive that took eight plays.

McMurry	0	7	0	0—7
McNeese	0	6	0	0—6

McMurry scoring — touchdown: Boyd (2, plunge). Conversion: McAdams.

McNeese scoring — touchdown: Hampton (1, plunge).

Boys Informed To Turn In Ball Uniforms Here

All Little League and Dixie League boys are urged to return their uniforms to the Monroe Community Center, 113½ Catalpa Street as soon as possible, Director Jack Hesketh said.

A complete inventory and inspection of all uniforms has to be made to make sure uniforms are in good condition to be used. Uniforms can be turned in any day 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from 6 p.m. until 9 p.m.

Movies Take Chance, But Television Won't

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Want to know the difference between the movies and television today? The movies can take chances. TV won't.

The issue was brought into focus as I talked to Frank Tashlin, one of the brightest new directors in films. With his keen comedic sense, he has been sought after by the TV moguls. But he has resisted the overtures.

"I'd rather do movies," he said. "Why? Because it's more fun. You can take chances with movies nowadays. The films have to fight for a public, and that means we've got to give them something new and exciting.

"This is something recent. Five years ago, I never could have gotten away with some of the wacky things I had in 'Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?' But now if you've got ideas, they'll give you free rein.

"In television, you have to play everything safe. TV has entered its middle age. Movies have passed it and I guess they're in a second childhood."

Tashlin's remarks are incisive. While hard on the stockholders, the movie depression has been a good thing for creativity. TV performed the service of wiping out massive mediocrity in the picture business. The B picture has been virtually killed, except for exploitation films like those dealing with monsters and teen-agers (no parallel intended).

Now let's take a look at TV.

Tsk tsk. Television is suffering from hardening of the creative arteries. And at such an early age!

You don't have to be an oldster to remember when TV was exciting. New comics—and some of the old ones—were presenting fresh comedy. Bright young playwrights were taking chances on offbeat themes. TV cameras were roving the country to catch news being made.

NEW PLUMBING TRENDS

Current trends in the plumbing industry, according to the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau, are toward smaller showerheads, vanity lavatories and low-built bathtubs. A new bathtub only 14 inches high is especially convenient for children and elderly people.

PRO-AM TOURNEYS

Just another reminder of the two pro-am tournaments that we have already told you about—Bastrop is having a Canadian Handicap L.P.G.O. Tournament at the Morehouse Country Club on Monday, November 4, at 1 p.m., and Vicksburg, Mississippi, is having a pro-am on the following day, November 5, with the first scheduled to tee off at 9 a.m. Entrants should be registered before noon for the Bastrop Tourney and a day ahead of time for the Vicksburg tournament.

CLIFFORD ANN CREED WINS AGAIN

Clifford Ann Creed again defended her Women's Louisiana State Amateur Championship successfully this past Friday by beating Mrs. A. T. Higgins of New Orleans in the 36-hole finals by a 6 and 5 margin. This marks the third straight year that the

ANN CREED, right, and MRS. A. T. HIGGINS

Clifford Ann was 2 up at the end of the first 18 holes, went 3 up on the 27th hole and closed out the match on the 31st after winning the latter plus the 28th and 30th holes.

BENT GRASS GREENS AT DeSIARD

Winnie Cole, Bayou DeSiard pro, tells us that the planting of bent grass on the greens at the Bayou course is underway for the third straight year.

Bent grass is still more or less in the experimental stages in this part of the country because of weather conditions. Bent thrives on cool, damp climates and dies from excessive heat. It is used the year around on most of the northern golf courses but is just beginning to get a foot-hold in the south as a winter grass. Rye grass is the most common grass to be found during the winter season throughout the southern states.

The advantage of bent grass in the south over other winter grasses is in the transition period (where one grass supplants another) from the winter grass to the spring and summer grass which is Bermuda grass. Bent takes only about two weeks for the transition period whereas, for example, Rye takes approximately six weeks.

During the transition period, the greens usually get stubby and spotty which is not too desirable for putting purposes. It is very frustrating to stroke a put perfectly and have it jump off line because of a bare spot on the green.

Winnie is using a mixture of Astoria, Highland, and Seaside strains of bent this year and is hoping that the greens turn out as well as they have for the past two winter seasons. The Shreveport Country Club is the only other course in this area of the south using bent grass and we understand that it has also been highly successful there.

Extensive research is producing much better strains of grass each year and eventually most golf courses throughout the south will probably turn to bent for finer greens.

Gators Stop Cannon, Defeat LSU, 22-14

By F. T. MACFEELY

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Oct. 28 (AP)—Florida stopped Billy Cannon, the Southeastern Conference rushing leader, cold today and handed Louisiana State its first conference football defeat 22-14.

Dan Pelham, a senior end, put Florida ahead in the opening minutes when he blocked a Cannon punt in the end zone for a safety and the Gators never trailed.

LSU waged an uphill battle the rest of the way on a 99-yard scoring run by J. W. Broadnax and Jimmy Taylor's bull-like rushes. The Tigers matched Florida touchdown for touchdown until the fourth quarter.

Then another short Cannon punt only 12 yards beyond the line of scrimmage opened the way for Florida to score the clincher on a 39-yard march.

Taylor scored the second LSU touchdown on a 2-yard plunge and kicked both conversions, running his SEC scoring total to 62 points. He led the conference with 54 going into today's game.

Florida's attack attained a rare balance of sweeps by halfbacks Jim Roumtree and Bernie Parrish, hard driving smashes by fullback Ed Sears and the tricky quarterback and spot passing of quarterback Jimmy Dunn.

LSU was 10th ranked in the nation after four straight victories but was no better than an even choice over once-beaten Florida.

The two SEC title hopefuls treated the crowd of 23,000 to just the kind of give and take battle it was supposed to be.

It was still anybody's game going into the final quarter and Taylor just missed a chance of putting LSU ahead for the first time when his attempted field goal from the 23 went to the right of the goal posts.

Florida gave LSU that chance with a fumble and the crowd groaned in fear of seeing the same kind of disaster that overtook Florida in a 20-20 loss to Mississippi State as the result of six lost fumbles a week ago.

Other than that one chance, Florida's defenses held Louisiana State well back from the goal throughout the second half.

The only sustained LSU drive came in the second quarter when a dozen plays moved the ball 65 yards to the Tigers' second score.

Florida marched the ball steadily and piled up 229 yards rushing.

Parrish rumped 27 yards for the clinching touchdown and it made him the leading Florida runner with 72-yards on 13 carries.

Cannon was held to 22 yards on 11 tries. His best offensive effort was a 20-yard pass to Bill Smith in the second LSU scoring drive.

Taylor led the Tigers with 50 yards in 16 smashes.

Minor Leagues Face Huge Program Of Map-Changing

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUA, Ohio, Oct. 26 (AP)—Minor league baseball is about to change its entire map, with the majority of the 26 circuits due for franchise changes and realignments before spring.

Much of the turmoil will be caused by the shift of the New York and Brooklyn National League clubs to the west coast. Reverberations of that cross-country transfer will be felt in a number of the minor leagues.

At least four, and possibly five, of the Pacific Coast League clubs are due to seek new homes. As the coast loop dips into lower class territory to stay alive, indications are that Phoenix, Ariz., now of the Class C Arizona-Mexico, Denver of the American Association, and Salt Lake City of the Class C Pioneer circuit will become new members.

Spokane and Tacoma, Wash., neither with a current affiliation, also may wind up in the newly-constructed league. The changes, if they occur, will force each of the minor leagues which lose members to scurry around for replacements — which may be drafted from lower loops and cause more changes.

The International League claimed Jersey City as a fra site, and there's a chance E lyn may house a minor league club in historic Ebbets Field. President Frank Shaughnessy of the International is toying with the idea of a 10-club league, and the Jersey City and Brooklyn sites would solve his problem.

William B. MacDonald, Jr., owner of the Tampa, Fla., club of the Florida State League wants the Brooklyn franchise, possibly in the International, and Marvin Ketter, owner of Ebbets Field, says he's willing to lease the park for three years.

Next thing on the Dodger-Giant shift to the west is to satisfy financially the coast league. Leslie O'Connor, proxy of the circuit, is asking millions for the damage done to his loop. When the Boston Braves moved to Milwaukee, the Philadelphia Athletics to Kansas City, and the St. Louis Browns to Baltimore, the affected minor leagues were paid $50,000—a far cry from the coast loop's demands.

George M. Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, said most of the franchise shifts would be settled at the joint major-minor meetings Dec. 1-7 at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Trautman today announced this agenda for the sessions:

Monday, Dec. 2: Major league player draft. Minor league meeting on attendance, with Charles A. Harth, president of the Southern Association, presiding over group of club and league officials. Trautman entertains 28 league presidents at dinner and business session.

Tuesday, Dec. 3: Open classification, triple-A and double-A player draft. Organizational meeting of National Association of Baseball writers formed this year with more than 600 members. Official scorers and umpires attend clinic.

Wednesday, Dec. 4: Class A, B and C player drafts in morning. First convention session in afternoon, with Maj. Gen. James E. Briggs, commandant of the new U. S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, as keynote speaker. Major league clubs meet with player representatives to discuss pension plan and other matters.

Thursday, Dec. 5: Minors vote on changes in major-minor agreement. American and National leagues hold separate sessions.

Friday, Dec. 6: Final National Association session, separate meetings by major leagues.

Saturday, Dec. 7: Commissioner Ford Frick presides over joint session of National and American leagues, the vote on legislation passed by minors at Thursday meeting.

Maroons Trip Tide In Late Push, 25-13

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Oct. 26 (AP)—Mississippi State shook off the shock of a first minute Alabama touchdown and rolled up a 25-13 Southeastern Conference victory today on a chill, windy and cheerless homecoming here.

'Bama's big Jim Loftin raced 65 yards to bring the 23,000 fans up with a roar on the second play from scrimmage. But they had little to yell about again until the final seconds. State's Billy Stacy tied the count a few minutes later with a pass, good for 57 yards, to end Charles Weatherly.

Another State score, in the second period, came on a 21-yard burst around end by halfback Bill Peterson, and two more were rushed across in the final period, one on a plunge by Molly Halbert for a yard, and another on a short gain by Robert Collings.

State's victory leaves the club with a 2-1 mark in Southeastern Conference competition and a chance at the championship, since the team meets the other leading contenders before the season ends.

It was 'Bama's fourth defeat in five starts, the other being a 6-6 tie with Vandy in the second game.

Loftin's touchdown run resulted as much from the big 219-pound fullback great power as from any help from anyone. He hit the line, shook off a couple of tacklers and ran over another to find himself in the clear around midfield.

Stacy & Co. went about the business of winning without much delay. A running play lost 4 to the state 52. Then Stacy rolled out to his right and found Weatherly alone on the 'Bama 17.

Another one came on a 42-yard drive midway of the second quarter. Halbert, a strong runner all day, started with 10, four more stabs at the line moved it to the 21, and Peterson turned his left end and sprinted into the end zone untouched.

That was all until the wild final period, when State took it 85 yards in 11 plays for Halbert's score, and grabbed a 'Bama fumble on the 18 to set up the one by Collings.

Miss. State	5	5	0	13	—25
Alabama	6	0	0	7	—13

Miss. State scoring — Touchdowns: Weatherly (40 pass, 17 run from Stacy); Peterson (21, run); Halbert (1, plunge); Collins (2, plunge). Conversion: Morgan.

Alabama scoring—Touchdowns: Loftin (65 run); Dyess (40 pass, 22 run, from Jackson). Conversion: Brown.

Dodgers Plan To Play In LA Coliseum

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers probably will play many of their 1958 baseball games in the 101,000-capacity Memorial Coliseum.

President Walter O'Malley, E. J. Bavasi and Fresno Thompson of the Dodgers met this morning with Bill Nicholas, general manager of The Coliseum, and agreed to continue with studies that would make it possible for major league baseball to be played in The Coliseum, built to house the Olympic games of 1932.

The studies are designed to conduct baseball in The Coliseum without in any way conflicting with football, either in dates or in use of the field. U.C.L.A. Southern California and the Los Angeles Rams use The Coliseum for football.

"We are interested in the study of ways to make the coliseum available for major league baseball," said O'Malley, who had his consulting engineer, Emil Praeger, inspect tentative plans submitted at the meeting today of Dodger and Coliseum officials.

O'Malley previously had said he hoped to play the Dodgers' opening game against the Chicago Cubs next season in The Coliseum. The Dodgers own Wrigley Field, which has a seating capacity of 22,000, and may enlarge it to handle night games during the week.

Band Members, Football Team Win Despite Flu

EAST MOUNTAIN, Tex., Oct 25 (AP)—With two band members holding down a tackle and guard spot, East Mountain's high school football team defeated Spring Hill 40-13 last night.

East Mountain coach Lonnie Senton appealed for help after star tackle and fullback Wendell Harvey was killed in an auto crash and influenza further reduced the squad to eight players.

Seven members of the band volunteered. However, most of the ill boys recuperated and only bandsmen Kenneth Lloyd at guard and James Beckham at tackle were needed.

Coach Senton said the two bandsmen played a "stout game" and the "band may have lost a couple of members."

East Mountain held a 20-0 halftime lead and scored 34 points before Spring Hill was able to cross the goal.

Fullback Paul Davis scored three touchdowns for East Mountain. It was the third straight district win without a loss for East Mountain.

Spartans' Late TD Ruins Illini Upset

By JACK VANDENBERG

EAST LANSING, Mich., Oct. 26 (UP)— Seventh-rated Michigan State staved off a determined threat by upset-minded Illinois today to narrowly avoid its second upset in as many weeks, 19-14.

The victory kept Michigan State's hopes for a Big Ten championship and a Rose Bowl trip alive but virtually eliminated Illinois from the championship race with two defeats in conference play.

Halfback Blanche Martin scored two of the Spartans touchdowns and set up the third one.

Michigan State started off fast with touchdowns in each of the first two periods but Illinois, which upset Michigan State a year ago and Minnesota last week, came back with two of its own to turn the game into a wide open struggle in the final period. Illinois outgained Michigan State in total offense by 23 yards.

Both teams had trouble controlling the ball throughout the game as near freezing temperatures numbed the players' hands.

The Spartans started the scoring late in the first period after tackle Les Rutledge recovered an Illinois fumble on the Illini 28. From there it took Michigan State nine plays to score with Martin faking a pass and running for the final two yards.

After holding Illinois at the opening of the second period, Martin took an Illini punt on the 19, dropped back to the 14 to pick up blockers, and went 86 yards to score. End Dave Kaiser, who converted after the first score, missed this time.

Illinois came storming back after the halftime intermission to score two touchdowns and take a one-point lead when both conversions by Don Yeazel were good.

The Spartans got the clincher early in the fourth period and then staved off a determined Illinois squad.

Michigan State	7	6	0	6	—19
Illinois	0	0	14	0	—14

Michigan State scoring: Touchdowns, Martin 2 (2, run; 86, punt return), Kowalczyk (36, run). Conversion, Kaiser.

Cornell Falls To Princeton In 47-14 Rout

PRINCETON, N.J., Oct. 26 (AP)—Dan Sachs, a lithe, 19-year-old sophomore, fought off a case of the flu and went on a first-period scoring binge today to lead Princeton to a 47-14 point over Cornell in an Ivy League game.

Sachs, who had seen limited service most of the year, scored three touchdowns although right up until game time there was doubt that he could play.

His first half performance kept the Tigers alive, for when he was on the bench their attack sputtered. At the half, they held a 21-14 lead, solely the result of Sachs.

Cornell's defenses fell apart in the fourth period, however, and the flood gates opened. The victory left Princeton undefeated in Ivy League competition and tied with Dartmouth for the lead.

Cornell	7	7	0	0	—14
Princeton	14	7	0	26	—47

Princeton scoring — touchdowns Sachs 3 (2, run; 10, run; 3, run); Morris 2 (51, run; 5, pass from Mottley); Agnew (1, run); Riley (40, run). Conversions: Tiley 4. Manzur.

Cornell scoring — touchdowns: McAntiff (1, run); Juvonen (31, pass from Brogan). Conversions: Brogan 2 (placements).

BAYOU BROWSING by Grits Gresham

The odds are better than even that you've been hearing geese flying overhead during the past few nights—or that you will by this weekend. One of the most consistent phoenomenas that wildlife workers have come across is the annual fall migration of the blue geese. They nest in the far reaches of the arctic—a few isolated spots such as Baffin Island—and, for the most part, make the tremendous flight south to our Louisiana coast in two jaunts. The first takes them to James Bay, Canada, and the next is usually non-stop to our shoreline. It's an amazing migration. A few flocks drop out along the way to rest for a few days, usually juveniles that aren't strong enough to go the distance. The interesting thing to me is that the main flight almost invariably reaches Louisiana between Oct. 20-31. Our peak blue goose population (about 5 per cent snow geese) in Louisiana is about 400,000, with our annual kill estimated at less than 10 per cent.

The Natchitoches Parish Wildlife Association duck calling contest on the 16th was won by Earl Hall, who used a Faulk call to take the automatic shotgun.

I had a fine trip out to Chandleur Island two weeks ago. Flying along the 30 mile strip of sand and shell we could see all kinds of fish lying on either side of the narrow isle, but we had trouble finding trout or redfish in the schools. When we did find a pretty good group we'd land on the beach. My three fishing partners caught specs, redfish, bluefish, pompano, and ladyfish — while I ignored my rod and took photos. Time was running out when we finally found a big school of reds. My buddies got three on the Mr. Champs at the same time, and the strain was too great. I grabbed my rod and caught myself a 10 pounder just at take-off time.

The Tourist Bureau of the Department of Commerce & Industry has taken a step in the right direction with the publishing of a series of six maps on fishing areas of Louisiana. These six cover Grand Isle; Lake Verret; Ramah Pits; Lake Concordia; Old River; and Tchefuncte River, Bayou Lacombe, North Shore (of Lake Ponchartrain). Each map sheet has several photographs of the area; a general map showing roads, towns, and fishing camps around the water; and a concise report on the fishing to be had, accommodations available, and favorite lures or bait. Get your free set by writing: Dept. of Commerce & Industry, Baton Rouge. They're excellent aids. Only criticism is that the pictures aren't up to the quality of the other material. In the maps to follow, covering other parts of La., perhaps better photos can be included.

I understand that the Board of Directors of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation recently passed a resolution requesting that the state's game wardens be placed back in uniform. Most states have found thata neatly uniformed corps of game agents does a great deal toward gaining support and respect for game and fish regulations.

The deer dieoff in Tensas parish (and to a lesser extent in Madison) in the late summer has definitely been pinned down to arsenic poisoning. Specimens of the dead deer were sent to the Univ. of Georgia, which is doing the pathology work for the southeastern cooperative deer study, and they came back with the answer that many residents of the area already suspected. It's apparently from the calcium arsenic used as cotton poison, which was the opinion of some of the farmers there even before the check was made. Deer can get fatal doses by absorbing it through the skin, as well as by eating plants covered with it. The bright side of this picture is that Tensas and Madison can afford to lose a few deer—particularly she-deer. There are better ways to harvest them, however.

General rains from 14th-16th put the woods in excellent shape for squirrel season opening.

Fishing roundup: Laccasine and Sabine Refuges closed to fishing for winter. Redfish and specs good in Lake Charles area until rains of the 16th—should be picking up again now. Oct. is the finest time of year for these two species along the islands and reefs all along the coast—find clear water and you find fish. Bass good to excellent in: Saline Lake, Old River (Pointe Coupee par), Bayou Bartholomew, and some of the overflow lakes along the Red River. Smith Bay is one of the hot ones.

CROW STARS

Aggies Blank Baylor, 14-0

By ED FITE

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Oct. 26 (UP)— Jarring John Crow jolted the Baylor defenses apart in the clutch on two Texas A&M scoring drives today as the nation's third-ranking Aggies rang up their sixth straight victory with a 14-0 blanking of Baylor before a 42,000 sellout crowd.

The 210-pound Springhall, La., halfback personally accounted for 11 yards in a 54-yard Texas A&M scoring drive in the first three minutes of the game and then capped a 42-yard surge in the final period with an eight-yard burst that put the game on ice.

Roddy (Hot Rod) Osborne, who engineered both Texas A&M pay-off patterns scored the first-quarter touchdown with a one-yard lunge and Loyd Taylor and Bobby Conrad ran the Aggies' conversion string to 17 straight without a miss this season.

Baylor with its passers rushed into desperation and its running game stuttering at crucial times, made only one serious menace to the Aggie goal — that in the third quarter when the Bears moved 43 yards with the 10-mile-an-hour wind to the Texas A&M 4 only to have end Bobby Marks kill it with an interception in the end zone.

The Aggies, on the other hand, had one touchdown nullified in the opening quarter when an illegal receiver downfield wiped out a 10-yard Osborne to Don McClelland pass into the end zone. Crow, who also kicked in with a fine defensive game that helped hold Baylor to 121 yards rushing, contributed 73 yards to the Aggie ground game that piled up 228 yards to become the game's top rusher.

Both teams moved best with the wind in the sharp, 44-degree weather and two tremendous kicks — one a 75-yarder by Baylor's Larry Hickman and a 70-yarder by the Aggie's Osborne played a big role in the game.

The victory was the Aggies' second in defense of their Southwest Conference championship and shoved them a long strike toward their goal of a repeat title and an automatic bid to the Cotton Bowl.

Betty dreams of a career in the sky

—but will her dreams come true?

What a thrill for Betty the day she becomes a full-fledged airline hostess—pert little cap and all! But, the chances are, that big day may never come.

Betty lives in a community where there's a serious shortage of classrooms, teachers and good schoolbooks. That means less schooling for Betty than she needs.

Let's see that this doesn't happen in our schools. You can help by supporting our School Board, by attending PTA meetings and school conferences.

Lions Roar Over Indians, 26-13

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

As a "layman" football fan with a pretty good knowledge of the game and able to follow play enough to enjoy it, you do all right until you start thinking that character a couple of rows down in the stands must know what he's talking about when he's yelling, "Give us some officials."

Frequently the guy yelling the loudest knows less about the rules than the mystified fan who is led to believe the rabble-rouser might be right. Football officials do make mistakes. If they make 'em, they admit 'em, usually, and it serves to make them better officials in succeeding games.

If you think you know so much about the duties of your grid officials, take a look at just SOME of the problems T. H. Waters, state commissioner of the Louisiana High School Athletic Association, requires his officials throughout the state to answer to qualify as an official at the prep contests.

You be the referee; circle the correct numbers (Remember these are just a few selection from Part II of Walters' test. We haven't seen the other parts, but they're bound to be just as tough):

About replaying a down: 1. If time for half expires during a down in which fair catch is made, down is replayed in an extended period. 2. If time for half expires during a down in which A-1 commits a foul while B-1 is advancing an intercepted forward pass and penalty is accepted, period is extended by untimed down. 3. If, during try-for-point, there is a double foul, try-for-point is made again. 4. If penalty for live ball foul is measured from previous spot, down is always replayed.

Fundamental rules statements: 1. If scrimmage-kick is first touched beyond line by R, series is ended. 2. For any free-kick, ball may be placed anywhere on proper yardline between inbounds lines. 3. Measurement for any dead ball foul is from succeeding spot. 4. Penalty for certain single fouls cannot be declined. 5. If kick is touched in field of play by R and is then caught by K in R's endzone, it may be a touchdown.

Legal forward pass goes into B's endzone where it is caught. 1. If caught by A-2, it is touchdown. 2. If caught by B-1, ball becomes dead immediately. 3. If caught by B-1 and he is downed in endzone, it is touchback. 4. If simultaneously caught by A-2 and B-1, ball becomes dead immediatly and it is touchdown.

Fundamental statements: 1. After penalty for holding foul is accepted, next down always has same number as down during which foul occurred. 2. If penalty for illegal forward pass is declined, down is counted unless it is preceded by act which ended series. 3. If there is no foul, or if one foul occurs after R was first to touch a scrimmage-kick beyond line, next down is always 1st. 4. Only dead ball foul can result in new series starting with more than ten yards to gain.

Runner A-1 advances ball across B's goal line. During run, there is foul by A-2 or by B-1. After ball becomes dead, A-3 commits personal foul. 1. If first foul was by B-1, it is double foul. 2. If first foul was by A-2, it is multiple foul. 3. If first foul was by B-1, penalty for foul by A-3 is measured on kickoff.

Punt by K-1 is high and comes down in neutral zone where it strikes K-2 or R-1. While rebound is still in flight, it is batted by K-3 or R-2. 1. If K-3 intentionally bats ball, it is a foul. 2. If R-2 bats ball, it is a foul. 3. Touching by K-2 is considered "first touching" of kick. 4. Touching by R-1 gives K right to recover beyond line and retain possession.

This doesn't scratch the barrel of questions Waters asks at one of his regularly conducted "classes," but chances are that the guy doing all the yelling about "them robbers" can't actually be sure about any of the answers in these questions. If you can't get half these right you have little right to tell an official his business. If you can answer just half of them, why don't you study up. The association will always welcome new talent. If you can answer these, you must already belong to the football officials' association.

The Answers: Correct only—About replaying a down, 2 and 3. Fundamental rules statements, 1, 2, and 3. Legal forward pass, 1, 3, and 4. Fundamental statements, 1, 2, 3, and 4. Runner A-1 advances, 3 only correct. Punt by K-1, 1 only correct.

Just for the record, we obtained these questions from the test paper of official Dan Willensky, who had the exceptionally high grade of 97.3 on the test that included a greater mass of ticklers than we're able to offer here. Still think football officiating is easy?

Winners Come From Behind For Victory

Southeastern spotted Northeast State their first touchdown in five years last night in the first quarter and then came back with two scores in the second period and one each in the third and fourth to whip the fumbling Indians, 26-13, at Brown Stadium.

The Indians fumbled the ball away six times and had the ball stolen once to kill two scoring threats. They moved well throughout the game but could keep the ball long enough to score but twice, the one in the first quarter on a pass from Nathan Zametto to Joe Driskill and in the fourth on a one yard smash by Lloyd Ray Smith. Don Reynolds kicked the extra point after the first touchdown.

STATISTICS	Northeast	Southeastern
First Downs	16	19
Rushing yardage	243	337
Passing yardage	78	62
Passes	5-9	5-7
Passes intercepted by	1	0
Fumbles lost	6	1
Punting average	2-29	1-35
Penalties	3-25	6-47

Everett Reynolds, who played most of the game at quarterback with Zametto moving to left half, and Smith starred in the best offensive showing Northeast has made since the Delta State game. Smith gained heavily the drive for the last touchdown after his fumble ended an Indian threat in the third period. Big tackle Jim Brent and guard Gerald Elkins sparkled in the Northeast line.

Halfbacks Calvin Bourgeois and Tommy Bell starred for Southeastern along with fullback Wayne Dugas. Dugas scored the first Southeastern touchdown on a one-yard burst and Bell scored the third on a 70 yard dash in the third period. Bourgeois never scored but broke loose for several good gains.

Quarterback Bill Hawkins passed 29 yards to end Oscar Lofton for the second Lion touchdown and halfback Bobby Dugas counted the last on a three yard burst. Guard Ken Bailey kicked extra points after the first two touchdowns.

The victory was the first in Gulf States competition for Stanley Galloway's Lions against a tie with Southwestern. Coach Devone Payne's Northeast team has now lost all three of its conference games.

Northeast started the drive for their first touchdown against Southeastern since 1952 midway of the first period when the Indians stopped the Lions on downs on the Northeast 23. Tony Hartsell started the moving with a ramble to the 40. Don Reynolds made one before Hartsell took a pitchout from Zametto and tossed to Jim Knox at the Southeastern 35.

Fullback Lloyd Ray Smith went to the 12 with a fine smash up the middle and then to the 10. Reynolds went for no gain before Zametto threw a jump pass to the goal line that Knox, Joe Driskill and a Lion defender fought over with Driskill winning the battle and getting the touchdown. Don Reynolds booted the extra point and it was the Indians on top, 7-0.

Southeastern tied it up and went ahead in the second period with their two touchdowns. They started the first scoring drive late in the first quarter after returning the Indian kickoff to their 24. They moved to the Northeast 21 mostly on short rushes by Wayne Dugas, Calvin Bourgeois and Bill Hawkins. A 23-yard jaunt by Hawkins was the longest trip on the ground.

An offside penalty and a stiffened Indian defense halted the Lions temporarily at the 28 before Hawkins found Bourgeois open at the 10 and hit him with a pass. He advanced on to the one before being downed. Wayne Dugas bulled over from there and Bailey booted the point and it was 7-7.

A few minutes later guard Gerald Boudreaux recovered a fumble by Terry Head on the Southeastern 41 and the Lions were off again. Nice running by Bourgeois, Dugas and Topham moved the football to the Indian 29 from where Hawkins threw to Lofton in the end zone. Bailey kicked the point after and it was 14-7 at the half.

In the third, Northeast took the kickoff and marched to their own 35 before Don Reynolds broke away and sped to the 18 where Hawkins took the ball out of his arms and returned it 20 yards to halt the threat.

Later in the quarter, Bourgeois recovered a bobble by Smith at moved to the 29 and Zeringue to the 30. There Bell flashed 70 yards the for his touchdown with Elkins chasing and staying pretty close all the way. Bailey missed the point.

A fumble of a Lion punt by Head set up the last Lions TD at the 17 when Marsh recovered. Five plays laster Bobby Dugas went three yards to score. Bailey again missed the kick. Everett Reynolds returned the kickoff to his 29 and Northeast went all the way for the last touchdown of the night. The running of Smith and Benny Franklin and a Reynolds' pass to Driskill set this one up. Smith crashed over from the one with a minute and 20 seconds remaining. Keith Amos' try for the point after was blocked and it ended at 26-13.

Army From Behind To Defeat Virginia

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Oct. 26 (UP)—Quarterback Dave Bourland brought Army from behind with two perfect touchdown passes in the fourth period today to outscore Virginia 20-12 in an inter-sectional thriller.

Virginia, a two-touchdown underdog, held the upper hand for three quarters as the Cavaliers fought as furiously as if they were defending Richmond itself against the soldiers.

But with Bourland's passing and the end flashes of halfback Bob Anderson and Pete Dawkins, the eighth-ranked Cadets rallied from the brink of an upset.

Bourland passed 16 yards to Anderson for one touchdown and 35 to Dawkins for another in the final period after the Cavaliers pitched a crowd of 24,000 into a frenzy by leading 12-6 with 15 minutes playing time left.

Army moved sluggishly at the start and Virginia, thanks to the sharp eye o fquarterback Reece Whitley, his receivers and the pounding of fullback Jim Bakhtiar, put on a show.

Score by periods:

Virginia	0	6	6	0—12
Army	0	6	0	14—20

Army scoring: Touchdowns: Anderson 2 (15, run; and 16, pass from Bourland); Dawkins (35, pass from Bourland). Conversions, Walters, McDaniel.

Duke Limited To 14-14 Tie By N. C. State

RALEIGH, N.C., Oct. 26 (UP)—Halfback Dick Christy caught two touchdown passes as North Carolina State, reaching a pinnacle of its new-found football success, fought fourth - ranked Duke to a 14-14 tie today in a battle of unbeaten teams.

State rolled back two Duke stabs at the goal line in the second half, one of them barely inches away to capture a moral victory before a capacity crowd of 21,000 and a regional television audience.

It was the second tie in two weeks for the Wolfpack, and the first blot on a previously perfect six-game Duke record.

Score by periods:

NC. State	0	7	7	0—14
Duke	7	7	0	0—14

N.C. State scoring: Touchdowns Christy, 2 (50, pass-run from Katich, and 5, pass from Hunter). Coversions, Hunter, 2.

Duke scoring: Touchdowns, Brodhead (1, plunge); Thompson, 53 (pass-run from Brodhead). Conversions, Carlton, 2.

'B' Lions Visit West Monroe's Grid Tomorrow

Coach Tommy Wilson last night said his Ouachita Parish High "B" football team will play the West Monroe "B" team on the West Monroe campus tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock as his squad resumes play after recovering from attacks of flu that had halted their work.

Japs Maintain 9-Hole Margin Over U.S. Aces

TOKYO, Sunday, Oct. 27 (AP)—Japan's Torakichi Nakamura and Koichi Ono held firm to their nine-stroke lead over America's Sam Snead and Jimmy Demaret today with nine holes to play in the 72-hole Canada Cup golf competition.

Nakamura fell off his subpar pace for the first time, taking a one over 37 for the front nine but his partner shot a 34 to hold back any pressure from the second place U. S. forces.

St. Matthew's Varsity Splits At Mer Rouge

The Fighting Irish of St. Matthew's were back at home yesterday after splitting a Friday night varsity double header at Mer Rouge. Bradley Biggar hooped 17 points in leading the Irish quintet in a 56-53 overtime victory over the Mer Rouge boys.

The St. Matthew's junior boys won their fourth straight in a preliminary, 59-21, as Frankie Accardo led with 19 points, and Pauline Varino got three points to lead a losing cause as the Irish junior girls lost 31-8.

Engineers Trip Wave, 20-13

By ED TUNSTALL

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 26 (AP)—Substitute fullback Lester Simerville's 91-yard touchdown run with the second half kickoff pushed Georgia Tech to a hard-pressed 20-13 victory over Tulane tonight.

Simerville, a 20-year-old sophomore from Atlanta, squirmed away from a horde of Tulane tacklers and followed two teammates down the sidelines for the touchdown. His jaunt broke a 7-7 tie and roused a sputtering Tech offense into high gear.

The victory was the second for Tech against two losses and one tie. The setback was Tulane's fifth in six games and disappointed 25,000 homecoming fans.

Tech, rated a three-touchdown favorite, drove for its first touchdown in the game's first four minutes. A fumble by Tulane quarterback Gene Newton gave Tech the ball on the Tulane 19. Two plays later halfback Cal James circled right end for 15 yards and the tally.

The deciding touchdown came with less than four minutes left in the game. Tech started the drive on its own 43 and sophomore fullback Jim Benson capped the march by ramming over center six yards for the score.

Tulane's first touchdown march was sparked by sophomore fullback Connie Andrews. A fumble recovery on the Tech 41 started the drive and Andrews scored from the one seven plays later.

Tech gave substance to its three-touchdown favoritism in the first quarter. On the second Tech play from scrimmage James found a wide hole inside right end and followed perfect blocking on the 15-yard touchdown run.

But Tulane, fired up by the cheering homecoming crowd, bounced back to tie the score seven minutes later. The Greenies recovered a fumble by Tech's Larry Fonts on the Tech 41. Seven plays later Andrews cracked inside tackle for the touchdown.

The teams struggled through a listless second quarter, but Simerville, a 5-11, 170-pounder, ignited Tech in the opening minutes of the second half. His 91-yard touchdown run on the kickoff sent Tech ahead to stay.

The final Tech tally covered 57 yards in 11 plays. Benson was the wheelhorse of the drive and dragged Tulane tacklers with him on his six-yard touchdown smash.

Petitbon, who had been nursing a leg injury for the past few weeks, was the key man in Tulane's second touchdown march. He completed four passes and added a seven-yard run that took the ball to the Tech four. He whipped the scoring pass to Ellzey across the center of the line.

Georgia Tech	7	0	6	7—20
Tulane	7	0	0	6—13

Georgia Tech scoring — Touchdowns: James (16, run); Simerville (91, kickoff return); Benson (6, run). Conversions: Braselton 2.

Tulane scoring — Touchdowns: Andrews (1, plunge); Ellzey (4, pass from Petitbon). Conversion: Newton.

Bayou Project, Game Laws To Be Talked

One of the most important meetings of the Ouachita Unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation is on schedule for Tuesday evening when Arthur "Bud" Tidwell, Jr., unit president, greets his organization at 7:30 o'clock at Penn Hotel.

A general discussion of the rotenone shad eradication program in Bayou DeSiard, scheduled to begin Tuesday if the necessary funds are obtained in time, and Tidwell indicated last night that only about $300 more is needed to handle the project.

Association members will also present resolutions for unit approval regarding any fish and game law changes they wish to promote before the Louisiana legislature through channels of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation.

"We are asking for these resolutions now," Tidwell said, "so that they may be properly considered and time allowed to properly prepare in triplicate for presentation to the federation not later than December. The state convention is in February."

An "unusually good" film of interest to rabbit hunters and beagle hound owners will also be offered. It's a 60-minute movie, "Cottontails," and is regarded as one of the finest wildlife films ever to be presented here.

"This film is certainly one of the best. Chiefly a story of the life of a cottontail and the hunter's sport of chasing him with the beagles, it is a movie that will appeal to every member of the family," Tidwell said.

Several committee announcements also are due at the meeting, and the usual door prizes will be given away to a man and woman attending.

Boys Informed To Turn In Ball Uniforms Here

All Little League and Dixie League boys are urged to return their uniforms to the Monroe Community Center, 113½ Catalpa Street as soon as possible, Director Jack Hesketh said.

A complete inventory and inspection of all uniforms has to be made to make sure uniforms are in good condition to be used. Uniforms can be turned in any day 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from 6 p.m. until 9 p.m.

Hot Rod Racers On Twin City's Track Today

Those hot rod racers and stock car scramblers of the Twin City Speedway are scheduled to run again this afternoon on their West Monroe oval with events for the stocks and modifieds scheduled on a program beginning at 1 o'clock.

A check of the track yesterday showed all acceptable for good runs today after the heavy rain early in the week. Most racers were predicting the track will be fast.

Events include the usual heat races, consolations, trophy dashes, and feature runs for both classes.

Tech Rolls Past Arkansas State

HUGHES, HYNES ROMP

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Led by the sensational running of freshman halfbacks Paul Hynes and Billy Hughes, Louisiana Tech rolled past Arkansas State, 25-19 here last night. It was a non-conference game.

Never behind in the tilt, the Techmen scored once in the first period, twice in the second, and once more in the final quarter. Arkansas State put across a TD in the second and two in the fourth period.

Tech's speedy Hynes from Sulphur scored on runs of 101 and 61 yards, while Hughes, from West Monroe, hit pay dirt on a 61-yard scamper and a one-yard plunge.

The win gave Tech a 4-2 season standing, and dropped the Indians of Arkansas to a 3-2 record.

Tech's Bulldogs scored the first time they got possession of the ball when halfback Hughes plunged over from the one. J. W. Slack missed the point after, and Tech had a 6-0 lead with the game only six minutes old. The Bulldogs moved the pigskin 70 yards in nine plays for the score.

A beautiful 61-yard punt return by Hynes gave the Canines a 13-0 lead seven minutes before the half intermission. The freshman speedster took an Arkansas boot on the Canine 39, raced down the middle behind good blocking, broke into the open on the State 30 and had clear sailing the rest of the way. Slack kicked the point.

Both teams exploded for quick touchdowns with three minutes left in the second quarter. Arkansas State scored on a 62-yard pass play from quarterback Billy Caldwell to halfback Howard Cissell. The latter missed the conversion kick. Haynes then electrified the home fans with his 101-yard kickoff return for a Tech TD. Taking the kickoff one yard deep in the endzone, Haynes raced straight up field behind a screen of blockers who cleared the woy and put him in the open at midfield. Max Rudd missed the point try, but Tech led 19-6 at the half.

On the first play of the fourth period, Hughes hit the right side of the Redskin line, found an opening, and knifed through for 60 yards and a score. Hynes missed the PAT.

Arkansas State scored twice, in the quarter, first when halfback Carey Robertson circled end for 14 yards, and again when James Billings plunged over from the one.

Tiger-Cats Nip Montreal, 19-17

MONTREAL, Oct. 26 (AP) — The Hamilton Tiger-Cats retained their hold on first place in the Big Four Football League race today, turning back a stubborn Montreal team 19-17.

The Tiger-Cats broke a 10-10 tie in the third quarter, going ahead 18-17 on Eddie Macon's second touchdown Steve Oneschuk booted a field goal and two extra points. Bill Bewley and Jeel Wells scored the touchdowns for the Alouettes.

It was the first time Hamilton had been able to defeat the Alouettes in Montreal since 1953.

ARKANSAS, 12-6

Porkers Upset Ole Miss

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 26 (AP) — Arkansas quarterback George Walker turned to strategy on two crucial plays as the Razorbacks came from behind to upset previously unbeaten Mississippi 12-6 today. The overflow crowd of 30,602 was the largest to ever watch a football game in Memphis.

After Mississippi punched over a first period touchdown, Arkansas tied it up in the second and scored the decisive touchdown late in the third period.

Mississippi scored with two minutes left in the first quarter on a seven-yard pass from quarterback Ray Brown to end Larry Grantham. The Rebels had started from the Arkansas 49 after Brown returned an Arkansas quick kick 15 yards. The drive took 11 plays. Larry Reid's conversion attempt was low and wide.

Arkansas, unable to get out of its own territory during the first period, scored with four minutes left in the half when halfback Billy Kyser raced over from the eight. Walker had set up the touchdown from his own 48 when on a third-and-one situation and the Mississippi line braced for a plunge, he faked to his fullback and passed 35 yards to Kyser. The play caught Ole Miss flat-footed. The point after try by Gerald Nesbitt was wide.

The longest run of the day paved the way for Arkansas' winning touchdown. Nesbitt went of, tackle from his 23 and sped down the sidelines. Trapped at the Ole Miss 25, he lateraled off to Kyser, who was pulled down on the three.

Three tries through the tough Mississippi line yielded only two yards. On last down Mississippi again ganged up, expecting another try up the middle. Walker cooly flipped out to Kyser, who trotted around end for the score. Nesbitt missed the conversion attempt.

Mississippi drove deep into Arkansas territory after the game was tied. One drive was caught on Arkansas' 13 by the halftime whistle. Arkansas stopped the second on the two.

The Rebels outgained Arkansas both in the air and on the ground, picking up 53 yards on five completed passes and 291 yards rushing.

Mississippi had one touchdown pass called back for illegal motion It was a 20-yarder from Bobby Franklin to Kent Lovelace just before the half ended. Arkansas completed two passes for 39 yards and picked up 233 yards on the ground.

The Rebels had 18 first downs to halt that many for Arkansas.

Arkansas	0	6	6	0	—12
Mississippi	6	0	0	0	— 6

Arkansas scoring—touchdowns: Kyser 2 (8, run; 1, run). Conversions: none.

Mississippi scoring — touchdowns: Grantham (7, pass from Brown). Conversions: none.

McNeese Beats Northeast In Cross Country

McNeese defeated Northeast State, 20 to 47, here yesterday in a 2 and 7/10 mile cross country race, the second of the seasson for the Indians and the first against a Gulf States Conference opponent. McNeese's Jack Frater, two-mile shamp of the Gulf States, was first in the race with a time of 14 minutes and 50 seconds. Conference mile champion Leonard Chisholm of McNeese and Northeast's Jack Williams staged a thrilling battle for second place with Chisholm finally winning with a 15 minutes, four seconds time. Williams was third with a time of 15.08.

Stan Croski of McNeese played fourth, Buddy McCullon of Northeast was fifth, Sidney Barber of McNeese was 6th and McNeese's Anthoney Cinquemano was 7th.

Placings of the Northeast runneds were Gene Easton, 10th, Jim Flint, 13th, Harper McKay, 16th and Joe Swanson, 17th.

Indian Coach Lou Hartzog said he was "extremely pleased with my boys." He stated they made a great improvement over their showing against Memphis State and "would have beaten Memphis State easily if they had run like this week."

Dartmouth Is 26-0 Victor Over Harvard

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 26 (AP) —Unbeaten Dartmouth combined speed, versatility and a demoralizing defense today for a 26-0 victory over Harvard decided by four lightning first half scoring thrusts.

Two clever halfback to quarterback laterals highlighted the early Indian onslaught which provided the fifth straight triumph of the season for the Hanover eleven which is the only major unbeaten, untied team in the East.

Dartmouth has won eight in a row dating back to last season.

In the third minute of the game, sophomore halfback John Crouthamel took a handoff from quarterback Dave Bradley and knifed between the Harvard right tackle and right end.

Just as he got by the line of scrimmage, Crouthamel lateraled to Bradley who raced the final 26 yards around end on a slick maneuver which capped a 73-yard march with the opening kickoff.

One Dartmouth pass interception turned back a determined Harvard scoring bid and two more in the second quarter launched scoring drives by the well-drilled visitors.

Dartmouth	12	13	0	0	—26

STOPPED—Fullback Tommy Bronson of Tennessee is stopped by two Maryland players, Fred Hamilton, 40, and Tom Gunderman, 64, after a 3-yard gain in first quarter of game yesterday at College Park, Md. (AP Wirephoto)

VOLS WEAR 'EM DOWN

Tennessee Topples Terrapins, 16 To 0

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 26 (AP) — Tennessee poured through Maryland's worn down giants for two last quarter touchdowns today and a 16-0 football victory.

The trim, hard-hitting Volunteers nursed a first quarter safety scored on a blocked kick until constant banging paid off for their fourth straight triumph. Tennessee's only defeat this season was a 7-0 loss to Auburn.

Fullback Tommy Bronson scored Tennessee's first touchdown on a yard plunge to cap a 54-yard drive led by Bobby Gordon.

Bronson set up the next touchdown by tearing 51 yards to the Maryland 29. Coach Bowden Wyatt let his fresh second stringers take it the rest of the way, with Carl Smith skirting Maryland's right end for the last nine yards.

Tennessee was in Maryland territory throughout most of the game after end Tommy Potts blocked a kick for a safety.

Maryland, losing its fourth game in six, was able to carry the ball past midfield only once.

Tennessee	2	0	0	14	—16
Maryland	0	0	0	0	— 0

Tennessee scoring — Touchdowns: Bronson (1, plunge); Smith (9, run). Conversions: Burklow, Gent. Safety: Potts (blocked kick).

West Virginia Dumps William And Mary, 19-0

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 26 (AP)—West Virginia, led by quarterback Dick Longfellow, battered William and Mary 19-0 in a penalty - ridden southern conference football game today.

It marked the 24th consecutive conference victory for the mountaineers as they closed out their league campaign. It also was the fifth straigh year the West Virginia had marched through league competition without a loss.

West Virginia	7	0	12	0	—19

West Virginia scoring — touchdowns: Longfellow (1, plunge); Kratko (1, plunge); Trimarki (1, plunge). Conversions: Howley.

IN LAST 2 MINUTES

Missouri Shades Nebraska, 14-13

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 26 (UP) —Missouri scored with less than two minutes remaining and junior Charley Rash booted a golden 13th consecutive extra point to give the Tigers a stirring 14-13 homecoming game victory over Nebraska today.

Before a blanket-draped crowd of 23,800 fans, Missouri saw a 7-0 halftime lead fly out the window as the underdog Cornhuskers tallied two lightning touchdowns in the third period.

Sophomore Phil Snowden, who hit on five of six pass attempts for 75 yards, scored both Missouri six-pointers and was instrumental in guiding Frank Broyles' rookie-year club to its fourth victory in six 1957 starts.

Missouri, trailing 7-13 with but 2:42 remaining, took over the ball on its own 44. Snowden quickly opened by tossing 23 yards to end Bill McKinney who then snared a second aerial for 15 yards from fullback Hank Kuhlmann.

With a first down on the Husker 18, Kuhlmann carried twice to the six and Snowden cut through tackle for the tying score. Rash, who earlier had failed on a field goal attempt, toed the kick squarely through the uprights.

Nebraska hampered by a series of errors during the first 30 minutes, fought back after the second half kickoff to score first on a 64-yard drive climaxed by Doug Thomas' two yard plunge. Dick Prusia missed the conversion which later proved to be the game's deciding play.

Missouri fumbled the ensuing kickoff on its own 22 and Thomas dashed 16 yards on the opening play from scrimmage. Two plays later, quarterback Roy Stinnett pitched out to fullback Larry Naviaux who circled left end from five yards out and the go-ahead tally

Missouri had opened the scoring on its first series of downs. Snowden's nine-yard pass to end Bennie Alburtis was the vital play, but a personal foul ginst Nebraska put the ball on the one where Snowden went across on the second of two sneak attempts. Rash's kick was good.

The 194-pound reserve guard has hit on 13 in a row this year and twice his kicks have been the Missouri victory margn. The other was a 7-6 win over Southern Methodist.

Score by periods:

Missouri	8	0	0	8	—14
Nebraska	0	0	13	0	—13

Missouri scoring: Touchdowns, Snowden 2 (1, plunge, 6, run) Conversions: Rash 2.

Nebraska scoring: Touchdowns, Thomas (2, run); Naviaux (5, run) Conversions: Cifra 1

Platt Takes Seniors Golf Championship

PINEHURST, N. C., Oct. 26 (AP) —J. Wood Platt of Philadelphia, using a control game, overcame an early deficit today to defeat James H. Ackerman of Princeton, N. J., 4 and 2 to win the sixth annual north and south seniors golf championship.

Ackerman, putting accurately, led 1-up after three holes and held his margin until Platt squared things on No 5.

Then the Philadelphian took the edge on the next hole and, playing steady golf while Ackerman was hitting a slice here and there, widened the gap and won it on No. 16.

Rosewall Falls To Hoad In Pro Tennis Tourney

EAST LONDON, South Africa, Oct. 26 (AP)—Wimbledon champion Lew Hoad beat fellow-Australian Ken Rosewall 3-6, 9-7, 6-2 in a professional tennis tournament today. Jack Kramer defeated Pancho Segura 6-3, 6-3.

In the doubles Kramer and Segura trimmed Hoad and Rosewall 6-4, 6-3.

NEW MAN IN ACTION

6-Man Tag Match At Kallio's Arena

It's tag team time again at Kallio's Arena tomorrow night with a 6-man bout this time starring Phil Brummett, Black Jack Dillon and Jim Scarbo against Jack and George Curtis and newcomer Gordon McKinley. Three preliminary bouts will go on before the main event beginning at 8:15.

The main event will be an hour and half time limit match with two falls needed to win while the preliminary matches will be over the 10-minute or less route with one fall to win.

McKinley, a big fan of Jack Curtis' as a boy, gets a chance to wrestle with his hero tomorrow night when he teams up with the Curtis brothers against the treacherous trio of Brummett, Dillon and Scarbo. Born in Jackson, Mississippi, McKinley moved to New York City with his parents when a small boy. Before he left the Magnolia State, Gordon told his idol "I'll be back and I am going to be a wrestler like you."

It's been 12 years but McKinley has kept his promise and is back down South. He'll meet Curtis for the first time since he left Jackson when the two wrestle together Monday night.

McKinley will bring a lot of poundage to the aid of the Curtis boys. Standing six feet, four inches tall, McKinley weighs 250 pounds. He is the biggest hero to grapple in the local ring in some time.

Phil Brummett returns to the Monroe mat for the first time in several months tomorrow night and Scarbo has been away for some time also. Brummett, a native of Alexandria, has appeared at here as a mean character and rough customer.

Scarbo, from Meridian, Mississippi, is a big fellow who also has a mean streak a mile wide. He hasn't been around in some time but is reported to still have all his bad traits and will undoubtedly keep the ring official busy keeping him honest.

Black Jack Dillon has one of the most familiar faces around to local grappling fans. He appeared here regular for months some time ago and showed up here again last Monday after an absence of a couple of months. He weighs about as much as McKinley and he and the newcomer should make a good match.

Dillon has been complaining to promoter Kallio of late that he is getting tired of wrestling small men. "They seem to be afraid of me and are hard to catch when they run around the ring," Jack says.

CLIFFORD ANN CREED WINS AGAIN

Clifford Ann Creed again defended her Women's Louisiana State Amateur Championship successfully this past Friday by beating Mrs. A. T. Higgins of New Orleans in the 36-hole finals by a 6 and 5 margin. This marks the third straight year that the

ANN CREED, right, and MRS. A. T. HIGGINS

Clifford Ann was 2 up at the end of the first 18 holes, went 3 up on the 27th hole and closed out the match on the 31st after winning the latter plus the 28th and 30th holes.

BENT GRASS GREENS AT DeSIARD

Winnie Cole, Bayou DeSiard pro, tells us that the planting of bent grass on the greens at the Bayou course is underway for the third straight year.

Bent grass is still more or less in the experimental stages in this part of the country because of weather conditions. Bent thrives on cool, damp climates and dies from excessive heat. It is used the year around on most of the northern golf courses but is just beginning to get a foot-hold in the south as a winter grass. Rye grass is the most common grass to be found during the winter season throughout the southern states.

The advantage of bent grass in the south over other winter grasses is in the transition period (where one grass supplants another) from the winter grass to the spring and summer grass which is Bermuda grass. Bent takes only about two weeks for the transition period whereas, for example, Rye takes approximately six weeks.

During the transition period, the greens usually get stubby and spotty which is not too desirable for putting purposes. It is very frustrating to stroke a put perfectly and have it jump off line because of a bare spot on the green.

Winnie is using a mixture of Astoria, Highland, and Seaside strains of bent this year and is hoping that the greens turn out as well as they have for the past two winter seasons. The Shreveport Country Club is the only other course in this area of the south using bent grass and we understand that it has also been highly successful there.

Extensive research is producing much better strains of grass each year and eventually most golf courses throughout the south will probably turn to bent for finer greens.

Gators Stop Cannon, Defeat LSU, 22-14

By F. T. MACFEELY

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Oct. 28 (AP)—Florida stopped Billy Cannon, the Southeastern Conference rushing leader, cold today and handed Louisiana State its first conference football defeat 22-14.

Dan Pelham, a senior end, put Florida ahead in the opening minutes when he blocked a Cannon punt in the end zone for a safety and the Gators never trailed.

LSU waged an uphill battle the rest of the way on a 99-yard scoring run by J. W. Broadnax and Jimmy Taylor's bull-like rushes. The Tigers matched Florida touchdown for touchdown until the fourth quarter.

Then another short Cannon punt only 12 yards beyond the line of scrimmage opened the way for Florida to score the clincher on a 39-yard march.

Taylor scored the second LSU touchdown on a 2-yard plunge and kicked both conversions, running his SEC scoring total to 62 points. He led the conference with 54 going into today's game

Florida's attack attained a rate balance of sweeps by halfbacks Jim Rountree and Bernie Parrish, hard driving smashes by fullback Ed Sears and the tricky quarterback and spot passing of quarterback Jimmy Dunn.

LSU was 10th ranked in the nation after four straight victories but was no better than an even choice over once-beaten Florida.

The two SEC title hopefuls treated the crowd of 28,000 to just the kind of give and take battle it was supposed to be.

It was still anybody's game going into the final quarter and Taylor just missed a chance of putting LSU ahead for the first time when his attempted field goal from the 28 went to the right of the goal posts.

Florida gave LSU that chance with a fumble and the crowd groaned in fear of seeing the same kind of disaster that overtook Florida in a 29-20 loss to Mississippi State as the result of six lost fumbles a week ago.

Other than that one chance, Florida's defenses held Louisiana State well back from the goal throughout the second half.

The only sustained LSU drive came in the second quarter when a dozen plays moved the ball 65 yards to the Tigers' second score.

Florida marched the ball steadily and piled up 229 yards rushing.

Parrish rumped 27 yards for the clinching touchdown and it made him the leading Florida runner with 72-yards on 13 carries.

Cannon was held to 22 yards on 11 tries. His best offensive effort was a 20-yard pass to Bill Smith in the second LSU scoring drive.

Taylor led the Tigers with 50 yards in 16 smashes

Minor Leagues Face Huge Program Of Map-Changing

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUA, Ohio, Oct. 26 (AP)—Minor league baseball is about to change its entire map, with the majority of the 23 circuits due for franchise changes and realignments before spring.

Much of the turmoil will be caused by the shift of the New York and Brooklyn National League clubs to the west coast. Reverberations of that cross-country transfer will be felt in a number of the minor leagues.

At least four, and possibly five, of the Pacific Coast League clubs are due to seek new homes. As the coast loop dips into lower class territory to stay alive, indications are that Phoenix, Arix., now of the Class C Arizona-Mexico, Denver of the American Association, and Salt Lake City of the Class C Pioneer circuit will become new members.

Spokane and Tacoma, Wash., neither with a current affiliation, also may wind up in the newly-constructed league. The changes, if they occur, will force each of the minor leagues which lose members to scurry around for replacements — which may be drafted from lower loops and cause more changes.

The International League claimed Jersey City as a fra site, and there's a chance B lyn may house a minor league club in historic Ebbets Field. President Frank Shaughnessy of the International is toying with the idea of a 10-club league, and the Jersey City and Brooklyn sites would solve his problem.

William B. MacDonald, Jr., owner of the Tampa, Fla., club of the Florida State League wants the Brooklyn franchise, possibly in the International, and Marvin Katter, owner of Ebbets Field, says he's willing to lease the park for three years.

Next thing on the Dodger-Giant shift to the west is to satisfy financially the coast league. Leslie O'Connor, prexy of the circuit, is asking millions for the damage done to his loop. When the Boston Braves moved to Milwaukee, the Philadelphia Athletics to Kansas City, and the St. Louis Browns to Baltimore, the affected minor leagues were paid $50,000—a far cry from the coast loop's demands.

George M. Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, said most of the franchise shifts would be settled at the joint major-minor meetings Dec. 1-7 at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Trautman today announced this agenda for the sessions:

Monday, Dec. 2: Major league player draft. Minor league meeting on attendance, with Charles A. Hurth, president of the Southern Association, presiding over group of club and league officials. Trautman entertains 28 league presidents at dinner and business session.

Tuesday, Dec. 3: Open classification, triple-A and double-A player draft. Organizational meeting of National Association of Baseball writers formed this year with more than 600 members. Official scorers and umpires attend clinic.

Wednesday, Dec. 4; Class A, B and C player drafts in morning. First convention session in afternoon, with Maj. Gen. James E. Briggs, commandant of the new U. S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, as keynote speaker. Major league clubs meet with player representatives to discuss pension plan and other matters.

Thursday, Dec. 5: Minors vote on changes in major-minor agreement. American and National leagues hold separate sessions.

Saturday, Dec. 7: Commissioner Ford Frick presides over joint session of National and American leagues, the vote on legislation passed by minors at Thursday meeting.

Maroons Trip Tide In Late Push, 25-13

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Oct. 26 (AP)—Mississippi State shook off the shock of a first minute Alabama touchdown and rolled up a 25-13 Southeastern Conference victory today on a chill, windy and cheerless homecoming here.

'Bama's big Jim Loftin raced 65 yards to bring the 23,000 fans up with a roar on the second play from scrimmage. But they had little to yell about again until the final seconds. State's Billy Stacy tied the count a few minutes later with a pass, good for 57 yards, to end Charles Weatherly.

Another State score, in the second period, came on a 21-yard burst around end by halfback Bill Peterson, and two more were rushed across in the final period, one on a plunge by Molly Halbert for a yard, and another on a short gain by Robert Collings.

State's victory leaves the club with a 2-1 mark in Southeastern Conference competition and a chance at the championship, since the team meets the other leading contenders before the season ends.

It was 'Bama's fourth defeat in five starts, the other being a 6-6 tie with Vandy in the second game.

Loftin's touchdown run resulted as much from the big 219-pound fullback great power as from any help from anyone. He hit the line, shook off a couple of tacklers and ran over another to find himself in the clear around midfield.

Stacy & Co. went about the business of winning without much delay. A running play lost 4 to the state 52. Then Stacy rolled out to his right and found Weatherly alone on the 'Bama 17.

Another one came on a 42-yard drive midway of the second quarter. Halbert, a strong runner all day, started with 10, four more stabs at the line moved it to the 21, and Peterson turned his left end and sprinted into the end zone untouched.

That was all until the wild final period, when State took it 85 yards in 11 plays for Halbert's score, and grabbed a 'Bama fumble on the 18 to set up the one by Collings.

Miss. State	5	5	0	13	—25
Alabama	6	0	0	7	—13

Miss. State scoring — Touchdowns: Weatherly (40 pass, 17 run from Stacy); Peterson (21, run); Halbert (1, plunge); Collins (2, plunge). Conversion: Morgan.

Alabama scoring—Touchdowns: Loftin (65 run); Dyess (40 pass, 22 run, from Jackson). Conversion: Brown.

Dodgers Plan To Play In LA Coliseum

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers probably will play many of their 1958 baseball games in the 101,000-capacity Memorial Coliseum.

President Walter O'Malley, E. J. Bavasi and Fresno Thompson of the Dodgers met this morning with Bill Nicholas, general manager of The Coliseum, and agreed to continue with studies that would make it possible for major league baseball to be played in The Coliseum, built to house the Olympic games of 1932.

The studies are designed to conduct baseball in The Coliseum without in any way conflicting with football, either in dates or in use of the field. U.C.L.A. Southern California and the Los Angeles Rams use The Coliseum for football.

"We are interested in the study of ways to make the coliseum available for major league baseball," said O'Malley, who had his consulting engineer, Emil Praeger, inspect tentative plans submitted at the meeting today of Dodger and Coliseum officials.

O'Malley previously had said he hoped to play the Dodgers' opening game against the Chicago Cubs next season in The Coliseum. The Dodgers own Wrigley Field, which has a seating capacity of 22,000, and may enlarge it to handle night games during the week.

Band Members, Football Team Win Despite Flu

EAST MOUNTAIN, Tex., Oct 25 (AP)—With two band members holding down a tackle and guard spot, East Mountain's high school football team defeated Spring Hill 40-13 last night.

East Mountain coach Lonnie Senton appealed for help after star tackle and fullback Wendell Harvey was killed in an auto crash and influenza further reduced the squad to eight players.

Seven members of the band volunteered. However, most of the ill boys recuperated and only bandsmen Kenneth Lloyd at guard and James Beckham at tackle were needed.

Coach Senton said the two bandsmen played a "stout game" and the "band may have lost a couple of members."

East Mountain held a 20-0 halftime lead and scored 34 points before Spring Hill was able to cross the goal.

Fullback Paul Davis scored three touchdowns for East Mountain. It was the third straight district win without a loss for East Mountain.

CROW STARS

Aggies Blank Baylor, 14-0

By ED FITE

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Oct. 26 (UP)— Jarring John Crow jolted the Baylor defenses apart in the clutch on two Texas A&M scoring drives today as the nation's third-ranking Aggies rang up their sixth straight victory with a 14-0 blanking of Baylor before a 42,000 sellout crowd.

The 210-pound Springhall, La. halfback personally accounted for 11 yards in a 54-yard Texas A&M scoring drive in the first three minutes of the game and then capped a 42-yard surge in the final period with an eight-yard burst that put the game on ice.

Roddy (Hot Rod) Osborne, who engineered both Texas A&M payoff patterns scored the first-quarter touchdown with a one-yard lunge and Loyd Taylor and Bobby Conrad ran the Aggies' conversion string to 17 straight without a miss this season.

Baylor with its passers rushed into desperation and its running game stuttering at crucial times, made only one serious menace to the Aggie goal — that in the third quarter when the Bears moved 43 yards with the 10-mile-an-hour wind to the Texas A&M 4 only to have end Bobby Marks kill it with an interception in the end zone.

The Aggies, on the other hand, had one touchdown nullified in the opening quarter when an illegal receiver downfield wiped out a 10-yard Osborne to Don McClelland pass into the end zone. Crow, who also kicked in with a fine defensive game that helped hold Baylor to 121 yards rushing, contributed 73 yards to the Aggie ground game that piled up 228 yards to become the game's top rusher.

Both teams moved best with the wind in the sharp, 44-degree weather and two tremendous kicks — one a 75-yarder by Baylor's Larry Hickman and a 70-yarder by the Aggie's Osborne played a big role in the game.

The victory was the Aggies' second in defense of their Southwest Conference championship and shoved them a long strike toward their goal of a repeat title and an automatic bid to the Cotton Bowl.

Spartans' Late TD Ruins Illini Upset

By JACK VANDENBERG

EAST LANSING, Mich., Oct. 26 (UP)— Seventh-rated Michigan State staved off a determined threat by upset-minded Illinois today to narrowly avoid its second upset in as many weeks, 19-14.

The victory kept Michigan State's hopes for a Big Ten championship and a Rose Bowl trip alive but virtually eliminated Illinois from the championship race with two defeats in conference play.

Halfback Blanche Martin scored two of the Spartans touchdowns and set up the third one.

Michigan State started off fast with touchdowns in each of the first two periods but Illinois, which upset Michigan State a year ago and Minnesota last week, came back with two of its own to turn the game into a wide open struggle in the final period. Illinois outgained Michigan State in total offense by 23 yards.

Both teams had trouble controlling the ball throughout the game as near freezing temperatures numbed the players' hands.

The Spartans started the scoring late in the first period after tackle Les Rutledge recovered an Illinois fumble on the Illini 28. From there it took Michigan State nine plays to score with Martin faking a pass and running for the final two yards.

After holding Illinois at the opening of the second period, Martin took an Illini punt on the 19, dropped back to the 14 to pick up blockers, and went 86 yards to score. End Dave Kaiser, who converted after the first score, missed this time.

Illinois came storming back after the halftime intermission to score two touchdowns and take a one-point lead when both conversions by Don Yeazel were good.

The Spartans got the clincher early in the fourth period and then staved off a determined Illinois squad.

Michigan State	7	6	0	6	—19
Illinois	0	0	14	0	—14

Michigan State scoring: Touchdowns, Martin 2 (2, run: 86, punt return), Kowalczyk (36, run). Conversion, Kaiser.

Cornell Falls To Princeton In 47-14 Rout

PRINCETON, N.J., Oct. 26 (AP)—Dan Sachs, a lithe, 19-year-old sophomore, fought off a case of the flu and went on a first-period scoring binge today to lead Princeton to a 47-14 point over Cornell in an Ivy League game.

Sachs, who had seen limited service most of the year, scored three touchdowns although right up until game time there was doubt that he could play.

His first half performance kept the Tigers alive, for when he was on the bench their attack sputtered. At the half, they held a 21-14 lead, solely the result of Sachs.

Cornell's defenses fell apart in the fourth period, however, and the flood gates opened. The victory left Princeton undefeated in Ivy League competition and tied with Dartmouth for the lead.

Cornell	7	7	0	0	—14
Princeton	14	7	0	26	—47

Princeton scoring — touchdowns Sachs 3 (2, run; 10, run; 3, run); Morris 2 (51, run; 5, pass from Mottley); Agnew (1, run); Riley (40, run). Conversions: Tiley 4, Manzur.

Cornell scoring — touchdowns: McAntiff (1, run); Juvonen (31, pass from Brogan). Conversions: Brogan 2 (placements).

BAYOU BROWSING by Grits Gresham

The odds are better than even that you've been hearing geese flying overhead during the past few nights—or that you will by this weekend. One of the most consistent phoenomenas that wildlife workers have come across is the annual fall migration of the blue geese. They nest in the far reaches of the arctic—a few isolated spots such as Baffin Island—and, for the most part, make the tremendous flight south to our Louisiana coast in two jaunts. The first takes them to James Bay, Canada, and the next is usually non-stop to our shoreline. It's an amazing migration. A few flocks drop out along the way to rest for a few days, usually juveniles that aren't strong enough to go the distance. The interesting thing to me is that the main flight almost invariably reaches Louisiana between Oct. 20-31. Our peak blue goose population (about 5 per cent snow geese) in Louisiana is about 400,000, with our annual kill estimated at less than 10 per cent.

The Natchitoches Parish Wildlife Association duck calling contest on the 16th was won by Earl Hall, who used a Faulk call to take the automatic shotgun.

I had a fine trip out to Chandleur Island two weeks ago. Flying along the 30 mile strip of sand and shell we could see all kinds of fish lying on either side of the narrow isle, but we had trouble finding trout or redfish in the schools. When we did find a pretty good group we'd land on the beach. My three fishing partners caught specs, redfish, bluefish, pompano, and ladyfish — while I ignored my rod and took photos. Time was running out when we finally found a big school of reds. My buddies got three on the Mr. Champs at the same time, and the strain was too great. I grabbed my rod and caught myself a 10 pounder just at take-off time.

The Tourist Bureau of the Department of Commerce & Industry has taken a step in the right direction with the publishing of a series of six maps on fishing areas of Louisiana. These six cover Grand Isle; Lake Verret; Ramah Pits; Lake Concordia; Old River; and Tchefuncte River, Bayou Lacombe, North Shore (of Lake Ponchartrain). Each map sheet has several photographs of the area; a general map showing roads, towns, and fishing camps around the water; and a concise report on the fishing to be had, accommodations available, and favorite lures or bait. Get your free set by writing: Dept. of Commerce & Industry, Baton Rouge. They're excellent aids. Only criticism is that the pictures aren't up to the quality of the other material. In the maps to follow, covering other parts of La., perhaps better photos can be included.

I understand that the Board of Directors of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation recently passed a resolution requesting that the state's game wardens be placed back in uniform. Most states have found thata neatly uniformed corps of game agents does a great deal toward gaining support and respect for game and fish regulations.

The deer dieoff in Tensas parish (and to a lesser extent in Madison) in the late summer has definitely been pinned down to arsenic poisoning. Specimens of the dead deer were sent to the Univ. of Georgia, which is doing the pathology work for the southeastern cooperative deer study, and they came back with the answer that many residents of the area already suspected. It's apparently from the calcium arsenic used as cotton poison, which was the opinion of some of the farmers there even before the check was made. Deer can get fatal doses by absorbing it through the skin, as well as by eating plants covered with it. The bright side of this picture is that Tensas and Madison can afford to lose a few deer—particularly she-deer. There are better ways to harvest them, however.

General rains from 14th-16th put the woods in excellent shape for squirrel season opening.

Fishing roundup: Laccasine and Sabine Refuges closed to fishing for winter. Redfish and specs good in Lake Charles area until rains of the 16th—should be picking up again now. Oct. is the finest time of year for these two species along the islands and reefs all along the coast—find clear water and you find fish. Bass good to excellent in: Saline Lake, Old River (Pointe Coupee par), Bayou Bartholomew, and some of the overflow lakes along the Red River. Smith Bay is one of the hot ones.

Sooners Barely Escape In Colorado Tilt, 14-13

By CARTER BRADLEY

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 26 (UP) —Top-rated Oklahoma fought for its life today and survived to defeat Colorado, 14-13, in a Big Eight Conference showdown witnessed by a record crowd of 61,700 persons.

Colorado, 45th straight victim of the 1956 national champions, missed a tie when Oklahoma guard Bill Krisher blocked Ellwin Indorf's conversion.

The fired-up Colorado team led briefly in the final period before Oklahoma's great halfback Clendon Thomas raced eight yards to tie it up 13-13.

Quarterback Carl Dodd booted the winning point after touchdown.

Colorado, led by halfback Bob Stransky, who averaged 3.6 yards in 15 carries, controlled the game most of the second half.

The touchdown Oklahoma scored to gain its 7-0 halftime lead came after a quick kick by Thomas carried 67 yards to the Colorado 14.

Early in the fourth period Stransky passed to quarterback Boyd Dowler, and Dowler ran from the eight to give Colorado a lead which Indorf made 13-7 with his conversion kick.

Oklahoma rushed 250 yards to 213 for the challengers.

The victory, though a squeak, moved the Sooners farther along the glory road toward another Orange Bowl trip.

They still play Kansas State, Missouri and Nebraska in their own loop.

Score by periods:

Oklahoma	7	0	0	7	—14
Colorado	0	0	6	6	—13

Oklahoma scoring: Touchdowns, Boyd (9, run); Thomas (8, run). Conversions: Baker, Dodd.

Colorado scoring: Touchdowns, Stransky (40, pass interception); Dowler (8, pass-run from Stransky). Conversions: Indorff.

RESTING IN MOREHOUSE—Remember Leroy Hewette, the Louisiana Tech grad of 1943 who fanned 18 Shreveport Sports in an exhibition during his senior year yet lost the game on an error, 2-1? Hewette, who ended a pro baseball career when his arm went bad and has since been a successful Minnesota high school coach, recently underwent a major operation and has been convalescing at the home of relatives around Bastrop and Mer Rouge in Morehouse parish. He is pictured above as player-manager of the Lewistown, Minn., semi-pro club that was its league's co-champ in '54. He signed a pro baseball contract with Pomeau Peters of Shreveport and was sold to St. Paul where he pitched two seasons, spent two and a half years in the Navy and also coached Lewiston, Minn., High School football, basketball, and baseball teams, winning three grid cage crowns in a row.

BOWLING

With Tommy Higgins

THERE'LL COME A DAY

"Last night 70,000 cheering fans crowded Yankee Stadium and 25 million TV viewers watched at home as the New York Bombers defended their title against the Chicago Panthers' strong bid for world bowling honors."

Sounds like a sportswriter's fantasy?

Don't be too sure; you may soon be reading such surprising stories on the sports page, because bowling is actually on its way to becoming a major spectator sport.

Already plans have been drawn for a professional national bowling league, and competition probably will start by the fall of 1958.

"We have seen standing-room-only crowds at the all-star matches in Chicago, although tickets cost $6.60." said Sylvester Sobanski, tournament director of the Bowling Proprietors Association of America. "We have noted the high rating of televised bowling programs across the country. There is no doubt that the time is ripe for a professional major league."

As late as the 1930's bowling was classed with pool on the seamy side of sports. Today its 22 million enthusiasts include eight million women and more than two million children. Many represent teams from churches, fraternal orders, yacht and country clubs.

There are several reasons for the tremendous growth of bowling. The participant needs no equipment. He may go into some establishment any time of the day or night, winter or summer (most places are air-conditioned) and he is provided with a ball, shoes, and, if he desires, free instruction.

Secondly, age, sex, and brawn are of minor importance. Leagues composed of children aged five to seven are commonplace. Marion Ladewig, Grand Rapids, Mich., who won her sixth U.S. game championship last December, is a 42-year-old grandmother. Andy Varipapa, Hempstead, N.Y., gained his second national title at the age of 56 and today, at 66, is still one of the country's leading bowlers.

Leagues for the blind bowl weekly in Cleveland, New York, and other major cities. An armless veteran in Detroit, using hooks, recently set a record in his factory league by averaging 215 for three games.

Has bowling reached its peak?

Businessmen are investing millions in the belief it has not. Judging from the women and children in the throngs who turn out to see TV stars in person, the embryo National Bowling League could become a giant. Maybe we'll live to see a Bowling World Series. (From magazine, This Week.)

SPARE STUFF

This week Bus Eaton, Roseburg, Ore., broke the national record for consecutive games bowled.

Cecil Moore, bowling for Longview Equipment here, turned in his first 600 series this year Monday night in the Major League. Cecil helped along by a 237 game, registered a 623. Congratulations!

NOTRE DAME GAINS ON FUMBLE —Pitt drags down Notre Dame back Dick Lynch, who fumbles as he is tackled in first quarter yesterday at South Bend, Ind. But ball rolls ahead of him, past surprised Notre Dame end Gary Myers, who finally recovers it. (AP Wirephoto)

74-YARD PASS PLAY

Notre Dame Scores In 4th To Nip Pitt

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 26 (UP)— Sophomore George Izo hit speedster Aubrey Lewis with a 74-yard touchdown pass to open the fourth period today and give Notre Dame a 13-7 triumph over Pittsburgh for its fourth win without defeat in the 1957 season.

It was a rough scrap between the Panthers, who suffered their third loss in six starts, and the undefeated Irish. Three players were thrown out of the game for fighting, Pittsburgh's first-string end, Dick Scherer, and two of Notre Dame's starters, quarterback Bob Williams and right halfback Dick Lynch.

Lynch was ousted in the first period for slugging on Frank Reynolds' one-yard plunge into the end zone for Notre Dame's first score, while Williams and Scherer got into a free-swinging brawl in midfield after a Pittsburgh punt with only three minutes gone in the third period.

The Irish, noted for staunch defensive ability this season, made good on that reputation to preserve the win. Pittsburgh, virtually even in statistics for the game, once went to the Notre Dame 12 and failed to score and in the last period, the Panthers drove to the Notre Dame 10 and fell a yard short of a first down.

Pittsburgh's touchdown was by Bill Kaliden on a one-yard drive after a parade of 56 yards, and Ivan Toncie converted to give the Panthers a one-point margin they nursed until the Izo-Lewis pitch.

Notre Dame	6	0	0	7	—13
Pittsburgh	0	7	0	0	— 7

Notre Dame scoring: Touchdowns, Reynolds (1, plunge), Lewis (74, pass-run from Izo). Conversions, White.

Pittsburgh scoring: Touchdown, Kaliden (1, dive). Conversions, Toncic.

Kallio Cancels Planned Fight Program Here

Promoter Gus Kallio last night announced the planned heavyweight fight between Johnny Hunt Houston, Tex., and Kenneth Gray, Cotton Valley, here November 5 has been called off.

Hunt decisioned Gray in a close match here several weeks ago in a mighty good fight and fans of the area had hoped they could be rematched.

Boston College Checks Detroit By 20-16 Count

DETROIT, Oct. 26 (AP)—Boston College stopped the University of Detroit on the one-yard-line in the last minute of the game to preserve a 20-16 intersectional football triumph, gained today on three last-half touchdowns.

Boston College	0	0	13	7	—20
Detroit	6	3	0	7	—16

Boston scoring — Touchdowns: Colcough 2 (33, pass from Allard; 17, lateral from Allard); Murphy (45, pass-run from Brown. Conversions: Cotter, Allard.

Detroit scoring — Touchdowns: Korpak (1, plunge), Russell (4, run). Field goal: Passcuzzi (24). Conversion: Korpak.

Unbeaten VMI Nips Colonials

ROANOKE, Va., Oct. 26 (AP) — Virginia Military Institute's never-say-die kaydets came from behind in the final minutes for the second week in a row and maintained their undefeated status with a 26-20 southern conference football victory over George Washington here today.

Quarterback Duke Johnston, something of a goat a few minutes before when he had a pass intercepted that set up the Colonials' go-ahead touchdown, streaked 47 yards on a brilliant run to the GW seven, then sneaked the last yard two plays later with the touchdown that gave VMI its triumph.

GW	7	7	6	0	—20
VMI	13	6	0	7	—26

GW scoring—touchdowns: Gleason (11, pass-run from Henzes); Colna (28, pass-run from Henzes); Power (7, pass from Henzes). Conversions: Claypool 2.

VMI scoring — touchdowns: Horner 2 (1, run; 1, run); Jordan (1, pass from Johnston); Johnston (1, run). Conversions: Woolwine 2.

Florida State Tags Virginia Tech, 20 To 7

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 26 (AP) —Florida State's resurgent Seminoles struck suddenly today with an electrifying 80-yard touchdown run by sophomore Fred Pickard and a 51-yard pass play to win a 20-7 homecoming football victory over Virginia Tech.

Score by quarters:

Virginia Tech	0	7	0	0	— 7
Florida State	0	14	6	0	—20

Virginia State scoring — Touchdown: Conner (1, plunge). Conversion: Frazee.

Florida State scoring — Touchdowns: Schomburger (51, pass-run from Renn); Boyer (recovered VPI fumble in end zone) Pickard (80, run). Conversions: Sheppard, Nellums.

6-STROKE EDGE

Maxwell In Charge Of Hesperia Event

HESPERIA, Calif., Oct. 26 (UP) —Billy Maxwell, chunky Odessa, Tex., veteran fired his third consecutive 34-33—67 in rainy weather today to take a commanding six-stroke lead after three rounds of the $15,000 Hesperia Open Golf Tournament.

He carded a 15-under par 201.

The former national amateur champion was aided by an eagle 2 on the sixth hole when he canned a 175-yard 4-iron shot.

J. C. Goosie, unknown young Knoxville, Tenn., pro, jumped into second place with a two-under-par 70 for 207.

Don Fairfield, Casey, Ill., matched the course record with a sparkling 34-32—66 and vaulted into a tie for third place with 203.

He was joined there by Babe Lichardus, Hillside, N.J., who soared to 74 today, and Dow Finsterwald, Tequesta, Fla., who carded 2.

Lichardus had been tied for the lead with Maxwell at 134 going into today's round.

Pre-tourney favorite Doug Ford, Mahopac, N.Y., slipped to a 3 and dropped to a tie for 6th place with Arnold Palmer, LaTrobe, Pa., and Ken Venturi, San Francisco. Palmer shot a two-under 0, and Venturi a 1 today.

Nadir's Fast Finish Takes Richest Race

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 26 (UP) Claiborne Farm's Nadir blistered through the stretch with a powerful rush today to win the $277,150 Garden State Stakes and carry jockey Bill Hartack to his second consecutive victory in the world's richest horse race.

Taking the lead leaving the backstretch, Nadir scored by two lengths in the mile and one-sixteenth race and took down a purse worth $155,047 to boost his earnings to $173,952.

In a bitter battle for second place in the third richest race ever run anywhere, R. Douglas Pruitt's Terra Firma nosed out the Foxcatcher Farm's Rose Trellis. A length farther in fourth place was Mrs. Anna Camnuli's Chance It Tony, while the Maine Chance Farm's Jewel's Reward and the Wheatley Stable's Misty Flight failed to threaten.

Trinity Whips Southwestern In 27-7 Game

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 26 (AP)—The Trinity Tigers surged from behind with a flurry of offensive might in the second half to defeat Southwestern Louisiana Institute, 27-7, here today.

It was the first victory of the year for the Tigers and they did it with a powerful offense that piled up 560 yards and 25 first downs. The Tigers gained 336 yards rushing and 224 yards passing.

Trinity trailed 7-6 at halftime only because Tiger backs couldn't hold onto the ball. The Tigers fumbled four times in the first half. One fumble set up the sole SLI touchdown.

Richard Coffey recovered a Trinity bobble on the Tiger 4 and four plays later quarterback Joe Colloway passed to halfback Jerry Martin for the touchdown. Ralph Davis converted.

Trinity scored once in the second quarter on a 27-yard pass from quarterback Roy Sawyer to end Ken Higginbotham and trailed 7-6 at halftime.

The Tigers went ahead with a safety in the third period and increased the margin as Sawyer scored from the one capping a 39-yard drive.

Trinity added two touchdowns in the fourth quarter on a 43-yard run by fullback John DuBose and a 28-yard pass play from quarterback Wesley Gideon to halfback Ronnie Melling. Sawyer kicked one extra point for Trinity.

HIGH JUMPING DEFENSE—Arkansas halfback Donnie Stone (42) knocks down a Ray Brown pass intended for Mississippi end Don Williams (80) in game yesterday at Memphis. Also back to defend was Razorback quarter George Walker (44). Arkansas triumphed, 12-6. (AP Wirephoto)

ARKANSAS, 12-6

Porkers Upset Ole Miss

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 26 (AP) — Arkansas quarterback George Walker turned to strategy on two crucial plays as the Razorbacks came from behind to upset previously unbeaten Mississippi 12-6 today. The overflow crowd of 30,602 was the largest to ever watch a football game in Memphis.

After Mississippi punched over a first period touchdown, Arkansas tied it up in the second and scored the decisive touchdown late in the third period.

Mississippi scored with two minutes left in the first quarter on a seven-yard pass from quarterback Ray Brown to end Larry Grantham. The Rebels had started from the Arkansas 49 after Brown returned an Arkansas quick kick 15 yards. The drive took 11 plays. Larry Reid's conversion attempt was low and wide.

Arkansas, unable to get out of its own territory during the first period, scored with four minutes left in the half when halfback Billy Kyser raced over from the eight. Walker had set up the touchdown from his own 48 when on a third-and-one situation and the Mississippi line braced for a plunge, he faked to his fullback and passed 35 yards to Kyser. The play caught Ole Miss flat-footed. The point after try by Gerald Nesbitt was wide.

The longest run of the day paved the way for Arkansas' winning touchdown. Nesbitt went off tackle from his 23 and sped down the sidelines. Trapped at the Ole Miss 25, he lateraled off to Kyser, who was pulled down on the three.

Three tries through the tough Mississippi line yielded only two yards. On last down Mississippi again ganged up, expecting another try up the middle. Walker cooly flipped out to Kyser, who trotted around end for the score. Nesbitt missed the conversion attempt.

Mississippi drove deep into Arkansas territory after the game was tied. One drive was caught on Arkansas' 13 by the halftime whistle. Arkansas stopped the second on the two.

The Rebels outgained Arkansas both in the air and on the ground, picking up 53 yards on five completed passes and 291 yards rushing.

Mississippi had one touchdown pass called back for illegal motion It was a 20-yarder from Bobby Franklin to Kent Lovelace just before the half ended. Arkansas completed two passes for 39 yards and picked up 238 yards on the ground.

The Rebels had 18 first downs to halt that many for Arkansas.

Arkansas	0	6	6	0	—12
Mississippi	6	0	0	0	— 6

Arkansas scoring—touchdowns: Kyser 2 (8, run; 1, run). Conversions: none.

Mississippi scoring — touchdowns: Grantham (7, pass from brown). Conversions: none.

McNeese Beats Northeast In Cross Country

McNeese defeated Northeast State, 20 to 47, here yesterday in a 2 and 7/10 mile cross country race, the second of the seasson for the Indians and the first against a Gulf States Conference opponent. McNeese's Jack Frater, two-mile shamp of the Gulf States, was first in the race with a time of 14 minutes and 50 seconds. Conference mile champion Leonard Chisholm of McNeese and Northeast's Jack Williams staged a thrilling battle for second place with Chisholm finally winning with a 15 minutes, four seconds time. Williams was third with a time of 15.08.

Stan Croski of McNeese played fourth, Buddy McCullen of Northeast was fifth, Sidney Barber of McNeese was 6th and McNeese's Anthoney Cinquemano was 7th.

Placings of the Northeast runneds were Gene Easton, 10th, Jim Flint, 13th, Harper McKay, 16th and Joe Swanson, 17th.

Indian Coach Lou Hartzog said he was "extremely pleased with my boys." He stated they made a great improvement over their showing against Memphis State and "would have beaten Memphis State easily if they had run like this week."

Dartmouth Is 26-0 Victor Over Harvard

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 26 (AP) —Unbeaten Dartmouth combined speed, versatility and a demoralizing defense today for a 26-0 victory over Harvard decided by four lightning first half scoring thrusts.

Two clever halfback to quarterback laterals highlighted the early Indian onslaught which provided the fifth straight triumph of the season for the Hanover eleven which is the only major unbeaten, untied team in the East.

Dartmouth has won eight in a row dating back to last season.

In the third minute of the game, sophomore halfback John Crouthamel took a handoff from quarterback Dave Bradley and knifed between the Harvard right tackle and right end.

Just as he got by the line of scrimmage, Crouthamel lateraled to Bradley who raced the final 26 yards around end on a slick maneuver which capped a 73-yard march with the opening kickoff.

One Dartmouth pass interception turned back a determined Harvard scoring bid and two more in the second quarter launched scoring drives by the well-drilled visitors.

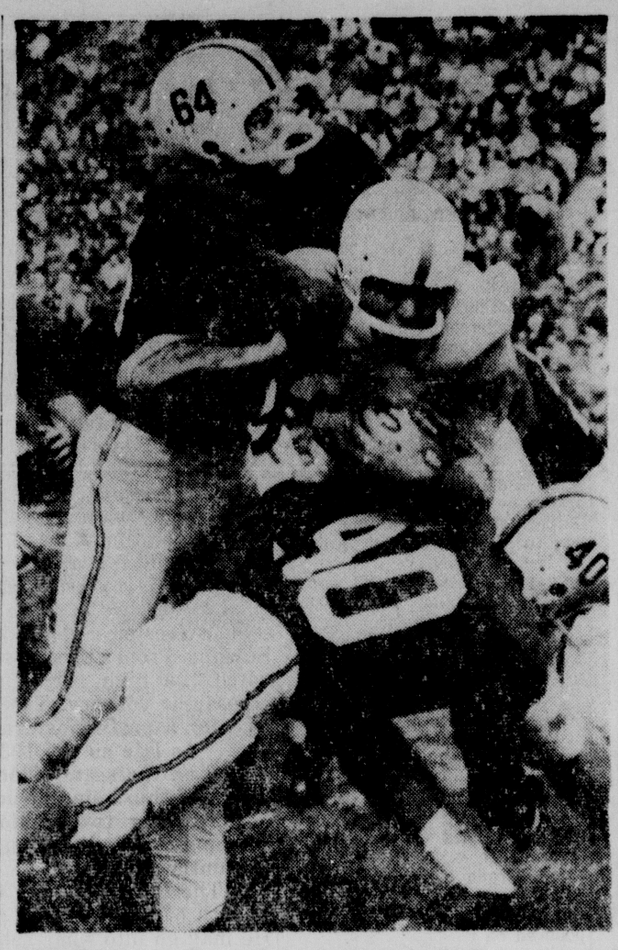
Dartmouth scoring — Touchdowns; Bradley (23), lateral from Crouthamel), Pratt (49), Pass-run from Bradley), Gundy 18.Lateral from Burke), Klages (54, run). Conversions: Palermo 2.



STOPPED—Fullback Tommy Bronson of Tennessee is stopped by two Maryland players, Fred Hamilton, 40, and Tom Gunderman, 64, after a 3-yard gain in first quarter of game yesterday at College Park, Md. (AP Wirephoto)

VOLS WEAR 'EM DOWN

Tennessee Topples Terrapins, 16 To 0

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 26 (AP) — Tennessee poured through Maryland's worn down giants for two last quarter touchdowns today and a 16-0 football victory.

The trim, hard-hitting Volunteers nursed a first quarter safety scored on a blocked kick until constant banging paid off for their fourth straight triumph. Tennessee's only defeat this season was a 7-0 loss to Auburn.

Fullback Tommy Bronson scored Tennessee's first touchdown on a yard plunge to cap a 54-yard drive led by Bobby Gordon.

Bronson set up the next touchdown by tearing 51 yards to the Maryland 29. Coach Bowden Wyatt let his fresh second stringers take it the rest of the way, with Carl Smith skirting Maryland's right end for the last nine yards.

Tennessee was in Maryland territory throughout most of the game after end Tommy Potts blocked a kick for a safety.

Maryland, losing its fourth game in six, was able to carry the ball past midfield only once.

West Virginia Dumps William And Mary, 19-0

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 26 (AP)—West Virginia, led by quarterback Dick Longfellow, battered William and Mary 19-0 in a penalty - ridden southern conference football game today.

It marked the 24th consecutive conference victory for the mounteneers as they closed out their league campaign. It also was the fifth straigh year the West Virginia had marched through league competition without a loss.

West Virginia	7	0	12	0	—19

REMATCHED

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Venezuela Promoter Oscar Ibarra said today he signed featherweights Paul Jorgensen of Port Arthur, Tex., and Sonny Leon of Venezuela for a return 10-round bout at Caracas, Venezuela, Nov. 11. The two fought a draw in Caracas three weeks ago.

IN LAST 2 MINUTES

Missouri Shades Nebraska, 14-13

COLUMBIA, Mo , Oct. 26 (UP) —Missouri scored with less than two minutes remaining and junior Charley Rash booted a golden 13th consecutive extra point to give the Tigers a stirring 14-13 homecoming game victory over Nebraska today.

Before a blanket-draped crowd of 23,800 fans, Missouri saw a 7-0 halftime lead fly out the window as the underdog Cornhuskers tallied two lightning touchdowns in the third period.

Sophomore Phil Snowden, who hit on five of six pass attempts for 75 yards, scored both Missouri six-pointers and was instrumental in guiding Frank Broyles' rookie-year club to its fourth victory in six 1957 starts.

Missouri, trailing 7-13 with but 2:42 remaining, took over the ball on its own 44. Snowden quickly opened by tossing 23 yards to end Bill McKinney who then snared a second aerial for 15 yards from fullback Hank Kuhlmann.

With a first down on the Husker 18, Kuhlmann carried twice to the six and Snowden cut through tackle for the tying score. Rash, who earlier had failed on a field goal attempt, toed the kick squarely through the uprights.

Nebraska hampered by a series of errors during the first 30 minutes, fought back after the second half kickoff to score first on a 64-yard drive climaxed by Doug Thomas' two yard plunge. Dick Prusia missed the conversion which later proved to be the game's deciding play.

Missouri fumbled the ensuing kickoff on its own 22 and Thomas dashed 16 yards on the opening play from scrimmage. Two plays later, quarterback Roy Stinnett pitched out to fullback Larry Naviaux who circled left end from five yards out and the go-ahead tally

Missouri had opened the scoring on its first series of downs. Snowden's nine-yard pass to end Bennie Alburtis was the vital play, but a personal foul ginst Nebraska put the ball on the one where Snowden went across on the second of two sneak attempts. Rash's kick was good.

The 194-pound reserve guard has hit on 13 in a row this year and twice his kicks have been the Missouri victory margn. The other was a 7-6 win over Southern Methodist.

Score by periods:

Missouri	8	0	0	8	—14
Nebraska	0	0	13	0	—13

Missouri scoring: Touchdowns, Snowden 2 (1, plunge, 6, run) Conversions: Rash 2.

Nebraska scoring: Touchdowns, Thomas (2, rcn); Naviaux (5, run) Conversions: Cifra 1

Platt Takes Seniors Golf Championship

PINEHURST, N. C., Oct. 26 (AP) —J. Wood Platt of Philadelphia, using a control game, overcame an early deficit today to defeat James H. Ackerman of Princeton, N. J., 4 and 2 to win the sixth annual north and south seniors golf championship.

Ackerman, putting accurately, led 1-up after three holes and held his margin until Platt squared things on No 5.

Then the Philadelphian took the edge on the next hole and, playing steady golf while Ackerman was hitting a slice here and there, widened the gap and won it on No. 16.

Rosewall Falls To Hoad In Pro Tennis Tourney

NEW MAN IN ACTION

6-Man Tag Match At Kallio's Arena

It's tag team time again at Kallio's Arena tomorrow night with a 6-man bout this time starring Phil Brummett, Black Jack Dillon and Jim Scarbo against Jack and George Curtis and newcomer Gordon McKinley. Three preliminary bouts will go on before the main event beginning at 8:15.

The main event will be an hour and half time limit match with two falls needed to win while the preliminary matches will be over the 10-minute or less route with one fall to win.

McKinley, a big fan of Jack Curtis' as a boy, gets a chance to wrestle with his hero tomorrow night when he teams up with the Curtis brothers against the treacherous trio of Brummett, Dillon and Scarbo. Born in Jackson, Mississippi, McKinley moved to New York City with his parents when a small boy. Before he left the Magnolia State, Gordon told his idol "I'll be back and I am going to be a wrestler like you."

It's been 12 years but McKinley has kept his promise and is back down South. He'll meet Curtis for the first time since he left Jackson when the two wrestle together Monday night.

McKinley will bring a lot of poundage to the aid of the Curtis boys. Standing six feet, four inches tall, McKinley weighs 250 pounds. He is the biggest hero to grapple in the local ring in some time.

Phil Brummett returns to the Monroe mat for the first time in several months tomorrow night and Scarbo has been away for some time also. Brummett, a native of Alexandria, has appeared here as a mean character and rough customer.

Scarbo, from Meridian, Mississippi, is a big fellow who also has a mean streak a mile wide. He hasn't been around in some time but is reported to still have all his bad traits and will undoubtedly keep the ring official busy keeping him honest.

Black Jack Dillon has one of the most familiar faces around to local grappling fans. He appeared here regular for months some time ago and showed up here again last Monday after an absence of a couple of months. He weighs about as much as McKinley and he and the newcomer should make a good match.

Dillon has been complaining to promoter Kallio of late that he is getting tired of wrestling small men. "They seem to be afraid of me and are hard to catch when they run around the ring," Jack says.

Tech Theater Will Present Broadway Hit

RUSTON (Special) — "Desperate Hours," the melodramatic Broadway stage hit that was turned into a successful movie, will be presented in a five - night run at Louisiana Tech by the Tech Theater Players, Nov. 5-9.

Roles assigned for "Desperate Hours" are as follows: Bobby Hicks of Shreveport as Tom Winston; J. T. Seale of El Dorado as Jesse Bard; Don Barney of Shreveport as Harry Carson; Betty Weingart of Hamilton, Ill., as Eleanor Hillard (the wife); Larry Larance of Warren, Ark., as Ralphie Hilliard (the son); Edward Finuf of Shreveport as Dan Hilljard (the husband); Barbara Joiner of Ruston as Cindy Hilliard (the daughter).

Allen Brown of Baton Rouge as Glenn Griffin, Edward Flatt of Bernice as Hank Griffin, Tommy Cumella of Shreveport as Rolish (the three escapees), Bruce Bagwell of Choudrant as Chuck Wright Gary Young of Ruston at Lt. Carl Fredericks; Carolyn Young of Miss Swift.

The action of the play is set chiefly in the house of a family in Indianapolis, where everything is as normal and commonplace as can be among husband and wife their grown daughter and adolescent son — that is until three fleeing outlaws turn up to hold the family captive until further means of escape are provided them.

How the members of this family live for two days under the terror of their unexpected guests, and finally outwit them, forms the main plot of the play.

Organists' Guild Forms District Unit

The American Guild of Organists formed a chapter in the Northeast Louisiana district, a spokesman for the group announced yesterday. The guild is a national organization of church organists and choir directors dedicated to the furthering of church music, it was explained.

The charter meeting of the local guild was held this week at the First Baptist Church of West Monroe. After an informal musical program, the newly elected sub-dean, George Murray Lawn, took the members present on an extensive tour of the church's new organ.

Other officers elected at the business session were: Charles Wilhite, dean; Henry Freeman, secretary - treasurer, and W. B. Mask, III, chairman of membership committee.

It was decided that the group should hold monthly meetings with musical programs open to the public. The group extended an invitation for all organists and choir directors interested in joining the organization to write the American Guild of Organists, P.O. Box 225, Monroe.

Whooping Crane Stamp Details Are Released

Collectors of U. S. commemoratives will be interested in details of the 3-cent whooping crane stamp, fourth in the wildlife conservation series, previously announced in this column.

The central subject is a female whooping crane bending over two of her young. The male bird is in the background. The big birds are white, the chicks yellow and the background blue.

Stamp collectors desiring first day covers may send their addressed envelopes to either or both of the cities prior to Nov. 22, together with money order remittances covering the cost of the stamps to be affixed. The outside envelopes to the postmaster shou'd be endorsed "First Day Covers Whooping Crane Stamp."

The U. S. Post Office Department is planning to send more than one million dollars worth of postal rarities to be exhibited at the Ninth ASDA Postage Stamp

Show in New York, Nov. 22 through 24. Some of the items never have been displayed publicly. Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield says the exhibits will be under constant guard.

Queen Elizabeth II will appear on a new 7½-pence stamp to be issued by Australia Nov. 13. The stamp will feature the Queen's portrait in sculptured form and will be the same size as the 7½-pence King George VI stamp which it will replace.

Advance notice from Down Under also has been received that both Australia and New Zealand will issue a commemorative stamp to mark the 30th anniversary of the first air crossing of the Tasman Sea by Sir Charles Kingsford Smith. The date of issuance is September 1958.

Inger Stevens Doesn't Like To Be Compared

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Being a Swede, Inger Stevens has naturally been compared with Ingrid Bergman. Being fresh-faced and blonde, she has been compared with Grace Kelly. ..

"Though they are complimentary, I hate comparisons," says Inger. "I suppose they are the result of a laziness of description; people can't think up new adjectives, so they make comparisons. But I'd rather be known as Inger Stevens."

My bet is that she will get her way. Already she has made a fine impression as Bing Crosby's leading lady in "Man on Fire." She went on to "Cry Terror" with James Mason, and is now playing opposite Yul Brynner in "The Buccaneer."

What does she have?

She is strikingly beautiful, as Bergman and Kelly were. She is also a convincing dramatic actress. And Inger is warm and friendly, which the two noted expatriates were not.

Inger is full of interesting notions. At lunch she took her fruit juice with a chaser — "The body can't absorb juice in such concentrated form." She is a great one for bran muffins and yogurt, and her lunch consisted of juice, green beans and rice. But you can't knock such a diet when you see the results on her.

Ingen is an authentic Swede, but she's also an American beauty. She came to this country at 10, lived in both Manhattans — New York and Kansas. She grew up in the latter, where her father was a teacher at Kansas State Agriculture College.

"I've been supporting myself since I was 15," she related.

"I've done everything, including taking inventory at Montgomery Ward in Kansas. What fun it was —counting wool socks with the temperature 115!"

'No Down Payment' Spotlights Modern Way Of Life In City

In "No Down Payment," the CinemaScope picture which opened today at the Paramount Theatre, the spotlight is turned on eight young stars who bring together the best of Hollywood's fresh talent. They are Joanne Woodward, Sheree North, Tony Randall, Jeffrey Hunter, Cameron Mitchell, Patricia Owens, Barbara Rush and Pat Hingle.

Even more than successfully showing these young players in their justly deserved limelight, "No Down Payment" is a gripping, true - to - life drama with tremendous impact. It is an adult picture, sophisticated, frank in its revelation of the neatly patterned modern way of life in a large suburban housing project. It peers through these tidy glass houses and explores the hopes, the frustrations, the weaknes and passions of the "average young marrieds" who are trying to make a better life for themselves and their families.

The eight young stars play neighbors in a Los Angeles suburb tract housing development. The screenplay follows their adventures, and misadventures, with intimate detail. There is the couple whose wife is attacked by a neighbor's husband, brilliantly played by Jeffrey Hunter, Patricia Owens and Cameron Mitchell. There is also the man with the "big promoter" complex, whose wife stands by him as long as she can endure. They are played with deep conviction by Tony Randall and Sheree North. There is also the couple, well - adjusted, with the possible exception that he refuses to go to church, played by Pat Hingle and Barbara Rush. These two people could almost be your own neighbors, their performances are that natural. Last is the superb performance by Joanne Woodward, as the Southern, uneducated, but most mature woman of the group, whose husband attacks the neighbor's wife.

TV Notes

When "Omnibus" does the "Life of Samuel Johnson" on NBC sometime in December, Peter Ustinov, British actor - dramatist, will play Johnson and Emlyn Williams, an equally illustrious compatriot, will play Samuel Boswell.

For a 10 - week period starting Oct. 28, NBC's educational series, 6 to 6:30 p.m., Mondays through Fridays, will present five new program series: the International Geophysical Year, mathematics with Clifton Fadiman, art as inspired by the Greek myths, the story of man, resources and civilization, and a study of the executive branch of the federal government.

When "Hallmark Hall of Fame" presents "On Borrowed Time" on NBC Nov. 17, Ed Wynn will have the leading role of the grandfather. Claude Rains also is in the cast.

Little Theater Curtain Call

By SANDRA JOHNSON

The stardust has fallen, the curtain has been closed and "The Reluctant Debutante" has been filed away as a pleasant memory. But the Little Theatre is still working away, in fact as long as the theatre season remains open the Little Theatre's work never stops.

Now that the first production of the year is over, the next play is "Hatful of Rain." Readings will be held this coming Tuesday night at the Little Theatre in Selman Field at 8:00 p. m. The cast of "Hatful of Rain" offer arts for seven men and two women. It's going to take a tremendous amount of choosing to come up with a cast for "Hatful of Rain," so any and everyone that is interested in working in a Little Theatre play be sure and be there Tuesday for the readings.

"Hatful of Rain" is a complete reverse from the comedy preceeding it. Brutal, yet tender in its compassionate understanding of ordinary human beings in a supreme crisis, "Hatful of Rain" explores a seldom - discussed modern problem with power and profound insight.

Board member Ted Landhy attended the University of Illincis homecoming this past week end. It was his class of 1922 reunion. By he way, Illinois won!

Traveling to Shreveport this past week end to see "Around the World in 80 Days," was Julius Cahn, Jr., Harriet and Joe Kern, Scherk Bogen, Regenia Scherk, and Sophia Laudenheimer.

Don't forget the readings this coming Tuesday, at 8:00. We'd like to see another wonderful turnout!

Sooners Barely Escape In Colorado Tilt, 14-13

By CARTER BRADLEY

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 26 (UP)—Top-rated Oklahoma fought for its life today and survived to defeat Colorado, 14-13, in a Big Eight Conference showdown witnessed by a record crowd of 61,700 persons.

Colorado, 45th straight victim of the 1956 national champions, missed a tie when Oklahoma guard Bill Krisher blocked Ellwin Indorf's conversion.

The fired-up Colorado team led briefly in the final period before Oklahoma's great halfback Clendon Thomas raced eight yards to tie it up 13-13.

Quarterback Carl Dodd booted the winning point after touchdown.

Colorado, led by halfback Bob Stransky, who averaged 3.6 yards in 15 carries, controlled the game most of the second half.

The touchdown Oklahoma scored to gain its 7-0 halftime lead came after a quick kick by Thomas carried 67 yards to the Colorado 14.

Early in the fourth period Stransky passed to quarterback Boyd Dowler, and Dowler ran from the eight to give Colorado a lead which Indorf made 13-7 with his conversion kick.

The victory, though a squeak, moved the Sooners farther along the glory road toward another Orange Bowl trip.

They still play Kansas State, Missouri and Nebraska in their own loop.

Score by periods:

Oklahoma	7	0	0	7	—14
Colorado	0	0	6	6	—13

Oklahoma scoring: Touchdowns, Boyd (9, run); Thomas (8, run). Conversions: Baker, Dodd.

Colorado scoring: Touchdowns, Stransky (40, pass interception); Dowler (8, pass-run from Stransky). Conversions: Indorff.

RESTING IN MOREHOUSE—Remember Leroy Hewette, the Louisiana Tech grad of 1943 who fanned 18 Shreveport Sports in an exhibition during his senior year yet lost the game on an error, 2-1? Hewette, who ended a pro baseball career when his arm went bad and has since been a successful Minnesota high school coach, recently underwent a major operation and has been convalescing at the home of relatives around Bastrop and Mer Rouge in Morehouse parish. He is pictured above as player-manager of the Lewistown, Minn., semi-pro club that was its league's co-champ in '54. He signed a pro baseball contract with Ponneau Peters of Shreveport and was sold to St. Paul where he pitched two seasons, spent two and a half years in the Navy and also coached Lewiston, Minn., High School football, basketball, and baseball teams, winning three grid cage crowns in a row.

BOWLING

With Tommy Higgins

THERE'LL COME A DAY

"Last night 70,000 cheering fans crowded Yankee Stadium and 25 million TV viewers watched at home as the New York Bombers defended their title against the Chicago Panthers' strong bid for world bowling honors."

Sounds like a sportswriter's fantasy?

Don't be too sure; you may soon be reading such surprising stories on the sports page, because bowling is actually on its way to becoming a major spectator sport.

Already plans have been drawn for a professional national bowling league, and competition probably will start by the fall of 1958.

"We have seen standing-room-only crowds at the all-star matches in Chicago, although tickets cost $6.60." said Sylvester Sobanski, tournament director of the Bowling Proprietors Association of America. "We have noted the high rating of televised bowling programs across the country. There is no doubt that the time is ripe for a professional major league."

As late as the 1930's bowling was classed with pool on the seamy side of sports. Today its 22 million enthusiasts include eight million women and more than two million children. Many represent teams from churches, fraternal orders, yacht and country clubs.

There are several reasons for the tremendous growth of bowling. The participant needs no equipment. He may go into some establishment any time of the day or night, winter or summer (most places are air-conditioned) and he is provided with a ball, shoes, and, if he desires, free instruction.

Secondly, age, sex, and brawn are of minor importance. Leagues composed of children aged five to seven are commonplace. Marion Ladewig, Grand Rapids, Mich., who won her sixth U.S. game championship last December, is a 42-year-old grandmother. Andy Varipapa, Hempstead, N.Y., gained his second national title at the age of 56 and today, at 66, is still one of the country's leading bowlers.

Leagues for the blind bowl weekly in Cleveland, New York, and other major cities. An armless veteran in Detroit, using hooks, recently set a record in his factory league by averaging 215 for three games.

Has bowling reached its peak?

Businessmen are investing millions in the belief it has not. Judging from the women and children in the throngs who turn out to see TV stars in person, the embryo National Bowling League could become a giant. Maybe we'll live to see a Bowling World Series. (From magazine, This Week.)

SPARE STUFF

This week Bus Eaton, Roseburg, Ore., broke the national record for consecutive games bowled.

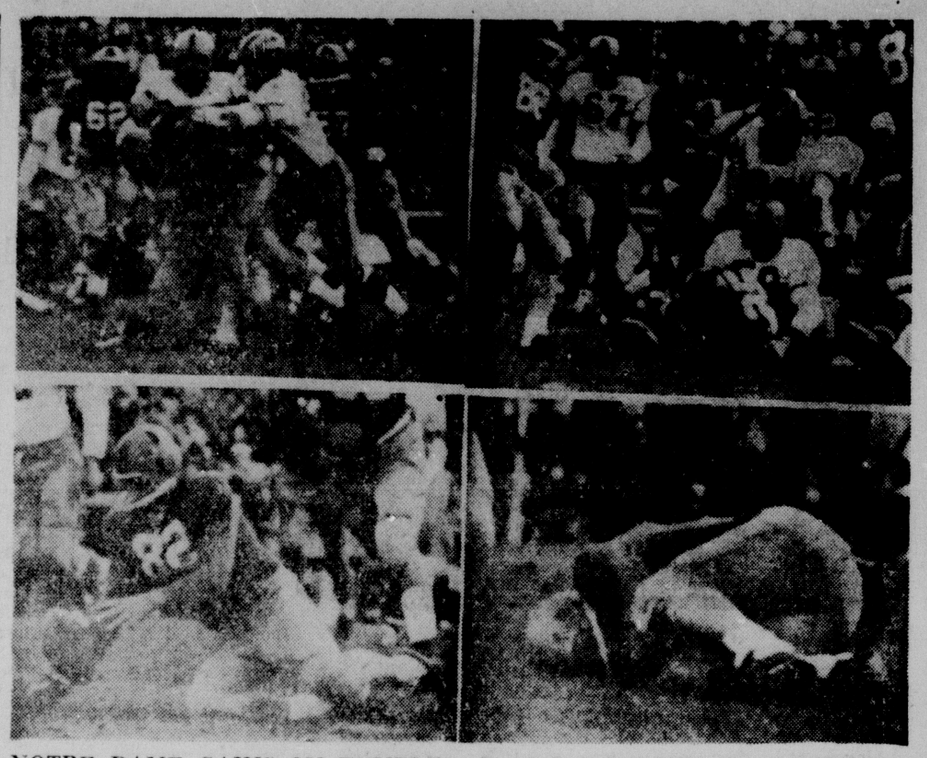
Cecil Moore, bowling for Longview Equipment here, turned in his first 600 series this year Monday night in the Major League. Cecil helped along by a 237 game, registered a 623. Congratulations!



NOTRE DAME GAINS ON FUMBLE—Pitt drags down Notre Dame back Dick Lynch, who fumbles as he is tackled in first quarter yesterday at South Bend, Ind. But ball rolls ahead of him, past surprised Notre Dame end Gary Myers, who finally recovers it. (AP Wirephoto)

74-YARD PASS PLAY

Notre Dame Scores In 4th To Nip Pitt

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 26 (UP)—Sophomore George Izo hit speedster Aubrey Lewis with a 74-yard touchdown pass to open the fourth period today and give Notre Dame a 13-7 triumph over Pittsburgh for its fourth win without defeat in the 1957 season.

It was a rough scrap between the Panthers, who suffered their third loss in six starts, and the undefeated Irish. Three players were thrown out of the game for fighting, Pittsburgh's first-string end, Dick Scherer, and two of Notre Dame's starters, quarterback Bob Williams and right halfback Dick Lynch.

Lynch was ousted in the first period for slugging on Frank Reynolds' one-yard plunge into the end zone for Notre Dame's first score, while Williams and Scherer got into a free-swinging brawl in midfield after a Pittsburgh punt with only three minutes gone in the third period.

The Irish, noted for staunch defensive ability this season, made good on that reputation to preserve the win. Pittsburgh, virtually even in statistics for the game, once went to the Notre Dame 12 and failed to score and in the last period, the Panthers drove to the Notre Dame 10 and fell a yard short of a first down.

Pittsburgh's touchdown was by Bill Kaliden on a one-yard drive after a parade of 56 yards, and Ivan Toncic converted to give the Panthers a one-point margin they nursed until the Iao-Lewis pitch.

Notre Dame	6	0	0	7	—13
Pittsburgh	0	7	0	0	— 7

Notre Dame scoring: Touchdowns, Reynolds (1, plunge), Lewis (74, pass-run from Izo). Conversions, White.

Pittsburgh scoring: Touchdown, Kaliden (1, dive). Conversions, Toncic.

Kallio Cancels Planned Fight Program Here

Promoter Gus Kallio last night announced the planned heavyweight fight between Johnny Hunt, Houston, Tex., and Kenneth Gray, Cotton Valley, here November 5 has been called off.

Promoter Kallio said failure the last two days to work out some fight details had resulted in the decision to cancel the card as "time is growing short and we won't have time to adequately advertise the card."

Hunt decisioned Gray in a close match here several weeks ago in a mighty good fight and fans of the area had hoped they could be rematched.

Boston College Checks Detroit By 20-16 Count

DETROIT, Oct. 26 (AP)—Boston College stopped the University of Detroit on the one-yard-line in the last minute of the game to preserve a 20-16 intersectional football triumph, gained today on three last-half touchdowns.

Boston College	0	0	13	7	—20
Detroit	6	3	0	7	—16

Boston scoring — Touchdowns: Colcough 2 (33, pass from Allard; 17, lateral from Allard); Murphy (45, pass-run from Brown. Conversions: Cotter, Allard.

Detroit scoring — Touchdowns: Korpak (1, plunge), Russell (4, run). Field goal: Passcuzzi (24). Conversion: Korpak.

Unbeaten VMI Nips Colonials

ROANOKE, Va., Oct. 26 (AP) — Virginia Military Institute's never-say-die kaydets came from behind in the final minutes for the second week in a row and maintained their undefeated status with a 26-20 southern conference football victory over George Washington here today.

Quarterback Duke Johnston, something of a goat a few minutes before when he had a pass intercepted that set up the Colonials' go-ahead touchdown, streaked 47 yards on a brilliant run to the GW seven, then sneaked the last yard two plays later with the touchdown that gave VMI its triumph.

GW	7	7	6	0	—20
VMI	13	6	0	7	—26

GW scoring—touchdowns: Gleason (11, pass-run from Henzes); Colna (28, pass-run from Henzes); Power (7, pass from Henzes). Conversions: Claypool 2.

VMI scoring — touchdowns: Horner 2 (1, run; 1, run); Jordan (1, pass from Johnston); Johnston (1, run). Conversions: Woolwine 2.

Florida State Tags Virginia Tech, 20 To 7

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 26 (AP)—Florida State's resurgent Seminoles struck suddenly today with an electrifying 80-yard touchdown run by sophomore Fred Pickard and a 51-yard pass play to win a 20-7 homecoming football victory over Virginia Tech.

Score by quarters:

Virginia Tech	0	7	0	0	— 7
Florida State	0	14	6	0	—20

Virginia State scoring — Touchdown: Conner (1, plunge). Conversion: Frazee.

Florida State scoring — Touchdowns: Schomburger (51, pass-run from Renn); Boyer (recovered V-PI fumble in end zone) Pickard (80, run). Conversions: Sheppard, Nellums.

6-STROKE EDGE

Maxwell In Charge Of Hesperia Event

HESPERIA, Calif., Oct. 26 (UP)—Billy Maxwell, chunky Odessa, Tex., veteran fired his third consecutive 34-33—67 in rainy weather today to take a commanding six-stroke lead after three rounds of the $15,000 Hesperia Open Golf Tournament.

He carded a 15-under par 201. The former national amateur champion was aided by an eagle 2 on the sixth hole when he canned a 175-yard 4-iron shot.

J. C. Goosie, unknown young Knoxville, Tenn., pro, jumped into second place with a two-under-par 70 for 207.

Don Fairfield, Casey, Ill., matched the course record with a sparkling 34-32—66 and vaulted into a tie for third place with 208.

He was joined there by Babe Lichardus, Hillside, N.J., who soared to 74 today, and Dow Finsterwald, Tequesta, Fla., who carded 2.

Lichardus had been tied for the lead with Maxwell at 134 going into today's round.

Pre-tourney favorite Doug Ford, Mahopac, N.Y., slipped to a 3 and dropped to a tie for 6th place with Arnold Palmer, LaTrobe, Pa., and Ken Venturi, San Francisco. Palmer shot a two-under 0, and Venturi a 1 today.

Nadir's Fast Finish Takes Richest Race

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 26 (UP) Claiborne Farm's Nadir blistered through the stretch with a powerful rush today to win the $277,150 Garden State Stakes and carry jockey Bill Hartack to his second consecutive victory in the world's richest horse race.

Taking the lead leaving the backstretch, Nadir scored by two lengths in the mile and one-sixteenth race and took down a purse worth $155,047 to boost his earnings to $173,952.

In a bitter battle for second place in the third richest race ever run anywhere, R. Douglas Pruitt's Terra Firma nosed out the Foxcatcher Farm's Rose Trellis. A length farther in fourth place was Mrs. Anna Camnuli's Chance It Tony, while the Maine Chance Farm's Jewel's Reward and the Wheatley Stable's Misty Flight failed to threaten.

Trinity Whips Southwestern In 27-7 Game

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 26 (AP)—The Trinity Tigers surged from behind with a flurry of offensive might in the second half to defeat Southwestern Louisiana Institute, 27-7, here today.

It was the first victory of the year for the Tigers and they did it with a powerful offense that piled up 560 yards and 25 first downs. The Tigers gained 336 yards rushing and 224 yards passing.

Trinity trailed 7-6 at halftime only because Tiger backs couldn't hold onto the ball. The Tigers fumbled four times in the first half. One fumble set up the sole SLI touchdown.

Richard Coffey recovered a Trinity bobble on the Tiger 4 and four plays later quarterback Joe Colloway passed to halfback Jerry Martin for the touchdown. Ralph Davis converted.

Trinity scored once in the second quarter on a 27-yard pass from quarterback Roy Sawyer to end Ken Higginbotham and trailed 7-6 at halftime.

The Tigers went ahead with a safety in the third period and increased the margin as Sawyer scored from the one capping a 39-yard drive.

Trinity added two touchdowns in the fourth quarter on a 43-yard run by fullback John DuBose and a 28-yard pass play from quarterback Wesley Gideon to halfback Ronnie Melling. Sawyer kicked one extra point for Trinity.

GUIDE TO GOOD READING

Many New Books At Ouachita Library

By FRANCES FLANDERS
(Ouachita Parish Librarian)

Each week numerous new books are added to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library and among the new titles this week there are books for every type of reader. Angela Thirkell is an English author who has a large following. Those who like her think she is wonderful. There is no being luke-warm about Thirkell, either you are a Thirkell fan or you are not. Miss Thirkell has created an imaginary world of Barsetshire, a small corner of England. She has peopled this world with a charming set of characters, many of whom we have met over and over again. Her newest novel dealing with these perfectly delightful people is called "A Double Affair." It might have been called "Matrimonial Fever" for it is occupied with numerous weddings. Read it and see just who marries whom.

Dorothy Clarke Wilson is a writer who has a rare feeling for Biblical personages and scenes. Her latest novel is called "The Gifts." It recreates dramatically and reverently the twelfth year of Jesus's life — a year of strong inner stirrings and awakening consciousness of his divine mission. The gifts — the gold, frankincense and myrrh, received by Jesus from the Wise men at his birth — are the touchstones of a plot abounding with the excitement, drama and even violence of the Biblical world. The household of Joseph and Mary as well as the rich background of an ancient culture are brought to life in this book by a skilled novelist and Biblical scholar. In preparation for the writing of this book she spent considerable time in Palestine, following the same roads and visiting the same spots that Jesus knew as a youth. It is a beautifully written book and deserves to take its place with her other Biblical novels, "The Brother," "The Herdsman," "Prime of Egypt and "Jedebel." We have all of these books at the library and if you missed one, now is a good time to go back and read it.

A fascinating and absorbing novel of contemporary America is "The Wise Children" by Christine Weston. It is the story of twin sisters, Delia Dalton and Frances Hight and of Delia's children, Veronica and Nicholas, who are the wise children of the story. These children know there is a secret in the lives of their Mother and her twin sister, but not until the end of the book, do we and the children find what it is.

There is a growing interest in the past of our country and a book which will add much to our knowledge of its past is called "American Ferryboats" and was written by John Perry. This is a fascinating book and starts with the earliest ferries which were Indian Pirogues and the earliest ferrymen, who were Indians and comes up to the modern steam ferryboat which are still an important part of the scene in New York and other localities. Have you ever wondered how our ancestors made the trek from the Eastern colonies to Louisiana? This book will do much to add to your information. It is a beautifully illustrated book and will provide entertainment as well as information.

An outstanding historian and biographer is Harold Lamb and a new book by this author is eagerly awaited. His latest book is called "Constantinople; Birth of An Empire." It is the story of this magic city in the era of Justinian the Great, who established the Eastern Roman Empire. Mr. Lamb writes in an exciting manner and gives great care to details. His books are authentic and at the same time most interesting to read. Students of early medieval history will not want to miss "Constantinople" by Harold Lamb.

If you would like a book of pure humor, read "Get Away From Me with Those Christmas Gifts" written by Sylvia Wright. This is a delightful and sophisticated book dealing with the problems of modern life. None of us have all of them, but we will all recognize ourselves in some of them. Don't miss this book if you want a delightful evening's entertainment.

Are you an executive? If so, you may want to read "The Techniques of Delegating: How to Get Things Done Through Others" by Donald A. Laird and Eleanor C. Laird. The chapters have such interesting titles as "When to Delegate" "When Not to Delegate" and "People we should not delegate to." An executive should beware of delegating outside his office.

A fascinating new book dealing with an almost unknown aspect of World War II is "The Sledge Patrol" by David Howarth. Its location is Northeast Greenland in the year 1943. This is the story of how seven brave Danish and Norwegian hunters protected the allied weather station in northern Greenland from the German invaders. This is a saga of human skill, faith and endurance — and one of the most remarkable stories to come out of the war.

A stimulating new book is called "Any Number Can Play" and was written by Clifton Fadiman. There is not a page that is not lit with a phrase, a sentence, an epigram that will be joyfully quoted wherever people value good company. With this book Clifton Fadiman takes his place among those few American authors who can express ideas that evoke both an intellectual and a popular response.

There is no lure greater than that of hidden treasure. There is something in each of us that responds with the idea that it would be fun to search for it. "Treasure Under the Sea" by N. B. Stirling is the story of the rich hordes of gold, jewels and currency which lie buried beneath the waters of the sea. Successful attempts have been made to locate some of it, but many more unsuccessful tries have failed. It is an absorbing story and one that men and boys will enjoy reading.

A book for which we have had numerous requests and one which promises to be widely read is "Bridge to the Sun" by Gwen Terasaki. This is the true story of an American woman, who married a Japanese diplomat in 1931. When the war came she was interred with the Japanese diplomatic corps and sent back to Japan on the exchange ship Gripsholm. There she spent the war years, an Alien in an unfriendly country. This is her own story of these years and of the people of Japan. It is written with rare feeling and sympathy and is one that will give every reader a better understanding of the Japanese people.

An autobiography which has had good reviews, but which seems to me to be in very poor taste is "Forbidden Childhood" by Ruth Sieneczynska.

In searching for new books, remember that there are many delightful old ones which you may have missed and which you can borrow from one of the branches of the Ouachita Parish Public Library.

Fanfare Is Press Agent's Confessions

FANFARE: The Confessions of a Press Agent. By Richard Maney. Harper. $4.95.

For more than a quarter-century Maney has been one of the principal ballyhoo hucksters of Broadway stage attractions. As such, his success has been remarkable in that he seldom has gone in for orchidaceous phrases to make the stars, producers and playwrights whom he publicizes seem like Greek gods.

Instead, with his Irish wit and gifted phrasing in praise and, sometimes, mild criticism of his clients behind the footlights, he has made them seem like human beings to win understanding and good will from theatergoers to the topmost row of the balcony.

Now, from his rich experiences in the behind - scenes working of producing a Broadway play or musical, Maney has set down an exciting account of his long experiences with the various theatrical big names. He call's it "Fanfare," but his chapter titles are equally intriguing — "To Err Is Humor," "Meet the Press," and "Billing Without Cooing."

In sounding the drum for such theatrical notables at Tallu'ah Bankhead, Billy Rose, Ed Wynn, Florenz Ziegfeld, Jed Harris and Helen Hayes, his artful language has become a cherished Broadway legend. His summation of people in the theater is that "No other people live so dangerously. . . True many of them are a little teched but, then, so am I."

SUSPENSE

A Dramatic Novel Of Past And Future

A WEEK IN THE COUNTRY, by Ernest Gebler (Doubleday, $3.95).

Against the background of age-old, peaceful River Meadows, a farm in northwest England, an intense drama of tremendous power and depth is played out in this novel of a modern family caught between the way of the past and the way of the future.

Eddie Robertson had devoted most of his life to nursing the family farm back to productivity. At thirty-eight he found his heart and hopes deeply rooted in the rich soil of River Meadows, although his two elder brothers, Mark and Carl, held the title to the farm. To persuade them to surrender ownership, Eddie invited his two brothers home. But it soon appeared that they had compelling reasons of their own for returning after twenty-three years in America.

A mysterious feud smouldered dangerously between Mark and Carl. Eddie's snug private world was threatened as his mistress began to find Mark attractive. Then, as tempers tautened, a three-way battle of ideas blazed out fiercely and openly among the three brothers.

Three widely different attitudes toward life are thrown into dramatic relief as these three brothers' conflicts become those of every thoughtful person in today's world. Here is a trenchant statement of the ideas by which men live, set in a strong and warmly human story.

Leftover Life To Kill Is A Novel Of Deep Passions

LEFTOVER LIFE TO KILL. By Caitlin Thomas. Atlantic-Little, Brown. $4.50.

"Two fat trusting fools" —thus Caitlin Thomas remembers sardonically her impassioned life with the poet Dylan. "We got drunk, quarrelled, made love, never once thinking of tomorrow," she writes.

In November, 1953, Dylan Thomas, no less prodigious a drinker than a poet, died in New York. His wife suffered a stormy, spectacular collapse. Year before last Malcolm Brinnin wrote on Thomas in this country, with emphasis on the guzzling and the turbulence. Mrs. Thomas wrote a fervid protest and the publisher used it in Brinnin's book. Now she has a book all her own, and clearly merits it; with her free gestures, her temperament and her abandon, she needs nothing less than a book to move around in.

With a billowing head of hair, a high forehead, a wide smiling mouth and a taste for fripperies, Mrs. Thomas is all woman, and though she seems to have little use for mankind, she is marvelously fond of individual man. She rages at the "poisonous atmosphere" here that gave Dylan a gooey welcome, and angrily charges American women ganged up to snitch him from her. She criticizes the Welsh, but evidently she got even by, in turn, snitching their sons and husbands as her lovers. She has at the English and the Irish.

With all this off her bosom, she has a good word for a couple of Italians, in particular her faithful young lover Joseph.

This is the story of a woman who suffered a profound shock. But shock or no shock, she would have written at this white heat anyway; it is her nature as it was Dylan's.

A Story Of Love In City 'Care Forgot'

LILY AND THE SERGEANT. By Martin Yoseloff. Funk & Wagnalls. $3.75.

An ambitious girl, hostess in a New Orleans dance hall, pretty Lily finds hard-bitten Army Sgt. Paulsen among her patrons and fires him with ambition, too.

Paulsen is a career soldier. His men may yearn for civilian life but he, in his mid-30s, with no family connections, likes running a company. Yet when the boys meet girls, he feels a secret envy for a way of life he believes he ought to enjoy and believes might be superior to his if he only could enter into it and experience it. Lily opens this door for him, but the more he learns to appreciate it, the more apparent it becomes that her ambition is not the same as his.

Yoseloff avoids the grand and spectacular and is painstakingly careful not to force a plot on his material. But there's a fine nostalgic bittersweet flavor to this short novel by a warm-hearted novelist.

Mystery Ending Is Thrilling

LOUISE by JOAN DERING (Ives Washburn, Inc. $2.95)

Marty Harding was aboard a train for "Lyonesse," a convalescent home near the village where she grew up. Her recent illness had left her weakened and low in spirit, and she looked forward to a good long rest. A good many years had passed since she had seen this part of the county and she was enjoying her memories.

The man, who sat across the aisle with his wife, kept staring as if he thought he might know her. His wife leaned over and introduced herself to Marty, and the name brought back all the ugly events of seven years ago she had been trying so hard to forget. She wondered how she could have possibly forgotten Chief - Inspector Dalton, who had been in charge of investigating the tragic disappearance of her sister, Louise.

Inspector Dalton thought Louise had been murdered, but could never find the evidence to prove it. The newspapers and general public thought Louise had committed suicide. Her body had never been found, and Marty found it hard to believe that a person of Louise's temperament would commit suicide. Her sister had been a head-strong, beautiful girl, and little consideration for anyone but herself. She had been in love with Henry Darrell, who taught at a boy's school near Seafield, where Louise and Marty lived with their father.

Marty spent her first few days at "Lyonesse" just recuperating. However, she soon found herself involved in a merry-go-round of events that led to the final clearing up of the old mystery surrounding her sister. She also found herself falling in love with her sister's ex-fiancee, Henry Darrell. She feared Inspector Dalton's presence in the village, and this fear kept her looking for evidence before he could find it. She was afraid he might suspect the wrong person.

The reader is in for a surprise when Marty finally solves this mystery.

Geologists in western Kansas are studying fossil bones which they claim existed 60 million years ago when, they claim the Niobrara Sea occupied a vast area of that state.

Met Opera Opening To Strains Of Tchaikovsky's Rare 'Onegin'

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—It is Monday night we've been waiting for—the biggest sociable - musical night of the year, indeed the biggest musical night.

All the broughams, landaus and town cars, all the top hats, opera capes and canes, all the diamonds and tiaras, all the young men with gold dust powdering their hair and wearing their leopard skin waistcoats, all society's deepest cleavages — they will turn out this year, or at least they have in the past, for the opening of the Metropolitan Opera.

If they are not going in order to see and hear one another, they are going to see and hear Tchaikovsky's "Eugene Onegin."

One year it was "Don Carlos," then "Norma," then it was "Aida." Why with more than 100 standard operas to choose from does Rudolf Bing pick th's work instead of that? Would more people come to one opera then another on that gala occasion?

The shrewd, popular and, it begins to seem, permanent general manager of the Met was inclined to think:

"No, they come anyway."

He went on: "There are innumerable angles to the choice of the first-night work, and before telling you why I picked 'Onegin,' I must explain how this repertory theater chooses its whole season's programs."

First of all, the Met must decide how many weeks it will run. Then it faces these questions: How many new productions are possible, how much money will there be, how many different works are needed for the various series of subscribers?

Furthermore, the house carries over successful works from the past season. It may find usable sets and costumes in the warehouse to permit an inexpensive revival. Finally, one number is box office and another isn't: for one work there is a cast and for another, the Met hasn't the right singers.

"So for the coming season it shaped up this way:

"We are doing a brand-new work, Samuel Barber's 'Vanessa.' A friend gave us the money for a new authentically Japanese 'Madame Butterfly.' We decided we must modernize 'Don Giovanni.'

"Then we considered what it was possible to do further. It occurred to me we had not done much Russian opera, and nothing new for a long time. Looking more closely, we realized we had the cast for 'Onegin:' George London in the title role, Lucine Amara as Tatyana and Richard Tucker as Lenski. We got a new English translation.

"Now there were runners-up. We studied 'Onegin' and the other contenders. If for instance Dimitri Mitropoules had said he hated 'Onegin' and wouldn't conduct, I discussed their problems, they might have changed my mind. But went to work.

EDUCATIONAL

Tarnished Tower Is An Exploring Work

THE TARNISHED TOWER by Ann Marbut (David McKay Company, Inc., $3.95). A Novel of Educational Huckstering.

This is an angry book—one that will probably upset your belief that all is well in the college world. The horror of the book is the fact that much of it is true, or would at least fit the facts on some college campuses. At any rate, the book is one that you will read and it will give you pause to think.

It is a story of educational huckstering at a state university, of the men and women who are out to sell education with a capital E just as the advertisers of cereals sell their product. It is Madison Avenue brought to the campus.

Principals in this novel of life in a university town are Jerry Scott, a teacher of political science less interested in learning than in getting to the top of the professional ladder; his wife Peg, unlike Jerry, a human being with values and integrity; and Jonathon Reed, a leading professor at an even larger university, but one who has to the top of the professional ladder; his wife Peg, unlike Jerry, a human being with values and integrity; and Jonathon Reed, a leading professor at an even larger university, but one who has achieved his success with decency, honesty, and dignity. Peg Scott had married Jerry believing he shared her ideals, and it was not until he wangled an appointment at Charleston State and began to listen to the siren song of the sinister Ross Adams, assistant to the president, that she began to realize the corrupting effects of power and the struggle for it. Wrapped up as she was in the writing of a novel, it was only when Adams and her husband had all but succeeded in taking over the reins of the university from the faltering hands of President Neilson that the scales fell from her eyes. How she faces her problem, torn as she is between love and integrity, what happens to Jerry and the proponents of Big Education, and the fateful role of Jonathon Reed in the development of the crisis on the campus make this story a timely and absorbing book.

This book explores searchingly a theme that is presently rocking the academic world and one that concerns everyone who realizes the vital role of education and educational standards in shaping the future of the free world.

Tech Theater Will Present Broadway Hit

RUSTON (Special) — "Desperate Hours," the melodramatic Broadway stage hit that was turned into a successful movie, will be presented in a five - night run at Louisiana Tech by the Tech Theater Players, Nov. 5-9.

Roles assigned for "Desperate Hours" are as follows: Bobby Hicks of Shreveport as Tom Winston; J. T. Seale of El Dorado as Jesse Bard; Don Barney of Shreveport as Harry Carson; Betty Weingart of Hamilton, Ill., as Eleanor Hillard (the wife); Larry Larance of Warren, Ark., as Ralphie Hilliard (the son); Edward Finuf of Shreveport as Dan Hilliard (the husband); Barbara Joiner of Ruston as Cindy Hilliard (the daughter).

Allen Brown of Baton Rouge as Glenn Griffin, Edward Flatt of Bernice as Hank Griffin, Tommy Cumella of Shreveport as Rolish (the three escapees), Bruce Bagwell of Choudrant as Chuck Wright Gary Young of Ruston at Lt. Carl Fredericks; Carolyn Young of Miss Swift.

The action of the play is set chiefly in the house of a family in Indianapolis, where everything is as normal and commonplace as can be among husband and wife their grown daughter and adoescent son — that is until three fleeing outlaws turn up to hold the family captive until further means of escape are provided them.

How the members of this family live for two days under the terror of their unexpected guests, and finally outwit them, forms the main plot of the play.

Organists' Guild Forms District Unit

The American Guild of Organists formed a chapter in the Northeast Louisiana district, a spokesman for the group announced yesterday. The guild is a national organization of church organists and choir directors dedicated to the furthering of church music, it was explained.

The charter meeting of the local guild was held this week at the First Baptist Church of West Monroe. After an informal musical program, the newly elected sub-dean, George Murray Lawn, took the members present on an extensive tour of the church's new organ.

Other officers elected at the business session were: Charles Wilhite, dean; Henry Freeman, secretary - treasurer, and W. B. Mask, III, chairman of membership committee.

It was decided that the group should hold monthly meetings with musical programs open to the public. The group extended an invitation for all organists and choir directors interested in joining the organization to write the American Guild of Organists, P.O. Box 225, Monroe.

Whooping Crane Stamp Details Are Released

Collectors of U. S. commemoratives will be interested in details of the 3-cent whooping crane stamp, fourth in the wildlife conservation series, previously announced in this column.

The central subject is a female whooping crane bending over two of her young. The male bird is in the background. The big birds are white, the chicks yellow and the background blue.

Stamp collectors desiring first day covers may send their addressed envelopes to either or both of the cities prior to Nov. 22, together with money order remittances covering the cost of the stamps to be affixed. The outside envelopes to the postmaster shou'd be endorsed "First Day Covers Whooping Crane Stamp."

The U. S. Post Office Department is planning to send more than one million dollars worth of postal rarities to be exhibited at the Ninth ASDA Postage Stamp

Show in New York, Nov. 22 through 24. Some of the items never have been displayed publicly. Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield says the exhibits will be under constant guard.

Queen Elizabeth II will appear on a new 7½-pence stamp to be issued by Australia Nov. 13. The stamp will feature the Queen's portrait in sculptured form and will be the same size as the 7½-pence King George VI stamp which it will replace.

Advance notice from Down Under also has been received that both Australia and New Zealand will issue a commemorative stamp to mark the 30th anniversary of the first air crossing of the Tasman Sea by Sir Charles Kingsford Smith. The date of issuance is September 1958.

Inger Stevens Doesn't Like To Be Compared

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Being a Swede, Inger Stevens has naturally been compared with Ingrid Bergman. Being fresh-faced and blonde, she has been compared with Grace Kelly. . .

"Though they are complimentary, I hate comparisons," says Inger. "I suppose they are the result of a laziness of description; people can't think up new adjectives, so they make comparisons. But I'd rather be known as Inger Stevens."

My bet is that she will get her way. Already she has made a fine impression as Bing Crosby's leading lady in "Man on Fire." She went on to "Cry Terror" with James Mason, and is now playing opposite Yul Brynner in "The Buccaneer."

What does she have?

She is strikingly beautiful, as Bergman and Kelly were. She is also a convincing dramatic actress. And Inger is warm and friendly, which the two noted expatriates were not.

Inger is full of interesting notions. At lunch she took her fruit juice with a chaser — "The body can't absorb juice in such concentrated form." She is a great one for bran muffins and yogurt, and her lunch consisted of juice, green beans and rice. But you can't knock such a diet when you see the results on her.

Ingen is an authentic Swede, but she's also an American beauty. She came to this country at 10, lived in both Manhattans — New York and Kansas. She grew up in the latter, where her father was a teacher at Kansas State Agriculture College.

"I've been supporting myself since I was 15," she related. "I've done everything, including taking inventory at Montgomery Ward in Kansas. What fun it was —counting wool socks with the temperature 115!"

'No Down Payment' Spotlights Modern Way Of Life In City

In "No Down Payment," the CinemaScope picture which opened today at the Paramount Theatre, the spotlight is turned on eight young stars who bring together the best of Hollywood's fresh talent. They are Joanne Woodward, Sheree North, Tony Randall, Jeffrey Hunter, Cameron Mitchell, Patricia Owens, Barbara Rush and Pat Hingle.

Even more than successfully showing these young players in their justly deserved limelight, "No Down Payment" is a gripping, true - to - life drama with tremendous impact. It is an adult picture, sophisticated, frank in its revelation of the neatly patterned modern way of life in a large suburban housing project. It peers through these tidy glass houses and explores the hopes, the frustrations, the weaknes and passions of the "average young marrieds" who are trying to make a better life for themselves and their families.

The eight young stars play neighbors in a Los Angeles suburb tract housing development. The screenplay follows their adventures, and misadventures, with intimate detail. There is the couple whose wife is attacked by a neighbor's husband, brilliantly played by Jeffrey Hunter, Patricia Owens and Cameron Mitchell. There is also the man with the "big promoter" complex, whose wife stands by him as long as she can endure. They are played with deep conviction by Tony Randall and Sheree North. There is also the couple, well - adjusted, with the possible exception that he refuses to go to church, played by Pat Hingle and Barbara Rush. These two people could almost be your own neighbors, their performances are that natural. Last is the superb performance by Joanne Woodward, as the Southern, uneducated, but most mature woman of the group, whose husband attacks the neighbor's wife.

When "Omnibus" does the "Life of Samuel Johnson" on NBC sometime in December, Peter Ustinov, British actor - dramatist, will play Johnson and Emlyn Williams, an equally illustrious compatriot, will play Samuel Boswell.

For a 10 - week period starting Oct. 28, NBC's educational series, 6 to 6:30 p.m., Mondays through Fridays, will present five new program series: the International Geophysical Year, mathematics with Clifton Fadiman, art as inspired by the Greek myths, the story of man, resources and civilization, and a study of the executive branch of the federal government.

When "Hallmark Hall of Fame" presents "On Borrowed Time" on NBC Nov. 17, Ed Wynn will have the leading role of the grandfather. Claude Rains also is in the cast.

Little Theater Curtain Call

By SANDRA JOHNSON

The stardust has fallen, the curtain has been closed and "The Reluctant Debutante" has been filed away as a pleasant memory. But the Little Theatre is still working away, in fact as long as the theatre season remains open the Little Theatre's work never stops.

Now that the first production of the year is over, the next play is "Hatful of Rain." Readings will be held this coming Tuesday night at the Little Theatre in Selman Field at 8:00 p. m. The cast of "Hatful of Rain" offer arts for seven men and two women. It's going to take a tremendous amount of choosing to come up with a cast for "Hatful of Rain," so any and everyone that is interested in working in a Little Theatre play be sure and be there Tuesday for the readings.

"Hatful of Rain" is a complete reverse from the comedy preceeding it. Brutal, yet tender in its compassionate understanding of ordinary human beings in a supreme crisis, "Hatful of Rain" explores a seldom - discussed modern problem with power and profound insight.

Board member Ted Landhy attended the University of Illinois homecoming this past week end. It was his class of 1922 reunion. By he way, Illinois won!

Traveling to Shreveport this past week end to see "Around the World in 80 Days," was Julius Cahn, Jr., Harriet and Joe Kern, Scherk Bogen, Regenia Scherk, and Sophia Laudenheimer.

Don't forget the readings this coming Tuesday, at 8:00. We'd like to see another wonderful turnout!

Neatly Shod Dogs Patrol U. S. Airbase

By JOHN BAUSMAN

LANDSTUHL, Germany (AP) — If anyone comes prowling around the big U. S. air force base here he runs a good chance of a rough encounter with a big sharp - eyed and sharp - toothed watchdog.

And what's more, that dog will probably be wearing shoes!

German sheep dogs, or schaeferhunds, have been enlisted in the big job of patrolling this sprawling airbase.

The schaeferhund has a long tradition as a faithful shepherd's helper and watchdog. Gentle and responsive to handlers, he can be trained to attack intruders with fierce courage.

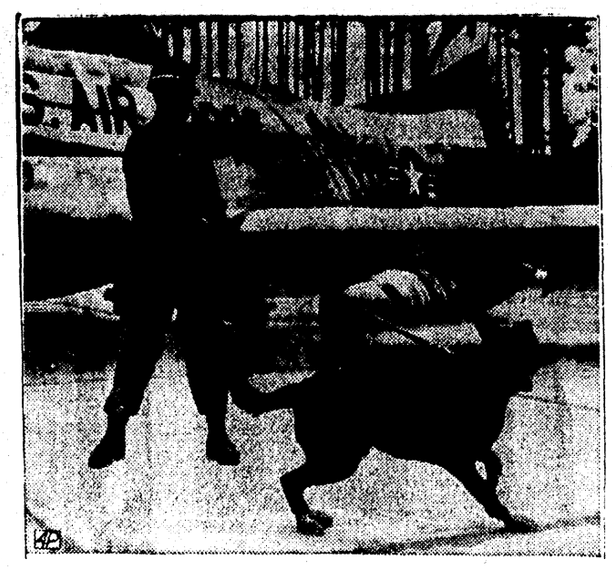
Much of the airbase patrol duty takes the dogs over hard concrete runways. Shortly after they were first assigned to the important guard duty, their German handlers noticed that the constant padding over the concrete was giving them sore feet.

The problem was solved with shoes.

Expert German shoemakers fashion each set of dog shoes from tracings of the animal's foot print. At first the dogs fussed at the footgear but by now they have become accustomed to the idea and would no more go on duty without them than would their two - legged human buddies.

Furthermore the pampered and valuable watchdogs have a choice of footwear. Each one is equipped with several sets of shoes.

And when it comes to inspections the privileged animals are even luckier than their soldier buddies. The handlers do the polishing for them.



DANGER, MEAN DOG! This snarling schaeferhund demonstrates his way of chasing uninvited visitors from the U.S. Air Force base at Landstuhl, Germany To protect his feet from concrete runways, he wears shoes.

District Lions To Meet Here Tuesday Night

Zone 3-B of District 8-L, Lions Club International, will hold its annual fall meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. on the Virginia Hotel Roof, James W. Moore, zone chairman, has announced.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be Otto E. Passman, U. S. Representative from the Fifth Congressional District.

Over 300 people from the Monroe, North Monroe, West Monroe, and Columbia Lions Clubs are expected to attend, according to James W. Moore, zone chairman.

The zone meeting on Tuesday will replace the regular meetings of the Monroe and North Monroe Clubs. Moore urged all Lions, their wives and guests from the zone to be present.

JC Candy Sales Well Underway

The second annual Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce "Trick or Treat" caramel candy sale which started Thursday night, shows promise of surpassing last year's project by far, Joe Rabun, sales chairman, said yesterday.

He said the door-to-door sale got underway on schedule in both Monroe and West Monroe, and that the response by the public was "extremely gratifying."

The Jaycees are selling one pound bags of caramels which they say are ideal for Halloween "trick or treat" favors.

Team captains Bob Aymond, Joe Clements, Bill Cummings, Tom Easterling, Bill Hardy, Al Kessler, Fred Landry, Jim Parnell and Bob Weaver said that thus far only a limited area has been covered, and that Jaycees will continue their sale Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

East Carroll Fair Records Large Entries

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special) —The largest number of individual placings ever made at the state fair by East Carroll 4-H Club members was recorded for 1957, according to information released by J. R. Jeter, assistant county agent.

The East Carroll parish group of calves consisted of 15 fat steers and breeding Angus, and 15 placings were made in the various classes open to the 4-H Club members.

Winners

Beef breeding class, Angus: junior heifer, fifth, David Lensing; 9th, Jimmie King.

Third in State

In the parish group which consisted of the top eight calves exhibited by parishes, the East Carroll group placed third in the state. The group consisted of calves owned by David Lensing, Joyce Stephens, Dick Shepherd, Gilbert Burgess, Jimmie King, W. J. Erwin, Ronald Walley and Darrell Washam.

Dick Shepherd of the Lake Providence 4-H Club placed third in showmanship in the contest for boys under 14.

A total of $164.50 in prizes was won by these entries.

Rev. Boddie's Topic Is Given

"On Shouldering Responsibility!" will be the sermon subject of the Reverend W. D. Boddie at the 11:00 a.m. service Sunday, October 20, at the Rayville Methodist Church. Mrs. J. E. Ball will direct the Chancel Choir in their Anthem. Mrs. W. L. Calhoun, Sr. will be the organist. This service will be broadcast on KCLP 990 kc., Rayville.

The Altar Prayer Time will again be a feature of the 7:00 p.m. service when the pastor's sermon subject will be "Be Ye Perfect!"

Entertainment for all the family is promised at the Millsaps PTA Variety Show to be presented Tuesday night, October 29, in the West Monroe High School Auditorium. Talent for the many diversified numbers has been drawn from Millsaps School and the West Monroe High School, and the program scheduled should provide interest to everyone. The three little troupers pictured above are Dency Lewis, Patsy Lolley and Betty Crain.—Adv.

GOODMAN'S BAND

Concert-Dance Set At NE November 5

Benny Goodman's band, headed by star trombonist Urbie Green, will play a concert and dance date here on Nov. 5 at Northeast State.

The double feature is being brought to Monroe by the college's Student Council. Concert time will be from 7 to 8 p.m. in Brown Auditorium on the campus, and the semi-formal dance will follow from 9 to 12 p.m in the newly-decorated and enlarged Student Center

Admission cost for the concert is $1 per person, and cost of the dance is $2 for an individual or couple.

The 15-piece orchestra, just organized and rehearsed by the King of Swing himself, includes some of the nation's top instrumentalists.

Trombone Styles

Featuring Green's solid trombone styles, the aggregation will play the old Benny Goodman standards — "Memories of You," "Let's Dance," "King Porter Stomp," "Riding' High," "And the Angels Sing," and others — plus swinging arrangements of current favorites in a varied, all-new repertoire.

Trio, quartet, sextet and big band — all will perform. The famed maestro was the first band leader to establish a small unit within an orchestra.

The present Goodman unit is making its first national tour since Benny returned from a journey in the Far East early this year. That overseas trip for the State Department and the American National Theatre and Academy (ANTA) was greeted with tremendous enthusiasm by admiring Asians and created untold goodwill for the United States.

Appeared in N.Y

Green is no stranger to the great Goodman style. He first appeared as trombonist with Benny at a record - breaking engagement in New York's Basin Street Club in 1954. In the filmed biography of the King of Swing's life, Urbie played all the trombone solos.

Goodman rehearsed the group which will play here to his high standards of perfection. Thus, it swings with the familiar old maestro verve.

The order of Cistercian nuns was founded in France in 1125.

Archibald Man Information Chief

Colonel Rachal came to Carson last year as executive officer of the 60th Infantry Regiment Soon afterwards he was named commanding officer of the 3rd battalion, 60th.

Col. Rachal began his military career 17 years ago on graduation from Louisiana State University where he earned an ROTC commission. While assigned to the 501 Airborne Battalion, he helped enlarge it to a regimental-size unit.

He has served with the 11th Airborne Division in Japan, as an ROTC professor at the University of Pennsylvania and as chief of the athletic branch, Headquarters U. S. Army Europe.

Church Of Christ Showing Growth

The College Town Church of Christ will observe its second anniversary December 1 next. The members, now rapidly approaching the 100 mark, worship in Brown auditorium at the college here.

The Rev. Meredith Johnson, former pastor of a church in Sterlington, now is local pastor. He has removed here and is located with his wife and two sons in a home on Moore avenue.

The services of this church are at 9 a.m. worship in Brown hall; 10 a.m. Bible study and 5:30 p.m. there is an evening worship service.

GUIDE TO GOOD READING

Many New Books At Ouachita Library

By FRANCES FLANDERS
(Ouachita Parish Librarian)

Each week numerous new books are added to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library and among the new titles this week there are books for every type of reader. Angela Thirkell is an English author who has a large following. Those who like her think she is wonderful. There is no being luke-warm about Thirkell, either you are a Thirkell fan or you are not. Miss Thirkell has created an imaginary world of Barsetshire, a small corner of England. She has peopled this world with a charming set of characters, many of whom we have met over and over again. Her newest novel dealing with these perfectly delightful people is called "A Double Affair." It might have been called "Matrimonial Fever" for it is occupied with numerous weddings. Read it and see just who marries whom.

Dorothy Clarke Wilson is a writer who has a rare feeling for Biblical personages and scenes. Her latest novel is called "The Gifts." It recreates dramatically and reverently the twelfth year of Jesus's life — a year of strong inner stirrings and awakening consciousness of his divine mission. The gifts — the gold, frankincense and myrrh, received by Jesus from the Wise men at his birth — are the touchstones of a plot abounding with the excitement, drama and even violence of the Biblical world. The household of Joseph and Mary as well as the rich background of an ancient culture are brought to life in this book by a skilled novelist and Biblical scholar. In preparation for the writing of this book she spent considerable time in Palestine, following the same roads and visiting the same spots that Jesus knew as a youth. It is a beautifully written book and deserves to take its place with her other Biblical novels, "The Brother," "The Herdsman," "Prime of Egypt and "Jedebel." We have all of these books at the library and if you missed one, now is a good time to go back and read it.

A fascinating and absorbing novel of contemporary America is "The Wise Children" by Christine Weston. It is the story of twin sisters, Delia Dalton and Frances Hight and of Delia's children, Veronica and Nicholas, who are the wise children of the story. These children know there is a secret in the lives of their Mother and her twin sister, but not until the end of the book, do we and the children find what it is.

There is a growing interest in the past of our country and a book which will add much to our knowledge of its past is called "American Ferryboats" and was written by John Perry. This is a fascinating book and starts with the earliest ferries which were Indian Pirogues and the earliest ferrymen, who were Indians and comes up to the modern steam ferryboat which are still an important part of the scene in New York and other localities. Have you ever wondered how our ancestors made the trek from the Eastern colonies to Louisiana? This book will do much to add to your information. It is a beautifully illustrated book and will provide entertainment as well as information.

An outstanding historian and biographer is Harold Lamb and a new book by this author is eagerly awaited. His latest book is called "Constantinople: Birth of An Empire." It is the story of this magic city in the era of Justinian the Great, who established the Eastern Roman Empire. Mr. Lamb writes in an exciting manner and gives great care to details. His books are authentic and at the same time most interesting to read. Students of early medieval history will not want to miss "Constantinople" by Harold Lamb.

If you would like a book of pure humor, read "Get Away From Me with Those Christmas Gifts" written by Sylvia Wright. This is a delightful and sophisticated book dealing with the problems of modern life. None of us have all of them, but we will all recognize ourselves in some of them. Don't miss this book if you want a delightful evening's entertainment.

Are you an executive? If so, you may want to read "The Techniques of Delegating: How to Get Things Done Through Others" by Donald A. Laird and Eleanor C. Laird. The chapters have such interesting titles as "When to Delegate" "When Not to Delegate" and "People we should not delegate to." An executive should beware of delegating outside his office.

A fascinating new book dealing with an almost unknown aspect of World War II is "The Sledge Patrol" by David Howarth. Its location is Northeast Greenland in the year 1943. This is the story of how seven brave Danish and Norwegian hunters protected the allied weather station in northern Greenland from the German invaders. This is a sage of human skill, faith and endurance — and one of the most remarkable stories to come out of the war.

A stimulating new book is called "Any Number Can Play" and was written by Clifton Fadiman. There is not a page that is not lit with a phrase, a sentence, an epigram that will be joyfully quoted wherever people value good company. With this book Clifton Fadiman takes his place among those few American authors who can express ideas that evoke both an intellectual and a popular response.

There is no lure greater than that of hidden treasure. There is something in each of us that responds with the idea that it would be fun to search for it. "Treasure Under the Sea" by N. B. Stirling is the story of the rich hordes of gold, jewels and currency which lie buried beneath the waters of the sea. Successful attempts have been made to locate some of it, but many more unsuccessful tries have failed. It is an absorbing story and one that men and boys will enjoy reading.

A book for which we have had numerous requests and one which promises to be widely read is "Bridge to the Sun" by Gwen Terasaki. This is the true story of an American woman, who married a Japanese diplomat in 1931. When the war came she was interred with the Japanese diplomatic corps and sent back to Japan on the exchange ship Gripsholm. There she spent the war years, an Alien in an unfriendly country. This is her own story of these years and of the people of Japan. It is written with rare feeling and sympathy and is one that will give every reader a better understanding of the Japanese people.

An autobiography which has had good reviews, but which seems to me to be in very poor taste is "Forbidden Childhood" by Ruth Slenczynska.

In searching for new books, remember that there are many delightful old ones which you may have missed and which you can borrow from one of the branches of the Ouachita Parish Public Library.

Fanfare Is Press Agent's Confessions

FANFARE; The Confessions of a Press Agent. By Richard Maney. Harper. $4.95.

For more than a quarter-century Maney has been one of the principal ballyhoo hucksters of Broadway stage attractions. As such, his success has been remarkable in that he seldom has gone in for orchidaceous phrases to make the stars, producers and playwrights whom he publicizes seem like Greek gods.

Instead, with his Irish wit and gifted phrasing in praise and, sometimes, mild criticism of his clients behind the footlights, he has made them seem like human beings to win understanding and good will from theatergoers to the topmost row of the balcony.

Now, from his rich experiences in the behind - scenes working of producing a Broadway play or musical, Maney has set down an exciting account of his long experiences with the various theatrical big names. He cal's it "Fanfare," but his chapter titles are equally intriguing — "To Err Is Human," "Meet the Press," and "Billing Without Cooing."

In sounding the drum for such theatrical notables at Tallulah Bankhead, Billy Rose, Ed Wynn, Florenz Ziegfeld, Jed Harris and Helen Hayes, his artful language has become a cherished Broadway legend. His summation of people in the theater is that "No other people live so dangerously. . . True many of them are a little teched but, then, so am I."

SUSPENSE

A Dramatic Novel Of Past And Future

A WEEK IN THE COUNTRY, by Ernest Gebler (Doubleday, $3.95).

Against the background of age-old, peaceful River Meadows, a farm in northwest England, an intense drama of tremendous power and depth is played out in this novel of a modern family caught between the way of the past and the way of the future.

Eddie Robertson had devoted most of his life to nursing the family farm back to productivity. At thirty-eight he found his heart and hopes deeply rooted in the rich soil of River Meadows, although his two elder brothers, Mark and Carl, held the title to the farm. To persuade them to surrender ownership, Eddie invited his two brothers home. But it soon appeared that they had compelling reasons of their own for returning after twenty-three years in America.

A mysterious feud smouldered dangerously between Mark and Carl. Eddie's snug private world was threatened as his mistress began to find Mark attractive. Then, as tempers tautened, a three-way battle of ideas blazed out fiercely and openly among the three brothers.

Three widely different attitudes toward life are thrown into dramatic relief as these three brothers' conflicts become those of every thoughtful person in today's world. Here is a trenchant statement of the ideas by which men live, set in a strong and warmly human story.

Leftover Life To Kill Is A Novel Of Deep Passions

"Two fat trusting fools" —thus Caitlin Thomas remembers sardonically her impassioned life with the poet Dylan. "We got drunk, quarrelled, made love, never once thinking of tomorrow," she writes.

In November, 1953, Dylan Thomas, no less prodigious a drinker than a poet, died in New York. His wife suffered a stormy, spectacular collapse. Year before last Malcolm Brinnin wrote on Thomas in this country, with emphasis on the g.zzling and the turbulence. Mrs. Thomas wrote a fervid protest and the publisher used it in Brinnin's book. Now she has a book all her own, and clearly merits it; with her free gestures, her temperament and her abandon, she needs nothing less than a book to move around in.

With a billowing head of hair, a high forehead, a wide smiling mouth and a taste for fripperies, Mrs. Thomas is all woman, and though she seems to have little use for mankind, she is marvelously fond of individual man. She rages at the "poisonous atmosphere" here that gave Dylan a gooey welcome, and angrily charges American women ganged up to snitch him from her. She criticizes the Welsh, but evidently she got even by, in turn, snitching their sons and husbands as her lovers. She has at the English and the Irish.

With all this off her bosom, she has a good word for a couple of Italians, in particular her faithful young lover Joseph.

This is the story of a woman who suffered a profound shock. But shock or no shock, she would have written at this white heat anyway; it is her nature as it was Dylan's.

A Story Of Love In City 'Care Forgot'

LILY AND THE SERGEANT. By Martin Yoseloff. Funk & Wagnalls. $3.75.

An ambitious girl, hostess in a New Orleans dance hall, pretty Lily finds hard-bitten Army Sgt. Paulsen among her patrons and fires him with ambition, too.

Paulsen is a career soldier. His men may yearn for civilian life but he, in his mid-30s, with no family connections, likes running a company. Yet when the boys meet gir's, he feels a secret envy for a way of life he believes he ought to enjoy and believes might be superior to his if he only could enter into it and experience it. Lily opens this door for him, but the more he learns to appreciate it, the more apparent it becomes that her ambition is not the same as his.

Yoseloff avoids the grand and spectacular and is painstakingly careful not to force a plot on his materia'. But there's a fine nostalgic bittersweet flavor to this short novel by a warm-hearted novelist.

Mystery Ending Is Thrilling

LOUISE by JOAN DERING (Ives Washburn, Inc. $2.95)

Marty Harding was aboard a train for "Lyonesse," a convalescent home near the village where she grew up. Her recent illness had left her weakened and low in spirit, and she looked forward to a good long rest. A good many years had passed since she had seen this part of the country and she was enjoying her memories.

The man, who sat across the aisle with his wife, kept staring as if he thought he might know her. His wife leaned over and introduced herself to Marty, and the name brought back all the ugly events of seven years ago she had been trying so hard to forget. She wondered how she could have possibly forgotten Chief - Inspector Dalton, who had been in charge of investigating the tragic disappearance of her sister, Louise.

Inspector Dalton thought Louise had been murdered, but could never find the evidence to prove it. The newspapers and general public thought Louise had committed suicide. Her body had never been found, and Marty found it hard to believe that a person of Louise's temperament would commit suicide. Her sister had been a head-strong, beautiful girl, and little consideration for anyone but herself. She had been in love with Henry Darrell, who taught at a boy's school near Seafield, where Louise and Marty lived with their father.

Marty spent her first few days at "Lyonesse" just recuperating. However, she soon found herself involved in a merry-go-round of events that led to the final clearing up of the old mystery surrounding her sister. She also found herself falling in love with her sister's ex-fiancee, Henry Darrell. She feared Inspector Dalton's presence in the village, and this fear kept her looking for evidence before he could find it. She was afraid he might suspect the wrong person.

The reader is in for a surprise when Marty finally solves this mystery.

Geologists in western Kansas are studying fossil bones which they claim existed 60 million years ago when, they claim the Niobrara Sea occupied a vast area of that state.

Met Opera Opening To Strains Of Tchaikovsky's Rare 'Onegin'

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor

All the broughams, landaus and town cars, all the top hats, opera capes and canes, all the diamonds and tiaras, all the young men with gold dust powdering their hair and wearing their leopard skin waistcoats, all society's deepest cleavages — they will turn out this year, or at least they have in the past, for the opening of the Metropolitan Opera.

If they are not going in order to see and hear one another, they are going to see and hear Tchaikovsky's "Eugene Onegin."

One year it was "Don Carlos," then "Norma," then it was "Aida." Why with more than 100 standard operas to choose from does Rudolf Bing pick this work instead of that? Would more people come to one opera then another on that gala occasion?

The shrewd, popular and, it begins to seem, permanent general manager of the Met was inclined to think:

"No, they come anyway."

He went on: "There are innumerable angles to the choice of the first-night work, and before telling you why I picked 'Onegin,' I must explain how this repertory theater chooses its whole season's programs."

First of all, the Met must decide how many weeks it will run. Then it faces these questions: How many new productions are possible, how much money will there be, how many different works are needed for the various series of subscribers?

Furthermore, the house carries over successful works from the past season. It may find usable sets and costumes in the warehouse to permit an inexpensive revival. Finally, one number is box office and another isn't; for one work there is a cast and for another, the Met hasn't the right singers.

"So for the coming season it shaped up this way:

"We are doing a brand-new work, Samuel Barber's 'Vanessa.' A friend gave us the money for a new authentically Japanese 'Madame Butterfly.' We decided we must modernize 'Don Giovanni.'

"Then we considered what it was possible to do further. It occurred to me we had not done much Russian opera, and nothing new for a long time. Looking more closely, we realized we had the cast for 'Onegin:' George London in the title role, Lucine Amara as Tatyana and Richard Tucker as Lenski. We got a new English translation.

"Now there were runners-up. We studied 'Onegin' and the other contenders. If for instance Dimitri Mitropoulos had said he hated 'Onegin' and wouldn't conduct, I might have changed my mind. But he wanted to do it. So that's it."

Peter Brook is stage manager, Rolf Gerard is doing scenery and costumes. The decision was reached the end of last year, the people in charge got together and discussed their problems, they went to work.

Tarnished Tower Is An Exploring Work

THE TARNISHED TOWER by Ann Marbut (David McKay Company, Inc., $3.95). A Novel of Educational Huckstering.

This is an angry book—one that will probably upset your belief that all is well in the college world. The horror of the book is the fact that much of it is true, or would at least fit the facts on some college campuses. At any rate, the book is one that you will read and it will give you pause to think.

It is a story of educational huckstering at a state university, of the men and women who are out to sell education with a capital E just as the advertisers of cereals sell their product. It is Madison Avenue brought to the campus.

Principals in this novel of life in a university town are Jerry Scott, a teacher of political science less interested in learning than in getting to the top of the professional ladder; his wife Peg, unlike Jerry, a human being with values and integrity; and Jonathon Reed, a leading professor at an even larger university, but one who has to the top of the professional ladder; his wife Peg, unlike Jerry, a human being with values and integrity; and Jonathon Reed, a leading professor at an even larger university, but one who has achieved his success with decency, honesty, and dignity. Peg Scott had married Jerry believing he shared her ideals, and it was not until he wangled an appointment at Charleston State and began to listen to the siren song of the sinister Ross Adams, assistant to the president, that she began to realize the corrupting effects of power and the struggle for it. Wrapped up as she was in the writing of a novel, it was only when Adams and her husband had all but succeeded in taking over the reins of the university from the faltering hands of President Neilson that the scales fell from her eyes. How she faces her problem, torn as she is between love and integrity, what happens to Jerry and the proponents of Big Education, and the fateful role of Jonathon Reed in the development of the crisis on the campus make this story a timely and absorbing book.

This book explores searchingly a theme that is presently rocking the academic world and one that concerns everyone who realizes the vital role of education and educational standards in shaping the future of the free world.

Whistling Lighting Disclosing Secrets

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Whistling lithning flashes are disclosin unexpected secrets about space 6,000 to 20,000 miles above the earth.

The lightning indicates space is not so terribly empty after all. Our electrified high atmosphere seems to stretch thousands of miles, not just 200 or 300 as long thought.

Lightning does this by generating a kind of silent radiowave thunder which speeds far out into space, and back again. The sound comes home, on radio receivers, as "whistlers." The whistle runs from a high to a low pitch, like the last half of a wolf whistle over Marilyn Monroe.

The radio whistle from a single lightning flash in your city can arch 15,000 miles ahrough space, coming to earth in the southern hemisphene. Then it can echo back on the same path to the starting point.

At least one whistler has made more than 20 such great round-trips, within a minute, audible at both places each time." It probably covered a total distance of 600,000 miles.

To do this, it had to follow earthly lines of magnetic force reaching far into space. To do that, there had to be some atmosphere of electrons or electrified particles in the magnetic fields.

The general scientific idea has been that our electrified upper atmosphere, the ionosphere, reaches only 200 miles or so above the earth, tapering off within a thousand miles or so to nothing.

Whistlers are sayig "no", that there are 400 or more electrified particles in less than a thimbleful of space at distances of nearly 20,000 miles.

Bad News

Such a concentration could be bad news for our baby moons which go exploring space soon. They may meet so much air drag that they fall to earth much sooner than anticipated.

So intriguing are the findings from whistlers and from the dawn chonus" — another kind of radio sound from space—that they have been made a major study during the International Geophysical Year (IGY).

At least 30 whistler and dawn chorus stations are at work around the globe. All findings, from the United States, Russia, Australia and elsewhere, will be shared fully and freely to learn what the whistlers are saying.

The fascinating story begins in World War I. A German physicist, Heinrich Barkhausen, found he could overhear Allied telephone calls, behind his own lines, by sticking probes into the ground to pick up leading electric currents.

In Theory

Lightning generates radio energy. Some of it manages to escape into space. The radio wave speeds along magnetic lines of force, comes to earth again at the symmetrical point on the earth in the opposite hemisphere.

Shorter waves from the lightning travel faster, come to earth first. So the whistler, as recorded by an amplifier, starts with a high pitch, descending to a low pitch as the slower, longer waves get home. A whistler lasts one to three seconds.

To arch and curve this way, the radio wave would have to be guided by electrified particles. This meant there had to be at least some 400 electrons per cubic inch in space at tremendous distances from earth.

This report excited numerous scientists, who set to work to test the theory and proof that natural whistlers do behave as Storey said has come from several experiments within the last few years.

At the Boulder, Colo., laboratories of the National Bureau of Standards, a whistler has been recorded which made more than 20 round trips before becoming too faint to hear or record. It behaved like a yo-yo, travelling at about one-tenth of the speed of light.

They indicate that rays and particles coming from the sun are screened by more than just the 200-mile dense umbrella of the ionosphere.

They can add greatly to knowledge of the upper atmosphere, and greater understanding of magetism and aurorae or northern and southern lights. How the sun affects the earth and its inhabitants. There may even come methods of using electrons far out in space for radio transmissions.

Whistler receivers also are recording the strange dawn chorus, so named because it resembles the chirping or warbling of birds greeting a new day.

The dawn chorus is very low frequency waves which appear to generate somewhere in the outer atmosphere, Prof. Robert A. Helliwell of Stanford explains. They run a gamut from warblings to hisses and other sounds.

Their origin is not known. One theory, from Roger Galleto of the Boulder laboratories and Helliwell is that streams of particles from the sun which cause the aurorae and magnetic storms play a part in producing the chorus. These streams ripping along lines of magetic force may somehow create or transfer the energy heard as the dawn chorus.

In them, says Dr. Helliwell, lie clues to streams of energy from the sun, magnetic lines of force, northern lights, and the real structure of the earth's uppermost atmosphere.

Neatly Shod Dogs Patrol U. S. Airbase

By JOHN BAUSMAN

LANDSTUHL, Germany (AP) — If anyone comes prowling around the big U. S. air force base here he runs a good chance of a rough encounter with a big sharp - eyed and sharp - toothed watchdog.

And what's more, that dog will probably be wearing shoes!

German sheep dogs, or schaeferhunds, have been enlisted in the big job of patrolling this sprawling airbase.

The schaeferhund has a long tradition as a faithful shepherd's helper and watchdog. Gentle and responsive to handlers, he can be trained to attack intruders with fierce courage.

Much of the airbase patrol duty takes the dogs over hard concrete runways. Shortly after they were first assigned to the important guard duty, their German handlers noticed that the constant padding over the concrete was giving them sore feet.

The problem was solved with shoes.

Expert German shoemakers fashion each set of dog shoes from tracings of the animal's foot print. At first the dogs fussed at the footgear but by now they have become accustomed to the idea and would no more go on duty without them than would their two - legged human buddies.

Furthermore the pampered and valuable watchdogs have a choice of footwear. Each one is equipped with several sets of shoes.

And when it comes to inspections the privileged animals are even luckier than their soldier buddies. The handlers do the polishing for them.

DANGER, MEAN DOG! This snarling schaeferhund demonstrates his way of chasing uninvited visitors from the U.S. Air Force base at Landstuhl, Germany To protect his feet from concrete runways, he wears shoes.

District Lions To Meet Here Tuesday Night

Zone 3-B of District 8-L, Lions Club International, will hold its annual fall meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. on the Virginia Hotel Roof, James W. Moore, zone chairman, has announced.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be Otto E. Passman, U. S. Representative from the Fifth Congressional District.

Over 300 people from the Monroe, North Monroe, West Monroe, and Columbia Lions Clubs are expected to attend, according to James W. Moore, zone chairman.

The zone meeting on Tuesday will replace the regular meetings of the Monroe and North Monroe Clubs. Moore urged all Lions, their wives and guests from the zone to be present.

JC Candy Sales Well Underway

The second annual Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce "Trick or Treat" caramel candy sale which started Thursday night, shows promise of surpassing last year's project by far, Joe Rabun, sales chairman, said yesterday.

He said the door-to-door sale got underway on schedule in both Monroe and West Monroe, and that the response by the public was "extremely gratifying."

The Jaycees are selling one pound bags of caramels which they say are ideal for Halloween "trick or treat" favors.

Team captains Bob Aymond, Joe Clements, Bill Cummings, Tom Easterling, Bill Hardy, Al Kessler, Fred Landry, Jim Parnell and Bob Weaver said that thus far only a limited area has been covered, and that Jaycees will continue their sale Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

East Carroll Fair Records Large Entries

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special) —The largest number of individual placings ever made at the state fair by East Carroll 4-H Club members was recorded for 1957, according to information released by J. R. Jeter, assistant county agent.

The East Carroll parish group of calves consisted of 15 fat steers and breeding Angus, and 15 placings were made in the various classes open to the 4-H Club members.

Winners

Third in State

In the parish group which consisted of the top eight calves exhibited by parishes, the East Carroll group placed third in the state. The group consisted of calves owned by David Lensing, Joyce Stephens, Dick Shepherd, Gilbert Burgess, Jimmie King, W. J. Erwin, Ronald Walley and Darrell Washam.

Dick Shepherd of the Lake Providence 4-H Club placed third in showmanship in the contest for boys under 14.

A total of $164.50 in prizes was won by these entries.

Rev. Boddie's Topic Is Given

"On Shouldering Responsibility!" will be the sermon subject of the Reverend W. D. Boddie at the 11:00 a.m. service Sunday, October 20, at the Rayville Methodist Church. Mrs. J. E. Ball will direct the Chancel Choir in their Anthem. Mrs. W. L. Calhoun, Sr. will be the organist. This service will be broadcast on KCLP 990 kc., Rayville.

The Altar Prayer Time will again be a feature of the 7:00 p.m. service when the pastor's sermon subject will be "Be Ye Perfect!"

Entertainment for all the family is promised at the Millsaps PTA Variety Show to be presented Tuesday night, October 29, in the West Monroe High School Auditorium. Talent for the many diversified numbers has been drawn from Millsaps School and the West Monroe High School, and the program scheduled should provide interest to everyone. The three little troupers pictured above are Dency Lewis, Patsy Lolley and Betty Crain.—Adv.

GOODMAN'S BAND

Concert-Dance Set At NE November 5

Benny Goodman's band, headed by star trombonist Urbie Green, will play a concert and dance date here on Nov. 5 at Northeast State.

The double feature is being brought to Monroe by the college's Student Council. Concert time will be from 7 to 8 p.m. in Brown Auditorium on the campus, and the semi-formal dance will follow from 9 to 12 p.m in the newly-decorated and enlarged Student Center

Admission cost for the concert is $1 per person, and cost of the dance is $2 for an individual or couple.

The 15-piece orchestra, just organized and rehearsed by the King of Swing himself, includes some of the nation's top instrumentalists.

Trombone Styles

Featuring Green's solid trombone styles, the aggregation will play the old Benny Goodman standards — "Memories of You," "Let's Dance," "King Porter Stomp," "Riding' High," "And the Angels Sing," and others — plus swinging arrangements of current favorites in a varied, all-new repertoire.

Trio, quartet, sextet and big band — all will perform. The famed maestro was the first band leader to establish a small unit within an orchestra.

The present Goodman unit is making its first national tour since Benny returned from a journey in the Far East early this year. That overseas trip for the State Department and the American National Theatre and Academy (ANTA) was greeted with tremendous enthusiasm by admiring Asians and created untold goodwill for the United States.

Appeared in N.Y

Green is no stranger to the great Goodman style. He first appeared as trombonist with Benny at a record - breaking engagement in New York's Basin Street Club in 1954. In the filmed biography of the King of Swing's life, Urbie played all the trombone solos.

Goodman rehearsed the group which will play here to his high standards of perfection. Thus, it swings with the familiar old maestro verve.

The order of Cistercian nuns was founded in France in 1125.

Archibald Man Information Chief

Colonel Rachal came to Carson last year as executive officer of the 60th Infantry Regiment Soon afterwards he was named commanding officer of the 3rd battalion, 60th.

Col. Rachal began his military career 17 years ago on graduation from Louisiana State University where he earned an ROTC commission. While assigned to the 501 Airborne Battalion, he helped enlarge it to a regimental-size unit.

He has served with the 11th Airborne Division in Japan, as an ROTC professor at the University of Pennsylvania and as chief of the athletic branch, Headquarters U. S. Army Europe.

Church Of Christ Showing Growth

The College Town Church of Christ will observe its second anniversary December 1 next. The members, now rapidly approaching the 100 mark, worship in Brown auditorium at the college here.

The Rev. Meredith Johnson, former pastor of a church in Sterlington, now is local pastor. He has removed here and is located with his wife and two sons in a home on Moore avenue.

The services of this church are at 9 a.m. worship in Brown hall; 10 a.m. Bible study and 5:30 p.m. there is an evening worship service.

MONROE MORNING WORLD
October 27, 1957

Announcement is being made by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Holbrook McHenry of the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Mary Wilton, to James Cason Fortner. He is the son of Mrs. Henry Douglas Fortner and the late Mr. Fortner, of Tallulah. Their vows will be spoken at 6:30 o'clock in the evening of November 29, in the First Methodist Church. Mr. and Mrs. McHenry will be hosts at a reception in their home on Fairview Ave. following the ceremony.

In the living room of the home of Mrs. W. E. Smith, Jr. on Point Drive are Mrs. Smith, standing left, and Mrs. Custer Primos. Seated left, Mrs. Herbert Wilson, Mrs. Emmett Hobgood, Mrs. Joseph Goyne, Jr. and Mrs. Malcolm Bass. They are discussing final plans for the Fort Miro Chapter D. A. R. tea to be held on November 9. The annual affair, honoring new members, will be given in the home of Mrs. Lewis Slater, Chauvin Ave. from 4 until 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

Planning the formal opening of the "Teke" house activities, this afternoon, are Ronnie Walter, president of the fraternity, and Dan Walker. They were photographed in the chapter room of their new house on College Ave.

Pictured is the newly acquired Epsilon Mu chapter house, of Tau Kappa Epsilon, social fraternity at Northeast College. The new home will be opened formally this afternoon between 2 and 5 o'clock to all alumni, their families and friends.

Whistling Lighting Disclosing Secrets

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Whistling lithning flashes are disclosin unexpected secrets about space 6,000 to 20,000 miles above the earth.

The lightning indicates space is not so terribly empty after all. Our electrified high atmosphere seems to stretch thousands of miles, not just 200 or 300 as long thought.

Lightning does this by generating a kind of silent radiowave thunder which speeds far out into space, and back again. The sound comes home, on radio receivers, as "whistlers." The whistle runs from a high to a low pitch, like the last half of a wolf whistle over Marilyn Monroe.

The radio whistle from a single lightning flash in your city can arch 15,000 miles ahrough space, coming to earth in the southern hemisphene. Then it can ecno back on the same path to the starting point.

At least one whistler has made more than 20 such great roundtrips, within a minute, audible at both places each time." It probably covered a total distance of 600,000 miles.

To do this, it had to follow earthly lines of magnetic force reaching far into space. To do that, there had to be some atmosphere of electrons or electrified particles in the magnetic fields.

The general scientific idea has been that our electrified upper atmosphere, the ionosphere, reaches only 200 miles or so above the earth, tapering off within a thousand miles or so to nothing.

Whistlers are sayig "no", that there are 400 or more electrified particles in less than a thimbleful of space at distances of nearly 20,000 miles.

Bad News

Such a concentration could be bad news for our baby moons which go exploring space soon. They may meet so much air drag that they fall to earth much sooner than anticipated.

So intriguing are the findings from whistlers and from the dawn chonus" — another kind of radio sound from space—that they have been made a major study during the International Geophysical Year (IGY).

At least 30 whistler and dawn chorus stations are at work around the globe. All findings, from the United States, Russia, Australia and elsewhere, will be shared fully and freely to learn what the whistlers are saying.

The fascinating story begins in World War I. A German physicist, Heinrich Barkhausen, found he could overhear Allied telephone calls, behind his own lines, by sticking probes into the ground to pick up leading electric currents.

In Theory

Lightning generates radio energy. Some of it manages to escape into space. The radio wave speeds along magnetic lines of force, comes to earth again at the symmetrical point on the earth in the opposite hemisphere.

Shorter waves from the lightning travel faster, come to earth first. So the whistler, as recorded by an amplifier, starts with a high pitch, descending to a low pitch as the slower, longer waves get home. A whistler lasts one to three seconds.

To arch and curve this way, the radio wave would have to be guided by electrified particles. This meant there had to be at least some 400 electrons per cubic inch in space at tremendous distances from earth.

This report excited numerous scientists, who set to work to test the theory and proof that natural whistlers do behave as Storey said has come from several experiments within the last few years.

At the Boulder, Colo., laboratories of the National Bureau of Standards, a whistler has been recorded which made more than 20 round trips before becoming too faint to hear or record. It behaved like a yo-yo, travelling at about one-tenth of the speed of light.

They indicate that rays and particles coming from the sun are screened by more than just the 200-mile dense umbrella of the ionosphere.

They can add greatly to knowledge of the upper atmosphere, and greater understanding of magetism and aurorae or northern and southern lights. How the sun affects the earth and its inhabitants. There may even come methods of using electrons far out in space for radio transmissions.

Whistler receivers also are recording the strange dawn chorus, so named because it resembles the chirping or warbling of birds greeting a new day.

The dawn chorus is very low frequency waves which appear to generate somewhere in the outer atmosphere, Prof. Robert A. Helliwell of Stanford explains. They run a gamut from warblings to hisses and other sounds.

Their origin is not known. One theory, from Roger Galleto of the Boulder laboratories and Helliwell is that streams of particles from the sun which cause the aurorae and magnetic storms play a part in producing the chorus. These streams ripping along lines of magetic force may somehow create or transfer the energy heard as the dawn chorus.

In them, says Dr. Helliwell, lie clues to streams of energy from the sun, magnetic lines of force, northern lights, and the real structure of the earth's uppermost atmosphere.

Mary Wilton McHenry Is Engaged To James Fortner To Be Wed November 29

Foretelling a late November wedding is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Mary Wilton McHenry to James Cason Fortner, of Monroe and Tallulah.

Miss McHenry is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Holbrook McHenry and Mr. Fortner is the son of Mrs. Henry Douglas Fortner and the late Mr. Fortner, of Tallulah.

The wedding is planned for November 29, at 6:30 o'clock in the evening at the First Methodist Church. A reception will follow the ceremony in the family home on Fairview Ave.

Miss McHenry is a graduate of Neville High School and received her bachelor of arts degree from the Randolph Macon Woman's College in Lynchburg, Va., where she was a member of Phi Mu social sorority. She also studied at Southern Methodist University, Dallas.

Mr. Fortner graduated from Fallulah High School and Louisiana State University. He is a member of Kappa Alpha Order.

Halloween Is Theme Used For First Dance Given By Cotillion Club Members

"Its in the bag!" greeted members of the Cotillion Club as they opened their clever paper bag invitations announcing the particulars of their first dance, held last night at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

An eerie Halloween tree covered with a skeleton, pumpkins, masks, black cats, witches decorated the lobby. The Halloween theme was carried into the main room with corn stalks, other Halloween trimmings, and Lady Witch reigning supreme over the "Witches Brew." The tables were covered with a brown shroud of kraft paper with a centerpiece of Jack O'Lantern surrounded with moss. Each table was provided with snacks of popcorn, potato chips, and pretzels.

Mrs. George W. Mouk, chairman of the dance committee was responsible for the excellent organization of the dance. She was assisted by Mrs. Charles A. Petrus, chairman of the invitations and her committee, Mrs. Thomas R. Henry, Jr., Mrs. Sidney Gill, Mrs. Mortimer Raphael. The decorations were created by Mrs. Sam Rubin, Jr., chairman; Mrs. Allen Jones co-chairman; and their committee, Mrs. Grant Boardman, Mrs. Jack Masur, Mrs. Lon Heuer, Mrs. Roy A. Kelly, Mrs. R. G. Hart, Jr., Mrs. M. H. Smith, Mrs. Paul Ransom, Mrs. Fred Fudickar. The refreshment chairman, Mrs. W. C. Cookston, was assisted by Mrs. D. Rabun Smith. The music was arranged by Mrs. John I. Neel.

The members attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Nelson D. Abell, Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Bancroft, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Grant Boardman, Mr. and Mrs. Reneau Breard, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. 'Tekes' Extend Invitation To Formal Opening

The members of Epsilon Mu Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity will hold "Open House" at their newly acquired home on 1103 College Ave. this afternoon between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock. Plans for the formal opening of the first fraternity house to be located on the College campus have been under way since the opening of school. Teke members have been residing in their new home since the 15th of September. Each member, whether a resident of the house or not, has shown a great interest in his fraternity, feeling that this new interest stems from the forward progress of fraternal interest in connection with their schooling.

The president, Ronnie Walters, extends a cordial invitation to those interested in the growth of Northeast State College and the aid a national college fraternity can give to a young man upon entering college for the first time.

By, for, and about WOMEN

MONROE MORNING WORLD
October 27, 1957

Announcement is being made by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Holbrook McHenry of the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Mary Wilton, to James Cason Fortner. He is the son of Mrs. Henry Douglas Fortner and the late Mr. Fortner, of Tallulah. Their vows will be spoken at 6:30 o'clock in the evening of November 29, in the First Methodist Church. Mr. and Mrs. McHenry will be hosts at a reception in their home on Fairview Ave. following the ceremony.

In the living room of the home of Mrs. W. E. Smith, Jr. on Point Drive are Mrs. Smith, standing left, and Mrs. Custer Primos. Seated left, Mrs. Herbert Wilson, Mrs. Emmett Hobgood, Mrs. Joseph Goyne, Jr. and Mrs. Malcolm Bass. They are discussing final plans for the Fort Miro Chapter D. A. R. tea to be held on November 9. The annual affair, honoring new members, will be given in the home of Mrs. Lewis Slater, Chauvin Ave. from 4 until 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

Planning the formal opening of the "Teke" house activities, this afternoon, are Ronnie Walter, president of the fraternity, and Don Walker. They were photographed in the chapter room of their new house on College Ave.

Pictured is the newly acquired Epsilon Mu chapter house, of Tau Kappa Epsilon, social fraternity at Northeast College. The new home will be opened formally this afternoon between 2 and 5 o'clock to all alumni, their families and friends.

Bridal Parties Continue For Popular Bride-Elect

Miss Sylvia Masur, whose wedding to Jerry Bernat, will be solemnized on November 29, continues to be feted with delightful pre-nuptial parties. Last Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Dave Silverstein were hosts at a dinner party at the Country club honoring the young couple. The guests seated around the large table covered with a pink cloth and centered with a low bowl of pink roses were the honor couple, the hosts and Mr. and Mrs. Myer Weldman, Charles Masur, Bo Pasternack, Mrs. Charles Saltzman and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Silverstein.

Monday, Miss Masur was entertained with a luncheon party given by Mrs. Melvin Greenblatt, Mrs. A. M. Marx, Mrs. Louis Goldman, and Mrs. Hyman Liebreich. The T-shaped table held a miniature wedding cake decorated in pink roses with pink and white roses encircling the base and extending down the table. A miniature bride was standing close by. The guests included with the honoree were Mrs. Ernest Strauss, Mrs. Mark Wilenzick, Mrs. Louis Masur, Mrs. Charles Marx and Mrs. Myer Weldman.

Thursday's compliment to the bride - elect was a luncheon given by Mrs. Joe Marx, Jr. Mrs. Sackman Marx and Mrs. Ralph Marx. For the affair Miss Masur was wearing a frock of red wool with a white orchid corsage.

An arrangement of white chrysanthemums combined with wedding bells ormed the centerpiece for the table. The guests were Mrs. David Aron, Mrs. David Kaplan, Mrs. Irving Liebowitz, Mrs. Edgar Masur, Mrs. Reis Feith, Mrs. Jake Abrams, Mrs. Murry Bernstein, Mrs. Jack Ansell, Mrs. Al Brin, Mrs. Hilda Samors, Mrs. Alex Wilenzick, Mrs. Louis Cohn, Mrs. Joe Marx, Mrs. Percy Sandman, Mrs. A. Froug, Mrs. Myer Weldman, Mrs. Emma Jane Ullman, Mrs. Nathan Waldman, of Kilgore, Texas.

Miss Talbert Gives Review

Mrs. T. G. McKay was hostess for the October meeting of the Bono Nostrorum Club. Miss Kate Talbert reviewed the life of William Randolph Hearst, journalist and publisher. He has edited the Journal - American, a large New York evening newspaper for twenty years. In 1955 Hearst became editor in chief of Hearst newspapers. Among the well - known Hearst publications are Good Housekeeping and the magazine supplement, American Weekly. Besides the above - mentioned duties he has the oversight of seventeen daily papers, four weekly supplements, nine monthly magazines, the largest syndicated newspaper features, and the International News Service. Among the changes reflected by his policies in journalism are more local news stories and more objective reporting.

Miss Ethel Watson delighted the club members with an account of her recent trip to Washington, D. C. where she attended the GFWC Board meeting. After the business session, the members were privileged to attend a World Affairs Conference at the Pentagon.

Those present were: Mrs. E. D. Baker, Mrs. J. U. Doucier, Miss Virgie Evans, Mrs. F. B. Hatch, Mrs. B. N. Hixon, Mrs. W. E. Hixon, Mrs. C. W. Jones, Mrs. M. X. McConnell, Mrs. H. L. Murray, Mrs. Maude Parham, Miss Kate Talbert, Mrs. H. G. Tillman, Mrs. C. N. Underwood, and Miss Ethel Watson.

Mary Wilton McHenry Is Engaged To James Fortner To Be Wed November 29

Foretelling a late November wedding is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Mary Wilton McHenry to James Cason Fortner, of Monroe and Tallulah.

Miss McHenry is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Holbrook McHenry and Mr. Fortner is the son of Mrs. Henry Douglas Fortner and the late Mr. Fortner, of Tallulah.

The wedding is planned for November 29, at 6:30 o'clock in the evening at the First Methodist Church. A reception will follow the ceremony in the family home on Fairview Ave.

Miss McHenry is a graduate of Neville High School and received her bachelor of arts degree from Randolph Macon Woman's College in Lynchburg, Va., where she was a member of Phi Mu social sorority. She also studied at Southern Methodist University, Dallas.

Mr. Fortner graduated from Fallulah High School and Louisiana State University. He is a member of Kappa Alpha Order.

Add to the for-men-who-have-everything department: Solid gold suspenders. British jewelers say Americans are their best customers. Most men hitch up trousers with the plain, 9-carat type, but some prefer 18-carat gold suspenders engraved with individual designs.

Fyer serve shrimp in a cheddar cheese sauce? Good. Season the sauce with Worcestershire and mustard.

Halloween Is Theme Used For First Dance Given By Cotillion Club Members

An eerie Halloween tree covered with a skeleton, pumpkins, masks, black cats, witches decorated the lobby. The Halloween theme was carried into the main room with corn stalks, other Halloween trimmings, and Lady Witch reigning supreme over the "Witches Brew." The tables were covered with a brown shroud of kraft paper with a centerpiece of Jack O'Lantern surrounded with moss. Each table was provided with snacks of popcorn, potato chips, and pretzels.

Mrs. George W. Mouk, chairman of the dance committee was responsible for the excellent organization of the dance. She was assisted by Mrs. Charles A. Petrus, chairman of the invitations and her committee, Mrs. Thomas R. Henry, Jr., Mrs. Sidney Gill, Mrs. Mortimer Raphael. The decorations were created by Mrs. Sam Rubin, Jr., chairman; Mrs. Allen Jones co-chairman; and their committee, Mrs. Grant Boardman, Mrs. Jack Masur, Mrs. Lon Heuer, Mrs. Roy A. Kelly, Mrs. R. G. Hart, Jr., Mrs. M. H. Smith, Mrs. Paul Ransom, Mrs. Fred Fudickar. The refreshment chairman, Mrs. W. C. Cookston, was assisted by Mrs. D. Rabun Smith. The music was arranged by Mrs. John I. Neel.

The members attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Nelson D. Abell, Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Bancroft, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Grant Boardman, Mr. and Mrs. Reneau Breard, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Calloway, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Carbrey, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Casey, Dr. and Mrs. Cavitt Cookston, Dr. and Mrs. Ben Cobb, Dr. and Mrs. R. W. 'Tekes' Extend Invitation To Formal Opening

The members of Epsilon Mu Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity will hold "Open House" at their newly acquired home on 1103 College Ave. this afternoon between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock. Plans for the formal opening of the first fraternity house to be located on the College campus have been under way since the opening of school. Teke members have been residing in their new home since the 15th of September. Each member, whether a resident of the house or not, has shown a great interest in his fraternity, feeling that this new interest stems from the forward progress of fraternal interest in connection with their schooling.

The president, Ronnie Walters, extends a cordial invitation to those interested in the growth of Northeast State College and the aid a national college fraternity can give to a young man upon entering college for the first time.

MRS. LOUIS MAURICE STERN

Louis M. Stern Marries Miss Phyllis Scharff In New Orleans Ceremony

An out of town wedding holding much interest here was that of Miss Phyllis Beekman Scharff and Louis Maurice Stern celebrated Saturday in New Orleans. Mrs. Stern is the former Miss Phyllis Beekman Scharff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Laub Scharff, of New Orleans and Mr. Stern, formerly of Monroe and now of New Orleans is the son of Mrs. Ben J. Stern and the late Mr. Stern, of this city. He is the grandson of Mrs. L. L. Leiber.

The ceremony took place at one end of the room before an improvised altar having a background of smilax centered with a tall garden urn filled with white fuji and pompon chrysanthemums and stock and flanked by multi-branched candelabra with lighted white tapers. Around the base of the altar was a border of white chrysanthemums, and at either side were bouquets of similar flowers. The aisle was formed of single cathedral candelabra entwined with smilax to which were attached bouquets of white flowers. At the opposite end of the room were standards holding clusters of white blossoms, and elsewhere about the room were other arrangements of flowers and greens.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of pearl white silk peau de soie was fashioned on princess lines. The close fitting bodice with its wide scooped neckline in front had a deep yoke of heirloom rose point lace that extended down the sharp V-back to the waistline, and short sleeves of the lace. The full skirt was softly pleated to the back and fell into a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught to her head with a band of rose point lace. She carried a lace handkerchief belonging to her maternal grandmother and a prayer book used for several generations by the bridegroom's family and on which was an arrangement of white butterfly orchids and lilies of the valley, from which fell streamers of the flowers.

Miss Maline Morganstein was maid of honor, and the other attendants of the bride were Mmes. Gerald Strug, Irving Rosen, Charles Simon, Edward Simon of Philadelphia, Pa., Alfred Hiller and J. L. Stern of Monroe. They wore frocks of toast crystal satin fashioned on full lines, with wide scooped necklines and cap sleeves. A high waistband of a deeper tone of the satin ended in a flat bow at the back of each gown. They carried bouquets of blond fuji chrysanthemums. Linda Mendelsohn and Pamela Marks of Baton Rouge, were flower girls, wearing frocks of pale pink taffeta made with round neck lines and puffed sleeves and trimmed at the back of the waistlines with bows of taffeta. They carried nosegays of pale pink sweetheart roses.

Mr. Stern's brother, Messrs. J. L. Stern and LeRoy Stern, served as best men, and the groomsmen and ushers were the bridegroom's cousin, Mr. Leonard Stern and Messrs. Gerald Strug, Jay Jalenak, Bernard Goldman of Bogalusa, Aubrey Cohn of Port Gibson, Miss. and Percy S. Lorie III of Kansas City, Mo., the latter a cousin of the bride.

Following the ceremony there was a reception. Mrs. Scharff chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of sapphire blue lace over taffeta which she wore with a corsage of white spray orchids. She was assisted in receiving by the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Stern, who wore a dress of periwinkle blue chiffon over taffeta embroidered with silver, and who wore a pink cymbidium orchid corsage.

The cake table was centered with the tiered wedding cake surrounded at the base by white flowers; and the long buffet table, which was garlanded with hothouse smilax, was decorated with an epergne filled with white fruits and flowers in the center, and with candelabra and lighted white tapers and arrangements of white flowers in wine coolers at each end.

After the reception the young couple left for a wedding trip to Florida. Upon their return to New Orleans they will reside at 5532 S. Johnson St. For her going away outfit the bride wore a red wool suit with a paisley blouse, a black hat and black accessories. A corsage of white orchids and stephanotis completed the ensemble.

Among out-of-town guests for the wedding, besides those already mentioned, were the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. L. L. Lieber, Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Heninger, Mr. and Mrs. Leo M. Baer, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Strauss, Mrs. Fred Strauss, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Shlosman, Messrs. Don and S. J. Shlosman, Mr. and Mrs. James Greenbaum and Mr. and Mrs. Saul Mintz of Monroe, Mr. Edward Simon of Philadelphia, Pa., Mrs. Aubrey Cohn of Fort Gibson, Miss, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Amos Marks, Miss Margo Marks, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Mendelsohn, and their son, Stephen, and Mrs. Sallie Mendelsohn of Baton Rouge, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lane of Dallas, Tex., Mrs. Simon Smith of Atlanta, Ga., Mr. and Mrs. Percy Lorie, Jr., of Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. Alvin Laub, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Cooper and Miss Debora Cooper of Natchez, Miss., Mr. and Mrs. S. Cleveland Laub of Joplin, Mo., Mrs. Abe Simon and Mr. Edward Simen of Vicksburg, Miss., Dr. and Mrs. David Frield of Marksville.

MISS JO ANN YEAGER

Miss Jo Ann Yeager Will Wed Melvin J. Nelson, Jr. In December Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Yeager announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jo Ann Yeager, to Melvin J. Nelson, Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin J. Nelson, of Sulphur Springs, Texas, formerly of Monroe.

The wedding will be an event of the Christmas holidays, at the First Methodist Church in West Monroe.

Miss Yeager is a graduate of West Monroe High School and is attending Northeast State College where she is a sophomore majoring in secretarial science, and a member of Phi Lambda Tau social sorority.

The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Durant High School, Durant, Oklahoma and has attended Southeastern State College, at Durant and Northeast College in Monroe. He is presently serving in the United States Army, stationed in California.

U.S. Booms British Styles

By GRANVILLE J. WATTS

LONDON (AP)— A wonderful animal is the vicuna. Its wooly coat is burnt orange in color, delicate and soft, and you can see one trotting around, if you search hard enough, among the heights of Peru or Ecuador.

To at least one top British exporter, however, the vicuna, a sort of slender llama, means dollars.

Transformed into top coats ($500 each) the wonderful vicuna helped last year towards Britain's bumper 23 million dollar trade in garments with the United States.

Another item that brought over the dollars is cashmere knitwear. The soft yarn in cashmere garments is surpassed only by, yes you've guessed, our old friend the vicuna.

Whitney-Young Vows Pledged In Afternoon

The Rectory of the St. Mary's Catholic Church, in Winnsboro, was the setting for marriage October 19, of Mrs. Blanche Desha Young and William J. Whitney Jr. The Reverend Edwin Youngkin officiated at the afternoon ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few close friends. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willian Desha, of Extension and Mr. Whitney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Whitney.

The vows were said before the mantle flanked by flood candelabra festooned with galands of fern and burning yellow tapers and banked with yellow chrysanthemums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a blue velveteen gown fashioned along empire lines with softly scalloped portrait neckline and three - quarter length sleeves. Small pearl medallions trimmed her blue velvet hat and her shoes were of matching brocade. She wore a gold brooch, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a bouquet of bronze cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Andrew J. Kosmac was her sister's only attendant. Her princess styled gown was of beige wool crepe. Her hat was of harmonizing satin and her bouquet was of gold and bronze chrysanthemums. Linwood Whitney, of Houma, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kosmac were host at a reception following the ceremony. Flowers in autumn shades were used throughout the home. Mrs. Desha chose for her daughter's wedding a fall frock of gray wool worn with a small hat of ice blue with matching gloves. Her corsage bouquet was of yellow feathered chrysanthemums.

The bride's table in the dining room was covered with a linen cutwork cloth and forming the centerpiece was an epergne filled with the same autumn blossems. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Frank C. Taylor and Mrs. Eldon Brown. Mrs. William S. Desha, Jr., took turns with Mrs. Elizabeth Henry at the punch service Mrs. John Desha Peck assisted by Miss Sue Ellen Gaskin served coffee in the den which was decorated with yellow and bronze chrysanthemums.

When Mr. and Mrs. Whitney left on their wedding trip, the bride traveled in a suit of brown wool with tangerine colored hat and brown accessories. They are at home at 146 Van Buren St. Baton Rouge.

MRS. HOSEY LEE JR., is the former Miss Jean Dumas, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. O. Dumas, of Choudrant. Their vows were said in the Parkway Baptist Church, in Minden, early in October. The young couple are making their home in Choudrant.

Just right for two: add a teaspoon of cocoa and two teaspoons of sugar plus a few drops of vanilla to a quarter-cup of heavy cream. Beat with a rotary beater until just thick. Serve over slices of sponge cake for a delicious dessert.

Knee-length jeans are the latest addition to the Ivy League look in sportswear. They come in a color-fast polished cotton with black and gray pin stripes and in a light blue denim with navy pin stripes.

Two Hostesses Entertain Garden Club

Ivy Guild Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. Carol Renaud with Mrs. Renaud and Mrs. R.C. Dozier, hostesses. Colorful arrangements of dried flowers and fruit decorated the spacious living room.

An impressive ceremony for the installation of officers was conducted by Mrs. Olla Mae Passman. The out-going president, Mrs. Russell A. Morrow was presented with a corsage of white carnations and a gift of waxed fruits.

Officers were installed as follows: Mrs. Charlene Poulan, president; Mrs. T. L. Jones, 1st vice president; Mrs. R. C. Dozier, 2nd vice president; Mrs. G. L. Thompson, recording secretary; Mrs. J. L. LaDart, corresponding secretary; Mrs. F. C. Patterson, treasurer; Mrs. R. N. Chadderdon, parliamentarian; Mrs. Russell A. Morrow, reporter.

Members present were: Mrs. Olla Mae Passman, Mrs. Ceil Solomon, Mrs. R. C. Dozier, Mrs. Cora Patterson, Mrs. Marie Accardo, Mrs. Mae LaDart, Mrs. Modene Cornett, Mrs. C. Magee, Mrs. C. Renaud, Mrs. Cecil Jones, Mrs. Geraldine Hancock, Mrs. Eloise Viggs and Mrs. Russell A. Morrow.

It's Simple But–Oh My!

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

A good dress should be timeless. No gadgets. No extremes.

That's the fashion philosophy of Roxane, designer for Samuel Winston of New York, known for the extreme simplicity and sophisticated lines of her clothes. Says she:

"Well - dressed women wear traditional clothes. They don't go in for the extreme or the grotesque. They choose simple things that do something for them. They are fussy about fine fabrics and perfect fit. Their own poise, personality and figures takes care of the rest.

"The gadgety, extreme fashions are the ones that are always left hanging on the rack, and that are marked down for clearance sales at the end of the season."

Formerly an executive buyer, Roxane retired to the farm in 1952 with the avowed intention of raising cows. Then Winston, an old friend, persuaded her to come in to New York "just for a few hours a week," to supervise his designing rooms.

"I came in for a few hours, and ended up working morning, noon and night," says the designer, giggling. "But I found I got so interested I couldn't stop."

Use wooden spoons for stirring sauces and other foods because they won't scratch the pans.

Diamonds now adorn plunging necklines. A winning design in the Diamonds-International awards was a brooch of baguettes and brilliants with a pear-shaped pendant for low V-necks.

Save lemon halves after the juice has been squeezed out, notch the edges and use as pretty containers for tartar sauce to go with fish.

A can of minced clams (about 7 ounces) plus garlic and olive oil makes a wonderful sauce for a half pound of spaghetti.

New Kitchens Now Resemble One Appliance

The modern kitchen has become virtually a single appliance. Refrigerators, ranges, dishwashers and laundry equipment are all falling into line under one countertop.

In many instances these countertops have been moved out into the center of the room as islands or work centers. Actually they encompass three centers, one for the sink, a second for the range and a third for food preparation.

Many sinks and countertops are manufactured with a backsplash of the same material. When the sink is built into the counter, the surrounding areas certainly should be built of a waterproof and stainproof material.

If the range is to be included with the rest of the kitchen facilities, it is virtually a necessity to make the counter of a heat-resistant material. The counter should extend on both sides of the range so as to provide space for placing food when it is first removed from the oven or surface burners.

The refrigerator should be located in the third or mixing center in such a way that it will be convenient to both the sink and range centers. The counter in this section should extend at least 36 inches since most of the kitchen work originates from this area.

Meat should be roasted fat-side-up to prevent drying.

CLOTHES QUIZ

Ten Year Old Likes A Touch Of Fur Too

By BETH BLAIR

Fur trimmings were never smarter than they are today. Narrow bandings outline edges of jackets, trim necklines of sweaters and coats. A little fur means real luxury and if you have any bits or scraps this is the time to use them. A reader writes

Dear Miss Blair:

I have a little piece of beaver fur and wonder about using it to make something for my 10-year-old daughter. What about a hat or collar for a coat?

I think you might be more successful using the fur to make into a collar rather than a hat. Fur isn't easy to work with and unless done well will look amateurish. Narrow bandings of it might be used to highlight pockets on a coat and perhaps outline its collar. It can be made into a muff easily — as a matter of fact you can buy the muff ready for covering if you don't want to make it yourself. A narrow strip of the fur could be used to cover a clip for the hair, too.

Dear Miss Blair:

At a large dinner in a hotel, must I wear a hat?

It isn't an absolute must but many women do like to wear hats at such a function. The little fussy hat or headdress is most appropriate with dinner clothes. If you omit the hat be certain your hair is faultlessly coiffed. Wear important earrings or a jewel in your hair if you like.

The less provocative the clothes, the more provocative should be the hair-do. Stylists say today's sackline fashions hike the figure and call for attention to the face. So hair fashions are harking back to the 1920's with navy tresses, bangs, and spit curls.

Dyed-to match feathers trim resort sweaters. One royal blue cashmere cardigan has an ostrich feather boa collar.

Ten-agers in Paris keep their swept-up coiffures neat with tiny pearl fringes. The fringes are worn on the back of the head.

MRS. LOUIS MAURICE STERN

An out of town wedding holding much interest here was that of Miss Phyllis Beekman Scharff and Louis Maurice Stern celebrated Saturday in New Orleans. Mrs. Stern is the former Miss Phyllis Beekman Scharff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Laub Scharff, of New Orleans and Mr. Stern, formerly of Monroe and now of New Orleans is the son of Mrs. Ben J. Stern and the late Mr. Stern, of this city. He is the grandson of Mrs. L. L. Leiber.

The ceremony took place at one end of the room before an improvised altar having a background of smilax centered with a tall garden urn filled with white fuji and pompon chrysanthemums and stock and flanked by multi-branched candelabra with lighted white tapers. Around the base of the altar was a border of white chrysanthemums, and at either side were bouquets of similar flowers. The aisle was formed of single cathedral candelabra entwined with smilax to which were attached bouquets of white flowers. At the opposite end of the room were standards holding clusters of white blossoms, and elsewhere about the room were other arrangements of flowers and greens.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of pearl white silk peau de soie was fashioned on princess lines. The close fitting bodice with its wide scooped neckline in front had a deep yoke of heirloom rose point lace that extended down the sharp V-back to the waistline, and short sleeves of the lace. The full skirt was softly pleated to the back and fell into a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught to her head with a band of rose point lace. She carried a lace handkerchief belonging to her maternal grandmother and a prayer book used for several generations by the bridegroom's family and on which was an arrangement of white butterfly orchids and lilies of the valley, from which fell streamers of the flowers.

Miss Maline Morganstein was maid of honor, and the other attendants of the bride were Mmes. Gerald Strug, Irving Rosen, Charles Simon, Edward Simon of Philadelphia, Pa., Alfred Hiller and J. L. Stern of Monroe. They wore frocks of toast crystal satin fashioned on full lines, with wide scooped necklines and cap sleeves. A high waistband of a deeper tone of the satin ended in a flat bow at the back of each gown. They carried bouquets of blond fuji chrysanthemums. Linda Mendelsohn and Pamela Marks of Baton Rouge, were flower girls, wearing frocks of pale pink taffeta made with round neck lines and puffed sleeves and trimmed at the back of the waistlines with bows of taffeta. They carried nosegays of pale pink sweetheart roses.

Mr. Stern's brother, Messrs. J. L. Stern and LeRoy Stern, served as best men, and the groomsmen and ushers were the bridegroom's cousin, Mr. Leonard Stern and Messrs. Gerald Strug, Jay Jalenak, Bernard Goldman of Bogalusa, Aubrey Cohn of Port Gibson, Miss. and Percy S. Lorie III of Kansas City, Mo., the latter a cousin of the bride.

Following the ceremony there was a reception. Mrs. Scharff chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of sapphire blue lace over taffeta which she wore with a corsage of white spray orchids. She was assisted in receiving by the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Stern, who wore a dress of periwinkle blue chiffon over taffeta embroidered with silver, and who wore a pink cymbidium orchid corsage.

The cake table was centered with the tiered wedding cake surrounded at the base by white flowers; and the long buffet table, which was garlanded with hothouse smilax, was decorated with an epergne filled with white fruits and flowers in the center, and with candelabra and lighted white tapers and arrangements of white flowers in wine coolers at each end.

After the reception the young couple left for a wedding trip to Florida. Upon their return to New Orleans they will reside at 5532 S. Johnson St. For her going away outfit the bride wore a red wool suit with a paisley blouse, a black hat and black accessories. A corsage of white orchids and stephanotis completed the ensemble.

Among out-of-town guests for the wedding, besides those already mentioned, were the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. L. L. Lieber, Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Heninger, Mr. and Mrs. Leo M. Baer, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Strauss, Mrs. Fred Strauss, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Shlosman, Messrs. Don and S. J. Shlosman, Mr. and Mrs. James Greenbaum and Mr. and Mrs. Saul Mintz of Monroe, Mr. Edward Simon of Philadelphia, Pa., Mrs. Aubrey Cohn of Fort Gibson, Miss, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Amos Marks, Miss Margo Marks, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Mendelsohn, and their son, Stephen, and Mrs. Sallie Mendelsohn of Baton Rouge, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lane of Dallas, Tex., Mrs. Simon Smith of Atlanta, Ga., Mr. and Mrs. Percy Lorie, Jr., of Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. Alvin Laub, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Cooper and Miss Debora Cooper of Natchez, Miss., Mr. and Mrs. S. MISS JO ANN YEAGER

Miss Jo Ann Yeager Will Wed Melvin J. Nelson, Jr. In December Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Yeager announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jo Ann Yeager, to Melvin J. Nelson, Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin J. Nelson, of Sulphur Springs, Texas, formerly of Monroe.

The wedding will be an event of the Christmas holidays, at the First Methodist Church in West Monroe.

Miss Yeager is a graduate of West Monroe High School and is attending Northeast State College where she is a sophomore majoring in secretarial science, and a member of Phi Lambda Tau social sorority.

The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Durant High School, Durant, Oklahoma and has attended Southeastern State College, at Durant and Northeast College in Monroe. He is presently serving in the United States Army, stationed in California.

U.S. Booms British Styles

By GRANVILLE J. WATTS

LONDON (AP)— A wonderful animal is the vicuna. Its wooly coat is burnt orange in color, delicate and soft, and you can see one trotting around, if you search hard enough, among the heights of Peru or Ecuador.

To at least one top British exporter, however, the vicuna, a sort of slender llama, means dollars.

Transformed into top coats ($500 each) the wonderful vicuna helped last year towards Britain's bumper 23 million dollar trade in garments with the United States.

Another item that brought over the dollars is cashmere knitwear. The soft yarn in cashmere garments is surpassed only by, yes you've guessed, our old friend the vicuna.

Whitney-Young Vows Pledged In Afternoon

The Rectory of the St. Mary's Catholic Church, in Winnsboro, was the setting for marriage October 19, of Mrs. Blanche Desha Young and William J. Whitney Jr. The Reverend Edwin Youngkin officiated at the afternoon ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few close friends. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willian Desha, of Extension and Mr. Whitney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Whitney.

The vows were said before the mantle flanked by flood candelabra festooned with galands of fern and burning yellow tapers and banked with yellow chrysanthemums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a blue velveteen gown fashioned along empire lines with softly scalloped portrait neckline and three - quarter length sleeves. Small pearl medallions trimmed her blue velvet hat and her shoes were of matching brocade. She wore a gold brooch, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a bouquet of bronze cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Andrew J. Kosmac was her sister's only attendant. Her princess styled gown was of beige wool crepe. Her hat was of harmonizing satin and her bouquet was of gold and bronze chrysanthemums. Linwood Whitney, of Houma, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kosmac were host at a reception following the ceremony. Flowers in autumn shades were used throughout the home. Mrs. Desha chose for her daughter's wedding a fall frock of gray wool worn with a small hat of ice blue with matching gloves. Her corsage bouquet was of yellow feathered chrysanthemums.

The bride's table in the dining room was covered with a linen cutwork cloth and forming the centerpiece was an epergne filled with the same autumn blossoms. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Frank C. Taylor and Mrs. Eldon Brown. Mrs. William S. Desha, Jr., took turns with Mrs. Elizabeth Henry at the punch service Mrs. John Desha Peck assisted by Miss Sue Ellen Gaskin served coffee in the den which was decorated with yellow and bronze chrysanthemums.

When Mr. and Mrs. Whitney left on their wedding trip, the bride traveled in a suit of brown wool with tangerine colored hat and brown accessories. They are at home at 146 Van Buren St. Baton Rouge.

MRS. HOSEY LEE JR., is the former Miss Jean Dumas, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. O. Dumas, of Choudrant. Their vows were said in the Parkway Baptist Church, in Minden, early in October. The young couple are making their home in Choudrant.

Just right for two: add a teaspoon of cocoa and two teaspoons of sugar plus a few drops of vanilla to a quarter-cup of heavy cream. Beat with a rotary beater until just thick. Serve over slices of sponge cake for a delicious dessert.

Knee-length jeans are the latest addition to the Ivy League look in sportswear. They come in a color-fast polished cotton with black and gray pin stripes and in a light blue denim with navy pin stripes.

Two Hostesses Entertain Garden Club

Ivy Guild Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. Carol Renaud with Mrs. Renaud and Mrs. R.C. Dozier, hostesses. Colorful arrangements of dried flowers and fruit decorated the spacious living room.

An impressive ceremony for the installation of officers was conducted by Mrs. Olla Mae Passman. The out-going president. Mrs. Russell A. Morrow was presented with a corsage of white carnations and a gift of waxed fruits.

Officers were installed as follows: Mrs. Charlene Poulan, president; Mrs. T. L. Jones, 1st vice president; Mrs. R. C. Dozier, 2nd vice president; Mrs. G. L. Thompson, recording secretary; Mrs. J. L. LaDart, corresponding secretary; Mrs. F. C. Patterson, treasurer; Mrs. R. N. Chadderdon, parliamentarian; Mrs. Russell A. Morrow, reporter.

Members present were: Mrs. Olla Mae Passman, Mrs. Ceil Solomon, Mrs. R. C. Dozier, Mrs. Cora Patterson, Mrs. Marie Accardo, Mrs. Mae LaDart, Mrs. Modene Cornett, Mrs. C. Magee, Mrs. C. Renaud, Mrs. Cecil Jones, Mrs. Geraldine Hancock, Mrs. Eloise Viggs and Mrs. Russell A. Morrow.

WHY GROW OLD?

Gives Facts On Firm That Supplies Part-Time Help

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Women are probably more conscious of the shortage of help in the home than they are of the shortage of office help. Yet in the United States in 1957 there was a minus of 700,000 in this latter category.

As a result of this need, a comparatively new concept in business has sprung up. I am speaking of the temporary help service. The largest firm of this sort in existence started 10 years ago with one office. Today it has more than 100 in the United States and branches in Europe, Canada, South Africa and the Caribbean and is constantly expanding.

As my readers know, I long have crusaded against the ridiculous age prejudices in the classified advertisements. There are many well-qualified women who need to work or want to work who are turned down because of their age. This seems especially stupid when these same women are so badly needed in the business world.

Age No Consideration

However, the firm of which I speak has no age prejudice at all, as you will see tomorrow when I bring you information straight from the card files of one of its offices. It employs anyone over 18 who is competent. Age has nothing to do with it. I think it will be interesting to many of you to know something about the activities of this firm and the opportunities for part time work.

Here are some of the things this organization does: It supplies business service (typists, stenographers, secretaries and many types of workers) for manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, professional and service organizations. Its services are used by advertising agencies with deadlines to meet, banks with stock transfer work to be done and groups with conventions to be staffed and displays to be set up.

Its regular customers keep their usual staff as small as possible and call on this company in times of overload, rush and vacations. It demonstrates appliances and food products, makes surveys and handles sampling regionally and nationally.

Moved Stores

It has moved large stores, conducted telephone surveys to discover women's reaction to cigar smoke, helped rebuild hurricane devastated towns, rushed aid to insurance companies which were swamped after such catastrophes, put laces in new shoes, helped Liberace play Santa Claus by addressing and mailing 70,000 Christmas cards for him and counted snake skins for a leather company.

It's Simple But–Oh My!

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

A good dress should be timeless. No gadgets. No extremes.

That's the fashion philosophy of Roxane, designer for Samuel Winston of New York, known for the extreme simplicity and sophisticated lines of her clothes. Says she:

"Well - dressed women wear traditional clothes. They don't go in for the extreme or the grotesque. They choose simple things that do something for them. They are fussy about fine fabrics and perfect fit. Their own poise, personality and figures takes care of the rest.

"The gadgety, extreme fashions are the ones that are always left hanging on the rack, and that are marked down for clearance sales at the end of the season."

Formerly an executive buyer, Roxane retired to the farm in 1952 with the avowed intention of raising cows. Then Winston, an old friend, persuaded her to come in to New York "just for a few hours a week," to supervise his designing rooms.

"I came in for a few hours, and ended up working morning, noon and night," says the designer, giggling. "But I found I got so interested I couldn't stop."

Use wooden spoons for stirring sauces and other foods because they won't scratch the pans.

New Kitchens Now Resemble One Appliance

The modern kitchen has become virtually a single appliance. Refrigerators, ranges, dishwashers and laundry equipment are all falling into line under one countertop.

In many instances these countertops have been moved out into the center of the room as islands or work centers. Actually they encompass three centers, one for the sink, a second for the range and a third for food preparation.

Many sinks and countertops are manufactured with a backsplash of the same material. When the sink is built into the counter, the surrounding areas certainly should be built of a waterproof and stainproof material.

If the range is to be included with the rest of the kitchen facilities, it is virtually a necessity to make the counter of a heat-resistant material. The counter should extend on both sides of the range so as to provide space for placing food when it is first removed from the oven or surface burners.

The refrigerator should be located in the third or mixing center in such a way that it will be convenient to both the sink and range centers. The counter in this section should extend at least 36 inches since most of the kitchen work originates from this area.

Meat should be roasted fat-side-up to prevent drying.

Diamonds now adorn plunging necklines. A winning design in the Diamonds-International awards was a brooch of baguettes and brilliants with a pear-shaped pendant for low V-necks.

Save lemon halves after the juice has been squeezed out, notch the edges and use as pretty containers for tartar sauce to go with fish.

A can of minced clams (about 7 ounces) plus garlic and olive oil makes a wonderful sauce for a half pound of spaghetti.

Ten Year Old Likes A Touch Of Fur Too

By BETH BLAIR

Fur trimmings were never smarter than they are today. Narrow bandings outline edges of jackets, trim necklines of sweaters and coats. A little fur means real luxury and if you have any bits or scraps this is the time to use them. A reader writes

Dear Miss Blair:

I have a little piece of beaver fur and wonder about using it to make something for my 10-year-old daughter. What about a hat or collar for a coat?

I think you might be more successful using the fur to make into a collar rather than a hat. Fur isn't easy to work with and unless done well will look amateurish. Narrow bandings of it might be used to highlight pockets on a coat and perhaps outline its collar. It can be made into a muff easily — as a matter of fact you can buy the muff ready for covering if you don't want to make it yourself. A narrow strip of the fur could be used to cover a clip for the hair, too.

Dear Miss Blair:

At a large dinner in a hotel, must I wear a hat?

It isn't an absolute must but many women do like to wear hats at such a function. The little fussy hat or headdress is most appropriate with dinner clothes. If you omit the hat be certain your hair is faultlessly coiffed. Wear important earrings or a jewel in your hair if you like.

The less provocative the clothes, the more provocative should be the hair-do. Stylists say today's sackline fashions hike the figure and call for attention to the face. So hair fashions are harking back to the 1920's with navy tresses, bangs, and spit curls.

Ten-agers in Paris keep their swept-up coiffures neat with tiny pearl fringes. The fringes are worn on the back of the head.

"CONFEDERATE ROSE"—Described by the Mexicans as the "Love for a Day" flower, this unusual plant can be seen at several homes in Monroe. The blossom is white when it opens and during its one-day life turns a deep pink. Above are "before" and "after" pictures which, although unable to show the true beauty of the flower, allow a comparison of the difference in the hues. The picture on the left was taken at 10 a.m. and the second picture was made at about 3 p.m. of the same day.

Confederate Rose Turns Pink, White

"Confederate Rose" — an unusual name for an unusual flower!

Somewhat rare in this area, this plant is also known by the more romantic title of "Love for a Day." It derives its name from the fact that its blossom, a delicate snowy white in the early morning when it opens, turns a deep pink by evening and then withers, its brief but beautiful life over.

Mrs. J. B. Parker of 507 Rochelle has one of these plants in her yard. It stands about 6 feet high, which she said is about average for the plant.

What was apparently the first Confederate Rose planted in Monroe was brought from Waveland, Miss., by Mrs. Willye S. Lawhead, 1905½ North Third in Monroe.

"We don't know where the plant originated," Mrs. Lawhead said. "My bushes came from cuttings from my sister's rose. We didn't even know the name of it until we were visiting in Mexico and learned that it was called "Love for a Day" in that country."

The plants can be rooted simply by putting them in water, Mrs. Lawhead said, and require no special cultivation or attention. However, since the first fairly heavy frost kills the plant, she and Mrs. Parker advised cutting it back close to the ground just before the freeze. This cutting does not harm it in any way and it grows back quickly. Mrs. Parker used a pine straw mulch to protect the roots of her rose.

Blooming from about the middle of October until the first frost, the "Love for a Day" puts out its many - petalled flowers a few at a time rather than all at once. Since its blooms last only one day, their value is more for their beauty outdoors and the phenomena of their changing colors than for a cut flower arrangement. However, the ladies who are growing the flowers like to wear them as a sort of corsage complement. The slow change from white to pink makes them a striking accessory.

The Confederate Rose is believed to be a member of the hibiscus family, its foliage bearing a resemblance to that of an ordinary hibiscus. Its palmate leaves are quite large and five - pointed.

"I don't know of any special place to plant the cuttings," Mrs. Lawhead said. "They seem to like the sun. In Mississippi, where it's warmer they begin blooming in the spring, much earlier than they do here."

Mrs. Lawhead said there is abundance of cuttings available for those who would like to try their green thumb on this rare flower. The nominal amount of effort required to care for the "Love for a Day" would be repaid many times in the beauty it adds to a lawn or garden.

Flu Victims Need Nursing

By Euna Spielman

The question of what to do if the Asian flu strikes rates first place in discussion among friends. According to the information received by home demonstration agents, you'll just have to ride it out once you get the bug. Call your physician and follow his instructions. In an epidemic, the American Medical Association says, keep away from others; go to bed; drink a lot of fluids, such as water and fruit juices. Use separate towels and tableware for family members who catch flu. Call your physician if any unusual symptoms develop. A heavy cough, rapid breathing and blueness of the lips are signs to watch for, they may mean pneumonia.

Vision and Television

A comforting word for mothers worried about television's effect on their children's eyesight comes from the National Association for the Prevention of Blindness. If common sense is applied, television does not damage a youngster's eyes, the society reports. Some rules for TV watching: Have good lighting — not a completely darkened room; don't view for hours at a time; break it up; don't sit on the floor to watch — the best angle of viewing i a little below eye level.

Americans and Popcorn

Americans were enjoying freshly popped corn for long years before the movie theatre came into being. But the increasing number of popcorn concessions at amusement parks and theaters, and of popcorn candies and home poppers, have helped boost the consumption of popcorn over the past 20 years, reports the U. S. department of Agriculture. The department estimates that over 325 million pounds of popcorn were produced in this country last year.

Every household in the United States is enjoying the benefits of "maid service" and yet only one per cent of the families actually have a full time servant and four per cent have servants of any kind.

Industry is dispensing "maid service," cutting down on time required to do household chores by supplying such things as automatic equipment, prepared and partially prepared foods, precut and packaged meats.

Thirty years ago, the average homemaker spent five to six hours of her day in the kitchen preparing meals. Today she spends less than half that time, because of "built-in maid service." A recent study by the Division of Human Nutrition, Institute of Home Economics, U. S. D. A., shows that a certain family dinner prepared by traditional methods costs $4.90 and takes 5.5 hours to prepare. The meal from purchased ready - to - cook foods costs $5.70 and requires only 1.6 hours. Comparing the difference in cost and time for the homemaker to prepare a meal "from scratch," and one from fully - prepared foods, we find the latter costs $1.80 more, but is a saving of four hours in time. Her time is worth only 45 cents an hour when she prepared all the food.

The decision as to how much time today's homemaker wants to spend preparing food is up to her, but the continued growth in convenience foods indicates that the majority is interested in cutting down time spent on food preparation.

Packaged goods have played a vital part in the development of self - service offered by the supermarket. Packaging materials created new possibilities in merchandising. One of these packaging materials made its debut in the '20's — cellophane. Originally it was a luxury item, but research continued on the improvement of the film, and as a result, moistureproof cellophane was developed, which opened up a whole new field of uses, particularly as a protective wrapping for all types of food products. Improved methods of production made it possible to reduce the price and improve the quality further so that today even low-cost foods can enjoy its protective advantages.

Now that the homemaker has given her nod of approval to "built-in maid service," she can expect many more innovations. What with the research facilities and ingenuity of industry, she will see many new ideas in services which will go far beyond her dreams of present day needs.

See you next week.

Time Is Here For Tea Roses

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

Tea rose time is here again. The modern hybrid teas are getting better and better as time goes on, but hybrid teas are not up to the old-fashioned tea roses for sheer numbers of roses on the bush. This is the time of year in the South when you can go out and cut a wheelbarrow load of tea roses off one bush if you want t.

The trusty and true old rose, Mrs. B. R. Cant, has been blooming its head off since late July and August. The enormous bushes of Maman Cochet, White Cochet and Yellow Cochet are doing the same. In hot weather, the flowers of these big full roses tend to be pale and to ball up and fail to open. Cool weather does the trick: they open perfectly in the October weather. Since the bushes are covered with a great bounty of blossoms, you can cut all you want, but do not make the mistake — ever — of cutting tea roses "way back." They resent it. They want to be large. If they are too large for the space where you have them, move the bushes.

Malmaison

There are several old roses that are not true tea roses in gardens at old houses sites. Not all of these old varities will boom again in the Fall after their spring show. One of the sweetest smelling varieties is a flat blossomed variety that is usually creamy white flushed with light pink during the summer. In the fall when all roses seem to pick up color, this rose is definitely bright light pink in the center. The flowers come in clusters, and the foliage is very clean and handsome with five to seven leaflets. This rose, we often call Malmaison. Its full name is Souvenir de la Malmaison, so you will find it listed under S instead of under M in the indexes of rose books.

Souvenir de la Malmaison is a hybrid Bourbon rose. The Grand Duke of Russia named it. When he was visiting the rose gardens at Josephine's Malmaison palace in France, he admired this unnamed seedling sent there by a breeder named Beluze. Of course, this was after Josephine's heyday. Her great rose garden had been allowed to go to ruin, and the French were busy trying to restore it.

144 Varieties

The Prince Nursery in America listed 144 varieties of Bourbon roses in 1846. They sold them all over the United States, and we have many of them in old gardens here in the South. Your columnist ran across one on a ride through the beautiful autumn countryside just last week. It seems much pinker than the usual Malmaison and is a real beauty, a tough good rose bush that can take care of itself without spraying. We had better look up these old treasures and bring them back into our gardens. It will not be long before the rose breeders will be using them again to create tougher roses. If you are interested in growing some of the best old roses, the column will be pleased to send you a list of nurseries carrying them. Be sure that you enclose a postal addressed to yourself if you want a prompt reply.

THE HOME SHIFT

New Asphalt Now On Sale

By Mildred Swift

Now that the world series is over and lovely Queen Elizabeth has made her visit to America, and departed, we'll get down to the every day things of life. Maybe these daily jobs are not so glamorous, but they're interesting just the same.

Garden News

This word comes from Kirby L. Cockerham, entomologist with L. S. U. Extension: "Several species of worms are present in lawns throughout the state. These worms feed on the blades of grass, leaving the stems and dead grass, thereby giving the lawn a brown appearance. This damage is not the same as that caused by chinch bugs, which kill the grass by sucking the plant juice. In recent tests by the experiment station, 4 pounds of toxaphene or 4 pounds of endrin per acre were the most promising materials used, but none gave complete control."

Unless evergreen shrubs are becoming a barrier, wait until January or February to prune. If you cut them back now, you'll have to look at that "picked chicken" plant all winter. Very soon there will be no flowers for the house and you'll want some greenery for bowls and vases. That way you could do gradual pruning.

Be watching for the gingko and tallow trees. Their foliage should be gorgeous very soon. The old sweet - gum is strutting her fall colors now. It's a messy old tree but somehow we forget all that when the fall colors come.

Bulbs that can be divided and reset are: pineapple lily, watsonia, agapanthus, oxalis, lirope, daylily, crocus, crinum,. Bulbs to be purchased now are amaryllis, callo - hyacinth, all types of narcissus, jonquils and daffodils, Dutch iris. Don't dig and reset early spring blooming bulbs as the root growth has already started.

New for Gardeners!

Yes, and it sounds like a miracle product. It's not on the market yet, but has been perfected. It's a new paving asphalt that is used cold, right from the 100 pound plastic - lined bag it comes in. Just the thing to persuade reluctant husbands to get around to making that little patio you've been wanting.

Unlike other surfacings, the asphalt can be put directly over firm ground, or even grass, without any foundation, and need be spread only one inch thick. Spreading is done with a rake shovel and the job is finished by going over the surface with a lawn roller that can be rented from a seed store. It is claimed that after one hour, the surface is hard enough to walk on, and after a few hours, even an automobile won't dent it. A dealer here is ordering a sample. We'll try it and I'll give you the results very soon. This material is a result of research by the petroleum industry.

Food in the News

Food plentifuls that will save you pennies are broilers and fryers, stewing hens, turkeys, pork, winter pears, cranberries, potatoes, apples, grape juice and jam and jelly, canned frozen peas, almonds and giblets, dry peas, peanuts and peanut butter. Eggs have moved up as price decreases. More medium and small eggs are available at attractive prices.

Cheese is a protein food that can be alternated with meat. Orange and grapefruit supplies are increasing. Sweet potatoes are still coming to market in volume. Cabbage, cauliflower and eggplant supplies and quality is good. Lettuce, prices are increasing and quality is variable. Rutabagas and carrots are good choices.

Halloween

When goblins and ghosts ride the night, have a hearty feast for guests whose appetites will be very real after fun in the crisp fall air. Notice an attractive platter that they'll love — the always - welcome hot dog with goblin eggs. Both are easy to prepare and need no explanation. Of course they'll want a candied apple on a stick. Here is my favorite recipe:

Apples on a Stick (Halloween)

Select 12 small apples that are ripe and just ready for eating raw. Wash and dry thoroughly. Insert wooden sticks.

Syrup

Combine in boiler, 1 cup sugar; 1 cup white corn syrup; 1 teaspoon vinegar; ¼ cup water. Cook slowly over medium heat, stirring at intervals until syrup reaches 270 degrees or forms a hard ball in cold water. Remove from heat and add 2 tablespoons of butter; 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¼ teaspoon food coloring. Stir until well blended. Dip apples into syrup, turning until well coated and place on oil paper. They may be rolled in chopped nuts or coconut or you can wax faces using whole cloves.

Round and About

The National Cotton Council declares that two new types of bale covers — a burlap laminate and a knit paper fabric — will be tested next spring.

Here's how to "dry clean" your hair in case you have a cold and prefer not to shampoo: Cover your hairbrush with an old nylon stocking. Brush vigorously rotating the stocking to a clean spot every few strokes. Then take a piece of cotton and moisten it with your favorite toilet water. Part the hair in one - inch sections and rub the cotton on the scalp and then along each strand of hair.

Then, if you spill some of the toilet water on your table top — wipe up quickly. Now, polish the spot with liquid cleaning and polishing wax. If the mark should still remain, try rubbing it with a small amount of silver polish or a little moistened cigar or cigarette ashes. Then rewax the area.

Announcements

Your Open House program will go on at the new time tomorrow, 12:15 p.m., immediately following the news. Your subjects for the week are: Monday, Mrs. Dawson, from Ouachita will show you how the well dressed window should look; Tuesday, Mrs. Hill, specialist from Baton Rouge will complete the curtain story; Wednesday, we'll have the flower arrangements with Mrs. Jardine and see and hear about chrysanthemums from Mr. Telford, a local grower; Thursday, TBA and Friday, marketing.

Say! Do your youngsters have trouble with their studies? Give them encouragement by telling them about the chemistry student who could never make more than "mediocre" in that subject, but he later discovered a vaccine to prevent rabies. His name was Louis Pasteur. See you next Sunday.

GARDEN CENTER NOTES

Dried Plants Form Designs

By Mary M. Jardine

Our flower show of the week featured designs of dried and treated plant materials. Also on display was a collection of dried native grasses and pods collected by Mrs. P. E. Walters, Fort Smith, Ark.

Mrs. M. W. Montgomery's composition a symetrical in design combined beige tints with violet-red. The container was a beautiful beige chalice. The vertical placements were beige pampas plumes and wheat, with pink larkspur making the right angle. Clusters of deeper beige magnolia leaves (treated with glycerine) were placed in the background. A looped aspidistra leaf, also beige, was placed low in the foreground and the focal area was deep violet-red straw flowers, balanced on the left by a cluster of eucalyptus pods and beige celosia. The color scheme was most pleasing. Suitable backgrounds would be pink, green, gray, chartreuse or light beige.

Mrs. K. R. Young designed a line-mass composition, asymetrical in form. The container was a green pottery plate overglazed with tan. The color scheme was most subtle: shades of brown, tan, red orange, and a touch of violet. Spike material for the primary lines consisted of three slender catalpa seed pods. Secondary placements were the seed stalks of watsonia, beige in color, magnolia and elaeagnus leaves, dried to a soft tan provided background interest and added depth to the design. The center of interest was a group of pomegranates, increasing in size from very small to medium large. Nandina berries shading from golden beige to red-orange completed the pattern. Lavender thistle placed on the left added color interest and a change of texture. This design would be lovely for the buffet or one end of the dining table.

Dr. Katherine Foster created a composition with a Halloween or Thanksgiving motif. Strong, compelling colors of black, brown, beige and orange were effectively combined. The "container" was a black palette shaped base. A gray manzanita branch with interesting lines formed the background placement. Branches of orange love-apples (solanum) followed the established lines. Dried okra in beige and brown tones provided a change of texture and color. Dark brown magnolia leaves strengthened the background and the center of interest, a small bright orange pumpkin was framed with the black circular pods of the elephant ear tree. These pods are most interesting. Circular and slightly wrinkled like a real elephant's ear, they are from the tropical tree Enterlobium cyclocarpum which grows to fifty feet in height in Panama. This tree belongs to the pea family and the pods are fed to cattle.

Dr. Foster also displayed a harvest swag which was the object of much admiration and interest. The background was a bamboo mat. The swag itself was constructed on hardware cloth. The top placements were sprays of rice, sea oats and okra in light brown, followed by sumach, a cluster of sweet gum balls, pinyon cone in yellow-green, pine cone flower in dark brown framed by brown magnolia leaves. Two ears of Indian corn, flanked by placements of rice, brown dock and okra in varying shades completed the colorful and interesting design.

Another book to look forward to is "The Complete Book of Flowers and Plants for Interior Decoration" by Esther Wheeler and Annabel Combs Lasker. Published by Hearthside Press, Inc., this will be available about Nov. 1. Inspired by room settings in magazines, new gardens and the urge for self-expression, today's woman arranges flowers as never before. Step-by-step illustrations and clear directions give the complete technique of lovely designs in suitable settings, Early American, French Provincial, English, French Empire, etc. The book covers every phase of decorating the home interior with plants or flower design. Beautifully designed, a handsome gift, it belongs in every home and library. You may order from your favorite book store or the Garden Center.

WHY GROW OLD?

Gives Facts On Firm That Supplies Part-Time Help

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Women are probably more conscious of the shortage of help in the home than they are of the shortage of office help. Yet in the United States in 1957 there was a minus of 700,000 in this latter category.

As a result of this need, a comparatively new concept in business has sprung up. I am speaking of the temporary help service. The largest firm of this sort in existence started 10 years ago with one office. Today it has more than 100 in the United States and branches in Europe, Canada, South Africa and the Caribbean and is constantly expanding.

As my readers know, I long have crusaded against the ridiculous age prejudices in the classified advertisements. There are many well-qualified women who need to work or want to work who are turned down because of their age. This seems especially stupid when these same women are so badly needed in the business world.

Age No Consideration

However, the firm of which I speak has no age prejudice at all, as you will see tomorrow when I bring you information straight from the card files of one of its offices. It employs anyone over 18 who is competent. Age has nothing to do with it. I think it will be interesting to many of you to know something about the activities of this firm and the opportunities for part time work.

Here are some of the things this organization does: It supplies business service (typists, stenographers, secretaries and many types of workers) for manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, professional and service organizations. Its services are used by advertising agencies with deadlines to meet, banks with stock transfer work to be done and groups with conventions to be staffed and displays to be set up.

Its regular customers keep their usual staff as small as possible and call on this company in times of overload, rush and vacations. It demonstrates appliances and food products, makes surveys and handles sampling regionally and nationally.

Moved Stores

It has moved large stores, conducted telephone surveys to discover women's reaction to cigar smoke, helped rebuild hurricane devastated towns, rushed aid to insurance companies which were swamped after such catastrophes, put laces in new shoes, helped Liberace play Santa Claus by addressing and mailing 70,000 Christmas cards for him and counted snake skins for a leather company.

REV. L. H. OWEN

Landmark To Hold Revival, Begins Today

The Landmark Missionary Baptist Church, 401 N. Ninth Street, West Monroe, is to begin a series of revival services on Sunday, Oct. 27.

Rev. L. H. Owen, Texas City, Tex., is the evangelist. Rev. Owen is well known among Associational Baptist. He received his degree from the Missionary Baptist Seminary, Little Rock, Ark., and has served churches in Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas. He also served on the committee which was responsible for the erection of a new Baptist Orphanage at Texarkana, Ark-Tex. Rev. Owen is a zealous advocate of missions and a soul winner.

The public is invited to attend these services at 7:30 each evening.

Vard L. Gunn is pastor of the church.

Mormon Church High Official Visits Monroe

Henry D. Moyle is a member of the Council of the Twelve Apostles of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and chairman of the General Committee of the Church Welfare program. He has served in the latter capacity since 1936, and has consequently directed the voluntary production and preservation of vast quantities of food, clothing and other items by members of the church. Since the war many tons of these materials have been shipped overseas for the relief of members in Europe.

By training Elder Moyle is an attorney, with credits from the University of Utah, the University of Chicago, Harvard University and the University of Freiberg in Saxony. Until his ordination to the Council of the Twelve in April, 1947, he was active in his profession. He is a member of the American Bar Association. He has also been a leader in western business circles, serving as president of three oil refining companies and a livestock company

During World War II he was a member of the Executive Committee of the Petroleum Industry War Council. He is now a member of the National Petroleum Council appointed by the Secretary of the Interior. He is and for many years has been a director of the American Petroleum Institute.

He was a member of the Law School faculty at the University of Utah for over 25 years.

In World War I he was a captain in the 21st Infantry, and an instructor in the officer's school at the Presidio.

Elder Moyle is a native of Salt Lake City, Utah, where he was born April 22, 1889, the son of James H., and Alice Dinwoodey Moyle. As a young man his father served as a missionary for the church in North and South Carolina and Georgia. He later attained national prominence as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury during the Wilson administration, and as United States Commissioner of Customs under appointment from Franklin D. Roosevelt.

REV. GAGE

Rev. W. R. Gage Revival Leader Presby Chapel

The public is invited to hear the Rev. William Robert Gage at the revival services at the Highland Presbyterian Chapel each evening from Oct. 27 through Nov. 1 at 7:30, also at the 9:00 a.m. service Oct. 27.

Mr. Gage was born in Dallas, Tex. in 1923. Is a graduate of Austin College in Sherman, Texas.

During World War II he served with the 1st Marine Division in the Pacific area through the Okinawa campaign and then in North China in Tientsin from 1944-1946.

Rev. Gage completed his theological studies at Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Austin, Texas in January of 1950, at which time he received his Bachelor of Divinity degree.

Since his graduation he has served the Alabama Presbyterian Church, Choudrant, La. While serving this church a new church was built.

Mr. Gage was called to his second pastorate in the fall if 1954 at Westlake Hills Presbyterian Church in Austin, Texas. He worked in this new church for one year during which time a new manse was built.

In 1955 the First Presbyterian Church of Winnfield, La., called Rev. Gage as pastor. At present this congregation has plans for a new church which will be erected in the near future. Rev. Gage is the Stated Clerk of Red River Presbytery and chairman of the board of directors of Camp Alabama.

He married the former Patricia Anthony, of Austin, Texas in 1947. There are three children, William Robert, Jr., 9; Edwin Anthony, 6; and Patricia Alice, 3.

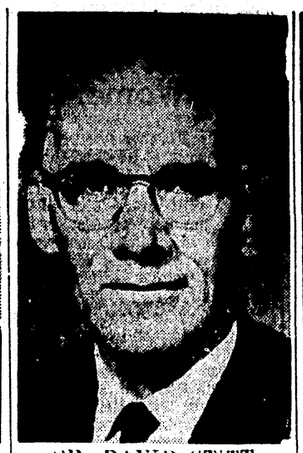
Finance Forward Ridge Ave Plan

Ridge Avenue Baptist Church of West Monroe is launching today the Forward Program of Church Finance to try and subscribe the budget of fifty six thousand dollars recently voted by the church.

The forward program of church finance is the new plan worked out by Southern Baptist leaders for the churches to meet higher objectives in their financial work. Four Baptist churches in northeast Louisiana tried the plan last year with much success. They were First Baptist Church, Bastrop, First Baptist Church, Columbia, First Baptist Church, Jonesboro and the First Baptist Church, Ruston.

A number of the twin city Baptist churches are trying the plan this year. The churches that have finished the campaign all have reported victories.

Rev. H. G. Daniel is general chairman of the Forward Program of Church Finance while M. A. Hawley, Jr. is church treasurer. They will guide the church in the campaign.



DR. DAVID STITT

Dr. David Stitt, Presbyterian Leader, Guest

Dr. David L. Stitt, president of Austin seminary, is conducting a week of special services October 27-November 1 in the First Presbyterian Church of this city. Dr. Stitt is an outstanding preacher and educator. He will speak to the men of the church each morning at a breakfast meeting at 7:00 a.m. in the Fellowship hall of the church. His messages to the men of the church will be entitled, "Christianity and the Modern Man." At 10:30 a.m. Monday through Friday Dr. Stitt will speak to the women of the church on "The Minor Prophets."

Dr. Stitt will occupy the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at the 11:00 o'clock service and each evening at 7:30 p.m. His sermons from the pulpit are built around the Christian life. Since Dr. Stitt is an excellent preacher and gracious Christian, the First Presbyterian Church desires to share his messages with the public.

Special music for each service will be provided by the choir under the direction of Lee Fiser.

Christ, King, To Be Observed In Solemn Event

NATCHITOCHES — Thousands of Catholics from the Diocese of Alexandria will converge on the banks of Cane River Lake here Sunday afternoon, Oct. 27, to celebrate the Feast of Christ the King.

Unique in that it will mark the change from deanery rallies to a single celebration this year, the colorful public demonstration will include an outdoor Field Mass, recitation of the Act of Consecration by candle light, and a tableau of fireworks depicting a portrait of Christ the King.

A procession will get underway at 4:30 p.m. It will proceed down Church street to Front street, and thence to the stairway at the head of St. Denis street, descending to the level of the lake shore accompanied by the singing of "To Christ, the King" by a children's choir under the direction of Father Gerard Foley of Alexandria.

Marching in the procession will be Bishop Charles P. Greco, Knights of St. Gregory, an honor guard, Knights of Peter Claver, Third Degree Knights of Columbus, Holy Name members, Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, cross and candle bearers, altar boys, brothers, seminarians, priests, and religious.

Dr. David Stitt To Hold Services

The First Presbyterian Church has arranged for a week of special services Oct. 27-Nov. 1 and the speaker will be Dr. David L. Stitt, president of Austin Theological Seminary.

REV. W. D. BODDIE

Rev. W. Boddie Revival Leader, College Church

The Reverend W. D. Boddie, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Rayville, will be heard nightly in the revival meeting beginning October 27 and ending November 2 at Memorial Methodist Church at 7:45 p.m.

The Reverend Boddie is a graduate of Centenary College, and holds the seminary degree from Duke University Divinity School. Prior to his appointment to Rayville, he held pastorates at Bunkie, Springhill, Lisbon, and at Felicity Church, New Orleans.

For several years he has furnished leadership to the Louisiana annual conference as conference secretary of Evangelism and has been responsible for the development of the prayer life movement and the Prayer Vigil plan in the Louisiana Methodist conference.

In addition to the revival assignment, Rev. Mr. Boddie will address all the officers, teachers, and workers of the church school at a covered dish supper on Monday evening, October 28, at 6:30. He will speak to the youth of the youth division on Wednesday evening at a similar meeting, and to the older adult fellowship at noon on Friday, November 1. He will address college students assembled at the Wesley Foundation at noon on Thursday, October 31.

Music for the week will be furnished by the four choirs of Memorial Methodist Church under the direction of Mrs. Estelle Sanders, Dr. Wilford D. Smith, and Mrs. Jim Davis. The pastor, Rev. Ralph Cain, will lead the singing. Mrs. Irene Nelson and Miss Libby McCoy will be the organ and piano accompanists.

The public is cordially invited to share in the services of the week.

Texas Evangelist Will Lead Series

Rev. E. J. Gsaves, pastor of Morningside Assembly of God Church, announces that special meetings are to be held each night this week. The evangelist will be the Rev. W. A. Covington, Houston, Tex. The nightly services will open at 7:30 o'clock.

The Reverend Covington is a well known evangelist who has traveled extensively in this country and in seven countries across the sea.

He is not only an inspiring speaker but also plays a number of instruments.

At each service there will be prayer for the sick.

Winn Baptist Ass'n To Meet

The Winn Parish Baptist Association will meet Monday night, October 21, at 7:15 and will meet each evening through October 25, except on Wednesday night which will be left open for the various churches to have their regular Wednesday night prayer services.

Monday night, Rev. Charles Flurry, of the Moral and Civics Foundation of Baton Rouge, will speak. Tuesday evening, Dr. R. L. Lee, executive secretary of the Louisiana Baptist convention; Thursday night, Rev. Carter Hall, pastor of the Calvin Baptist Church, and Friday night, Rev. Dr. T. W. Gayer, of Alexandria. Music will be by several churches in the association and groups from Louisiana college.

EVANGELIST LEADER — Rev. James Thorn (above) Monroe Baptist pastor, has been selected by the Rev. S. W. McMorris, pastor of the Eastside Baptist church in Baton Rouge, to conduct a revival series in his church. They will open October 28 and will continue through November 3.

Opening Large Central Baptist New Addition

Central Baptist Church of Monroe will observe "Open House" this afternoon between the hours of two and five and are extending a cordial invitation to all the friends and others that may be interested in seeing their new modern two-story educational building (shown above.)

This building was designed by Alan Turpin, local architect, and was constructed by Tommie Clark, local contractor. Fred Salley is the chairman of the building committee of the following members: Henry R. Taylor, Jack Norton, C. L. Hinton, Lee Baxter, Albert Barker, W. E. Bennett, R. D. Farr, J. J. David, B. A. Tarver, Grady Grafton and Charles R. Holloway. Rev. C. Roger Johnson is the pastor of Central Baptist Church and the Rev. Charles Littleton is the associate.

This new modern educational building will provide space for all the Sunday School departments except the adult men and women. There are four departments in the nursery, two departments in the beginners, primaries, juniors and intermediates, one department for the young people and one for the young married people.

The building cost approximately $115,000.00 and has 14,000 square feet counting the exterior corridors. It will accomodate 600 persons in Sunday School. All department entrances go to the exterior corridors on first and second floors. Stairs are placed at both ends of the corridors and the building is connected to the main auditorium by a walkway. It is constructed of brick veneer and is completely air-conditioned.

The public is cordially invited to see this building today between 2 p.m. and 5 p.m.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
Auburn and North Second Streets
"Probation After Death" is the subject of the lesson - sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, October 27, 1957.
The Golden Text is: "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him" (James 1:12.)
Among the citations which comprise the lesson - sermon is the following from the Bible: "For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living: for all live unto him" (Luke 20:38.)
The lesson - sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The universal belief in death is of no advantage. It cannot make life or Truth apparent" (42.)

MY ANSWER by Billy Grahom

QUESTION: How do you explain the effect of the Gospel on that New Jersey boy who attended your meting after having killed his girl friend? Don't church and home have some meaning? I. J.

ANSWER: It is never possible for me to determine why people attend the Crusade meetings except for the deep hunger they have for spiritual satisfaction. Man is incurably religious and will seek spiritual comfort when in the most difficult straits. People who have been guilty of violation of every one of the Ten Commandments come to our meetings. But unless they have a personal encounter with Christ, the environment of either church or home will not noticeably affect them. It seems to me the most natural thing for that boy to have come to the meeting when he felt more than ever his desperate need. To hold the Gospel responsible is to show a lack of understanding, for the Gospel is the "Power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth," but to persist in unbelief renders the Gospel ineffective in that particular instance. Salvation is always a personal thing depending upon individual choice.

A TIP ON FURNITURE

Furniture manufacturers say life can be added to your furniture by occasionally oiling its moving metal parts, such as rocker springs, reclining chair mechanisms and casters or glides. A coating of light machine oil on bearings, hinges and joints and other spots where metal touches metal will eliminate annoying squeaking when the furniture is in use.

"CONFEDERATE ROSE"—Described by the Mexicans as the "Love for a Day" flower, this unusual plant can be seen at several homes in Monroe. The blossom is white when it opens and during its one-day life turns a deep pink. Above are "before" and "after" pictures which, although unable to show the true beauty of the flower, allow a comparison of the difference in the hues. The picture on the left was taken at 10 a.m. and the second picture was made at about 3 p.m. of the same day.

Confederate Rose Turns Pink, White

"Confederate Rose" — an unusual name for an unusual flower!

Somewhat rare in this area, this plant is also known by the more romantic title of "Love for a Day." It derives its name from the fact that its blossom, a delicate snowy white in the early morning when it opens, turns a deep pink by evening and then withers, its brief but beautiful life over.

Mrs. J. B. Parker of 507 Rochelle has one of these plants in her yard. It stands about 6 feet high, which she said is about average for the plant.

What was apparently the first Confederate Rose planted in Monroe was brought from Waveland, Miss., by Mrs. Willye S. Lawhead, 1905½ North Third in Monroe.

"We don't know where the plant originated," Mrs. Lawhead said. "My bushes came from cuttings from my sister's rose. We didn't even know the name of it until we were visiting in Mexico and learned that it was called "Love for a Day" in that country."

The plants can be rooted simply by putting them in water, Mrs. Lawhead said, and require no special cultivation or attention. However, since the first fairly heavy frost kills the plant, she and Mrs. Parker advised cutting it back close to the ground just before the freeze. This cutting does not harm it in any way and it grows back quickly. Mrs. Parker used a pine straw mulch to protect the roots of her rose.

Blooming from about the middle of October until the first frost, the "Love for a Day" puts out its many - petalled flowers a few at a time rather than all at once. Since its blooms last only one day, their value is more for their beauty outdoors and the phenomena of their changing colors than for a cut flower arrangement. However, the ladies who are growing the flowers like to wear them as a sort of corsage complement. The slow change from white to pink makes them a striking accessory.

The Confederate Rose is believed to be a member of the hibiscus family, its foliage bearing a resemblance to that of an ordinary hibiscus. Its palmate leaves are quite large and five - pointed.

"I don't know of any special place to plant the cuttings," Mrs. Lawhead said. "They seem to like the sun. In Mississippi, where it's warmer they begin blooming in the spring, much earlier than they do here."

Mrs. Lawhead said there is a plentiful abundance of cuttings available for those who would like to try their green thumb on this rare flower. The nominal amount of effort required to care for the "Love for a Day" would be repaid many times in the beauty it adds to a lawn or garden.

Flu Victims Need Nursing

By Euna Spielman

The question of what to do if the Asian flu strikes rates first place in discussion among friends. According to the information received by home demonstration agents, you'll just have to ride it out once you get the bug. Call your physician and follow his instructions. In an epidemic, the American Medical Association says, keep away from others; go to bed; drink a lot of fluids, such as water and fruit juices. Use separate towels and tableware for family members who catch flu. Call your physician if any unusual symptoms develop. A heavy cough, rapid breathing and blueness of the lips are signs to watch for, they may mean pneumonia.

Vision and Television

A comforting word for mothers worried about television's effect on their children's eyesight comes from the National Association for the Prevention of Blindness. If common sense is applied, television does not damage a youngster's eyes, the society reports. Some rules for TV watching: Have good lighting — not a completely darkened room; don't view for hours at a time; break it up; don't sit on the floor to watch — the best angle of viewing i a little below eye level.

Americans and Popcorn

Americans were enjoying freshly popped corn for long years before the movie theatre came into being. But the increasing number of popcorn concessions at amusement parks and theaters, and of popcorn candies and home poppers, have helped boost the consumption of popcorn over the past 20 years, reports the U. S. department of Agriculture. The department estimates that over 325 million pounds of popcorn were produced in this country last year.

Every household in the United States is enjoying the benefits of "maid service" and yet only one per cent of the families actually have a full time servant and four per cent have servants of any kind.

Industry is dispensing "maid service," cutting down on time required to do household chores by supplying such things as automatic equipment, prepared and partially prepared foods, precut and packaged meats.

Thirty years ago, the average homemaker spent five to six hours of her day in the kitchen preparing meals. Today she spends less than half that time, because of "built-in maid service." A recent study by the Division of Human Nutrition, Institute of Home Economics, U. S. D. A., shows that a certain family dinner prepared by traditional methods costs $4.90 and takes 5.5 hours to prepare. The meal from purchased ready - to - cook foods sosts $6.70 and requires only 1.6 hours. Comparing the difference in cost and time for the homemaker to prepare a meal "from scratch," and one from fully - prepared foods, we find the latter costs $1.80 more, but is a saving of four hours in time. Her time is worth only 45 cents an hour when she prepared all the food.

The decision as to how much time today's homemaker wants to spend preparing food is up to her, but the continued growth in convenience foods indicates that the majority is interested in cutting down time spent on food preparation.

Packaged goods have played a vital part in the development of self - service offered by the supermarket. Packaging materials created new possibilities in merchandising. One of these packaging materials made its debut in the '20's — cellophane. Originally it was a luxury item, but research continued on the improvement of the film, and as a result, moistureproof cellophane was developed, which opened up a whole new field of uses, particularly as a protective wrapping for all types of food products. Improved methods of production made it possible to reduce the price and improve the quality further so that today even low-cost foods can enjoy its protective advantages.

Now that the homemaker has given her nod of approval to "built-in maid service," she can expect many more innovations. What with the research facilities and ingenuity of industry, she will see many new ideas in services which will go far beyond her dreams of present day needs.

See you next week.

THE HOME SHIFT

New Asphalt Now On Sale

By Mildred Swift

Now that the world series is over and lovely Queen Elizabeth has made her visit to America, and departed, we'll get down to the every day things of life. Maybe these daily jobs are not so glamorous, but they're interesting just the same.

Garden News

This word comes from Kirby L. Cockerham, entomologist with L. S. U. Extension: "Several species of worms are present in lawns throughout the state. These worms feed on the blades of grass, leaving the stems and dead grass, thereby giving the lawn a brown appearance. This damage is not the same as that caused by chinch bugs, which kill the grass by sucking the plant juice. In recent tests by the experiment station, 4 pounds of toxaphene or 4 pounds of endrin per acre were the most promising materials used, but none gave complete control."

Unless evergreen shrubs are becoming a barrier, wait until January or February to prune. If you cut them back now, you'll have to look at that "picked chicken" plant all winter. Very soon there will be no flowers for the house and you'll want some greenery for bowls and vases. That way you could do gradual pruning.

Be watching for the gingko and tallow trees. Their foliage should be gorgeous very soon. The old sweet - gum is strutting her fall colors now. It's a messy old tree but somehow we forget all that when the fall colors come.

Bulbs that can be divided and reset are: pineapple lily, watsonia, agapanthus, oxalis, lirope, daylily, crocus, crinum,. Bulbs to be purchased now are amaryllis, callo - hyacinth, all types of narcissus, jonquils and daffodils, Dutch iris. Don't dig and reset early spring blooming bulbs as the root growth has already started.

New for Gardeners!

Yes, and it sounds like a miracle product. It's not on the market yet, but has been perfected. It's a new paving asphalt that is used cold, right from the 100 pound plastic - lined bag it comes in. Just the thing to persuade reluctant husbands to get around to making that little patio you've been wanting.

Unlike other surfacings, the asphalt can be put directly over firm ground, or even grass, without any foundation, and need be spread only one inch thick. Spreading is done with a rake shovel and the job is finished by going over the surface with a lawn roller that can be rented from a seed store. It is claimed that after one hour, the surface is hard enough to walk on, and after a few hours, even an automobile won't dent it. A dealer here is ordering a sample. We'll try it and I'll give you the results very soon. This material is a result of research by the petroleum industry.

Food in the News

Food plentifuls that will save you pennies are broilers and fryers, stewing hens, turkeys, pork, winter pears, cranberries, potatoes, apples, grape juice and jam and jelly, canned frozen peas, almonds and giblets, dry peas, peanuts and peanut butter. Eggs have moved up as price decreases. More medium and small eggs are available at attractive prices.

Cheese is a protein food that can be alternated with meat. Orange and grapefruit supplies are increasing. Sweet potatoes are still coming to market in volume. Cabbage, cauliflower and eggplant supplies and quality is good. Lettuce, prices are increasing and quality is variable. Rutabagas and carrots are good choices.

Halloween

When goblins and ghosts ride the night, have a hearty feast for guests whose appetites will be very real after fun in the crisp fall air. Notice an attractive platter that they'll love — the always - welcome hot dog with goblin eggs. Both are easy to prepare and need no explanation. Of course they'll want a candied apple on a stick. Here is my favorite recipe:

Apples on a Stick (Halloween)

Select 12 small apples that are ripe and just ready for eating raw. Wash and dry thoroughly. Insert wooden sticks.

Syrup

Combine in boiler, 1 cup sugar; 1 cup white corn syrup; 1 teaspoon vinegar; ¼ cup water. Cook slowly over medium heat, stirring at intervals until syrup reaches 270 degrees or forms a hard ball in cold water. Remove from heat and add 2 tablespoons of butter; 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¼ teaspoon food coloring. Stir until well blended. Dip apples into syrup, turning until well coated and place on oil paper. They may be rolled in chopped nuts or coconut or you can wax faces using whole cloves.

Round and About

The National Cotton Council declares that two new types of bale covers — a burlap laminate and a knit paper fabric — will be tested next spring.

Here's how to "dry clean" your hair in case you have a cold and prefer not to shampoo: Cover your hairbrush with an old nylon stocking. Brush vigorously rotating the stocking to a clean spot every few strokes. Then take a piece of cotton and moisten it with your favorite toilet water. Part the hair in one - inch sections and rub the cotton on the scalp and then along each strand of hair.

Then, if you spill some of the toilet water on your table top — wipe up quickly. Now, polish the spot with liquid cleaning and polishing wax. If the mark should still remain, try rubbing it with a small amount of silver polish or a little moistened cigar or cigarette ashes. Then rewax the area.

Announcements

Your Open House program will go on at the new time tomorrow, 12:15 p.m., immediately following the news. Your subjects for the week are: Monday, Mrs. Dawson, from Ouachita will show you how the well dressed window should look; Tuesday, Mrs. Hill, specialist from Baton Rouge will complete the curtain story; Wednesday, we'll have the flower arrangements with Mrs. Jardine and see and hear about chrysanthemums from Mr. Telford, a local grower; Thursday, TBA and Friday, marketing.

Say! Do your youngsters have trouble with their studies? Give them encouragement by telling them about the chemistry student who could never make more than "mediocre" in that subject, but he later discovered a vaccine to prevent rabies. His name was Louis Pasteur. See you next Sunday.

GARDEN CENTER NOTES

Dried Plants Form Designs

By Mary M. Jardine

Our flower show of the week featured designs of dried and treated plant materials. Also on display was a collection of dried native grasses and pods collected by Mrs. P. E. Walters, Fort Smith, Ark.

Mrs. M. W. Montgomery's composition a symetrical in design combined beige tints with violet-red. The container was a beautiful beige chalice. The vertical placements were beige pampas plumes and wheat, with pink larkspur making the right angle. Clusters of deeper beige magnolia leaves (treated with glycerine) were placed in the background. A looped aspidistra leaf, also beige, was placed low in the foreground and the focal area was deep violet-red straw flowers, balanced on the left by a cluster of eucalyptus pods and beige celosia. The color scheme was most pleasing. Suitable backgrounds would be pink, green, gray, chartreuse or light beige.

Mrs. K. R. Young designed a line-mass composition, asymetrical in form. The container was a green pottery plate overglazed with tan. The color scheme was most subtle: shades of brown, tan, red orange, and a touch of violet. Spike material for the primary lines consisted of three slender catalpa seed pods. Secondary placements were the seed stalks of watsonia, beige in color, magnolia and elaeagnus leaves, dried to a soft tan provided background interest and added depth to the design. The center of interest was a group of pomegranates, increasing in size from very small to medium large. Nandina berries shading from golden beige to red-orange completed the pattern. Lavender thistle placed on the left added color interest and a change of texture. This design would be lovely for the buffet or one end of the dining table.

Dr. Katherine Foster created a composition with a Halloween or Thanksgiving motif. Strong, compelling colors of black, brown, beige and orange were effectively combined. The "container" was a black palette shaped base. A gray manzanita branch with interesting lines formed the background placement. Branches of orange love-apples (solanum) followed the established lines. Dried okra in beige and brown tones provided a change of texture and color. Dark brown magnolia leaves strengthened the background and the center of interest, a small bright orange pumpkin was framed with the black circular pods of the elephant ear tree. These pods are most interesting. Circular and slightly wrinkled like a real elephant's ear, they are from the tropical tree Enterlobium cyclocarpum which grows to fifty feet in height in Panama. This tree belongs to the pea family and the pods are fed to cattle.

Dr. Foster also displayed a harvest swag which was the object of much admiration and interest. The background was a bamboo mat. The swag itself was constructed on hardware cloth. The top placements were sprays of rice, sea oats and okra in light brown, followed by sumach, a cluster of sweet gum balls, pinyon cone in yellow-green, pine cone flower in dark brown framed by brown magnolia leaves. Two ears of Indian corn, flanked by placements of rice, brown dock and okra in varying shades completed the colorful and interesting design.

Another book to look forward to is "The Complete Book of Flowers and Plants for Interior Decoration" by Esther Wheeler and Annabel Combs Lasker. Published by Hearthside Press, Inc., this will be available about Nov. 1. Inspired by room settings in magazines, new gardens and the urge for self-expression, today's woman arranges flowers as never before. Step-by-step illustrations and clear directions give the complete technique of lovely designs in suitable settings, Early American, French Provincial, English, French Empire, etc. The book covers every phase of decorating the home interior with plants or flower design. Beautifully designed, a handsome gift, it belongs in every home and library. You may order from your favorite book store or the Garden Center.

THE SOUTHERN GARDNER

Time Is Here For Tea Roses

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

Tea rose time is here again. The modern hybrid teas are getting better and better as time goes on, but hybrid teas are not up to the old-fashioned tea roses for sheer numbers of roses on the bush. This is the time of year in the South when you can go out and cut a wheelbarrow load of tea roses off one bush if you want t.

The trusty and true old rose, Mrs. B. R. Cant, has been blooming its head off since late July and August. The enormous bushes of Maman Cochet, White Cochet and Yellow Cochet are doing the same. In hot weather, the flowers of these big full roses tend to be pale and to ball up and fail to open. Cool weather does the trick: they open perfectly in the October weather. Since the bushes are covered with a great bounty of blossoms, you can cut all you want, but do not make the mistake — ever — of cutting tea roses "way back." They resent it. They want to be large. If they are too large for the space where you have them, move the bushes.

Malmaison

There are several old roses that are not true tea roses in gardens at old houses sites. Not all of these old varities will boom again in the Fall after their spring show. One of the sweetest smelling varieties is a flat blossomed variety that is usually creamy white flushed with light pink during the summer. In the fall when all roses seem to pick up color, this rose is definitely bright light pink in the center. The flowers come in clusters, and the foliage is very clean and handsome with five to seven leaflets. This rose, we often call Malmaison. Its full name is Souvenir de la Malmaison, so you will find it listed under S instead of under M in the indexes of rose books.

Souvenir de la Malmaison is a hybrid Bourbon rose. The Grand Duke of Russia named it. When he was visiting the rose gardens at Josephine's Malmaison palace in France, he admired this unnamed seedling sent there by a breeder named Beluze. Of course, this was after Josephine's heyday. Her great rose garden had been allowed to go to ruin, and the French were busy trying to restore it.

144 Varieties

The Prince Nursery in America listed 144 varieties of Bourbon roses in 1846. They sold them all over the United States, and we have many of them in old gardens here in the South. Your columnist ran across one on a ride through the beautiful autumn countryside just last week. It seems much pinker than the usual Malmaison and is a real beauty, a tough good rose bush that can take care of itself without spraying. We had better look up these old treasures and bring them back into our gardens. It will not be long before the rose breeders will be using them again to create tougher roses. If you are interested in growing some of the best old roses, the column will be pleased to send you a list of nurseries carrying them. Be sure that you enclose a postal addressed to yourself if you want a prompt reply.

Bride Rides With Father When Going To Church

QUESTION: Does the maid of honor ride in the same car with the bride and her father, going to the church?

MRS. POST: No, the maid of honor goes to the church with the bridesmaids. The bride and her father are the only ones to ride in "the bride's car."

QUESTION: The son of a friend of mine was married while stationed in another country. Plans were made for a reception to be held here when they came home. He has come home alone and is to return to that country to live. His wife was unable to come with him. Would it be proper to go ahead with the plans for the reception without the wife?

MRS. POST: No, a reception for the young couple, with the bride absent, would not make any sense.

QUESTION: I go to the beauty parlor once a week for a shampoo, set and manicure. The owner, who is a man, always sets my hair but he usually has one of the women beauticians give me a shampoo and still another give me my manicure. I always tip each of the young women for their services but I never give the owner who sets my hair, a tip. Will you please tell me if I should tip him. I have seen others do this.

MRS. POST: No, what you have been doing is correct. The others probably do not know he is the owner.

QUESTION: Since I've broken my plans to be married this leaves my girl friend, who was to have been my maid of honor, with a fairly expensive dress which she has bought and paid for. I feel terrible about this and want to do whatever is my duty about her expense. What is customary in such a case?

MRS. POST: If it is a dress that she will have no future use for, and you can afford it you should pay for it. Otherwise, you should share the expense insofar as you are able.

QUESTION: I know that one is supposed to return wedding presents when the wedding plans fall through, but how does one go about this when one present is given by a group of friends, also a present from the office staff? These things should undoubtedly be returned the same as any other gifts, but to whom should they be returned.

MRS. POST: Tell those you know the best that you want to return their present, and ask them how they suggest you go about it. They will probably tell you to keep it for yourself.

QUESTION: Are there any flowers that you think not very suitable for a very young girl to wear, and if so, what are they?

MRS. POST: If she is grown 18 or over any flowers are suitable. If she is a young schoolgirl, sweet peas or miniature roses, cinnamon pinks or any small garden flowers are considered all right. Orchids or gardenias are certainly not suitable.

QUESTION: My son is going to be married soon and I will, of course, stand in the receiving line with the bride's mother. I am going to wear a blue lace dress and long gloves. I would like to know if I should keep those gloves on while receiving, and when do I remove them?

MRS. POST: You remove them when you have something to eat but not when you are receiving.

QUESTION: When dining in someone's house I often speak of my hostess' delicious food. Sometimes I tell her about her lovely china or beautiful house. I think every hostess likes to hear such appreciative remarks. But my sister tells me that people of good breeding never comment on these things. Will you please tell me if she is right about this?

MRS. POST: Occasional comments are quite all right, but when overdone they can become fulsome.

QUESTION: When a girl and a man are being shown to their table in a restaurant, and the man is waylaid by friends of his who are unknown to the girl, what is she supposed to do?

MRS. POST: She follows the waiter to the table and sits down, and he after only the briefest few words to his friends must hurry to rejoin her.

QUESTION: At a dinner party, should the hostess be called away from the table to answer an important telephone ccall, should all the men at table rise?

MRS. POST: Only the man beside her to whom she is talking need rise.

QUESTION: Is it bad manners, after writing one's name in a guest book, to glance through the other pages and read the names? I was criticized lately for having done this and would like to know if I was wrong.

MRS. POST: If no one was waiting in line to sign it, there was certainly nothing wrong in your glancing through it.

QUESTION: One of the girls in my office is going to be married soon and I have been invited to the wedding. My wife was not included in the invitation, although the bride - to - be knows I am married. I would very much like to go to the wedding but do not want to go alone. Would it be proper to have my wife accompany me?

MRS. POST: No, and I'm sure she would not go without an invitation from the bride or her parents.

QUESTION: Is it bad manners to refuse to dance with someone who has cut in on you?

MRS. POST: It would be the height of rudeness to refuse to dance with anyone you know who cuts in on you.

A housewarming or "open house" can be a tea, a cocktail party, a buffet supper or the simplest afternoon or evening at home. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, her leaflet E-28, "Housewarming," inclhdes suggestions for entertainment. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c-o this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

What makes a costume? The shoe is an essential part of the scheme. The shoe adds its own distinctive flair to the suit. Suede softly feminine touched by the tailored, black kid, sets the pace on the elegant vamp of the Pavlova Ghillie.

The news about any costume is the accessory rule being applied by fashion's most important designers. A galosh boot in matching corduroy wrapped in high ankle flattery rests upon a 18/8" epee dipped in brass. The fun of it all is puddle stepping for the very sole of it is crepe.

"Prism-Toe" footwear of black kid is a choice component for a slender fitted suit. Autumn bound the wrapped shaping of the shoe has that completely right look because of its subdued details. T-strapped, feminine fleur d' lis and a princess heel of 18/8"

Man's Bank Balance Larger Than Womens'

By VIVIAN SANDE
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (UP) — Ladies, your much-reported control of the nation's wealth does not show in savings accounts, according to a number of people—including women — in the banking industry.

"Although at least half of the savings accounts in this country belong to women, it's the men who have the impressive balances," said Hilda Hoffman, assistnat secretary and statistician for the Bowery Savings Bank of New York.

She added, "In our bank, a man's average balance hovers near the $3,000 mark whereas many a working gal has just enough to keep a bank balance alive."

Handle, Not Own

"Women shouldn't be fooled by all the current talk about their controlling the economy. In spite of the fact that more and more women are handling money, it doesn't necessarily mean that they own it. Just because a woman carries her husband's shoes to the repairman doesn't mean they're hers. . .just that she has more time to take them there," said Miss Dorcas Campbell, assistant vice president of the East River Savings Bank.

The American woman, the most analyzed woman in the world as a spender now is being analyzed as a saver by some of the nation's banks, and found weak in that department by some of them.

Habits Change

No comprehensive report produced by the banking industry is yet available on women's savings habits, though generally spokesmen for the industry agree they have changed, and for the better.

The following are more of the findings in studies on the subject made by the Union Dime Savings Bank, the Bowery Savings Bank, and the East River Savings Bank, all of New York.

As more and more women have joined the labor force and stayed in it after marriage, more and more women open savings accounts in their own names.

Save To Spend

More and more people are saving with the idea of spending. Once they have accumulated the amount of money they want, they draw it out and start saving all over again.

(Miss Hilda Hoffman of the Bowery Savings Bank estimates one quarter of her bank's total accounts usually are in turnover).

Women make less use of bank services.

(Miss Campbell of the East River Savings Bank said women depositors in her bank buy fewer money orders and travelers checks, and are less apt to take advantage of "banking by mail" are less apt to take advantage of "oanking oy mail", or "direct dividend deposit services" than men.)

Women tend to make more use of special purpose plans like Christmas and vacation clubs which bring them no interest on their money.

There also is a growing tendency for married couples to open joint accounts.

The Union Dime Savings Bank reports many young people now open joint accounts while they are still engaged. The East River Savings Bank reports more and more men and women jointly save in the bank's new college club set up by this bank to help young parents provide for their children's educations.

When you are using canned cherries in a salad or a dessert and there is cherry syrup leftover, use it instead of half (or less) of the water called for in making up a package of cherry gelatin. If the gelatin dessert seems sweeter than you like, add a tablespoon or two of lemon juice.

REV. L. H. OWEN

Landmark To Hold Revival, Begins Today

The Landmark Missionary Baptist Church, 401 N. Ninth Street, West Monroe, is to begin a series of revival services on Sunday, Oct. 27.

Rev. L. H. Owen, Texas City, Tex., is the evangelist. Rev. Owen is well known among Associational Baptist. He received his degree from the Missionary Baptist Seminary, Little Rock, Ark., and has served churches in Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas. He also served on the committee which was responsible for the erection of a new Baptist Orphanage at Texarkana, Ark-Tex. Rev. Owen is a zealous advocate of missions and a soul winner.

The public is invited to attend these services at 7:30 each evening.

Vard L. Gunn is pastor of the church.

REV. GAGE

Rev. W. R. Gage Revival Leader Presby Chapel

The public is invited to hear the Rev. William Robert Gage at the revival services at the Highland Presbyterian Chapel each evening from Oct. 27 through Nov. 1 at 7:30, also at the 9:00 a.m. service Oct. 27.

Mr. Gage was born in Dallas, Tex. in 1923. Is a graduate of Austin College in Sherman, Texas.

During World War II he served with the 1st Marine Division in the Pacific area through the Okinawa campaign and then in North China in Tientsin from 1944-1946.

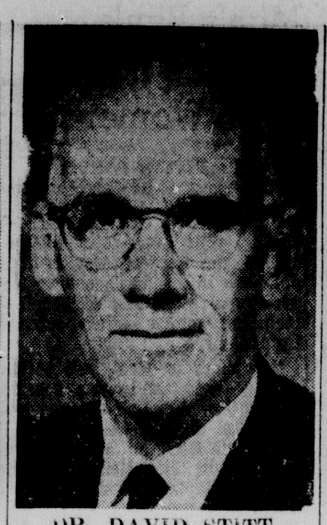
Rev. Gagé completed his theological studies at Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Austin, Texas in January of 1950, at which time he received his Bachelor of Divinity degree.

Since his graduation he has served the Alabama Presbyterian Church, Choudrant, La. While serving this church a new church was built.

Mr. Gage was called to his second pastorate in the fall if 1954 at Westlake Hills Presbyterian Church in Austin, Texas. He worked in this new church for one year during which time a new manse was built.

In 1955 the First Presbyterian Church of Winnfield, La., called Rev. Gage as pastor. At present this congregation has plans for a new church which will be erected in the near future. Rev. Gage is the Stated Clerk of Red River Presbytery and chairman of the board of directors of Camp Alabama.

He married the former Patricia Anthony, of Austin, Texas in 1947. There are three children, William Robert, Jr., 9; Edwin Anthony, 6; and Patricia Alice, 3.



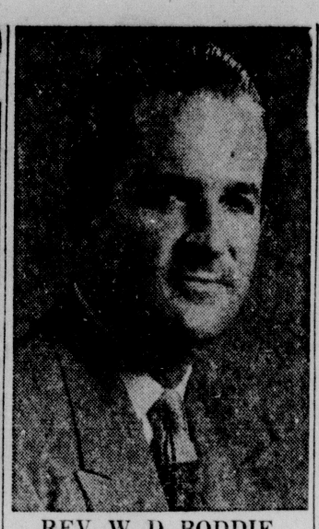
DR. DAVID STITT

Dr. David Stitt, Presbyterian Leader, Guest

Dr. David L. Stitt, president of Austin seminary, is conducting a week of special services October 27-November 1 in the First Presbyterian Church of this city. Dr. Stitt is an outstanding preacher and educator. He will speak to the men of the church each morning at a breakfast meeting at 7:00 a.m. in the Fellowship hall of the church. His messages to the men of the church will be entitled, "Christianity and the Modern Man." At 10:30 a.m. Monday through Friday Dr. Stitt will speak to the women of the church on "The Minor Prophets."

Dr. Stitt will occupy the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at the 11:00 o'clock service and each evening at 7:30 p.m. His sermons from the pulpit are built around the Christian life. Since Dr. Stitt is an excellent preacher and gracious Christian, the First Presbyterian Church desires to share his messages with the public.

Special music for each service will be provided by the choir under the direction of Lee Fiser.



REV. W. D. BODDIE

Rev. W. Boddie Revival Leader, College Church

The Reverend W. D. Boddie, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Rayville, will be heard nightly in the revival meeting beginning October 27 and ending November 2 at Memorial Methodist Church at 7:45 p.m.

The Reverend Boddie is a graduate of Centenary College, and holds the seminary degree from Duke University Divinity School. Prior to his appointment to Rayville, he held pastorates at Bunkie, Springhill, Lisbon, and at Felicity Church, New Orleans.

For several years he has furnished leadership to the Louisiana annual conference as conference secretary of Evangelism and has been responsible for the development of the prayer life movement and the Prayer Vigil plan in the Louisiana Methodist conference.

In addition to the revival assignment, Rev. Mr. Boddie will address all the officers, teachers, and workers of the church school at a covered dish supper on Monday evening, October 28, at 6:30. He will speak to the youth of the youth division on Wednesday evening at a similar meeting, and to the older adult fellowship at noon on Friday, November 1. He will address college students assembled at the Wesley Foundation at noon on Thursday, October 31.

Music for the week will be furnished by the four choirs of Memorial Methodist Church under the direction of Mrs. Estelle Sanders, Dr. Wilford D. Smith, and Mrs. Jim Davis. The pastor, Rev. Ralph Cain, will lead the singing. Mrs. Irene Nelson and Miss Libby McCoy will be the organ and piano accompanists.

The public is cordially invited to share in the services of the week.

Mormon Church High Official Visits Monroe

Henry D. Moyle is a member of the Council of the Twelve Apostles of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and chairman of the General Committee of the Church Welfare program. He has served in the latter capacity since 1936, and has consequently directed the voluntary production and preservation of vast quantities of food, clothing and other items by members of the church. Since the war many tons of these materials have been shipped overseas for the relief of members in Europe.

By training Elder Moyle is an attorney, with credits from the University of Utah, the University of Chicago, Harvard University and the University of Freiberg in Saxony. Until his ordination to the Council of the Twelve in April, 1947, he was active in his profession. He is a member of the American Bar Association. He has also been a leader in western business circles, serving as president of three oil refining companies and a livestock company

During World War II he was a member of the Executive Committee of the Petroleum Industry War Council. He is now a member of the National Petroleum Council appointed by the Secretary of the Interior. He is and for many years has been a director of the American Petroleum Institute.

He was a member of the Law School faculty at the University of Utah for over 25 years.

In World War I he was a captain in the 21st Infantry, and an instructor in the officer's school at the Presidio.

Elder Moyle is a native of Salt Lake City, Utah, where he was born April 22, 1889, the son of James H., and Alice Dinwoodey Moyle. As a young man his father served as a missionary for the church in North and South Carolina and Georgia. He later attained national prominence as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury during the Wilson administration, and as United States Commissioner of Customs under appointment from Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Finance Forward Ridge Ave Plan

Ridge Avenue Baptist Church of West Monroe is launching today the Forward Program of Church Finance to try and subscribe the budget of fifty six thousand dollars recently voted by the church.

The forward program of church finance is the new plan worked out by Southern Baptist leaders for the churches to meet higher objectives in their financial work. Four Baptist churches in northeast Louisiana tried the plan last year with much success. They were First Baptist Church, Bastrop, First Baptist Church, Columbia, First Baptist Church, Jonesboro and the First Baptist Church, Ruston.

A number of the twin city Baptist churches are trying the plan this year. The churches that have finished the campaign all have reported victories.

Rev. H. G. Daniel is general chairman of the Forward Program of Church Finance while M. A. Hawley, Jr. is church treasurer. They will guide the church in the campaign.

Christ, King, To Be Observed In Solemn Event

NATCHITOCHES — Thousands of Catholics from the Diocese of Alexandria will converge on the banks of Cane River Lake here Sunday afternoon, Oct. 27, to celebrate the Feast of Christ the King.

Unique in that it will mark the change from deanery rallies to a single celebration this year, the colorful public demonstration will include an outdoor Field Mass, recitation of the Act of Consecration by candle light, and a tableau of fireworks depicting a portrait of Christ the King.

A procession will get underway at 4:30 p.m. It will proceed down Church street to Front street, and thence to the stairway at the head of St. Denis street, descending to the level of the lake shore accompanied by the singing of "To Christ the King" by a children's choir under the direction of Father Gerard Foley of Alexandria.

Marching in the procession will be Bishop Charles P. Greco, Knights of St. Gregory, an honor guard, Knights of Peter Claver, Third Degree Knights of Columbus, Holy Name members, Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, cross and candle bearers, altar boys, brothers, seminarians, priests, and religious.

Dr. David Stitt To Hold Services

The First Presbyterian Church has arranged for a week of special services Oct. 27-Nov. 1 and the speaker will be Dr. David L. Stitt, president of Austin Theological Seminary.

Texas Evangelist Will Lead Series

Rev. E. J. Gsaves, pastor of Morningside Assembly of God Church, announces that special meetings are to be held each night this week. The evangelist will be the Rev. W. A. Covington, Houston, Tex. The nightly services will open at 7:30 o'clock.

The Reverend Covington is a well known evangelist who has traveled extensively in this country and in seven countries across the sea.

He is not only an inspiring speaker but also plays a number of instruments.

At each service there will be prayer for the sick.

Winn Baptist Ass'n To Meet

The Winn Parish Baptist Association will meet Monday night, October 21, at 7:15 and will meet each evening through October 25, except on Wednesday night which will be left open for the various churches to have their regular Wednesday night prayer services.

Monday night, Rev. Charles Flurry, of the Moral and Civics Foundation of Baton Rouge, will speak. Tuesday evening, Dr. R. L. Lee, executive secretary of the Louisiana Baptist convention; Thursday night, Rev. Carter Hall, pastor of the Calvin Baptist Church, and Friday night, Rev. Dr. T. W. Gayer, of Alerandria. Music will be by several churches in the association and groups from Louisiana college.

EVANGELIST LEADER — Rev. James Thorn (above) Monroe Baptist pastor, has been selected by the Rev. S. W. McMorris, pastor of the Eastside Baptist church in Baton Rouge, to conduct a revival series in his church. They will open October 28 and will continue through November 3.

Opening Large Central Baptist New Addition

Central Baptist Church of Monroe will observe "Open House" this afternoon between the hours of two and five and are extending a cordial invitation to all the friends and others that may be interested in seeing their new modern two-story educational building (shown above.)

This building was designed by Alan Turpin, local architect, and was constructed by Tommie Clark, local contractor. Fred Salley is the chairman of the building committee of the following members: Henry R. Taylor, Jack Norton, C. L. Hinton, Lee Baxter, Albert Barker, W. E. Bennett, R. D. Farr, J. J. David, B. A. Tarver, Grady Grafton and Charles R. Holloway. Rev. C. Roger Johnson is the pastor of Central Baptist Church and the Rev. Charles Littleton is the associate.

This new modern educational building will provide space for all the Sunday School departments except the adult men and women. There are four departments in the nursery, two departments in the beginners, primaries, juniors and intermediates, one department for the young people and one for the young married people.

The building cost approximately $115,000.00 and has 14,000 square feet counting the exterior corridors. It will accomodate 600 persons in Sunday School. All department entrances go to the exterior corridors on first and second floors. Stairs are placed at both ends of the corridors and the building is connected to the main auditorium by a walkway. It is constructed of brick veneer and is completely air-conditioned.

The public is cordially invited to see this building today between 2 p.m. and 5 p.m.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: How do you explain the effect of the Gospel on that New Jersey boy who attended your meting after having killed his girl friend? Don't church and home have some meaning? I. J.

ANSWER: It is never possible for me to determine why people attend the Crusade meetings except for the deep hunger they have for spiritual satisfaction. Man is incurably religious and will seek spiritual comfort when in the most difficult straits. People who have been guilty of violation of every one of the Ten Commandments come to our meetings. But unless they have a personal encounter with Christ, the environment of either church or home will not noticeably affect them. It seems to me the most natural thing for that boy to have come to the meeting when he felt more than ever his desperate need. To hold the Gospel responsible is to show a lack of understanding, for the Gospel is the "Power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth," but to persist in unbelief renders the Gospel ineffective in that particular instance. Salvation is always a personal thing depending upon individual choice.

A TIP ON FURNITURE

Furniture manufacturers say life can be added to your furniture by occasionally oiling its moving metal parts, such as rocker springs, reclining chair mechanisms and casters or glides. A coating of light machine oil on bearings, hinges and joints and other spots where metal touches metal will eliminate annoying squeaking when the furniture is in use.

Halloween Customs Spirited Down Through The Centuries

By MARY ANNE CORPIN
Staff Writer

Among the thousands of changes wrought by the centuries, one thing which has stayed with us .. but which affects us far differently than it did our superstitious ancestors .... is HALLOWE'EN.

All Hallow's Eve is October 31, the day before All Saints. Imagine that today is that date, and the year is 1313 A.D.

Tonight, you bar your doors and windows you shudder as you pass the cemetery today, thinking about the night ahead.

Black cats are shunned like a plague the bonfires will be lit tonight against witches.

Twilight fades and the black sponge of night closes in. Clouds form a cloak over the sky and lack of moonlight or stars results in pitch-blackness.

'Evil Omen'

"Tis an evil omen," murmer the old housewives, and across Europe and the British Isles, bonfires are lit, in belief that the flames are a magical wall, preventing witches on their broomsticks from flying over and beyond the leaping fountains of fire.

Daring youths venture out into the town lanes — to prove their courage against the transparent ghosts and clanking skeletons which will also roam through the darkness.

Far back in time, the origin of this night sprang up out of mysticism. The followers of Druidism on the British Isles believed that this was the "Vigil of Saman," lord of death. On this night he called together wicked souls.

Evoked Shudders

Christianity, to honor the many saints, named November 1 as All Saints Day, or All Hallow's Day. October 31 was called All Hallow's Eve, gradually shortened to Hallowe'en.

The old pagan beliefs for that night were added to and directed by later beliefs, now disproven and called superstitions. But these fearsome beliefs clustered about October 31 like iron to a magnet .. and from that grew the well-known ideas of Hallowe'en. The name had no connection to the customs, but the two merged together so that soon the word Hallowe'en evoked shudders.

Gradually, people's basic desire to have some enjoyment as a part of each special day brought about pleasant Hallowe'en customs and games.

Peel an apple round and round, without breaking the strip of peeling. Then toss it over your shoulder on Hallowe'en and the first letter of your true-love's name is formed.

Fill a bucket with water and floating apples. Get a group of friends around it, as you each try to clamp your teeth into one of the slippery little apples. The crowd how's in laughter.

Take the orange color of the pumpkin, an autumn vegetable .. add the black of darkness, mystery and bad luck cats . combine the two hues into decorations for your home on Hallowe'en.

Spine-Tingling

No longer feared, Hallowe'en is a spine-tingling night for the children. They slip on vivid costumes, and become pirates, cowboys, spacemen, gypsies, black cats, ghosts, skeletons, and princesses.

Masks change their identity. Tonight, they live in a world where their make-believe is accepted.

Trick or treat at the door. Sacks are held ready for the night's prize of candy and popcorn. Dry leaves rustle as groups of young invaders scamper from one house to another.

In Sweden, they still light anti-witch bonfires along the entire coast, as an excuse for a special Hallowe'en project.

It's Hallowe'en ... still with us .. but the night has traveled all the way from producing shivers to being a special time for fun.

Watch out! That black cat is going to walk in front of you.

Nation's No. One Check Forger In Jail

By DIAL TORGERSON

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26 (AP)—It happened in a midwestern town:

A friendly fellow in workman's clothe cashed a payroll check and left before the grocery clerk became suspicious. Remembering she hadn't asked for identification she turned to the next man in line.

"You know that guy?" she asked.

"Him? Sure," said the customer. "He lives a couple of doors from me."

The customer ended up in jail, accused of being the accomplice to the nation's No. 1 check forger, known to police all over the nation as "the Traveler."

"Naturally, the man really didn't know me," said the Traveler from his cell in the nearby Van Nuys jail. "He just thought he did.

"I'm the common type. I look like the man next door. That's one of the reasons I was able to stay in this business for 14 years."

The Traveler's career ended suddenly Sept. 5 in a hotel in Middleburg, Ohio, where detectives took him into custody as one of the nation's most-wanted criminals.

He doesn't look the part. Here's the police description of him:

Something else could be added: He looks honest.

The fact remains that he has pleaded guilty in Los Angeles Superior Court and faces sentencing Wednesday on five counts of forgery. He could receive prison terms of 5 to 50 years. Police say he passed half a million dollars in bad checks in 44 states.

Detective Lt. Ernie Johnston of the Los Angeles police department's valley division says no other check passer in recent years worked with the finesse of Speedie.

"His checks were perfect," said Johnston. "He printed them himself, and you couldn't tell his checks from real ones. He was rarely asked for identification. He always made himself known before he'd try to cash a check."

If anyone did ask for his identification, Speedie showed them a social security card. He printed his own. Police explain his capture this way:

Whenever he worked a town, Speedie registered at a motel at least 20 miles away. He used his own car and his true name.

But at Eugene, Ore., last August, he got a motel too close to town. When Lane County sheriff's detectives learned he was in their territory, they started a systematic check of every motel in their area. At one, his registration led Los Angeles detectives to an address in the San Fernando Valley.

There police found cameras, tape recorders and groceries whose value, as yet untabulated, may reach $100,000. It took five loads of a 2½-ton truck to get it downtown for impounding.

Speedie's description and auto license number were teletyped across the country, and he was finally trapped in Ohio. Speedie wasn't surprised.

"I considered it inevitable," says Speedie, "if I didn't get out of the business soon. It was like shooting dice at Monte Carlo and making 27 straight passes. It had to end."

Speedie is a soft-spoken, gentle man who was once a newspaper rewrite man, a free-lance writer and a photographer. He usually posed as a photographer, passing off his check-printing gear as photographic equipment.

He claims he passed checks only for what he needed, but admits he lived a pretty good life. He claims he contributed regularly to charities—by cash.

Of his personal life, he won't say more than that he is a midwesterner. Police say he was married, divorced, and has a college-age daughter—of whom he never speaks.

Speedie says that at the time of his arrest he was making plans for a business.

"I planned to pre-record tapes for tape recorders," he says. "I was going to do the narratives myself—children's bedtime stories."

Twice before, Speedie claims he tried to end his career of crime. But each venture failed and he went back to passing checks—at the price, he says, of a "painful conflict with my vestigial conscience."

In 1942 Speedie says he was an honest man: "I had never committed a single crime in my life."

Then a publishing venture failed. Speedie cashed a check given him in connection with the business.

"I was arrested," says Speedie, "on a false charge of converting to my use a check which did not belong to me. I was acquitted after five days in the Los Angeles city jail.

"When I got out I was completely disillusioned. My social, financial and domestic relations had deteriorated rapidly. I lost my job and the respect of the people that I knew. Doors were temporarily closed to me. I was in a mentally upset state. And it was then that I started writing checks."

Rochester Scientist Perfecting Home Salt Water Purifier

By TIM SMITH

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)— The white - haired scientist waited for the ticking of the small, square machine to stop. Then, from a glass jar which was connected to the machine by tubing, he drew a glass of clear, odorless fluid and drank it.

Dr. Kenneth C. D. Hickman smacked his lips, "Not bad."

The fluid was plain water which a short time before had entered the machine as heavy brine. It had been purified in a vapor compression still Dr. Hickman designed.

No bigger than an automatic washing machine, the unit, as yet unnamed, is tailored for householders on coastal lands where supplies of pure water are slim or non-existent.

The unit can also be used, the doctor says, to purify polluted waters inland.

Household Version

It is a "baby" version of a large, commercial unit which Hickman designed for the U. S. Department of Interior. The department is planning a test run for this in the near future at Wrightsville Beach, N. C.

The little unit was built in a laboratory owned by Aqua Stills, Inc., a Rochester research company established to develop the process. Hickman is vice president of the company.

Entirely automatic, the still uses less electricity than a home laundry machine and can turn out 500 gallons of pure water a day, Hickman says, about 100 more than the daily requirements of the average family.

Hickman says plans are under way to put the little still into production within a year.

Manufactured in small quantities, it will sell for about $1,500 but in mass production its price could be trimmed to $300 a unit, the doctor says.

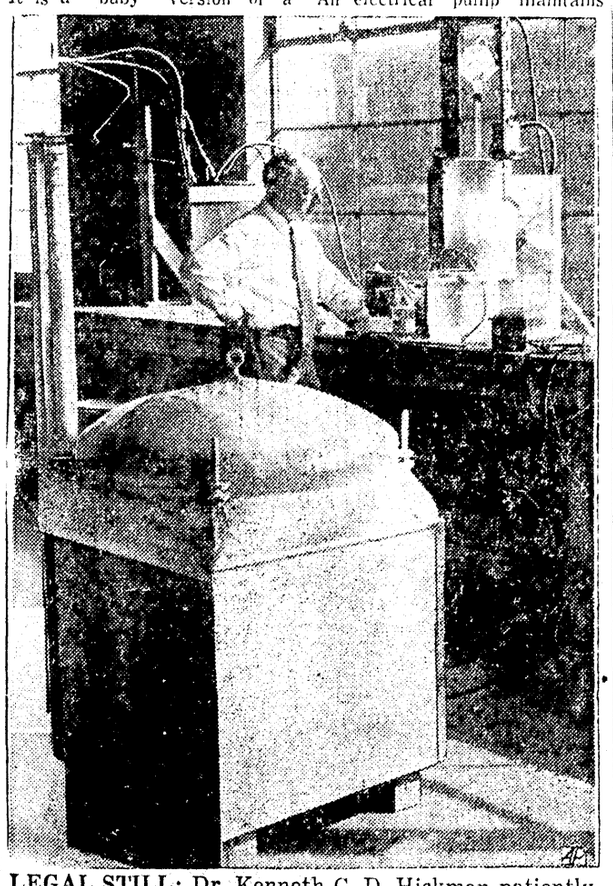
Completely Automatic

An electrical pump maintains the still's supply of water. Inside, the impure water is passed through heat exchangers, rapidly whirling cylinders, changed to steam, condensed back to water and finally run into a storage tank.

When the tank is full, the electrical pump shuts off. When the purified water is used, the pump starts ticking again to replace the amount drawn off.

Two engineers from the Interior Department's office of saline water recently inspected the machine and called it the most promising of several water conversion processes now under departmental study.

Hickman expects the unit to find immediate use in nations around the Baltic Sea, in the Caribbean Islands and along the U. S. Pacific Coast, all areas in acute need of good water supplies.



LEGAL STILL: Dr. Kenneth C. D. Hickman patiently waits for his vapor compression still (foreground) to turn salty brine into fresh water. The machine has a capacity of 500 gallons a day.

State Police Charge 12 With Drunk Driving

All you do is stop by your Chevrolet dealer's and ask for a preview. He'll show you a booklet containing advance information about the '58 Chevrolet! Here's just a hint of some of the things you can expect to see:

The 1958 Chevrolet will be decidedly lower and wider — and much, much longer. It will be built around a new principle in body-frame design.

It will offer an entirely new V8 engine, so radical that it even looks different. You can be sure it goes differently, too!

The new Chevrolet will have amazing advances in comfort and ride, including Full Coil suspension and, for the first time in the Chevrolet field, the incredible softness of a real air ride.

There will be fabulous style touches; for example, an all-new gull-wing effect in the wrap-back of the rear fenders. The line will also offer two new super models of exceptional luxury, beauty and distinction.

These few highlights are the merest clues to what's new with the new Chevrolet. Stop in at your Chevrolet dealer's and take a peek. You can also place your order for an early delivery. If you do, you'll be a '58 Chevrolet-Firster!

Bride Rides With Father When Going To Church

QUESTION: Does the maid of honor ride in the same car with the bride and her father, going to the church?

MRS. POST: No, the maid of honor goes to the church with the bridesmaids. The bride and her father are the only ones to ride in "the bride's car."

QUESTION: The son of a friend of mine was married while stationed in another country. Plans were made for a reception to be held here when they came home. He has come home alone and is to return to that country to live. His wife was unable to come with him. Would it be proper to go ahead with the plans for the reception without the wife?

MRS. POST: No, a reception for the young couple, with the bride absent, would not make any sense.

QUESTION: I go to the beauty parlor once a week for a shampoo, set and manicure. The owner, who is a man, always sets my hair but he usually has one of the women beauticians give me a shampoo and still another give me my manicure. I always tip each of the young women for their services but I never give the owner who sets my hair, a tip. Will you please tell me if I should tip him. I have seen others do this.

MRS. POST: No, what you have been doing is correct. The others probably do not know he is the owner.

QUESTION: Since I've broken my plans to be married this leaves my girl friend, who was to have been my maid of honor, with a fairly expensive dress which she has bought and paid for. I feel terrible about this and want to do whatever is my duty about her expense. What is customary in such a case?

MRS. POST: If it is a dress that she will have no future use for, and you can afford it you should pay for it. Otherwise, you should share the expense insofar as you are able.

QUESTION: I know that one is supposed to return wedding presents when the wedding plans fall through, but how does one go about this when one present is given by a group of friends, also a present from the office staff? These things should undoubtedly be returned the same as any other gifts, but to whom should they be returned.

MRS. POST: Tell those you know the best that you want to return their present, and ask them how they suggest you go about it. They will probably tell you to keep it for yourself.

QUESTION: Are there any flowers that you think not very suitable for a very young girl to wear, and if so, what are they?

MRS. POST: If she is grown (18 or over) any flowers are suitable. If she is a young schoolgirl, sweet peas or miniature roses, cinnamon pinks or any small garden flowers are considered all right. Orchids or gardenias are certainly not suitable.

QUESTION: My son is going to be married soon and I will, of course, stand in the receiving line with the bride's mother. I am going to wear a blue lace dress and long gloves. I would like to know if I should keep those gloves on while receiving, and when do I remove them?

MRS. POST: You remove them when you have something to eat but not when you are receiving.

QUESTION: When dining in someone's house I often speak of my hostess' delicious food. Sometimes I tell her about her lovely china or beautiful house. I think every hostess likes to hear such appreciative remarks. But my sister tells me that people of good breeding never comment on these things. Will you please tell me if she is right about this?

QUESTION: When a girl and a man are being shown to their table in a restaurant, and the man is waylaid by friends of his who are unknown to the girl, what is she supposed to do?

MRS. POST: She follows the waiter to the table and sits down, and he after only the briefest few words to his friends must hurry to rejoin her.

QUESTION: At a dinner party, should the hostess be called away from the table to answer an important telephone ccall, should all the men at table rise?

MRS. POST: Only the man beside her to whom she is talking need rise.

QUESTION: Is it bad manners, after writing one's name in a guest book, to glance through the other pages and read the names? I was criticized lately for having done this and would like to know if I was wrong.

MRS. POST: If no one was waiting in line to sign it, there was certainly nothing wrong in your glancing through it.

QUESTION: One of the girls in my office is going to be married soon and I have been invited to the wedding. My wife was not included in the invitation, although the bride - to - be knows I am married. I would very much like to go to the wedding but do not want to go alone. Would it be proper to have my wife accompany me?

MRS. POST: No, and I'm sure she would not go without an invitation from the bride or her parents.

QUESTION: Is it bad manners to refuse to dance with someone who has cut in on you?

MRS. POST: It would be the height of rudeness to refuse to dance with anyone you know who cuts in on you.

What makes a costume? The shoe is an essential part of the scheme. The shoe adds its own distinctive flair to the suit. Suede softly feminine touched by the tailored, black kid, sets the pace on the elegant vamp of the Pavlova Ghillie.

The news about any costume is the accessory rule being applied by fashion's most important designers. A galosh boot in matching corduroy wrapped in high ankle flattery rests upon a 18/8" epee dipped in brass. The fun of it all is puddle stepping for the very sole of it is crepe.

"Prism-Toe" footwear of black kid is a choice component for a slender fitted suit. Autumn bound the wrapped shaping of the shoe has that completely right look because of its subdued details. T-strapped, feminine fleur d' lis and a princess heel of 18/8"

Man's Bank Balance Larger Than Womens'

By VIVIAN SANDE
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (UP) — Ladies, your much-reported control of the nation's wealth does not show in savings accounts, according to a number of people—including women — in the banking industry.

"Although at least half of the savings accounts in this country belong to women, it's the men who have the impressive balances," said Hilda Hoffman, assistnat secretary and statistician for the Bowery Savings Bank of New York.

She added, "In our bank, a man's average balance hovers near the $3,000 mark whereas many a working gal has just enough to keep a bank balance alive."

Handle, Not Own

"Women shouldn't be fooled by all the current talk about their controlling the economy. In spite of the fact that more and more women are handling money, it doesn't necessarily mean that they own it. Just because a woman carries her husband's shoes to the repairman doesn't mean they're hers. . .just that she has more time to take them there," said Miss Dorcas Campbell, assistant vice president of the East River Savings Bank.

The American woman, the most analyzed woman in the world as a spender now is being analyzed as a saver by some of the nation's banks, and found weak in that department by some of them.

Habits Change

No comprehensive report produced by the banking industry is yet available on women's savings habits, though generally spokesmen for the industry agree they have changed, and for the better.

The following are more of the findings in studies on the subject made by the Union Dime Savings Bank, the Bowery Savings Bank, and the East River Savings Bank, all of New York.

As more and more women have joined the labor force and stayed in it after marriage, more and more women open savings accounts in their own names.

Save To Spend

More and more people are saving with the idea of spending. Once they have accumulated the amount of money they want, they draw it out and start saving all over again.

(Miss Hilda Hoffman of the Bowery Savings Bank estimates one quarter of her bank's total accounts usually are in turnover).

Women make less use of bank services.

(Miss Campbell of the East River Savings Bank said women depositors in her bank buy fewer money orders and travelers checks, and are less apt to take advantage of "banking by mail' are less apt to take advantage of "oanking oy mail", or "direct dividend deposit services" than men.)

Women tend to make more use of special purpose plans like Christmas and vacation clubs which bring them no interest on their money.

There also is a growing tendency for married couples to open joint accounts.

The Union Dime Savings Bank reports many young people now open joint accounts while they are still engaged. The East River Savings Bank reports more and more men and women jointly save in the bank's new college club set up by this bank to help young parents provide for their children's educations.

When you are using canned cherries in a salad or a dessert and there is cherry syrup leftover, use it instead of half (or less) of the water called for in making up a package of cherry gelatin. If the gelatin dessert seems sweeter than you like, add a tablespoon or two of lemon juice.

Halloween Customs Spirited Down Through The Centuries

By MARY ANNE CORPIN
Staff Writer

Among the thousands of changes wrought by the centuries, one thing which has stayed with us .. but which affects us far differently than it did our superstitious ancestors . . . is HALLOWE'EN.

All Hallow's Eve is October 31, the day before All Saints. Imagine that today is that date, and the year is 1313 A.D.

Tonight, you bar your doors and windows you shudder as you pass the cemetery today, thinking about the night ahead.

Black cats are shunned like a plague the bonfires will be lit tonight against witches.

Twilight fades and the black sponge of night closes in. Clouds form a cleak over the sky and lack of moonlight or stars results in pitch-blackness.

'Evil Omen'

"Tis an evil omen," murmer the old housewives, and across Europe and the British Isles, bonfires are lit, in belief that the flames are a magical wall, preventing witches on their broomsticks from flying over and beyond the leaping fountains of fire.

Daring youths venture out into the town lanes — to prove their courage against the transparent ghosts and clanking skeletons which will also roam through the darkness.

Far back in time, the origin of this night sprang up out of mysticism. The followers of Druidism on the British Isles believed that this was the "Vigil of Saman," lord of death. On this night he called together wicked souls.

Evoked Shudders

Christianity, to honor the many saints, named November 1 as All Saints Day, or All Hallow's Day. October 31 was called All Hallow's Eve, gradually shortened to Hallowe'en.

The old pagan beliefs for that night were added to and directed by later beliefs, now disproven and called superstitions. But these fearsome beliefs clustered about October 31 like iron to a magnet .. and from that grew the well-known ideas of Hallowe'en. The name had no connection to the customs, but the two merged together so that soon the word Hallowe'en evoked shudders.

Gradually, people's basic desire to have some enjoyment as a part of each special day brought about pleasant Hallowe'en customs and games.

Peel an apple round and round, without breaking the strip of peeling. Then toss it over your shoulder on Hallowe'en and the first letter of your true-love's name is formed.

Fill a bucket with water and floating apples. Get a group of friends around it, as you each try to clamp your teeth into one of the slippery little apples. The crowd how's in laughter.

Take the orange color of the pumpkin, an autumn vegetable .. add the black of darkness, mystery and bad luck cats .. combine the two hues into decorations for your home on Hallowe'en.

Spine-Tingling

No longer feared, Hallowe'en is a spine-tingling night for the children. They slip on vivid costumes, and become pirates, cowboys, spacemen, gypsies, black cats, ghosts, skeletons, and princesses.

Lipstick — the forbidden object for little girls during other times of the year — tonight forms a part of the "change" into fantasy.

Masks change their identity. Tonight, they live in a world where their make-believe is accepted.

Trick or treat at the door. Sacks are held ready for the night's prize of candy and popcorn. Dry leaves rustle as groups of young invaders scamper from one house to another.

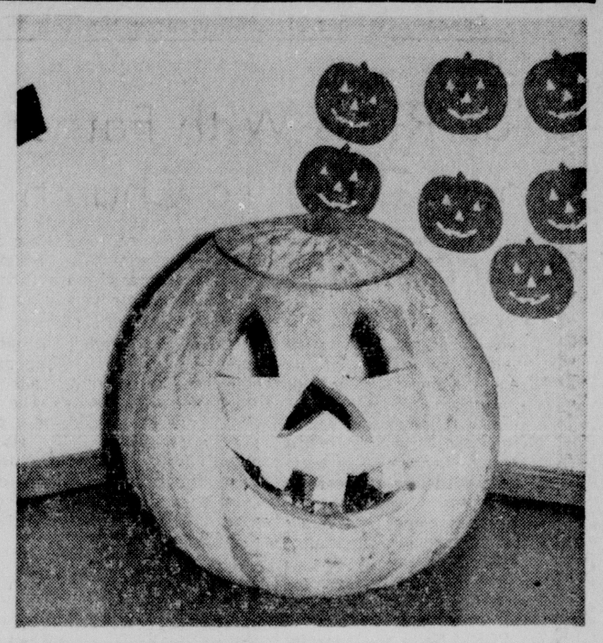
In Sweden, they still light anti-witch bonfires along the entire coast, as an excuse for a special Hallowe'en project.

It's Hallowe'en ... still with us .. but the night has traveled all the way from producing shivers to being a special time for fun.

Watch out! That black cat is going to walk in front of you.



HAPPY JACK-O-LANTERN— This grinning, carved out pumpkin is backed by a flock of smaller Hallowe'en specialities at Plum street school. The little pumpkins are used in a second-grade class for addition—2 pumpkins plus 4 pumpkins equal 6—and the youngsters enjoy their studies, getting in a touch of Hallowe'en on the side. THE TRAVELER

Nation's No. One Check Forger In Jail

By DIAL TORGERSON

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26 (AP)—It happened in a midwestern town:

A friendly fellow in workman's clothe cashed a payroll check and left before the grocery clerk became suspicious. Remembering she hadn't asked for identification she turned to the next man in line.

"You know that guy?" she asked.

"Him? Sure," said the customer. "He lives a couple of doors from me."

The customer ended up in jail, accused of being the accomplice to the nation's No. 1 check forger, known to police all over the nation as "the Traveler."

"Naturally, the man really didn't know me," said the Traveler from his cell in the nearby Van Nuys jail. "He just thought he did.

"I'm the common type. I look like the man next door. That's one of the reasons I was able to stay in this business for 14 years."

The Traveler's career ended suddenly Sept. 5 in a hotel in Middleburg, Ohio, where detectives took him into custody as one of the nation's most-wanted criminals.

He doesn't look the part. Here's the police description of him:

Charles R. Speedie, 52 years old, 5 feet 7, 160 pounds, gray hair, blue eyes.

Something else could be added: He looks honest.

The fact remains that he has pleaded guilty in Los Angeles Superior Court and faces sentencing Wednesday on five counts of forgery. He could receive prison terms of 5 to 50 years. Police say he passed half a million dollars in bad checks in 44 states.

Detective Lt. Ernie Johnston of the Los Angeles police department's valley division says no other check passer in recent years worked with the finesse of Speedie.

"His checks were perfect," said Johnston. "He printed them himself, and you couldn't tell his checks from real ones. He was rarely asked for identification. He always made himself known before he'd try to cash a check."

If anyone did ask for his identification, Speedie showed them a social security card. He printed his own. Police explain his capture this way:

Whenever he worked a town, Speedie registered at a motel at least 20 miles away. He used his own car and his true name.

But at Eugene, Ore., last August, he got a motel too close to town. When Lane County sheriff's detectives learned he was in their territory, they started a systematic check of every motel in their area. At one, his registration led Los Angeles detectives to an address in the San Fernando Valley.

There police found cameras, tape recorders and groceries whose value, as yet untabulated, may reach $100,000. It took five loads of a 2½-ton truck to get it downtown for impounding.

Speedie's description and auto license number were teletyped across the country, and he was finally trapped in Ohio. Speedie wasn't surprised.

"I considered it inevitable," says Speedie, "if I didn't get out of the business soon. It was like shooting dice at Monte Carlo and making 27 straight passes. It had to end."

Speedie is a soft-spoken, gentle man who was once a newspaper rewrite man, a free-lance writer and a photographer. He usually posed as a photographer, passing off his check-printing gear as photographic equipment.

He claims he passed checks only for what he needed, but admits he lived a pretty good life. He claims he contributed regularly to charities—by cash.

Of his personal life, he won't say more than that he is a midwesterner. Police say he was married, divorced, and has a college-age daughter—of whom he never speaks.

Speedie says that at the time of his arrest he was making plans for a business.

"I planned to pre-record tapes for tape recorders," he says. "I was going to do the narratives myself—children's bedtime stories."

Twice before, Speedie claims he tried to end his career of crime. But each venture failed and he went back to passing checks—at the price, he says, of a "painful conflict with my vestigial conscience."

In 1942 Speedie says he was an honest man: "I had never committed a single crime in my life."

Then a publishing venture failed. Speedie cashed a check given him in connection with the business.

"I was arrested," says Speedie, "on a false charge of converting to my use a check which did not belong to me. I was acquitted after five days in the Los Angeles city jail.

"When I got out I was completely disillusioned. My social, financial and domestic relations had deteriorated rapidly. I lost my job and the respect of the people that I knew. Doors were temporarily closed to me. I was in a mentally upset state. And it was then that I started writing checks."

Rochester Scientist Perfecting Home Salt Water Purifier

By TIM SMITH

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)— The white - haired scientist waited for the ticking of the small, square machine to stop. Then, from a glass jar which was connected to the machine by tubing, he drew a glass of clear, odorless fluid and drank it.

Dr. Kenneth C. D. Hickman smacked his lips, "Not bad."

The fluid was plain water which a short time before had entered the machine as heavy brine. It had been purified in a vapor compression still Dr. Hickman designed.

No bigger than an automatic washing machine, the unit, as yet unnamed, is tailored for householders on coastal lands where supplies of pure water are slim or non-existent.

The unit can also be used, the doctor says, to purify polluted waters inland.

Household Version

It is a "baby" version of a large, commercial unit which Hickman designed for the U. S. Department of Interior. The department is planning a test run for this in the near future at Wrightsville Beach, N. C.

The little unit was built in a laboratory owned by Aqua Stills, Inc., a Rochester research company established to develop the process. Hickman is vice president of the company.

Entirely automatic, the still uses less electricity than a home laundry machine and can turn out 500 gallons of pure water a day, Hickman says, about 100 more than the daily requirements of the average family.

Hickman says plans are under way to put the little still into production within a year.

Manufactured in small quantities, it will sell for about $1,500 but in mass production its price could be trimmed to $300 a unit, the doctor says.

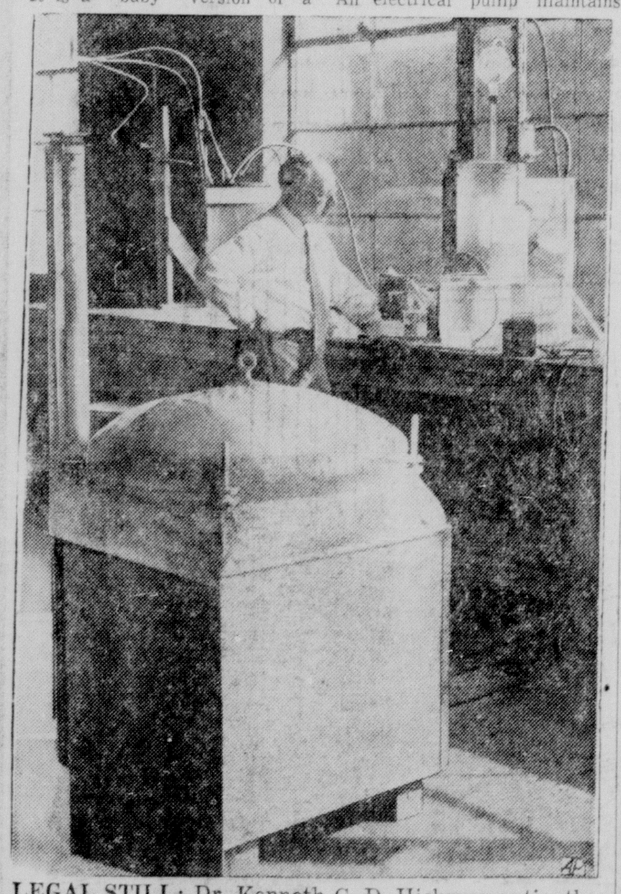
Completely Automatic

An electrical pump maintains the still's supply of water. Inside, the impure water is passed through heat exchangers, rapidly whirling cylinders, changed to steam, condensed back to water and finally run into a storage tank.

When the tank is full, the electrical pump shuts off. When the purified water is used, the pump starts ticking again to replace the amount drawn off.

Two engineers from the Interior Department's office of saline water recently inspected the machine and called it the most promising of several water conversion processes now under departmental study.

Hickman expects the unit to find immediate use in nations around the Baltic Sea, in the Caribbean Islands and along the U. S. Pacific Coast, all areas in acute need of good water supplies.



LEGAL STILL: Dr. Kenneth C. D. Hickman patiently waits for his vapor compression still (foreground) to turn salty brine into fresh water. The machine has a capacity of 500 gallons a day.

Come in now for a peek at the '58 Chevrolet!

All you do is stop by your Chevrolet dealer's and ask for a preview. He'll show you a booklet containing advance information about the '58 Chevrolet! Here's just a hint of some of the things you can expect to see:

The 1958 Chevrolet will be decidedly lower and wider — and much, much longer. It will be built around a new principle in body-frame design.

It will offer an entirely new V8 engine, so radical that it even looks different. You can be sure it goes differently, too!

The new Chevrolet will have amazing advances in comfort and ride, including Full Coil suspension and, for the first time in the Chevrolet field, the incredible softness of a real air ride.

There will be fabulous style touches; for example, an all-new gull-wing effect in the wrap-back of the rear fenders. The line will also offer two new super models of exceptional luxury, beauty and distinction.

These few highlights are the merest clues to what's new with the new Chevrolet. Stop in at your Chevrolet dealer's and take a peek. You can also place your order for an early delivery. If you do, you'll be a '58 Chevrolet-Firster!

Triple Pearl Harbor Attack Set For U.S.

ORLANDO, Fla., Oct. 26 (AP)—The United States theoretically comes under a triple Pearl Harbor attack—and then some—starting next Wednesday.

Ninety high flying bombers, opening a week of simulated nuclear bombing raids, in theory will blast three target cities—Atlanta, St. Louis and Kansas City, Mo.—off the map.

Four of the "enemy" craft will be jet bombers of Britain's Royal Air Force.

Their participation will mean, says the U. S. Air Force, that the United States will be under air attack (simulated) by foreign jet bombers for the first time in its history.

Pearl Harbor was an assault lasting only a few hours, executed by propeller-driven aircraft using conventional weapons.

By contrast the mock raids starting Wednesday night, based on the devastating power of hydrogen bombs, will involve more than 700,000 miles of mission flying, and 270 bomb drops on each of the three cities.

Since one bomb would suffice for each target, the week's flights would represent power enough virtually to wipe out civilization.

In actuality, however, no bombs will be dropped, and nobody hurt. The bombers, of six types, will be taking part in the annual bombing, navigation and reconnaissance competition of the U. S. Strategic Air Command.

Hoover Denies Allegations Of Rep. Meetings

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 26 (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover today denied allegations by Rep. Gathings (D-Ark) that FBI agents had used "gestapo tactics" in the Little Rock integration crisis.

Hoover's answer to charges made by Gathings at West Memphis last Tuesday was released today by J. J. Casper, head of the FBI office here.

Gathings had asked the Senate Judiciary Committee to investigate, among other things, the role of the FBI in the racial situation.

Hoover's reply said that "from the outset" the FBI investigation to determine whether there had been interference with a federal court's integration order "was openly conducted by agents who clearly identified themselves to all persons whom they interviewed."

Hoover told Gathings, "Your allegations of 'undercover' work by agents who were 'most arrogant and insulting' are entirely inconsistent with the record of this bureau."

"It is significant to note that your letter does not cite any specific facts," Hoover's letter said.

The FBI director also denied that his agents had followed any cars moving through Arkansas or had tapped telephones.

Hoover told Gathings that any information the congressman had on the phone-tapping allegation should be reported to the appropriate U.S. attorney.

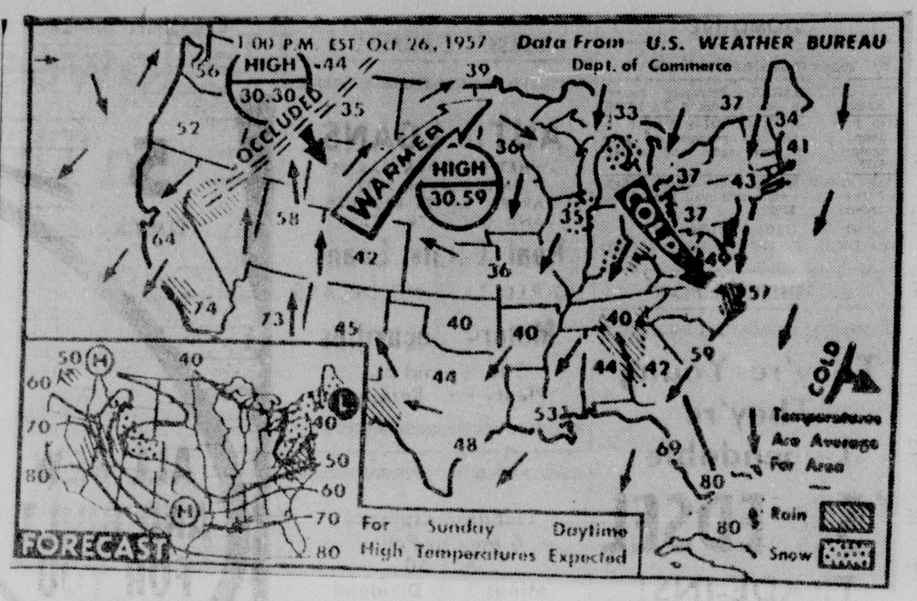
Hoover said "our relatively small investigative staff" in Little Rock "was augmented by approximately 20 special agents for a few days in September and later that month."

This was the first disclosure of the number of FBI agents who were here during the height of the racial controversy.

"None of these additional agents remained in Little Rock after Oct. 3," Hoover added.

"It is indeed unfortunate that you did not afford me the opportunity to provide you the facts before the charges in your letter were made public," Hoover wrote Gathings. "Under the circumstances I have no alternative other than to release this letter in the same area where yours was distributed."

Hoover said, "I frankly was amazed to read the unfounded rumors."



WEATHER FORECAST—Snow flurries are forecast for today for New England, and parts of central plains. Light rain is on tap for parts of middle Atlantic states and far Northwest. It will be warmer in Plains states, Mississippi valley and Lakes region, with continued cold in Atlantic coastal states, Ohio and Tennessee valleys. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Search Ends After Youth Is Located

JENA (Special) — LaSalle parish sheriff D. Floyd said last night that a search for the 15-year-old son of Rev. and Mrs. Moore of Pine Grove had been called off after the youth was located in Tallulah.

Sheriff Floyd said that a search for the boy started about 9 p.m. Friday after a call from his parents stated that he had gone hunting about noon and had not returned at that time. Officials called for assistance and two airplanes, 30 men on horseback and 75 men on foot searched all Friday night and yesterday morning until nearly noon without finding a trace of the boy.

At noon, a lead was found and a storekeeper in Gilbert said a boy answering his description had been in the store and left his dog with him.

The youth was said to be in Tallulah last night and the sheriff said his parents had gone there to get him.

Rev. Moore and his family had lived in Tallulah until recently and it was thought by officials that the boy had hitched a ride and gone to visit some of his friends.

Town Approves Integration Of Public Schools

PLEASANTON, Tex., Oct. 26 —This South Texas town voted 343 to 88 today to permit the integration of 36 Negroes into white schools.

School Supt. J. D. Klingman announced the School Board would meet Monday night and integration would start in the schools Tuesday.

The election was the first ever held under a state law enacted last spring which requires a favorable vote before a school district can be integrated.

Klingman explained earlier the election was called to protect the district's accreditation.

"Our Negro facilities are inadequate and have been declared so by the Texas Education Agency," he said.

Funds Assured

Under the state law, state aid is denied school districts which integrate without a majority vote of the citizens. State accreditation also is taken away from school districts which desegregate without holding a local option election. The district's student population is 1,476.

Klingman estimated the school district has about 5,000 residents. Pleasanton is a farming and ranching center in Atascosa County where the Texas Almanac shows the population is 49.9 per cent Latin-American, 48.9 per cent Anglo-American and 1.2 per cent Negro.

The district has separate elementary and high schools for white and Negro pupils plus a white junior high.

Nudists Debate Use Of Clothes During Sessions

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP) — Should nudists conduct business with members dressed? That's a problem the British Sunbathers' Assn. is hashing out.

The group's official journal favors clothed meetings.

"It is very much to be hoped there will be no business meetings in the nude," the journal said.

But Peter Williams of suburban Hadlemere is for the unclothed meeting. If nudists are to "press the gospel of naturism far and wide," he said, "we should be prepared to have the courage of our conviction and dress in the uniforms we advocate."

Well, tomorrow SBA will settle this matter at a meeting—clothed.

The decision will have far reaching effects on the conduct of the big International Nudist Jamboree next August at Woburn Abbey, a stately residence of the fun-loving Duke of Bedford.

The schism came to a head when the BSA faced the question of where to conduct business meetings during that convention.

Many members wanted to meet in the buff inside the abbey grounds, which are well guarded from the public. Other delegates, including most of the executives, stoutly opposed this and want business sessions in a nearby village hall with the public admitted and members clothed.

East Texas Faces Threat Of Freeze-Up

By UNITED PRESS

North and East Texas Saturday night braced for the coldest temperatures ever recorded this early in the season, as a cold front that brought snow to the state moved into South Texas.

The mercury was expected to dip into the upper 20s in portions of North and East Texas before dawn Sunday.

A freeze warning was hoisted by the weather bureau, plus an added advisory to protect automobile radiators and tender plants.

The lowest temperature ever recorded at Fort Worth this early in the season was a 31 degree reading on Oct. 22, 1893. Sunday morning's low should break that record, weathermen said.

Freeze Hit Early

The freezing temperatures were running about a month ahead of normal as the first freeze in North Texas usually does not hit until sometime after the middle of November.

Temperatures over most of the state Saturday night were generally in the lower 40s and dropping under clear skies and very little wind. The only clouds were reported in the El Paso area.

The mercury got no higher than 40 degrees at Alpine, the state's coldest maximum, while the high was 63 at Laredo. Alpine recorded .06 of an inch of rain the past 24 hours, scattered frost.

Scattered light frost was expected by Sunday morning in North Central Texas and the extreme northern portions of East and South Central Texas.

In West Texas, which first felt the brunt of the cold spell, temperatures were expected to climb slowly Sunday.

Light snow fell at Mineral Wells early Saturday and some snow flakes were reported in Fort Worth. Snow of one to two inches fell in the Panhandle early Friday.

Teamsters Union Appeals District Judge's Verdict

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Teamsters Union today asked the U. S. Court of Appeals to set aside a preliminary injunction barring President-elect James R. Hoffa from taking over as head of the union.

The union also asked the court to direct U. S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts, who granted the injunction, to step out of the case. The union contended that Letts' ruling went far beyond an injunction order.

Letts issued the injunction Wednesday, holding that the union bosses conspired to rig their recent union convention in Miami Beach at which Hoffa was elected to the presidency. The judge refused, however, to put the union in receivership as requested by 13 New York union members who brought the court challenge to Hoffa's election.

In his findings, Letts said:

"Defendants arranged . . . or passively tolerated a common plan, effort or conspiracy to rig and to otherwise improperly conduct, upon a dictatorial basis, the 17th convention."

The union, which also has filed an appeal to the Court of Appeals, said the findings of fact made by Letts "is a final adjudication on behalf of the plaintiffs and there is actually nothing further left for determination in the trial of this case."

Thomas X. Dunn, union attorney, told reporters that arguments on the union's appeal and petition probably will be heard Thursday.

TWO WOUNDED

Youth Questioned On Shooting Spree

HANOVER, Md., Oct. 26 (AP) — Charles Smith, tousle-haired teenager with a bent for books, was questioned for long hours today about a shooting rampage in which two school companions were wounded. A 46-year-old man died in the excitement.

The youth, 14, was captured without resistance shortly after dawn, nine hours after Carol Ann Downing, 15, was wounded by shotgun pellets in her face, and Francis Bussey, also 15, was shot in the groin. Both were in satisfactory condition in St. Agnes Hospital, Baltimore.

Smith was still carrying a .22 caliber rifle and a shot gun when troopers found him in a gravel pit not far from the shooting scene.

"He showed no remorse. He seemed outwardly calm," one officer said.

Young Smith and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith, were closeted with State Police. Officers said the parents told them the youth, "the studious type," had been "heckled by other boys in the neighborhood."

Here is a police account of the events:

Carol Ann Downing was at the home of Edgar Manning, 15, with two other teen-agers.

Manning said he heard a sound "like a big firecracker" and turned to see the Downing girl crumple to the floor.

Eddie Jones, 17, said he saw Smith walk down the street and into the corner store operated by Andrew Jacobs.

Richard Wingate, 18, was in the store with several other youths around a pinball machine.

"He (Smith) came in and walked around to the back of us," Wingate said. "We didn't even pay any attention to him until he leveled the gun at us and said, 'Don't move. This thing is loaded.'

"Francis (Bussey) looked over his shoulder at him and snickered. That's when he was shot."

Jacobs, who had come running when he heard the shots, collapsed. He was pronounced dead, apparently of a heart attack.

Solution In Sight On Hungarian Refugees

VIENNA, Oct. 26 (AP)—Through the stinging winter cold of 1956, the first of 171,000 Hungarians fled Russian guns to become a free people without a country.

On the night of Nov. 20 alone, some 5,000 waded through the icy canals and trudged through the fields and forests to enter Austria, turning their backs on their homeland.

That night in November was the high point in the exodus after the Red army moved in, Nov. 4, and crushed the revolution.

A rickety little wooden bridge, spanning a muddy, tree-lined canal on the Austro-Hungarian border, became a symbol of the flight. Over this bridge came many of the men, women and children in pell-mell escape.

Bridge Gone

Today, the bridge is gone, blown up by the Russians. The reconstructed Hungarian Communist army has mined the border paths, the woods and the fields. Hapless Hungary is again sealed behind the Iron Curtain. Perhaps two or three Hungarians sneak out to Austria in a month, risking death for freedom.

Of the 171,370 Hungarians who fled to Austria after the revolt, some 23,000 remain in Austria, mostly in refugee camps and mostly hoping to get visas to the United States.

Nearly 150,000 have already been settled abroad.

For those still in refugee camps in Austria or in schools and private homes, there is practically one unanimous hope: immigration to the United States.

Officials Say

In fact, officials say that part of the problem is that Hungarians have taken the attitude of "United States or nothing." Refugee organizations hope many can be persuaded to go to England, Canada or Australia as a step toward the United States.

Generally speaking the refugees are adequately housed, if not always comfortable.

At Camp Siezenheim near Salzburg, some 2,000 live in barracks that used to be a U.S. Army installation. The refugees operate their own community laundry.

Skilled refugees have set up a cobblers shop. They are paid some 20 Austrian schillings a day — less than a dollar—but their fellow refugees get a free shoe repair service.

Slowly the number of refugees is being reduced, since many are being resettled and only few are coming in through the death-tight Hungarian border.

August R. Lindt, United Nations high commissioner for refugees, said in New York this month that "a solution of the whole Hungarian refugees problem is now almost in sight."

GIVE ENOUGH FOR ALL

Solution In Sight On Hungarian Refugees

VIENNA, Oct. 26 (AP)—Through the stinging winter cold of 1956, the first of 171,000 Hungarians fled Russian guns to become a free people without a country.

On the night of Nov. 20 alone, some 5,000 waded through the icy canals and trudged through the fields and forests to enter Austria, turning their backs on their homeland.

That night in November was the high point in the exodus after the Red army moved in, Nov. 4, and crushed the revolution.

A rickety little wooden bridge, spanning a muddy, tree-lined canal on the Austro-Hungarian border, became a symbol of the flight. Over this bridge came many of the men, women and children in pell-mell escape.

Bridge Gone

Today, the bridge is gone, blown up by the Russians. The reconstructed Hungarian Communist army has mined the border paths, the woods and the fields. Hapless Hungary is again sealed behind the Iron Curtain. Perhaps two or three Hungarians sneak out to Austria in a month, risking death for freedom.

Of the 171,370 Hungarians who fled to Austria after the revolt, some 23,000 remain in Austria, mostly in refugee camps and mostly hoping to get visas to the United States.

Nearly 150,000 have already been settled abroad.

For those still in refugee camps in Austria or in schools and private homes, there is practically one unanimous hope: immigration to the United States.

Officials Say

In fact, officials say that part of the problem is that Hungarians have taken the attitude of "United States or nothing." Refugee organizations hope many can be persuaded to go to England, Canada or Australia as a step toward the United States.

Generally speaking the refugees are adequately housed, if not always comfortable.

At Camp Siezenheim near Salzburg, some 2,000 live in barracks that used to be a U.S. Army installation. The refugees operate their own community laundry.

Skilled refugees have set up a cobblers shop. They are paid some 20 Austrian schillings a day — less than a dollar—but their fellow refugees get a free shoe repair service.

Slowly the number of refugees is being reduced, since many are being resettled and only few are coming in through the death-tight Hungarian border.

August R. Lindt, United Nations high commissioner for refugees, said in New York this month that "a solution of the whole Hungarian refugees problem is now almost in sight."

Triple Pearl Harbor Attack Set For U.S.

ORLANDO, Fla., Oct. 26 (AP)—The United States theoretically comes under a triple Pearl Harbor attack—and then some—starting next Wednesday.

Ninety high flying bombers, opening a week of simulated nuclear bombing raids, in theory will blast three target cities—Atlanta, St. Louis and Kansas City, Mo.—off the map.

Four of the "enemy" craft will be jet bombers of Britain's Royal Air Force.

Their participation will mean, says the U. S. Air Force, that the United States will be under air attack (simulated) by foreign jet bombers for the first time in its history.

Pearl Harbor was an assault lasting only a few hours, executed by propeller-driven aircraft using conventional weapons.

By contrast the mock raids starting Wednesday night, based on the devastating power of hydrogen bombs, will involve more than 700,000 miles of mission flying, and 270 bomb drops on each of the three cities.

Since one bomb would suffice for each target, the week's flights would represent power enough virtually to wipe out civilization.

In actuality, however, no bombs will be dropped, and nobody hurt. The bombers, of six types, will be taking part in the annual bombing, navigation and reconnaissance competition of the U. S. Strategic Air Command.

Search Ends After Youth Is Located

JENA (Special) — LaSalle parish sheriff D. Floyd said last night that a search for the 15-year-old son of Rev. and Mrs. Moore of Pine Grove had been called off after the youth was located in Tallulah.

Sheriff Floyd said that a search for the boy started about 9 p.m. Friday after a call from his parents stated that he had gone hunting about noon and had not returned at that time. Officials called for assistance and two airplanes, 30 men on horseback and 75 men on foot searched all Friday night and yesterday morning until nearly noon without finding a trace of the boy.

At noon, a lead was found and a storekeeper in Gilbert said a boy answering his description had been in the store and left his dog with him.

The youth was said to be in Tallulah last night and the sheriff said his parents had gone there to get him.

Rev. Moore and his family had lived in Tallulah until recently and it was thought by officials that the boy had hitched a ride and gone to visit some of his friends.

Town Approves Integration Of Public Schools

PLEASANTON, Tex., Oct. 26 (AP)—This South Texas town voted 343 to 88 today to permit the integration of 36 Negroes into white schools.

School Supt. J. D. Klingman announced the School Board would meet Monday night and integration would start in the schools Tuesday.

The election was the first ever held under a state law enacted last spring which requires a favorable vote before a school district can be integrated.

Klingman explained earlier the election was called to protect the district's accreditation.

"Our Negro facilities are inadequate and have been declared so by the Texas Education Agency," he said.

Funds Assured

Under the state law, state aid is denied school districts which integrate without a majority vote of the citizens. State accreditation also is taken away from school districts which desegregate without holding a local option election. The district's student population is 1,476.

Klingman estimated the school district has about 5,000 residents. Pleasanton is a farming and ranching center in Atascosa County where the Texas Almanac shows the population is 49.9 per cent Latin-American, 48.9 per cent Anglo-American and 1.2 per cent Negro.

The district has separate elementary and high schools for white and Negro pupils plus a white junior high.

Nudists Debate Use Of Clothes During Sessions

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP) — Should nudists conduct business with members dressed? That's a problem the British Sunbathers' Assn. is hashing out.

The group's official journal favors clothed meetings.

"It is very much to be hoped there will be no business meetings in the nude," the journal said.

But Peter Williams of suburban Haslemere is for the unclothed meeting. If nudists are to "press the gospel of naturism far and wide," he said, "we should be prepared to have the courage of our conviction and dress in the uniforms we advocate."

Well, tomorrow SBA will settle this matter at a meeting—clothed.

The decision will have far reaching effects on the conduct of the big International Nudist Jamboree next August at Woburn Abbey, a stately residence of the fun-loving Duke of Bedford.

The schism came to a head when the BSA faced the question of where to conduct business meetings during that convention.

Many members wanted to meet in the buff inside the abbey grounds, which are well guarded from the public. Other delegates, including most of the executives, stoutly opposed this and want business sessions in a nearby village hall with the public admitted and members clothed.

Teamsters Union Appeals District Judge's Verdict

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Teamsters Union today asked the U. S. Court of Appeals to set aside a preliminary injunction barring President-elect James R. Hoffa from taking over as head of the union.

The union also asked the court to direct U. S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts, who granted the injunction, to step out of the case. The union contended that Letts' ruling went far beyond an injunction order.

Letts issued the injunction Wednesday, holding that the union bosses conspired to rig their recent union convention in Miami Beach at which Hoffa was elected to the presidency. The judge refused, however, to put the union in receivership as requested by 13 New York union members who brought the court challenge to Hoffa's election.

In his findings, Letts said:

"Defendants arranged . . . or passively tolerated a common plan, effort or conspiracy to rig and to otherwise improperly conduct, upon a dictatorial basis, the 17th convention."

The union, which also has filed an appeal to the Court of Appeals, said the findings of fact made by Letts "is a final adjudication on behalf of the plaintiffs and there is actually nothing further left for determination in the trial of this case."

Thomas X. Dunn, union attorney, told reporters that arguments on the union's appeal and petition probably will be heard Thursday.

Hoover Denies Allegations Of Rep. Meetings

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 26 (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover today denied allegations by Rep. Gathings (D-Ark) that FBI agents had used "gestapo tactics" in the Little Rock integration crisis.

Hoover's answer to charges made by Gathings at West Memphis last Tuesday was released today by J. J. Casper, head of the FBI office here.

Gathings had asked the Senate Judiciary Committee to investigate, among other things, the role of the FBI in the racial situation.

Hoover's reply said that "from the outset" the FBI investigation to determine whether there had been interference with a federal court's integration order "was openly conducted by agents who clearly identified themselves to all persons whom they interviewed."

Hoover told Gathings, "Your allegations of 'undercover' work by agents who were 'most arrogant and insulting' are entirely inconsistent with the record of this bureau."

"It is significant to note that your letter does not cite any specific facts," Hoover's letter said.

The FBI director also denied that his agents had followed any cars moving through Arkansas or had tapped telephones.

Hoover told Gathings that any information the congressman had on the phone-tapping allegation should be reported to the appropriate U.S. attorney.

Hoover said "our relatively small investigative staff" in Little Rock "was augmented by approximately 20 special agents for a few days in September and later that month."

This was the first disclosure of the number of FBI agents who were here during the height of the racial controversy.

"None of these additional agents remained in Little Rock after Oct. 3," Hoover added.

"It is indeed unfortunate that you did not afford me the opportunity to provide you the facts before the charges in your letter were made public," Hoover wrote Gathings. "Under the circumstances I have no alternative other than to release this letter in the same area where yours was distributed."

Hoover said, "I frankly was amazed to read the unfounded rumors."

East Texas Faces Threat Of Freeze-Up

By UNITED PRESS

North and East Texas Saturday night braced for the coldest temperatures ever recorded this early in the season, as a cold front that brought snow to the state moved into South Texas.

The mercury was expected to dip into the upper 20s in portions of North and East Texas before dawn Sunday.

A freeze warning was hoisted by the weather bureau, plus an added advisory to protect automobile radiators and tender plants.

The lowest temperature ever recorded at Fort Worth this early in the season was a 21 degree reading on Oct. 22, 1893. Sunday morning's low should break that record, weathermen said.

Freeze Hit Early

The freezing temperatures were running about a month ahead of normal as the first freeze in North Texas usually does not hit until sometime after the middle of November.

Temperatures over most of the state Saturday night were generally in the lower 40s and dropping under clear skies and very little wind. The only clouds were reported in the El Paso area.

The mercury got no higher than 49 degrees at Alpine, the state's coldest maximum, while the high was 63 at Laredo. Alpine recorded .06 of an inch of rain the past 24 hours, scattered frost.

Scattered light frost was expected by Sunday morning in North Central Texas and the extreme northern portions of East and South Central Texas.

In West Texas, which first felt the brunt of the cold spell, temperatures were expected to climb slowly Sunday.

Light snow fell at Mineral Wells early Saturday and some snow flakes were reported in Fort Worth. Snow of one to two inches fell in the Panhandle early Friday.

TWO WOUNDED

Youth Questioned On Shooting Spree

HANOVER, Md., Oct. 26 (AP)—Charles Smith, tousle-haired teenager with a bent for hocks, was questioned for long hours today about a shooting rampage in which two school companions were wounded. A 46-year-old man died in the excitement.

The youth, 14, was captured without resistance shortly after dawn, nine hours after Carol Ann Downing, 15, was wounded by shotgun pellets in her face, and Francis Bussey, also 15, was shot in the groin. Both were in satisfactory condition in St. Agnes Hospital, Baltimore.

Smith was still carrying a .22 caliber rifle and a shot gun when troopers found him in a gravel pit not far from the shooting scene.

"He showed no remorse. He seemed outwardly calm," one officer said.

Young Smith and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith, were closeted with State Police. Officers said the parents told them the youth, "the studious type," had been "heckled by other boys in the neighborhood."

Carol Ann Downing was at the home of Edgar Manning, 15, with two other teen-agers.

Manning said he heard a sound "like a big firecracker" and turned to see the Downing girl crumple to the floor.

Eddie Jones, 17, said he saw Smith walk down the street and into the corner store operated by Andrew Jacobs.

Richard Wingate, 18, was in the store with several other youths around a pinball machine.

"He (Smith) came in and walked around to the back of us," Wingate said. "We didn't even pay any attention to him until he leveled the gun at us and said, 'Don't move. This thing is loaded.'

"Francis (Bussey) looked over his shoulder at him and snickered. That's when he was shot."

Jacobs, who had come running when he heard the shots, collapsed. He was pronounced dead, apparently of a heart attack.

Parish 4-H'er Places First At State Fair

Ouachita Parish High School 4-H girl captured first place in the state wide Poultry Judging Contest at the Shreveport State Fair yesterday.

Miss Janette Holdeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Holdeman of the Lamkin community, won out over 12 other winners of Poultry Judging contests from all over the state.

Janette will enter the National Competition to be held in Chicago late in November where she wll be competing with winners from every state in the nation.

Janette entered the judging race as a member of the Ouachita High 4-H club which took top place in the contest yesterday. Others in the group were Betty De Moss and Wayne Farmer. The local club took high honors as a team in the judging at the Fair yesterday.
